"It is but as yesterday since the war was declared. The darkening shadows and the fearful forebodings of the past are but a dream. In recollection we recall the throbbings of our national life. The bugle call was sounded to rally the country to the standard. Thousands of gatherings were held from the Atlantic to the Pacific to hear the burning speeches of orators. In those gatherings we saw the earnest and pathetic look upon the pale faces of women. The thought of sacrificing their stalwart sons weighed heavily upon them. We saw the sons of Canada enlist in the great war to fight for freedom. We marched with them in their parades across prairie, mountain and valley; through towns and cities of this Dominion. We marched with them when they entrained for overseas. For the last time parents walked arm in arm with sons, kith and kin; the last kiss is given, the last farewell is said, the final cheer of sobbing hearts drowns the noise of engine bells and locomotive vibrations. We watch the trains filled with khaki clad men move out of sight. Amid the surging and sorrowful crowds we wend our way home, to sit down; to think, to weep, to pray. In spirit we follow our sons to the far off fields of Flanders. In spirit we are with them in their long weary marches through slush and snow. In spirit we were with them when they stood in water and mud, thigh and waist deep. In spirit we heard their groans resulting from the carnage of battle, and shattered bodies laid upon the stretchers and carried to the hospital. In spirit we saw the look of glory upon their faces, and heard their last words, 'Thank God I have done my duty.'

"When the news of their death was made known, we saw the furrowed lines of sorrow upon many a poor broken-hearted mother's face, who with fountains of tears, welled out the deepest sorrow of her inmost soul.

We have seen Germany, one of the mightiest nations of the world, defeated, humilated, her Kaiser dethroned, her war lords debased and stigmatised by the world, for their infamous deeds of cruelty. While keep in memory the heroic dead, who died for our liberties, is is our hope and prayer that war shall cease and 'that the wilderness and the solitary places shall be glad, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose.'"

Town Assessor Moyes, of St. Mary's, has just completed his work and finds St. Mary's to have 4,004 inhabitants. The assessment has increased $154,859 over last year. 765 houses out of 995 are owned by their occupants.

Edward Kemp, a former resident of Oakville, and now head of an auto and truck wheel company, is looking over the situation with a view to establishing a manufacturing plant in Oakville. The factory, it is said, would employ a considerable number of hands.

In September the Dundalk Herald received roses grown in the garden of D. Campbell. Then in October W. J. Symington's garden provided some roses for the editor's desk. November garden roses were left in the office by Mrs. Thos. Hall the other day. Mrs. Hall also told the Herald that she picked in her garden recently a quart of raspberries, also some black caps and a few strawberries.

A NEAR FATALITY

While strapped to a telephone pole putting up the cross arms at a height of twenty-five feet near Formosa a week ago Tuesday afternoon, two Bell linemen, Harold Hannath, of Shelburne, and David Cowan, of Guelph, were painfully hurt when the pole, which had rotted through near the base, suddenly snapped off and carried them crashing to the ground. That both men escaped instant death is probably due to the fact that the protruding cross arm on the pole struck the ground first, and although it was broken off like a biscuit, it broke the force of the fall, and prevented the men, who were on the underside of the pole, from being crushed from the massive timber. As it was, Hannath was knocked unconscious by the mishap, and severely injured near the spine, while Cowan had his front teeth knocked out and his face bruised and cut. Dr. Sinclair, of Walkerton, was hurriedly called and had the injured pair removed in the ambulance to Bruce County Hospital, where their wounds were dressed and where they will be confined a week recuperating. The two victims of the mishap had been operating with the gang repairing the telephone lines in Walkerton the week previous.

Will Irwin, in an address in Greenwich Village, on birth control, told a story of a chap named Higgins, who got home one night to learn that his wife had given birth to triplets—three healthy, bouncing boys. Higgins, overjoyed went to the boss's office next morning and recounted the rare and wonderful thing which had befallen him. The boss felicitated him heartily, and the next day Higgins was sent for. He hurried to the office again, to find the entire firm assembled there. A handsome silver cup stood on the mantel, and this trophy, in an eloquent speech, the boss presented to him in recognition of the triple blessing which he had bestowed upon his country. Higgins took the cup in his hand, bowed respectfully, and said: "Excuse me sir, but is this cup mine now, or do I have to win it three years in succession?"—Shoe and Leather Journal.

Mr. David Robinson, a former merchant of Tara and now of Wroxeter, has sued the council of that village for $500 damages, as a result of sickness, loss of business and damage to goods from water entering his cellar, alleged to be due to faulty drainage of surface water last spring.

"I Am Having a Terrible Time, I Simply Cannot Sleep"

"PERHAPS it is something you have been eating?"

"No, it is not. I am always careful about what I eat, particularly in the evenings."

"Are you often that way?"

"Yes, two or three nights a week, and I am getting worse all the time."

"Is it your nerves?"

"Yes, I suppose it is, for after any little excitement I am sure to have a sleepless night, and I do not know anything much worse than tossing in bed, unable to sleep."

"Do you have headaches?"

"Yes, often, more especially after a restless night."

"Why don't you try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food? That is what nearly everybody uses for nervous troubles these days."

"I don't know just why, unless because I have a dread of taking any drug that is strong enough to produce sleep."

"But, my dear, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will not produce sleep in that way. It is only after using it for a time and after the restorative influence is felt by the nerves that you will find yourself sleeping well and naturally.

"So many of my girl friends have told me about using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for sleeplessness, headaches, nervousness and such troubles that I have the greatest confidence in it."

"How does it act?'

"It is a restorative, makes the blood rich, feeds the nerves and builds up your system in every way so that the benefits are lasting."

"How long will I have to use it?"

"Oh, I suppose two or three months. It takes time, you know, to get exhausted nerves fully restored. It will not be long, though, before you find yourself sleeping well, enjoying your meals and entirely free from headaches."

"Say, I believe I will try it, for I do suffer most terribly when I cannot sleep, and then I am so tired out next day."

MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Rev. John Lennox, minister of Temple Hill, gave the following pathetic close to a memorial address at Temple Hill a week ago Sunday:

"It is but as yesterday since the war was declared. The darkening shadows and the fearful forebodings of the past are but a dream. In recollection we recall the throbbings of our national life. The bugle call was sounded to rally the country to the standard. Thousands of gatherings were held from the Atlantic to the Pacific to hear the burning speeches of orators. "No Nation Can Rise Above The Level of Its Home Life"

RAISE the standard of living in the home and the standard of the nation rises with it.

Canada was one of the first countries to respond to the now world-wide movement to beautify the home. And there are no people in the world who are in a better position to afford and to appreciate the best and truest things in life than we in Canada.

Furnishings Mould Character

The important part that the furnishings of the home play in moulding character and developing a true pride in family and in race is better understood today than a few years ago.

How are children to be led to appreciate the solid, substantial things in life—the beauties of art, the love of good literature, the desire for culture—unless they have the proper surroundings in the home?

Improve the Home

Beautify the home with furniture that is designed on truly artistic lines. Make the home a place of cheerfulness, refinement and restfulness. Make it breathe warmth and heartiness. Make it truly hospitable, solidly comfortable—a home that inspires interest in all that is good and worth while in life—and it will mould character and develop true pride in family and in race.

To procure furniture that will elevate and make the house a home of which you can be justly proud does not call for extravagance. Good taste is more necessary than a large expenditure of money.

There are beautiful suites and individual pieces of furniture obtainable at moderate cost, which are true works of art, many of them being correct adaptations of the designs of the "old masters" who created the "Period Furniture" so much in vogue today.

A "Queen Anne" Room

As a suggestion, study our sketch of a "Queen Anne" bedroom. It shows the beautiful and refined effect obtained by the selection of an artistic suite of bedroom furniture.

Just two or three pieces of artistically designed furniture will raise the level of an entire living room. And by gradually adding other pieces and suites in the different rooms, you will, before long, work a magical transformation of the home.

A Finer and Greater Nation

Every advance in refinement and culture, every improvement in the home surroundings, every influence that raises the ideals of home-life, makes the nation that much finer and stronger.

We are living in progressive, prosperous times in a country with a glorious future, therefore, Canadians have every incentive and can well afford to beautify their homes with new and better furniture.

This announcement is inserted by

THE HOME FURNISHINGS BUREAU

Bank of Hamilton Building Toronto, Canada

NOTE—The Home Furnishings Bureau does not sell furniture or goods of any kind. Its object is to promote a greater interest in the furnishing of Canadian homes. Your local dealer will be pleased to give you any information you desire about suitable furniture for your home.

Mr. Trought, the baker at Inglewood, has summoned four village youths for breaking into a locked stable and taking therefrom a buggy valued at $20 or $30, depositing the vehicle on the roof of a village house from which it fell and was broken. The affair happened on Hallowe'en.

The award for the best kept section in the Orangeville, Teeswater, Elora sub-division, comprising some dozen sections, has been given to Mr. James Hiscox, section foreman at Sneigrove, by the C. P. R. The prize is $10. Mr. Hiscox has also won the prize of $5 for the best kept station lawn.

Death came with awful suddenness to Archie Hope, of Toronto, who was on a visit to the old home at Shrigley. With his two sons he came up from the city on Tuesday for a holiday outing. It appears that he and the younger boy went out to the bush on the back of the farm to hunt partridge and rabbits. He was stricken with a weak spell and died in the bush from heart failure before medical aid could reach him.

Rev. John Stewart Conning, a former pastor of Knox Church, Walkerton, has recently been called to a very important work. He has gone to New York City where he will be the official head for the United States of the Presbyterian Missions to the Jews.

JANE ARMSTRONG HURST

A resident of Toronto for the past twenty-five years, Jane Armstrong Hurst, relict of the late James Hurst, passed peacefully away at her home, 53 Follis Ave., on Wednesday, November 10th.

Born in Ireland she came to Canada eighty-five years ago with her parents and settled in the Humber district near Toronto (at that time Little York), afterwards going to Mono Mills where she lived for sixty-five years. Her husband, who predeceased her thirty-six years ago, conducted a shoe manufacturing business there for a number of years. The late Mrs. Hurst was a member of the Anglican church and was a woman of sterling qualities. She was always ready to give a helping hand to those around her.

She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving mother, four sons and three daughters, James, Robert and William, of Toronto, George, of Guelph, Mrs. Frank Cochenour, of Victoria, B. C., Mrs. James MacDonald, of New York, and Mrs. Robert Harvey, of Mono Mills, (at present in Wolseley, Sask.) Twenty grandchildren also survive.

The funeral was held on Saturday, Nov. 13th, going by train to Orangeville, thence to St. John's cemetery, Mono. Rev. Mr. Seaborn, rector of St. Cyprian's church, Toronto, conducted the services at the house and grave. Many and beautiful were the floral tributes, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

She is not dead—just gone to Life, where there is no pain, sorrow or strife.

The surviving members of the family are two sisters, Mrs. A. E. The funeral was held from the house of Mr. and Mrs. Hannahson to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon following his demise. Farms in Three Counties of Ontario Prove Value of Fertilizers

Tests of 1920 carried out under scientific supervision convince farmers of Ontario of the value of fertilizers in hastening maturity and obtaining larger yields and bigger ears.

The demonstrators report:

1. "The greatest difference of all between the plots was in the maturity of the corn and the yield of ears."
2. "These two plots of corn (1st-fertilized, 2nd-fertilized and manured) were eight to ten days earlier in ripening."
3. "The differences in maturity of the ears for silage purposes were distinctly in favor of the fertilized plot."

MRS. M'HUGH

At the Hillyard homestead, lot 13, Centre Road, Caledon, where she was born 72 years ago, Mrs. Margaret McHugh passed unexpectedly away at an early hour on Saturday, November 6th, 1920, after an illness of only nine days' duration, ending in heart collapse. The late Mrs. McHugh, whose maiden name was Margaret Hillyard, was married to the late John McHugh in the year 1874. The young couple lived in Toronto for some years, before going to Chicago, where they resided for eleven years, afterwards returning to Caledon village, where they lived until Mr. McHugh's death on April 2nd, 1918. Mrs. McHugh was a cheerful, kindly Christian woman, greatly beloved by her many life-long, intimate friends, who gathered in goodly numbers to pay their last tribute of respect ere she was laid to rest in Caledon Cemetery beside her husband and the brother who passed away only three months ago. The departed woman was a life-long Methodist. The services at the house and grave were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Capt. Morris, of Alton, assisted by Rev. W. E. Wilson, of Toronto.

One less on earth, its sorrow and toil to share,
One less the pilgrim's daily cross to bear,
At home in Heaven.

MRS. ALFRED COLLIER

Mrs. Mary Ann Collier, widow of the late Alfred Collier, Deputy Registrar of Deeds for the County of Dufferin from the time the County was formed in 1881 until his death on August 14th, 1915, passed away at her late residence on West Broadway on Saturday, November 6th. Deceased had been an invalid for many months prior to her demise and her recovery was not expected. She was 89 years of age and was a sister of Hugh Ferguson, a former well-known Orangevillian and for many years bookkeeper with the firm of A. & W. Johnston. Deceased was a kindly woman of a retiring disposition, devoted to her home and family and enjoying the esteem and confidence of her neighbors and intimate friends. During her long illness she was tenderly cared for and nursed by her two daughters with true filial devotion and love. The surviving family are a son, Mr. A. J. D. Collier, bank manager at Mortlach, Sask., and two daughters, Misses Florence Collier, B. A., and Nellie Collier, of Orangeville. These have the sympathy of all their friends in their time of sorrow. The funeral was held to Greenwood cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 10th. Service was held in St. Mark's Church, Rev. Archdeacon Ingles, of Toronto, officiating, assisted by the rector, Rev. T. E. Stewart. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. J. Chambers and W. R. Mumford, of Toronto, and Col. J. A. V. Preston, C. A. Lamon, Dr. R. N Kyles and C. R. Wheelock, of Orangeville

MRS. J. L. ISLAND

Mrs. Island, wife of Mr. J. L. Island, Crown Attorney for the County of Dufferin, passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital late on Friday night after a long illness from an incurable malady. Mrs. Island was taken to the hospital five weeks ago, when her illness assumed a critical form. Previously her husband had taken her to the city, where he enlisted the services of a leading specialist, but unfortunately to no purpose. The end came very peacefully just before midnight. The late Mrs. Island, who was in her 48th year, was a daughter of the late E. J. McKitrick, who was prominently identified with the life of Orangeville about forty years ago. She was married to Mr. Island seventeen years ago and leaves to mourn her death her husband, two daughters, Misses Grace and Kathleen, her aged mother, now living at Burford and in very delicate health, two brothers, Harry and Ward, both practicing law in Toronto, and two sisters, Mrs. H. P. Miller, of Burford, and Mrs. G. C. Webster, of Teeswater. Deceased was a kind-hearted, sympathetic woman, who was held in high esteem for her fine qualities of head and heart. She was devoted to her home and family, who have sustained an irreparable loss in her untimely removal. Profound sympathy is felt for the grief-stricken husband and the two daughters, bright school girls in their teens. Citizens of all walks and denominations were represented in the large assemblage that gathered to pay a last mark of respect at the funeral on Monday afternoon. Rev. T. H. Stewart, rector of St. Mark's Church, of which the deceased was a faithful and exemplary member, held an impressive service in the stricken home and also officiated at the grave. Interment took place in the Forest Lawn Cemetery. The pallbearers were Warden C. V. Jeffers, Messrs. C. R. McKeown, A. A. Hughson, Thos. Wright, Capt. A. Firth and E. Still. ARMISTICE DAY

Loyal Order of Moose Hold Fitting Celebration

The Orangeville Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose celebration Armistice Day by holding an initiation Supper and Musical evening, which was largely attended by the members. After the initiation of the class of new Candidates, Bro. Falconer, Dictator, while addressing the members, referred to the day on which they were meeting. From this town a great number of young men, had gone to the War, many of whom had never returned. The anxieties of the dark days of the War ended on November 11th, 1918, but he trusted the memory of the brave boys who had fallen in the great struggle for democracy would ever remain in our hearts, particularly on this day of the year. (applause)

The members afterwards adjourned to the Supper Room, where a most enjoyable repast was served. After the Supper a further adjournment was made to the Lodge Room, where a splendid musical program was provided. The numbers included a song by Bro. Wm. Clowes, selections by Bro. J. C. Kentner, coon song with guitar accompaniment by Bro. Fred Falconer, acrobatic performance by Bros. J. A. Brawley, H. Cox and H. Curry, a song by Bro. J. E. Jessop and coon melodies by the Moose Quartette. The special feature of the program was the performance by Bros. H. Cox and H. Curry in an "Eccentric Skit" entitled the "Bull Moose" and "Baby Moose," which caused roars of laughter. Bro. Jessop, Vice-Dictator, congratulated the brethren on the growth of the Orangeville Lodge and hoped to see the membership doubled before the end of the year. This, he had no doubt, could be done by the members there to-night if they explained the benefits to humanity that the Loyal Order of Moose and Mooseheart were performing every day.

Bro. Cox, Past Dictator, in a few well-chosen words, urged the brethren to get busy and do something in the present campaign that the Lodge was conducting to secure new members. Among other things, Bro. Cox stated that if the people of Orangeville knew the benefits to be derived from the Loyal Order of Moose and Mooseheart, the greatest human organization in the world, they would be clamoring for admission into the Order. Addressing the members before closing, Bro Falconer gave an interesting account of the work performed by the Moose and Mooseheart. The latter he said provided a Home for 800 children of deported brethren, who were there equipped with a trade and a High School education. Mooseheart symbolized "applied Christianity." It did what others talked about doing. Mooseheart is the only city in the world, where no child is either rich or poor, and where one day a week every boy and girl worships voluntarily and in their own way the All-wise and omnipotent Father of us all. Every child at Mooseheart is reared in the faith of its parents. The Loyal Order of Moose interferes with no man's politics or religion, but stands for clean politics, good government and the religion of the "Fatherhood of God" and the "Brotherhood of man." In conclusion Bro. Falconer thanked God for the Moose, who gave Mooseheart to the world and are keeping it to serve humanity through all time.

Hearty votes of thanks were tendered to Bro. J. C. Kentner for supplying the gramaola selections, to the Committee in charge of the program and supper and to the brethren who had so ably contributed to the program. Afterwards the most enjoyable evening, which Orangeville Lodge Loyal Order of Moose has yet held, was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to tender our sincere and grateful thanks to our neighbors and friends for their great kindness during the illness of our brother, the late William Reynolds, and for the many expressions of sympathy in our bereavement through his death.

THE ALLEN INQUEST

Four Young Men Taken Into Custody as Result of Hallowe'en Tragedy.

The inquest into the cause of the death of the late Richard Allen opened in the Court House at 7.30 last Wednesday evening and concluded at 3 o'clock Thursday morning, when the jury brought in the following verdict:

We, the jury, appointed to inquire into the cause of the death of the late Richard Allen, who died in the town of Orangeville, on Thursday, November 4th, 1920, have agreed on the following verdict:

We find that the said Richard Allen died from injuries sustained sometime about one o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, November 2nd, 1920. Said injuries were sustained through the collapse of a walk or platform, leading from the apartment occupied by the deceased to an outdoors closet, while the deceased was standing on said platform, thereby causing the deceased to fall to the ground, a distance of about twelve feet. The collapse of this walk or platform, we find, was caused by the thoughtless, foolish, and unlawful act of a number of young men, who set about to upset the closet as a Hallowe'en prank and accomplished their purpose by chopping off at the base three of the four supporting posts by the use of an axe brought to the scene by one of their number and afterwards used by some of the young men in the assemblage to cut the said posts.

A crowded court room showed the intense interest the sad fatality has created in Orangeville and district. Dr. M. W. Berwick, of Grand Valley, conducted the enquiry, Crown Attorney J. L. Island conducted the examination of the witnesses and Mr. A. A. Hudson was present in the interests of a number of young men implicated in the affair. Altogether some twenty witnesses were placed in the box. The evidence showed that the idea of overturning this particular closet had originated with a crowd of young lads, who were afterwards joined by a group of young men, who were instrumental in carrying through the plan. After a couple of futile efforts to upset the building someone suggested if they had an axe they could accomplish their purpose. Herb Leggett swore that he had gone home for the axe, but had taken no part in the subsequent chopping. Three witnesses, Hilton Dale, Robert Young and Gordon Babe, admitted that they had helped to chop the posts supporting the structure. A number of the younger lads, when placed in the box, admitted that they had been in the crowd until eleven o'clock, when they had gone home after receiving a warning from Night-watchman Ewing. They did not know anything, they said, of the upsetting of the building, until they learned about it next day.

While the jury was considering its verdict, four young men, Herbert Leggett, Orangeville, Hilton Dale and Robert Young, Caledon, and Gordon Babe, Mono, were taken into custody. They were shortly afterwards released on bail of $4,000 each, being themselves bound over for $1,000 apiece with sureties for $3,000.

The preliminary hearing will take place before F. M. Fattullo on Monday next, Nov. 22nd, at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bailey, of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Colgan, of Dundalk, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kearns, of Erin, were some of the friends from a distance who were here for the funeral of the late Wm. J. Reynolds this week.

The engagement is announced of Ruth, second daughter of Judge and Mrs. Vance, of Barrie, to Capt. Robert Hay Davidson, son of Mrs. Davidson and the late Col. John I. Davidson, Toronto, the marriage to take place quietly the second of December.

Mr. Ewart G. Macpherson, Manager and Pilot of the Western Aeroplane Co., Ltd., arrived in town from Moose Jaw, Sask., on Monday night and is spending a few weeks visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Our former townsman is engaged in commercial flying in the West and is sanguine that there is a great opportunity for useful and profitable business ahead of his company. THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Thousands of mothers state positively that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine they know of for little ones. Their experience has taught them that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them and that they can be given with perfect safety to children of all ages. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Therrien, St. Gabriel de Brandon, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. I thought I would lose my baby before trying the Tablets but they soon made him healthy and happy and now I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A TRIP THROUGH INDIA

Don't miss the Illustrated Lecture on the above subject by Rev. R. H. Haslam in the basement of the Presbyterian Church next Monday night, Nov. 22nd. The Lecture will be instructive as well as interesting, as Mr. Haslam will speak of his own experience during his fifteen years' work and travel in India. All the Young People's Societies are uniting to attend this meeting, which is under the auspices of the Upper Canada Bible Society. There will be a musical program. Admission, 15c.

MEMORIAL MEETING

About fifty citizens attended the meeting called by Warden C. V. Jeffers in the Library Auditorium on Saturday afternoon to consider what disposition the people of Orangeville and district wished to make of their share of the money voted by the County Council for the erection of suitable memorials to the fallen heroes of the Great War. The discussion revealed considerable diversity of opinion. One section of the gathering favored the erection of a monument while another was strongly in favor of a community or memorial hall. To the end a committee consisting of Col. Preston, Dr. G. H. Campbell, Messrs. B. McGuire and D. Macpherson and Capt. A. Firth was appointed to collect information and report at a later date.

GOING TO TORONTO

Mr. John Harshaw has sold the American Hotel property on First St. to Mr. A. McGrath, of Shelburne for $10,000, taking in part payment a dwelling house in Toronto. Mr. Harshaw and family are moving to their new home in the city almost immediately. The loss of such exemplary citizens of so many years standing will be a matter of very general regret in Orangeville and amongst the many country patrons of the American, who have always found Mr. and Mrs. Harshaw courteous, capable and obliging in the discharge of their duties as host and hostess. The family will be very much missed in St. Andrew's Church, where the Misses Bessie and Mary Harshaw were valued members of the choir, Sunday School and Y. P. S.

Tuesday night the choir and members of Mrs. R. A. Irwin's S. S. Class gave expression to the general regret felt in the church at the loss of the Misses Harshaw and their valuable services by meeting at the home of the two young ladies and presenting them with an address and a beautiful Presbyterian hymn book apiece. Miss Jennie McArthur read the address and Misses Sadie Watson and Edna Carlson made the presentations.

Monday night the Busy Bee Club, during a meeting at the home of Miss Bessie Forfect, presented Miss Bessie Harshaw, who has been identified with the organization for some years, with an informal address and a very dainty ivory jewel case.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Last Monday night the Missionary Committee had charge of the Epworth League meeting, when a very interesting and instructive program was supplied. Miss G. Ewing, convener of the Committee, presided and read an article on Missionary work in China. Miss E. M. Budd read a letter from a Missionary's wife, which told something of the hardships endured in foreign fields as well as giving a brief outline of the greatness of the work being carried on. Miss M. Cook gave a rather humorous reading on Missions at Home. The musical part of the program was supplied by Miss E. Fludder, who played an instrumental solo, and Mrs. W. Kearns and Mrs. M. Green who sang.

The meeting next Monday will be withdrawn to allow the Leaguers to attend an Illustrated Lecture to be given in St. Andrew's church. Members wishing to attend may obtain tickets free of charge from the President.

Bear in mind that the meeting on Monday evening, Nov. 29th, will be conducted by the Social Committee.

A PRESENTATION

One evening last week Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Conley, Broadway, and their girl roomers presented Miss Rebe Winterton, a bride-to-be, with a dainty silver butter dish and the following address:—

Dear Reba:

As we learn with regret of your departure from our midst we feel that we cannot let you go without showing in a small manner our appreciation of your companionship while amongst us. Feeling assured that your departure will be for your future happiness we could not wish you to stay, but as a small token of our friendship we ask you, Reba, to accept this silver butter dish, together with our hearty good wishes, and trust that in your new home it will ever remind you of the days spent at Mr. and Mrs. Conley's.

Signed on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Conley and the Girls.

Miss Jennie Brown read the address and Miss Sadie McManamen made the presentation. Miss Winterton made a brief and appreciative reply after which all spent a pleasant social hour.

PEEL STOCK JUDGING COMPETITION

The first annual Stock Judging Competition under the auspices of the Peel County Junior Farmers' Improvement Association held on Friday, Nov. 5th, was an event which fully justified their organization. The management is to be congratulated on its success.

Everything ran according to schedule throughout the day. The competitors and onlookers were there some time before the hour appointed. Stockmen were on hand with classes of beef and dairy cattle from 10 until 12 o'clock. From two o'clock until six, the 23 Junior Farmers judged horses, sheep and swine. Interesting classes of stock, all brought in by local men, gave the judges, as well as the boys, considerable work. Judges on Beef cattle were:—Prof. G. E. Day, Secretary Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association; Prof Wade Toole, of the Animal Husbandry Dep., O. A. C., while judging on Dairy cattle was in charge of Prof. R. W. Wade, Director Live Stock Branch and C. F. Bailey, Managing Director Royal Agricultural Show. Horses were judged by Prof. Toole and C. F. Bailey; Sheep by R. W. Wade and L. E. O'Neill, Secretary Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association, and Swine by Prof. Day and R. S. Duncan, Director of Agricultural Representatives.

The grand championship prizes, which are trips to the International Live Stock Show with all expenses paid, go to W. G. Shaw, of Ebenezer and G. O. Kirk, Inglewood. These were awarded on a basis of the highest aggregate points, judging on all classes. The third prize, a two weeks' short course, expenses paid, at the O.A.C. was won by Ira Noble, of Bolton.

The shield, donated by Frank Fetch, President of the Peel J. F. I. A., for highest standing on Beef and Dairy cattle, went to W. G. Shaw.

Prize winners were as follows:—

As Edison's Electric Light Outshines The Candle, So Edison's AMBEROLA Phonograph Outsings "Talking Machines"

THE complete list of Edison's Inventions, that have helped mankind to live better and to better enjoy living, reads like the Arabian Nights. Isn't it easy to understand why the inventor of the phonograph can produce the world's greatest phonograph value, the Amberola? Isn't it difficult to understand why anybody ever buys a talking machine, when they can own

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

The World's Greatest Phonograph Value

Are you familiar with the shrillness and metallic sound of "talking machines" and ordinary phonographs? Then come to our store and listen to the pure, musical tone of the Amberola! The difference is startling.

Do you know the cost and bother of constantly changing phonograph needles? Let us show you the permanent Diamond Point Reproducer of the Amberola that does away with needles!

Have you seen how easily "talking machine" records crack and break? Amberol Records can be accidently dropped without damage—they are practically unbreakable and everlasting!

Would you like to own an Amberola, but feel you cannot afford one? Let us prove to you that Edison's wish to bring music into every home makes it possible for you to possess an Amberola almost on your own terms!

Come in and talk it over with us. If you cannot come soon, write us—today.

THIS NOISY WORLD

The Wail of a Nervous Man

(By F. Raymond Coulson)

They've grown a pear that's seedless,
They've bred a hopeless dunk,
A fish, whose fins are needless,
And—Science there has stuck.
They say they'll make us ratless,
But I should welcome that less
Than if our tiles were cadless—
Which would be splendid luck.

Loud infants make our joys less,
And fiery tempers fan,
If babies were born all noiseless,
'Twould be a boon to man.
If morning cocks were screechless,
And yelling boys were speechless,
Life's woes would be for each less
Who groans 'neath Noise's ban.

If trains had silent whistles,
And donkeys silent brays,
Our lives of thorns and thistles
Would fall on brighter days.
If sputters' tongues were wordless,
And every woman nagless,
This world our feet would drag less
To suicidal ways.

If rascally impostors
Sang noiseless in the street,
And only shoutless costers
Cried fish, oh what a treat!
If singers all were songless
And bells of churches gongless,
The haggard, harassed throng less
Would yearn for Death's retreat.

Were all pianos chopped up,
If burst were every drum,
And every trombone stopped up,
'Twould be Elysium.
My molars would be ground less,
If Noise were not so boundless
I wish the world were soundless
Or I were deaf and dumb.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

Inspector Unable to Determine Cause of the Hoare Fire in East Garafraxa.

Deputy Fire Marshall Pointon, one of the officials of the Fire Marshall's Department, was here a couple of weeks ago investigating the fire which destroyed Mr. Jacob Hoare's barns in East Garafraxa. In his report Mr. Pointon states that he was unable to determine the cause of the fire and is therefore obliged to class it as due to "cause unknown." His repor reads as follows:—

Re fire which occurred at 2.30 p.m., 21st October, 1920, on the premises of Jacob D. Hoare, East Garafraxa Township, County of Dufferin, totally destroying barns and contents.

I have thoroughly investigated this fire and have been unable to find the cause thereof, so must class it under "cause unknown."

Jacob D. Hoare, owner, states that he was standing a short distance from the threshing engine about 2.20 p.m. when he saw smoke and small jets of flame coming out from under the roof of the straw barn which is an annex of main barn. He shouted "fire" and ran into main barn. He had only time to drive out two calves. There was a strong wind blowing and the three barns were all on fire in a few minutes. He states that he does not know what caused the fire. The threshing engine, he thought, might have caused it although he did not see any sparks coming from it at any time. The threshing, he says, would have been finished in ten or fifteen minutes if fire had not occurred.

Eddie Lane, thresher, states that the threshing engine was bought in Sarnia last May, and that the bearings had not at any time become overheated. He did not see any sparks coming from spark screen or ashpit on day of fire. He says he was standing beside the separator in main barn and a sheet of flame seemed to come from straw barn and spread all over main barn in a minute. He had hardly time to run out. His separator was destroyed and he had no insurance on it.

Harry Gibson, who ran the threshing engine, says he was never away from engine while running during day of fire. The fuel he used was chiefly hardwood, with a few sticks of pine. He states he did not see any sparks coming from screen or ashpit, and that he did not draw any ashes out of pit while engine was running, and draft dampers on ash-pit had been closed for twenty minutes before fire was noticed. Engine was standing twenty feet from wall of main barn, belt driving through large window to separator. He was cleaning up as the threshing was nearly finished, when someone shouted fire and looking towards barn, which had two windows, he saw that the inside of the barn was a mass of flame and that smoke and flames were coming out from under roof. He states that engine did not cause the fire and thinks the fire was caused by cigarettes or matches thrown on the floor of the straw house. His reason for this belief is, he says, because he saw two helpers named Oliver Cornelius and James Howlett coming out from straw house at or about one o'clock smoking cigarettes. He did not think of it again until after the fire and did not tell anyone about it.

On inquiry I found that the men mentioned by Harry Gibson had left the vicinity since the fire and their addresses were not known. In so far as I was able to find out they are hard working, respectable men. The fire may have been caused by one of them dropping a cigarette stub or match among the chaff on the floor of the straw barn, which would smoulder until it burst into flame and communicated to the straw in barn, igniting same and spreading to all parts of the barns.

Respectfully submitted,

J. W. POINTON,
Deputy Fire Marshall,
Pro tempre.

The schoolmaster asked one of his class if any of them could tell him what an epidemic was.

No answer.

Well, I will tell you. An epidemic is any thing that spreads. Now, what is an epidemic?

"Jam, sir!" shouted the class in chorus.

QUEBEC MAN AND WIFE GIVE FACTS

Feel It Their Duty to Tell Others About Tanlac, States Cote

"Both my wife and I have derived so much benefit from Tanlac that we feel it our duty to tell others about it," said Gaudias Cote, 137 Broiseau street, Quebec.

"For a good many years I was in a run-down condition with stomach trouble. Everything I ate upset me, I had the worst kind of headaches and got so weak that I could hardly work.

"Tanlac gave me a splendid appetite and I can eat a good square meal and not have any trouble with my stomach afterwards. I quickly picked up strength and am now feeling so much better that I can do my work without getting tired.

"My wife was in a badly run-down condition too. She had indigestion and could eat very little and had become so weak she had to lie down much of the time. Her nerves, too, were in a bad state.

"When she saw what Tanlac was doing for me she tried it, too, and is not troubled with indigestion now, and is so much stronger that she can do her housework without any difficulty. Her nerves are quiet and she says she feels better than she ever did before in her life."

Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS

The following is the text of Warden Jeffers' address to the County Council last week:—

Gentlemen:

This being the last session of the County Council for the year 1920, I desire to offer you my sincere thanks in appreciation of the hearty support and co-operation you have given me as Warden in the transaction of all business done by the Council this year. Undoubtedly, you have appreciated the importance of all matters laid before you this year and have discharged your duties in a faithful and businesslike manner, having due regard to the many interesting problems you have had to contend with.

Dufferin County is to be congratulated on the splendid condition of prosperity of the people, its abundant harvest and the many other advantages which go to make its importance in the Province of Ontario.

Since last session we are proud to know that coal mines and oil fields have been discovered in Dufferin. We can only hope that these shall prove productive, in which case we can rest assured that they will be a wonderful asset.

I cannot let this occasion pass without mentioning something about the young people of the County. Dufferin is indeed proud of its boys and girls. We rejoice in offering our most hearty congratulations to the lacrosse teams of the County, who have so ably conducted themselves on the field of sport. Shelburne team won both the Midget and Juvenile championships of Ontario, while the famous Dufferins of Orangeville won the Intermediate Championship, also the Senior Championship, and are therefore recognized as the logical Lacrosse Champions of the Province of Ontario. To gain this distinction they defeated the St. Simons of Toronto, who had defeated Ottawa, the Eastern Champions.

Four Championships out of five in one year is something that any county must justly feel proud of indeed. A feature worth mentioning is the fact that on the Orangeville team there were three prosperous farm boys, while the majority of the team are returned soldiers.

I would like you to consider very seriously the contemplated change of our Township County system of roadmaking to that of a straight County system, which system is advocated by the Department of Public Works, of which the Hon. F. C. Biggs is head. We hope to have him with us at this session, when he will no doubt be given an attentive hearing.

It will be necessary for you to appoint two auditors at this session to make the annual audit of the County Treasurer's books so that they may present their report at the first session of the year 1921.

During this session you will undoubtedly have many matters to deal with, which I trust you will consider honestly and fearlessly.

In conclusion I again wish to offer my sincere thanks to the several members of this Council and also to the County Officials for the able assistance accorded me and for the courteous treatment shown me always, all of which I gratefully acknowledge.

I have the honor to be,

Yours very truly,

C. V. JEFFERS, Warden.

COUNTY COUNCIL NOTES

The County Council brought the November sitting to a close shortly after five o'clock on Friday afternoon, when a motion to adjourn sine die was made and carried unanimously. Before dispersing the members united in a verse of the National Anthem, Mr. J. C. Reid, the veteran County Clerk, leading in the singing.

The report of the County Property Committee recommended that the three German field guns be placed under shelter until the war memorials are built. The Chairman of the Committee was instructed to look after the gun in Orangeville and the Reeves of Shelburne and Grand Valley were charged with the duty of caring for the guns belonging to their municipalities.

Groceries—J. Kearns & son, black pepper, 35c.; Japan tea, per samples, 35c. and 45c.; granulated sugar, 13c.; rolled oats, 90 lb. sack, $4.45; butter, 53c.; white beans, 7c.; pot barley, 6c.; Comfort Gold soap 9c.; tobacco per plug 12 1-2c.; turnips per bus., 15c.; potatoes, per bag, $2.20; carrots, per bus., 50c.; Canadian coal oil, 37c.; American coal oil, 31c.; egrs, 45c.; molasses, 35c.; brooms, 4 string, 65c.; brooms, 5 string, 75c.

Milk—Geo. McKennitt, 13c. per qt.

The Warden was instructed to get prices and information regarding a typewriter for the Registry Office and submit to next year's Council.

J. R. Layton, a Shelburne lawyer, addressed the Council in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Haddock and Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, of Mulmur, respecting their claim for damages due to injuries sustained in an auto accident last summer. Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Haddock also addressed the Council giving their version of the accident. It appears that the parties were driving in Mr. Haddock's car after night. The car upset into an excavation at the side of the road from which the County had been taking gravel for roadmaking. The hole was protected by a barrier, but no light had been placed at the danger point as required. Mr. Haddock claimed $148.00 damages, Mrs. Haddock $540.00 and Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong $775.00. They offered to settle the claims for $1,000 provided the Council would settle doctors' bills, repairs to car and legal expenses. The Council offered to pay each of the parties $300, a total of $1,200, in full settlement of the claim. When Council adjourned Friday night this offer had not been accepted. Council appointed a small Committee to continue the settlement negotiations and to take the necessary steps to defend an action should these fail.

Wednesday afternoon Rev. W. M. Morris and Mr. J. M. McNaughton addressed the Council in the interests of the work of the Dufferin County Educational Association. The two speakers explained the objects and work of the Association very concisely. They were tendered the thanks of the Council for their addresses and a request for financial aid was referred to the Education Committee.

The Warden and the Chairman of the Finance Committee were given authority to pay to the Chairmen of the Memorial Committees of Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley each district's share of the money raised by levy for memorial purposes, when the Committees have commenced actual work on the memorials and need the money.

Ex-Warden Hugh Falconer, of Shelburne, visited the Council on Wednesday afternoon and was invited to address the Councillors, which he did in happy manner.

Col. Preston addressed the Council regarding the War Memorials and urged among other matters that the Council take steps to have the three German field guns properly placed and mounted. The matters referred to by Col. Preston were afterwards referred to the County Property Committee for consideration.

The gaol officials were instructed to procure any necessaries that may be required for Robert Grasby, an inmate of the House of Refuge, and to forward their bills to the Official Trustee. Council decided to take the steps necessary to collect the money left by John Mills, who died while an inmate of the House of Refuge. The Warden, Clerk and Governor Bowles were appointed a Committee to interview the County Solicitor in the matter.

The report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges stated that steel had been purchased for a new bridge on the boundary between Shelburne and Melancthon. The Committee had been unable to have the bridge built this year, but hope to be able to proceed with its construction early next spring.

Rev. J. A. Black, of Hornings Mills, put in a claim for $18 damages to his auto through a defective roadway. Jas. Duke, of Amaranth, preferred a claim for $14 for expenses and loss of time owing to a defective bridge. Council declined to take action on either claim. On the report of the Finance Committee the Council turned down the Navy League's request for a grant. The same Committee reported in favor of a grant of $10 a month to John Hubbard, a blind resident of Orangeville. The grant will be paid for a period of one year.

Cecil Stewart, of Melancthon, and E. H. Gibson, of Grand Valley, were appointed county auditors. Each will receive the sum of $30 for his services.

On motion of Mr. Moffatt, seconded by Jas. Brown, the Council passed a resolution conveying its sincere sympathy to Mr. U. W. Christie, County Roads Superintendent, in the loss he sustained recently through the death of his father and expressing the hope that a kind Providence will enable him to bear his loss with Christian fortitude.

Respecting the matter of a settlement with the contractor for constructing the 50 foot span reinforced concrete bridge in the township of East Luther, known as Bourn's bridge, the Warden, the Chairman of the County Property Committee and the County Treasurer were appointed a committee to meet the East Luther representatives and the contractor and to arrange with them the most satisfactory means of meeting the indebtedness.

Shortly before the final adjournment on Friday afternoon a motion was passed asking the Warden to vacate the chair and appointing Reeve Jos. Brown, of East Garafraxa, chairman pro tem. When Mr. Brown had taken the chair another motion was submitted tendering to Warden Jeffers the hearty thanks of the Council for his fairness and courtesy as presiding officer and the energy and ability he has shown in the discharge of all duties pertaining to the Wardenship. Every member of the Council spoke to the motion, all referring in appreciative terms to the Warden and his services to the Council and the people of the county. The motion was then carried unanimously amid hearty applause in which all the members joined. Mr. Jeffers thanked the members for their expression of good-will and referred in an appreciative manner to the co-operation and assistance he had at all times received from the members of Council and the county officials.

SALADA TEA REDUCED 15 CENTS A POUND

Every effort is being made to supply the retail dealers with Brown Label "SALADA" at the reduced price of 55 cents per pound. However, it will take some little time before all have it in stock, in spite of every exertion on the part of the Company, as they have tens of thousands of customers throughout Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

FARM SOLD

Mr. Samuel Weatherall has sold his fine 100 acre farm, the west half lot 21, con. 1, west, Caledon, to Mr. John Corbett, who will get possession early in the spring. The deal was put through by Geo. Wilkins, real estate and insurance agent, Orangeville.

A thrilling revelation of how a hunt is conducted for an escaped convict forms part of the action of the second episode of Vitagraph's latest serial, "The Silent Avenger." William Duncan, the star, who has been called "the Bandow of the screen," appears as the escaped convict, a man who has been "railroaded" to prison on faked evidence.

He escapes by changing places with a dead man, tunneling under the prison wall, and hopping on a freight train. The whole countryside is aroused into taking part in the convict hunt. Scientific methods by which the prison and police authorities throw out dragnets for miles around in such cases, are vividly revealed.

Duncan's exhibition of agility in this episode has earned him the title of "the human cat." The exploit is that of stinging face upward to the underside of a table, in hiding from searchers.

For centuries the obvious, natural, instinctive device for hiding in a room has been that of crawling under a table or bed, behind the confines of a hanging cloth. This expedient proves effective only when the search is half-hearted; and it fails when searchers really hunt for their quarry.

The second episode of "The Silent Avenger," with the foregoing exploits, will be shown at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Nov. 29th and 30th.

Growing Old Together

THIS aged couple, mellowed by time and the experiences of life, are happily growing old together.

They are happy because they are healthy. Life is still full of interest to them, and they are wide awake to new ideas.

These are the kind of old people that everybody likes. For, in spite of the years, they are cheerful and optimistic.

It is only natural that the blood should get thin and vitality wane as age advances, but there are ways of keeping up the quality of the blood and maintaining health and vigor.

Very many men and women have found in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food exactly what they need to restore energy and strength and keep them healthy and happy.

As an example Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tryon, P.E.I., writes: "At seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and am cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my nose. At eighty-one I have an energy which means go, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their health and strength by using this great medicine."

There can be no doubt that this treatment contained exactly what was required to build up Mr. Leard's system.

We are constantly receiving so many letters of this kind that we can, with the greatest confidence, recommend people of advanced years to put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food on trial, as a means of restoring and maintaining health and vigor.

Mrs. Joseph Lalonde, Hydro Glen, Ont., writes: "I have to thank you very much for what your medicines have done for me, especially the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I was so run down and nervous last summer that I was in bed most of the time, unable to do any work. I have also been troubled with my kidneys for over twenty years, and tried every doctor I knew of without any permanent results, but I can say that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills have made me feel quite different. Since taking this combined treatment I have been able to do my housework, and although I am now 74 years old, I feel better than I have for years."

("I know Mrs. Joseph Lalonde, and believe her statement regarding Dr. Chase's medicines to be true."—W. F. Flannery, Postmaster.)

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. Only the genuine bears the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on every box.

BOYS WITH FIREARMS

Some farmers living near Orangeville have complained to The Banner of the annoyance and danger they and the members of their households are subjected to by the careless use of firearms by town boys, who go out hunting in woods near the town. The danger is a real one as a stray bullet might cause a wound or even sacrifice a life. A few years ago an Orangeville boy lost his life from the accidental discharge of a firearm by a companion and chum in a bush quite close to the town. Lives should not be endangered by allowing boys to wander about the country with guns. They cannot be expected to exercise the care of men of mature years. Parents would be well advised if they would refuse to allow their boys to carry firearms on any pretext. Hunting in a country so well peopled as the district about Orangeville is a pastime that should be strictly limited to grown-ups, who can be trusted to exercise ordinary care.

A U. F. O. Club has been organized in Horning's Mills.

Town Assessor Moyes, of St. Mary's, has just completed his work and finds St. Mary's to have 4,004 inhabitants.

Earl Brown, a lad in his teens, son of Mr. James Brown, of Markdale suburbs, met with an accident a week ago Thursday while assisting to take up the tracks at the sink hole works, by which he had his left leg broken below the knee.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCES

Ten Meetings Held at Different Points in Dufferin County.

During the second week of November ten Conferences were held at as many points in the County of Dufferin under the auspices of the recently organized Dufferin County Educational Association. The Conferences were for the purpose of bringing teachers, trustees and ratepayers generally together for the purpose of discussing educational topics and thereby stimulating a more general interest in our rural schools and the work they are doing. Considering the busy season the Conferences were well attended and a lively interest was manifested in the addresses and the general discussion that was always invited at the close of the addresses. Playgrounds, school equipment, school attendance, school sanitation, medical inspection, the school as a community centre and consolidated schools were some of the topics discussed. Rev. W. M. Morris, Secretary-Treasurer of the Trustees' Department of the Ontario Educational Association, Inspector W. R. Liddy, Mr. A. A. Jordon, Inspector of Schools for East York, Rev. Mr. Segsworth, Dr. McGibbon, of Honeywood, Rev. C. J. Bailey, of Mansfield, Mrs. R. Murphy, of Mansfield, Mrs. J. A. Mills, of Shelburne, J. M. McNaughton, of Orangeville, M. McCormick, East Garafraxa, W. A. Wansbrough, Grand Valley, Mr. Robert Reid, Camilla, President G. R. McWhirter and Secretary-Treasurer A. D. McKitrick, of the County Association, were some of the speakers. An effort was also made to have local speakers assist at all meetings and in a number of instances the after discussions in which the people of the locality took an active part were probably the most profitable part of the meetings.

At all meetings local or sub-committees were appointed to act with the County Association. It is hoped by this means to give permanency to the work the County organization has inaugurated. The local Committees will decide on future Conferences, indicate the subjects they would like discussed in their particular community and make the necessary arrangements for the Conferences. The members of the local Committees are:—

ON TOTING TALES TO THE NEIGHBORS

By J. E. Middleton.

Mr. J. W. Tyson is the Editor of The Financial Post, Lieut.-Col. J. B. MacLean's weekly newspaper, dealing mainly with market reports and general business conditions. The fact that Col. MacLean is an ardent admirer of private enterprise is well-known. He is just as ardent in his distaste of public enterprise, particularly if it tends towards the municipal ownership and operation of Public Utilities. It is not surprising that The Financial Post's constant attitude towards the Hydro-Electric enterprise is one of indignant remonstrance. In its references to Sir Adam Beck, The Post tends towards an hysteria which is almost ladylike.

A year ago, Mr. Tyson, who swings ably an ebullient fountain pen, contributed to "State Service," a magazine published at Albany, N.Y., a critical article concerning the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario and its procedure. It was uncommonly pungent. Anyone without a sense of humor would have called it libellous. If it had been published in Toronto it would have been similar to others from the same source and would have had a similar effect; people would have enjoyed its raw color and the fantasy of its drawing, and would have gone their way as usual, cheerful but unconvinced.

Since Mr. Tyson had written to strangers, rather than to home folks, and had not allowed facts to hamper unduly his style, Mr. H. C. McCollum, Municipal Auditor of the Hydro-Electric System contributed to the same magazine a reply, pointing out Mr. Tyson's errors in detail.

A rejoinder from Mr. Tyson appears in the September-October number, but in the same issue the Editor reproduces from the Toronto press a complete statement of the financial position of the Niagara System, as published in Ontario on August 7th. last. He says, by way of preface:

"For eight or more years the question of establishing a policy for using the water-power of New York State to produce electricity has been before the Legislature in one form or another. For several years the conference of mayors of the State has endeavored to obtain from the Legislature a law, authorizing State development of water-power owned by the public, but the Bill thus far has been defeated. This article shows with what success public development has operated in the Province of Ontario, Canada. It is intended to be a reply to statements made by certain interests in the United States that the hydro-electric system in Canada is not a success."

Evidently the Editor of The Financial Post has not succeeded in converting the Editor of State Service to the Gospel of Hostility, urged forth in the first and second [illegible] the Albany one.

FEES FOR WEIGHING

H. McG., Brucefield.—Could you please tell me through the "Sun" the prices that can be charged for weighing live stock? Last spring you published a list for weighing which said 10c. for 1st animal and 5c. for each additional animal. Is this a government rate or has each town or township the power to make their own rate? The scales here charge 15c. a weigh of either one or two cattle. At this rate three cattle cost you 30 cents. The rate you quote would only cost you 20c.

Ans.—As the law stands it is illegal to charge more than the following rates: for pigs, sheep and calves, 1 or 2, 10c.; 3, 4 or 5, 15c.; 6 or 7, 20c.; 8, 9 or 10, 25c., and for each animal above 10, 2c. per head; and for all other animals 10c. per head for one, and 5c. for each additional animal weighed at the same time. The statute is very clear on the point.—Farmers' Sun.

1921 PLATES EMBOSSED

The 1921 Ontario license plates for motor vehicles will be a marked improvement over any other markers issued by the Highways Department. Next year the plates, while somewhat smaller, are of a neat design. The figures are embossed so that an observer standing at an angle may clearly decipher the number. Numbers having more than four figures will be hyphenated; for example, license number 186654 will appear in embossed orange-colored letters on a black background as 186-654. Announcement of the new rates which come into effect next January for motor vehicle licenses will be made public by the Highways Department in the course of a few days.

NOTHING IN THAT LINE

A visiting minister was proceeding to examine the children of a Sunday School as to their general knowledge of Bible characters, and began:

"Who was the first man?"

"Adam," they all answered in chorus.

"Who was the first woman?"

"Eve," they all shouted.

"Who was the meekest man?"

"Moses."

"Who was the meekest woman?"

Every one was silent, the children looked blankly at each other, but none could answer. Finally a little hand went up, the preacher looking at the little fellow said: "Well, my man, who was she?"

"There wasn't any," confidently asserted the boy.

DEPARTMENTAL CATALOGUES

One hundred and twenty-three mail bags was Owen Sound's share of one of the biggest Toronto departmental stores fall and winter catalogues. These were distributed in Owen Sound and vicinity. The bags each contained eighteen catalogues, each of which weighed fifty-seven ounces. The total weight of catalogues was, therefore, slightly over four tons. They were shipped to Owen Sound by express and were distributed from the local office by parcel post at 9 cents a piece or $180 for all. Each of the catalogues would cost as a conservative figure $5. Figure it out yourself. Twenty-two hundred and fifty catalogues at $4 apiece: $9.00 plus $180 postage. The express charges would amount to about $7.00 which brings the total cost to the Company of placing the catalogues in the hands of their prospective buyers in Owen Sound up to $9,280. These will not spend $9,280 in Owen Sound without getting more than that amount out of the city business during the coming fall and winter. If the people of Owen Sound who deal with these big stores would spend that amount of money in the city instead of helping to further enrich a company already wealthy, and at the same time give business to Toronto that should be kept here, they would not only help the local merchants, but also help themselves by making the city more prosperous. The watchword of today is "Keep business at home."—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

A tragic accident occurred at Hanover when William Lamont, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lamont was caught between the engine and first marl car of the Hanover Portland Cement Company's train, on which he was fireman, and was crushed, probably instantaneously.

POTATO IMPROVEMENT

A Test That Shows Valuable Returns

A demonstration in potato improvement that should prove of general interest to our farmers has just been completed by Mr. Stanley Merrill, of Lambeth, Ont.

Mr. Merrill is located in the famous Caradoc potato section neaf London.

When he was preparing his potato ground last spring an acre was measured off and divided into five equal parts. To one of these blocks 100 lbs. of 3-10-3 fertilizer was applied. This means that the fertilizer carried 3 per cent. Ammonia, 10 per cent. Phosphoric Acid and 3 per cent. Potash. To the second and third blocks 150 and 200 lbs. were applied. The fertilizer was put on through the fertilizer dropper of the potato planter.

The potatoes were cultivated just as the rest of the field and were sprayed five times with Bordeaux and paris green. The soil was a fair sandy loam, and good seed was planted. Two blocks unfertilized were left between the fertilized blocks so as to check up the yields.

When digging time came the crop was carefully weighed and the yields were as follows:—

No fertilizer, 137.5 bus. per acre.

Very little potato disease was found in Mr. Merrill's crop.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church have presented the Rothsay Church with a very handsome individual cup communion service.

Mr. Albert Giles recently sold his farm in Arthur Township to Mr. Geo. Rolson, of South River.

ELECTRIFY THE C. P. R. OWEN SOUND DIVISION

It it were my railway and I could do what I'd like with it I'd electrify the old Toronto Grey and Bruce—Owen Sound division of the Canadian Pacific. Then I would try it out first by putting a through service, stopping at, say, Markdale, Shelburne, Orangeville, Bolton, Woodbridge and give a two hours and fifty minutes or say three hour run. I'd start this rapid transit service at 7 o'clock in the morning and run cars at 11 a.m., 3 p.m., and 7 p.m. Perhaps it wouldn't pay—at first it wouldn't but wouldn't it make a peach of a through service? Then I would run local service touching at all other towns and several additional cross roads at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The slower service would throw passengers who wished to catch the through service at the nearest point on time. Freights could come through by night. I think it was Lord Shaughnessy, who said out at Minneapolis a few years ago that he hoped to live to see a large part of the Canadian Pacific system operated by electric power. The Toronto-Owen Sound division would be the natural spot to start on as in addition to being the oldest division incorporated in the Canadian Pacific lines, it would be convenient to hook up with both Eugenia and Niagara power. But even if steam were used to generate power, it would be more practical to have the fuel pile alongside of a power house, than have to haul it up hill and down dale on a steam locomotive. We may expect it when money gets cheaper and the railways have enough ahead to make the change.

SEVEN GOOD REASONS

During a temperance campaign a lawyer was discussing, with no little show of learning, the clauses of the proposed temperance law, says the Presbyterian Review. An old farmer, who had been listening attentively, shut his knife with a snap, and said:

"I don't know nuthin about the law, but I've got seven good reasons for votin' for it."

"What are they? asked the lawyer.

WILLIAM WOOLNER

William Woolner, a life-long resident of the township of East Garafraxa and Mono, passed away at his late home, lot 19, Centre Road, in the latter township, on Wednesday, November 17th, at the ripe age of 81 years. Despite his great age deceased was quite smart and able to go about until some two weeks before his death. Mr. Woolner was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Woolner, pioneer settlers in East Garafraxa, where he was born and resided until thirty-four years ago, when he moved to lot 15, con. 5, east, Mono. In March 1919 the family moved to lot 19, Centre Road, where he has since resided. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Fanny Miller, of East Garafraxa, and a family of three sons and four daughters. The latter are George Woolner, of Caledon, Ephraim and Eben Woolner, Mrs. J. Still, Mrs. Jas. Pierson and Miss Fannie Woolner, of Mono, and Mrs. Emerson Collister, living in Saskatchewan. Mr. Abram Woolner, of Collingwood, is a brother and Mrs. Jos. Carr, of Michigan, is the only sister now living. Deceased was a quiet, hard-working man, who enjoyed the respect and goodwill of the neighbors amongst whom he lived. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Friday afternoon, Rev. William Coutts, of Camilla, conducting services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were the three sons and Messrs. Jos. Pierson, Sam Roney and Wm. Cockerill. The friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved widow and family.

LAUREL

Our winter is still here.

W. R. Groskurth is doing quite a trade these last few days in the fowl line.

Don't forget the play given under the auspices of the Dramatic Club of the Presbyterian church on the evening of Dec. 10th at 8 o'clock. We understant the Play, "Dust of the Earth," is very highly recommended. There will also be a good orchestra in attendance.

Now that it is getting near election time again would it not be possible to impress on our council the great need of a memorial for our returned soldiers and others, or are we just going to let it drift over and pay nothing in return for the boys who sacrifided home and home ties for others who just merely knew there was a war on at the time. Let us when using the fact of the sacrifice and not let it pass like a thought in one's mind.

We were sorry to learn of the operation for appendicitis performed on Miss Mary Bryan, but at time of writing she was progressing as well as could be expected.

What we would like to know:—

When L. McCabe will have Duke to his name?

If L. Gray still hopes to learn the millinery business in Shelburne?

Where Oliver Ewing spends some of his evenings?

If E. Richardson walks or motors south now?

The young men of Laurel will present the Drama, "Dust of the Earth," in the Laurel Town Hall on December 10th. The drama consists of four acts and there are six male and four female characters. There is an interesting plot woven into every line of the play. The heroine and her story win the interest of the audience from the moment that the curtain rises. The drama is full of mystery, romance, pathos and fun. The Laurel Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Alfred Harrison on December 2nd at 2.30 p.m. The delegates will give their report of the recent convention. IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of our beloved Emily (Mrs. Jenkins), who passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, on November 26th, 1918.

Where our precious one now is dwelling,
Free from toil and from every care,
With her garments spotless and shining,
Like the robes that the angels wear.

When our pilgrimage is completed
And our footsteps no longer roam,
By the pearly gates gladly waiting,
She will give us a welcome home.

Sadly missed by Mother, Brother and Sister.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear sister, Eliza Jane Anderson, who departed this life on October 9th, 1920.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in His Wisdom has recalled,
The boon His love had given;
But though the body moulders there,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Munson Jenkins, who passed away the evening of November 26th, 1918.

Two years have slowly passed away,
Since the sad eve of that eventful day;
And as hour by hour the days go by,
We realise our loss with many a sigh.

Dear Emily, we know that you have left us,
Our hearts are filled with grief;
But we feel 'twas God who called you,
And the parting will be but brief.

We have as our consolation,
Amid the memories of days gone by,
The thought that your last journey
Was to that happy home beyond the sky.

O, God grant you peace forever,
On that dim and distant shore,
Where we may all be united,
And live in joy for evermore.

Husband and Little Daughters.

THE WARDEN'S SUPPER

That delightful annual social function known as the Warden's Supper, revived in Dufferin County a couple of years ago, was the raison d'etre of a most pleasant gathering in the Grand Central Hotel on Friday evening, when Warden C. V. Jeffers followed in the footsteps of his immediate predecessors in office by entertaining the members of the County Council, members of the Orangeville Council, the County officials and other representative men, including a number of the ex-Wardens of Dufferin, to a sumptuous banquet. About fifty guests occupied seats around the festive board and discussed the excellent menu provided by Miss Bennett, with a zest and enthusiasm that betokened keen appreciation of the good cheer offered for their delectation. The tables, which were prettily adorned with colored candies and large bouquets of carnations, were arranged in the form of a large "L" County Treasurer C. R. Wheelock, who discharged the duties of Toastmaster in his usual witty and finished manner, occupied the central seat at the head table. John Best, M. P., occupied the seat of honor at his right and Judge Fisher had the chair on the left. Other guests seated at this table were School Inspector W. R. Liddy, Mayor Parkinson and Town Clerk A. A. Hughson. Warden Jeffers presided at the other end of the hall and had T. K. Slack, M. L. A., to his right and C. R. McKeown, Mr. Slack's predecessor in the Legislature, to the left. After sufficient time had been devoted to the satisfaction of the needs of the inner man the covers were removed and the remainder of the night was happily spent in speech and song. The addresses were of an unusually high order, dealing with topics of present interest in municipal, Provincial, Dominion and even world spheres. Anecdotes and witty digressions gave point to the addresses and evoked gales of laughter from the listening assemblage.

The opening toast to "The King" was honored by the hearty singing of the National Anthem. Mr. C. R. McKeown proposed "The Dominion of Canada" in an eloquent address. To John Best, M. P., and Judge Fisher fell the honor of replying and both speakers were heard at their best. In a bright and witty address Rev. W. M. Morris proposed "The Province." The wealth, problems and possibilities of the premier Province were ably set forth by T. K. Slack, M. L. A., and Mr. W. R. Liddy, the gentlemen selected to make the responses. Mr. A. A. Hughson was apt and witty as usual when proposing "The County of Dufferin." Bright responses, necessarily somewhat brief, were made by Ex-Warden H. E. Hinsperger, Rev. Samuel Lundie, Grand Valley, Mayor Parkinson, Ex-Warden Hugh Falconer, of Shelburne, Councillor Arch. Vance, Ex-Warden Alf. Menery, Grand Valley, Councillor Jas. Brown and Warden Jeffers. The Warden was given a rousing reception when he rose to speak, the whole company uniting in an enthusiastic rendering of the familiar lines, "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow." Mr. Jeffers expressed his gratitude to his fellow Councillors and the county officials for their co-operation and assistance throughout the year and reviewed briefly some of the problems that had engaged the attention of the County Council during the twelve months.

Members of the County Council and a few of his other friends sprang a delightful surprise on Warden Jeffers, in a genial and popular Toastmaster, by presenting him with a fine solid leather club bag as a sight evidence of their esteem and the appreciation so generally felt by present and past county councillors of the invaluable nature of his services in the capacity of County Treasurer. The address, which preceded the presentation, was made by Judge Fisher. The presentation itself was made by Dr. G. H. Campbell and Reeve Alex Brown, of East Garafraxa. Mr. Wheelock, who confessed that he had really been taken completely by surprise, made a brief and modest acknowledgment.

One of the most keenly enjoyed items on the program was the singing of "The Maple Leaf," by Mr. J. C. Reid, the veteran County Clerk. Mr. Reid was in fine voice and rendered the anthem with vigor and feeling, the whole gathering joining heartily in the chorus.

It was almost one o'clock when the banqueters dispersed after singing Auld Lang Syne with great heartiness and unanimously voting this one of the best of the many pleasant Banquets given by Dufferin Wardens.

PALLID CHEEKS AND DULL EYES

To be run down in health and to lose their attractiveness is the double misfortune of many young girls. Their pallid cheeks and dull eyes tell everyone that they are doomed to days of wretched headaches and are victims of breathlessness and bloodlessness. The anaemic girl, if she neglects her health, may be a sufferer all her life; for an active happy woman cannot be developed out of a bloodless, consumptive looking girl, without the help of new, rich, red blood.

Pale, weak girls should take heed. Bloodlessness must not be neglected. Plenty of good air, a nourishing diet and rest will help you but the cure you need most promptly is new blood. Good new blood in abundance such as makes all the difference between sound health and poor health to girls and women is supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their one mission is to make new blood which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body bringing to anaemic girls and women new color, bright eyes, an elastic step and a feeling of joy in living. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to young girls is shown by the cure of Miss Bessie Clarke, R. R. No. 1, Stevensville, Ont., who says: "Two years ago, while studying for the entrance examination, my health broke down and I fell away to a mere shadow of my former self. When the day for examinations came, I should have been in bed instead of trying them, but I went on with the work and when through was almost on the verge of collapse. I thought then that a rest would help me, but I did not regain my strength. Then my mother was advised to have me try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for about a month I found myself restored to health, with good color and a change for the better, which people who knew me readily noticed. I am very thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me, and hope my experience will benefit some other weak girl."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

After partaking of the ample lunch a hearty vote of thanks was given to the Whittington League for their kind invitation.

Mrs. J. B. Adamson,
Educational Secretary, I. O. D. E.
Dear Mrs. Adamson:

I owe you the thanks of the staff, pupils and principal of the Public School for the splendid gift of books to the school which was made recently through you. They are just what we want.

Will you convey to the Lord Dufferin Board our thanks for the same.

Yours very truly,
A. FIRTH, Principal.

On Armistice Day after the impressive ceremony in Alexandra Park was over the flowers used were presented to the very sick in town and to the hospital. The cenotaph was removed to the Library, where it serves as a reminder of the day.

The concert given under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire on Tuesday evening was a veritable treat. The program was something out of the usual and was enjoyed by an enthusiastic house.

Donations of potatoes and apples from Mr. John Meek and apples from Mrs. John McLaine are thankfully acknowledged.

A DELIGHTFUL TREAT

It is long since an Orangeville audience has had the opportunity of enjoying such a genuinely delightful treat as at the Daughters of the Empire concert in the Opera House on Tuesday night. The members of the National Quintette proved to be artists of personal charm and much more than average ability. Their selections were admirably chosen and excellently rendered. Miss Mayme Bell, the contralto of the party, charmed everyone in her solo and quartette work. Mrs. Thornton Schwartz, the soprano, possesses a dramatic voice of unusual purity. Geo. Vines, the basso, has easily one of the finest bass voices heard in Orangeville in a long time. Norman Colvin, the tenor, formerly soloist in Rosedale Church, Toronto, is the possessor of a voice of great power and brilliancy. Miss Olive Colvin, the pianiste, is a finished artist, who plays with delicacy of touch and a superb mastery of technique. Miss Sternberg's Classic Dancers, a trio of charming and skilful danseuses, contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the evening and their numbers were very popular. Miss Pearl O'Neil, the entertainer, was superb and was rapturously applauded after every appearance. The closing part of the program, "A Day in Gypsyland," was a revelation of beautiful costumes, finished singing, acting and dancing, every moment of which the audience fully enjoyed. A capacity house attended the concert. The net proceeds will go to the hospital fund.

Miss Winterton was then presented with a Life Membership Certificate in the Mission Circle. Among the gifts was a beautiful present from the staff of the Bank of Hamilton. The evening was spent pleasantly in games and music and after lunch a few songs were sung suitable to the occasion. The enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Hears Famous Scotch Tenor

compare voice with RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph—could not tell the two apart.

DAVID DUGGIN, the celebrated Scotch tenor, gave an extraordinary recital last Tuesday night, November 16th, at the Opera House.

Mr. Duggin walked on to the stage and stood beside a stately cabinet. He began to sing "Oh! You Don't Know What You're Missin'." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of his beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. The voice continued to fill the auditorium with undiminished sweetness—your ears were proof of that—but his lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that.

What wizardy was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his Re-Creation of a singer's voice, as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Mr. Duggin made repeated comparisons—always with the same result. It was truly wonderful. This master achievement of the great wizard, Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With A Soul"

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used at the Opera House and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by this artist) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument he used in his amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have two of the famous Official Laboratory Models and Mr. Duggin has certified each one of them. Come to our store at once and ask to see and hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Mr. Duggin has issued his Certificates of Authenticity.

HE SATISFIED BOTH

Two women travelling in the same passenger coach could not agree about the window, and finally appealed to the brakeman. "If that window remains open I shall catch my death of cold," objected one while the other promptly replied, "If it is closed I shall smother to death." The brakeman scratched his head in perplexity, until an old gentleman, sitting nearby, proposed, "Open the window until one freezes to death, and close it till the other smothers to death, and then the rest of us can finish our journey in peace."

Farms in Three Counties of Ontario Prove Value of Fertilizers

Tests of 1920 carried out under scientific supervision convince farmers of Ontario of the value of fertilizers in hastening maturity and obtaining larger yields and bigger ears.

The demonstrators report:

1. "The greatest difference of all between the plots was in the maturity of the corn and the yield of ears."
2. "These two plots of corn (1st-fertilized, 2nd-fertilized and manured) were eight to ten days earlier in ripening."
3. "The differences in maturity of the ears for silage purposes were distinctly in favor of the fertilized plot."

BROADWAY, ORANGEVILLE.

ment by Commissions. The speaker took a fall out of Attorney-General Raney, whom he described as the bran new Attorney-General, who was strongly opposed to horse racing, yet permitted the racing fraternity to pull off a matched race between two horses, really a gambler's race, on one of the Windsor racing courses. Major Kennedy also found fault with the temperance legislation of the present Government, which he said allowed the rich to drink, but strictly prohibited the poor. Of the 55 new officials appointed by the Drury Government no less than 51 were Liberals. Reference was made to certain appointments in Peel County, the appointees being Liberals in every instance. The speaker said that the Conservatives had polled a large percentage of the popular vote at the last Provincial election. In proof of this he named five constituencies, including Dufferin and Peel, in which U. F. O. candidates had polled only eighty more votes than the Conservative candidates. Yet these five constituencies were represented by four U. F. O. and only one Conservative member. Excepting the French members and a very few others, every Liberal in the Legislature was a U. F. O. man. The Conservative party had done great things in the past, had a glorious part in the making of the history of Canada and Major Kennedy predicted in closing that it would do great things for the nation in the future.

S. Charters, M. P., who was happily introduced as an oldtime lacrosse player, reciprocated the compliment by extending his hearty congratulations to the Dufferin lacrosse team on their double championship and expressing the hope that when they went to the Coast next spring they would be successful in bringing back the Mann Cup to its rightful home in Ontario. That Mr. Best, his colleague in the House, stood well in this county the people of Dufferin had repeatedly testified. He assured the gathering that Mr. Best stood equally well in the Parliament of Canada, where he had won the reputation of being a good and courageous fighter. If he were asked to choose a text for his address he would select the words, Come now, let us reason together." New conditions had arisen in Canada as the result of the Great War and it was the duty of all Canadians to study these conditions, use their best efforts to reach a happy solution of the pressing after the war problems and above all to do their duty and face their responsibilities as citizens. Mr. Charters devoted much of his time to a defence of the present tariff and a discussion of its effect upon the farming and manufacturing industries of the land. The tariff had been blamed for rural depopulation, but Mr. Charters showed conclusively that rural depopulation was not an ill peculiar to Canada or confined to Canada. He quoted statistics to prove that Michigan, Indiana, New York and other states in the Union had suffered more grievously from the drift from the farms to the towns and cities than has Ontario. Forty years ago seventy per cent. of the population of the United States was rural. Ten years ago fifty-five per cent. was rural and to-day only thirty-five per cent. of the vast population of the neighboring republic lived on the farms. The protective tariffs of Canada and the United States had not driven the people from the farms, neither had free trade been able to keep them on the farms in England, where there had also been a steady decrease in the number of people engaged in farming. Mr. Charters quoted statistics to show that the decrease in rural population in Ontario was slight as compared with the decrease in the United States. As a matter of fact statistics for 1919 showed a slight increase over 1918 in the rural population of this province. Dealing with the argument that the farming community is not sufficiently represented in the Parliaments, the member for Peel stated that farmers controlled the conventions in rural constituencies and it was their own fault if they did not nominate farmer candidates. He further instanced the fact that whereas the city of Toronto with a population of 500,000 is represented by only six members sixteen constituencies surrounding Toronto having an aggregate population of less than 500,000 send sixteen representatives to the Commons. In the opinion of the speaker it would be unwise to remove the present tariff. In the first place the tariff was not burdensome. Again the United States, Germany and other countries had their protective tariffs and had found them essential to the development of industrial greatness. A measure of protection was necessary to develope our manufactures. There were 700000 people engaged in the factories of Canada and 2,000,000 people derived their support from these factories. There were 600 branches of American factories in Canada, giving employment to 87,000 people. Probably not one of these branches would have started if there had not been a protective tariff. Mr. Charters referred to the increase in farm values and the increase in the value of agricultural products as facts which showed that the tariff had not been injurious to the farming industry. The Conservative party was commonly referred to as the high tariff party, but Mr. Charters quoted figures to show that the Conservatives had made greater reductions in the tariff than did the Liberals during the Laurier regime. When the Liberals were in power the average rate of duty on farm implements was 20 per cent. This the Conservatives had reduced until the average was now only 14 per cent. Since 1917 there had been engaged in the administration of the affairs of Canada some of the ablest men in both the Liberal and Conservative parties. The Union Government was confronted with stupendous tasks and problems; but it had faced them courageously and dealt with them in an energetic manner. By voting $25,000,000 to aid the municipalities in solving their housing problems, $20,000,000 for good roads, $10,000,000 to assist technical education and by its shipbuilding programme the Administration had shown that it was progressive and fully alive to the needs of the country. Mr. Charters closed a logical and convincing address by making an earnest appeal to Canadians to get together for the country's weal and adopt as their guiding principle in public affairs the motto of the Princess Patricia's. "For Canada and the godd, old Motherland."

Mr. Best, who was the last speaker, declared that there was no man in the House of Commons, who tried to represent all the farmers and all the people more honestly and more conscientiously than did Mr. Charters. He had called the present meeting because he felt it was the duty of members to come before the people at least once between sessions of the House to give an account of their stewardship. He regretted that there were not more ladies at the meeting. Was glad that he was a member of the House of Commons, when the women were given the right to vote and would like to see them take a more general interest in politics. Referring to the general prosperity of the Canadian people, Mr. Best stated that he was sorry to have to make the statement that he knew and had come into contact with some people who were grumbling and discontented despite the fact that they had prospered during the last four or five years. He deprecated sweeping and general assertions of graft, extravagance and profiteering. The man who made these statements should confine himself to facts and be prepared to prove his charges. He regretted the drift from the farms to the cities, much of which he attributed to the irresponsible talk of wild men, who were going up and down the country making statements calculated to make the people who live on the farms dissatisfied with their lot. Mr. Best was proud to be a follower of Arthur Meighen, a boy who was raised on the farm and had gone barefooted when a boy. Dealing with the rumour that he (the speaker) had been offered a Senatorship if he would resign and open the constituency for a Cabinet Minister, the member for Dufferin said the statement was entirely false. If he had been approached with this or any other proposition affecting his position as a public representative, he would have consulted his executive at the first opportunity. Legislation, whether at Ottawa or Toronto, was a matter of the greatest good for the greatest number. He wanted to see the farmers of Canada adequately protected and wanted to see them enjoy the prosperity and the comforts that their labors had earned. No Government in all the history of Canada had been obliged to face the tremendous tasks and responsibilities that have confronted the present Administration since 1914. No Government in Canada had made so few mistakes as the Union Government at Ottawa. Mr. Best enlarged on the boons of free rural mail delivery and the parcel post system. He also instanced the wise and beneficent action of the Government in advancing the sum of $15,000,000 to the farmers of the West to help them buy seed after the crop failure of 1914. The Government had acted wisely in fixing the price of wheat during the war. If there had not been Government price control the price of wheat would probably have gone as low as $1.00 a bushel. Referring to the action of the Board of Commerce in attempting to fix the price of sugar for the benefit of the refiners, Mr. Best declared that he informed his leader that if the Government stood for that kind of thing he would consider himself an independent member of the House. The member for Dufferin criticized the Grain Growers group in the House for their failure to offer any opposition to the eight hour day because they were afraid of offending the labor vote, expressed his opposition to the system of pensioning public employees and deprecated the use of two official languages in Canada as being both cumbersome and expensive. He had been a member of the Patrons of Industry in the old days before politics wrecked the organization, but there was a vast difference between the platform of this organization and the platform of the United Farmers. He was in favor of farmers' organizations for self-protection and co-operation in business matters, but he was not in favor of these organizations being used for political purposes. Mr. Best discussed conscription from various angles laying stress on the confidential information that induced the Government to take steps in the first instance to secure greater food production and later to procure more men for the army. He also outlined the steps taken by the Government to assist the soldiers by means of pensions, separation allowances, gratuities, etc., concluding with the statement that no country in the world is doing more than Canada to assist its returned men. This was as it should be, for the soldiers had stood by the country during the war and it was now the duty of the country to stand by the soldiers. Mr. Best concluded his address by thanking the people of Dufferin for their loyalty and continued support during the eleven years that he had been their representative and stated that as a public man he had always endeavored to stand for everything that was British and everything that was right.

The meeting closed with hearty cheers for the singers and accompanist, and the chairman.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as antitoxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery!

Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

BEST'S MEETING

Orangeville Audience Hears Conservative Speakers Discuss Questions of the Day

Conservative Members for Dufferin and Peel Spoke in Opera House Wednesday Night.

About one hundred and fifty people attended the public meeting held in the Town Hall on Wednesday night of last week for the purpose of discussing the public questions of the day from the standpoint of the Conservative party. The meeting was called by John Best, Conservative M. P. for Dufferin. On the platform with Mr. Best were C. R. McKeown, who presided, Samuel Charters, M. P. for Peel, and Major T. L. Kennedy, M. L. A. for Peel. Songs by Mr. J. E. Jessop and Mr. Hart, the latter from Shelburne, made a pleasing diversion between speeches. Miss Ruth Shaw acted as accompanist for the singers.

In his introductory remarks Mr. McKeown criticized the present Ontario Government for taking over such an extensive mileage of Government roads and then failing to make needed improvements. He also charged that the Government had fallen down as no previous Government had fallen in the matter of enforcing the Ontario Temperance Act. It was the Government that was really responsible for the Windsor tragedy. Mr. McKeown also found fault with a recent regulation affecting small hospitals. This he said was passed at the instance of the Toronto Association of Trained Nurses and if insisted upon would probably make it necessary for Orangeville, Fergus and other small hospitals to close their doors. While making these criticisms, the chairman stated that he did not wish to condemn the U. F. O. Government on trial. The present Government should be given a fair chance. If it should prove able to govern the Province better than the late Conservative Administration, then it would of course be in the interests of the people to keep it in power.

Major T. L. Kennedy, who was introduced as the man who had defeated the present Minister of Agriculture in an agricultural constituency, stated at the outset that he was proud to be able to say that he was a Conservative. Reflection upon the great troubles and difficulties through which Canada had recently passed had moved him to make the resolution that he would never be guilty of seeking to disturb or injure his country by pulling down any established institution unless he was convinced that he had something better to put in its place. The Conservative Opposition in the Legislature, of which he was a humble member, had not found fault with the other parties merely for the sake of finding fault. Major Kennedy criticized the Drury enactment, which enables any person to sit in a municipal council and impose taxes, whether a taxpayer or not. In his opinion the person who imposed taxes on others should be a taxpayer as well as the imposer of taxes. The principle of Government of the people, by the people and for the people had been abandoned by the present Ontario Government for the rule of Govern-

NO COAL

Prof. A. P. Coleman Makes Positive Announcement Regarding Alleged Shelburne Discovery.

"There is no coal there," was the statement made to the Globe Saturday morning by Prof. A. P. Coleman, Canada's premier geologist, with reference to the alleged discovery of anthracite near Shelburne.

"The existence of coal deposits in that vicinity is a geological impossibility. If the substance found is real coal, the ground has been "salted,' consciously or unconsciously."

As explained to the Globe, the geologist based his negation of any prospect of success on the following geological facts: Coal is only found in rocks of the Carboniferous period, for it was only during that epoch that sufficiently dense forests existed to be solidified by heat and pressure into coal seams. No Carboniferous rocks exist in Ontario, therefore there is no prospect of finding coal. The Shelburne district is particularly unpromising, as the rocks there are of the Silurian period, deposited from an ancient sea millions of years before the Carboniferous epoch.

When asked whether the glaciers, in melting, might not have left behind them deposits of coal scraped from rocks in the far north, Prof. Coleman replied that such deposits were possible, but since only lignite or brown coal is found in the north the alleged deposits of anthracite could not be explained in that way.

"The substance found might, however, be anthracite," Prof. Coleman stated. "This mineral closely resembles anthracite, but possesses no economic value."

FOREMAN WALKER OFFERS EVIDENCE

St. Thomas Railroad Man Says He Knows From Experience What Tanlac Will Do.

"I know from experience what Tanlac will really do, and that's why I am recommending it," said J. E. Walker, of 21 Miller Street, St. Thomas, Ont., section foreman for the Canadian Pacific railway.

"I almost underwent a complete physical breakdown, and before Tanlac put me on the road to good health I was simply in a terrible condition. I had dreadful rheumatic pains in every joint in my body and would come home from work entirely fagged out. My appetite was so poor I just had to force myself to eat the little I did, and of mornings I would get up feeling as bad as when I went to bed. I was in a mighty miserable fix, and hardly knew which way to turn for relief.

"I saw a statement in the local paper about Tanlac that just seemed to hit my case exactly so I began taking it, and it's really wonderful how the medicine has helped me. Although I have only taken two, bottles, I eat three big hearty meals every day, am no longer bothered with that draggy wornout feeling, and am almost entirely rid of those rheumatic pains in my joints. I'll tell you, I think a heap of Tanlac, and am going to take another bottle or two to straighten me out completely."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

MRS. J. H. HULSE

It is with deep regret that we this week record the death of Matilda Ann Hulse, beloved wife of Mr. J. H. Hulse, of this town. The sad event occurred at her home early on Thursday morning last following an illness of many months, borne with Christian fortitude and patience. In the death of Mrs. Hulse Orangeville has lost a woman, who in a quiet, unostentatious way filled a large place in the life of the town and who also held a secure place in the affections of our citizens and of the people in the surrounding district, where she was almost as well known as in the town. A woman of attractive personality and quickly awakened sympathies she made many warm and lasting friendships. To those in sickness or distress she was a true friend, whose coming always brought cheer, encouragement and sunshine to the sickroom. She was an earnest and consistent member of St. Mark's Church, a life member of St. Mark's W. A., in which she had been a zealous worker for many years, an active member of the Daughters of the Empire and also of the Orangeville Women's Institute. Deceased was born in Mount Brydges Ont., and was 53 years of age. She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. H. N. Medeland, of Winnipeg, and Misses Clara and Delia, who were with their mother during her long illness. The members of her own family are Mrs. M. F. Tupper, New Westminster, B. C., Miss Fannie Mines, Fort William, Ont., Mrs. Lottie Lipsit, Mount Brydges, Ont., W. H. Mines' Chicago, Mrs. Eva Somerville, Detroit, Alfred C. Mines, Fort William, and Mrs. Archie Bateman, Mount Brydges. To the bereaved husband and family the community extends its sincere sympathy in their great loss.

The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. Family service was held in the bereaved home, after which the remains were conveyed to St. Mark's Church, where an impressive funeral service was conducted by the rector, Rev. Capt. T. H. Stewart, assisted by the full church choir. The fact that the large edifice was crowded to its full capacity furnished convincing evidence of the high esteem in which the departed woman was held and the widespread sorrow which her demise had occasioned. The casket was almost hidden from sight by the many beautiful floral tributes. The pallbearers were Messrs. T. W. Chapman, of Toronto, and Dr. T. H. Henry, E. Hackett, Elmer Still, E. Smith and A. D. McKitrick, of Orangeville.

Among the floral tributes were:—A broken wheel, husband and daughters; gates ajar, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Modeland, Winnipeg; pillow, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mines, Chicago; wreath, Mrs Eva Somerville, Detroit; wreath, Mr. and Miss Mines, Fort William; spray, Mrs. Archie Bateman and Mrs. Lottie Lipsit, Mount Brydges, Ont.; wreath, Mrs. T. G. Brereton and family, Toronto, High School staff and pupils, High School boys, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. H. Eckhardt, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs C. A. Pownall; spray, Mr and Mrs. J. H. Anderson, London, Mr. W. F. and Miss E. Dewar, Milton, Miss M. R. Hutchinson, Brampton, Dominion Manufacturers, Toronto, Sessens & Evel Casket Co., Hamilton, Daughters of the Empire, St. Mark's W. A., St. Mark's Girls' Auxiliary, Busy Bee Club, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McKitrick and Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaw and family, Mrs. J. R. Hughes and Miss Norris, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Parsons, Mr. Fred and Miss Jennie Atkinson, Mrs. H. F. Tuck, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fleming and Miss Gwen Parsons.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were:—Mrs. Lottie Lipsett and Mrs. Bateman, Mount Brydges, Mrs. T. G. Brereton, Miss Lilly Brereton and Mr. Fred Brereton, Toronto; Mr. Orrie Gray, Mrs. S. Moore and Mr. T. W. Chapman, Toronto; Mrs Harper, Bolton; Mr. Percy Hulse, St. Catharines; Mr. Chas. H. Hulse, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hulse and family, North Erin

MISS SARAH MONTGOMERY

Miss Sarah Montgomery, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery, of Orangeville and Camilla, passed away very unexpectedly at her home on First st. on Sunday morning. We understand that her sudden death was caused by a blood clot in the heart. The sad event was a great shock to the friends of the family and created a feeling of profound sympathy for those bereaved and especially for the invalid sister, with whom the deceased lived. The parents died some years ago and the surviving members of the family are one brother, James, of Toronto, and the sister, Miss Martha, already referred to. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and old neighbors of the family at the funeral, which was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. M. Morris, the family pastor, conducted services at the house and grave and was assisted by Rev. J. H. Turnbull, pastor of High Park Presbyterian Church, Toronto, and Rev. Wm. Coutts, of Camilla. The pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Fleming, A. T. Howard, Hilliard Anderson and Frank Crowe, of Orangeville, and J. W. Montgomery and A. Funston, of Dundalk.

ROBB-DODDS

A pretty house wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dodds, of Blount, on Wednesday, November 24th, when their daughter, Margaret Mildred, became the bride of Mr. Oscar Llewellyn Robb, of Toronto. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Robb left for Buffalo, Washington and the eastern States. On their return they will reside at 25 Pine Crescent, Toronto. The Banner joins the many friends and well wishers of the bride in tendering its hearty congratulations.

SPEERS-VAREY

A very quiet, but pretty, wedding took place at the Presbyterian manse at Caledon East, when Mr. Elgin Speers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Speers, Caledon, and Miss G. I. Varey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Varey, Caledon, were united in marriage on November 17th. They were both well-known members of this community and shall be missed from among their circle of friends. After the marriage ceremony, the happy couple returned to the bride's home, where some of the near friends had gathered and partook of their wedding dinner. They then went on a trip to Toronto and London, touching at other points. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful seal coat with muff and trimmings of opossum. The bride and groom will reside on the 4th line, Caledon, on twenty sideroad.

GRAHAM-WINTERTON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. French, of Orangeville, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when the marriage was solemnized of their daughter, Reba Scobia Winterton, to Mr. Percy H. Graham, of Glen Williams, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr Partridge. The bride, who was given away by her stepfather, Mr. French, wore a dainty gown of pale pink georgette with bead trimmings and corsage bouquet of ophelia roses. Little Lilly Ainsworth, her niece, was a dainty flower girl in a pink georgette dress with basket of beauty roses. Miss Louisa Bidwell, niece of the bride, played the wedding march. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for a short honeymoon trip, the bride wearing a navy blue trisotine suit with hat to match. Friends from a distance were: Mrs. Graham, Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. Fines, Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. Sergeant, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton, Hillsburg; Miss Vernon, Uxbridge; Miss Hazel Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Bidwell, Mrs. Ainsworth, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Carney, Saskatoon, and Mr. C. This play has been presented a number of times in Toronto and in many of the larger towns of Ontario, and has always met with a very flattering reception. It includes many mirth provoking situations and should certainly provide a very enjoyable evening's entertainment. There will also be singing and instrumental music, addresses, readings, etc. Program to commence at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c.

The total proceeds were over $300.00.

The teacher and pupils of S. S. No. 10, Caledon (Shannon's School), are making preparations for a concert to be held in the school on Wednesday evening, Dec. 15th. The principal feature of the programme will be a comic drama entitled "The Depot Lunch Counter." The pupils of the school under the leadership of their teacher, Miss Baxendale, will present a number of choruses. There will also be solos, recitations, dialogues and instrumental music by the pupils and some of the young people of the vicinity. Programme to commence at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c.

Hung Lung Fo's famous opium den, a place in San Francisco, which has been famed around the world, was used just before the police wiped it out, as the setting recently for several scenes in the serial "The Silent Avenger." The opium den was known as "the house of a thousand doors."

It appears as the scene of Ah Fo's opium den in the third episode of the serial, William Duncan, the star, who is widely known as "the Sandow of the Screen," enacts the experience of invading the joint on the trail of the opium gang.

He is twice captured there. First he is thrown into a deep well, and the next time is placed in a lynching noose, with his feet standing on the inside ledge of a door.

This episode is scheduled to appear on the screen of the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights, Dec. 6th and 7th.

"My, You Are Looking So Much Better!"

"YES, I am feeling fine, too."

"And how is baby?"

"He is just dandy and as good as can be."

"And what have you been doing to look so well?"

"Oh, I got run-down nursing baby and began to get discouraged I was feeling so miserable. I suppose it was my nervous condition that got baby restless, and then, of course, it worried me trying to look after him."

"I thought you looked so worn-out when I was in last time."

"Well, I was feeling so discouraged that I sent for mother to come and she was not here a day before she had me using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

"I should have told you about it, for we always use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when any of us get nervous or run-down."

"For the first few days I could not see that it was doing much good, but soon I found myself sleeping better and feeling less worried and irritable during the day. My appetite improved and as I gained strength baby seemed to sleep better and be less trouble. He is just fine now and as good-natured as any baby ever was."

"How do you take the Nerve Food?"

"One pill after each meal and at bedtime. I will soon be able to discontinue using it, but want to be sure that my system is thoroughly built up before quitting."

"That is great. It gives me more confidence than ever in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and that is saying a good deal, for you know what it did for me when I had that nervous breakdown. Has your mother gone home?"

AN ADJALA PIONEER DEAD

The last of the original score or so of pioneers who came into Adjala township about the year 1845 passed out on Wednesday of last week when the death of Mr. John Rawn occurred at the home of his son, Mr. J. J. Rawn, on the second concession of Adjala. Mr. Rawn was eight months past 87 years and retained all his faculties, especially his memory, to an unusual degree right to the end of his career. He was, like most of the stalwart pioneers who blazed the trails which to-day are improved highways, a man of sterling honesty, high ideals, unremitting industry, frugal habits and respected things sacred, but he had in addition to all these traits of character a humorous strain and an unceasing optimism which made him not only respected and his friendship courted, but imposed on him a leadership in his community which he did not shirk. Mr. Rawn was born at Mono Mills in the township of Albion in 1833 and in 1856 just after his marriage to Miss Dorothy Hutchinson he came into Adjala township and settled on lot 26, concession 2. Adjala was at that time a dense forest. Lumbering operations had not been commenced in its pine forests and the settler's axe had not yet felled many of the hardwood sentinels which had stood for a century or more. Mr. Rawn thoroughly enjoyed the life of these early days and his remarkable memory enabled him to preserve every detail of the community life of the settlers in the locality in which he cast his lot. Of late years he was excellent company for people of younger generations because of the vast store of events his memory retained and the enthusiasm with which he related them. Not only did he like to talk of the past, but he took an interest in current affairs right up to his death. Mr. Rawn was twice married. He lost his first wife in 1864. In 1865 he married Margaret Irwin who died in 1898. Since the death of his second wife Mr. Rawn lived with members of his family. He was a Methodist in religious persuasion and in the early days kept open house to the circuit riders who occasionally penetrated the north Adjala wilderness. One son and one daughter survive—J. J. Rawn on the old homestead in Adjala and Mrs. Christopher Irwin, of Woodstock. The funeral took place on Friday last, interment being made in the Presbyterian cemetery at Rosemont. Service was conducted by Rev. Geo. Milne.—Alliston Herald.

Deceased was the father of the late Mrs. James Thompson, West Broadway.

CAUGHT IN CREVICE

Owen Sound Man Pays $150 For Boys' Thoughtless Prank.

Before Justice of the Peace yesterday morning two small boys, aged 10 years and 14 years, were charged with driving a horse into a bush and leaving it there wedged in a crevice. One day last week James Lemon who lives at Woodford, let his horses out into the barnyard for exercise but somehow the gate got open and the horses went out on the public highway. Two juveniles, only 10 and 14 years of age, saw them on the road and thought they would have some fun by driving them along the road for a piece and then through a bush which is full of cracks and crevices. Of course the result was that one of the horses became wedged in a crevice, and when the youths saw this, they scampered away and didn't say a word about it to anyone. A couple of days later, Mr. Lemon found the horse dead in the crack and notified High Constable McCaffrey and the story was brought out. The two children appeared in court yesterday morning and also the parents of the older boy and Mr. Lemon. The case was settled by the father of the older boy paying for the loss of the horse, $150, and Mr. Lemon paying the costs of the court and transportation amounting to $12.60 in all. Mr. Creasor contended that Mr. Lemon's horses should not have been on the public highway and so he was forced to foot the costs.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

"Our Budget Plan will bring the New Edison this Xmas!"

THIS is the time of the year when our Budget Plan is most helpful. You ought to come in right away and find out what it can do for you.

In the first place, it will put a New Edison beside your Christmas tree, (how the family will rejoice!)

In the second place, it will stretch your Christmas dollar so that you'll hardly feel the purchase.

The Budget Plan treats the New Edison as an essential of life, such as a home, and arranges payments on the sound "time" principle. It combines modern business practice with thrift.

This way of treating a dollar actually makes it go farther. Let us explain how the Budget Plan brings the longed-for New Edison for what an extremely ordinary gift would cost,—and makes 1921 thrift pay for the balance.

PRESENTATION

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Quigley, of Hockley, Honored by Their Neighbors Prior to Removal to Orangeville.

Tuesday night, November 23rd, about one hundred and twenty-five neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Quigley, old residents of the Hockley neighborhood, met in the Orange Hall in Hockley to make them a farewell presentation prior to their removal to their new home in Orangeville. During the early part of the evening the ladies served a sumptuous fowl dinner, after which the community presented the venerable couple with a fine easy chair, a couch and a clock. Mr. Thos. Goodeve, Master of Adjula, occupied the chair in his usual happy manner. Mr. James McCutcheon read the address and Mr. Wilson Irwin made the presentation. The address read as follows:—

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Quigley,
Hockley, Ont.

Dear Friends and Neighbors:

A number of your neighbors and friends have assembled to-night to give expression to the regret so generally felt over your approaching removal from this community to your new home in Orangeville. In your departure from this neighborhood, which has been your home for the past fifty years, we all realize that we are sustaining a very real loss. As neighbors we feel that it will be almost impossible to fill the places you have occupied in our lives and in the life of Hockley and vicinity. Your kindness of heart, your readiness to sympathise with those whom you found in sorrow or distress, and your willingness to do a kind and neighborly act under any and all circumstances have long since won you our confidence, our esteem and an enduring place in our affections.

We remember, especially, Mr. Quigley, your services to the township of Mono in the capacity of Assessor and the painstaking and conscientious manner in which you discharged the duties of that office. Especially, also, do we recall with grateful hearts the enduring work you have done for this community as Churchwarden and Superintendent of the Sabbath School of St. James' Church. Your fondness for the children and your deep interest in their welfare gave you special qualifications for the office of Superintendent. In your departure the little folk are losing a tried and trusted friend, one whom they will all long remember with the kindliest feelings.

In conclusion, Mr. and Mrs. Quigley, it is our wish that you accept this easy chair, couch and clock as tangible evidences of our goodwill, esteem and affection. We trust they may prove of some service to you in your new home, where we hope you may be spared to enjoy many years of comfort, happiness and well-earned respite from the toil of your busy and well-spent lives. That a kindly and beneficent Providence may generously dower the evening of your lives with those rich blessings that flow from an abiding faith in the eternal reward that awaits the true servants of the Great Master, when they have done with the fleeting joys, sorrows and labors of this transitory abode, is the earnest and united wish of your many friends and neighbors in the Hockley district.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors

Wm. Fleming, Wilson Irwin, Dr. Hackett, Thos. Goodeve, Milford Cole.

Hockley, Nov. 23rd, 1920.

Following this the Sunday School of St. James' Church presented Mr. Quigley with a pair of gloves and a scarf. Mr. M. J. Yargy reading the address and the little Misses Beatty and Irwin making the presentations. Mr. Quigley replied in feeling terms, expressing the heartfelt thanks of Mrs. Quigley and himself. Upon the conclusion of his reply the crowd sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" with great heartiness, Mrs. G. L. Irwin playing the accompaniment. Afterwards short speeches were made by the Chairman, Mrs. John Purdon, Mrs. Sam. Irwin and Messrs. Wm. Fleming, R. J. Moffatt, John B. Lindsay, Wm. Bowers, Deputy-Reeve of Mono, Badge Robbins, John Lee and Dr. J. A. Hackett. All expressed their appreciation of the excellent qualities of Mr. and Mrs. Quigley as neighbors and the general regret felt over their loss from the community. Following the speaking a very happy time was spent in dancing, music and other amusements, the merriment continuing until well beyond the midnight hour.

Always the same rich, full-flavored tea. Sold only in the sealed air-tight Red Rose Carton.

"THE END OF THE ROAD" COMING TO OPERA HOUSE

No doubt many of the Picture Fans of Orangeville were disappointed in not being able to see the Mary Pickford show that was held recently, but the same management have returned and have as an added attraction a Ladies' Orchestra of 3 pieces and the Special Feature Picture "The End of the Road," which will be shown at the Opera House, on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 10th and 11th, under the auspices of the Canadian National Council for Combatting Venereal Diseases, with Claire Adams, the Canadian actress, as the heroine. This picture is endorsed by leading physicians and clergy and teaches a great moral lesson. The following will be of interest to those who intend to witness this great film:

Are you one of those narrow minded persons, that say "That is not a subject to discuss." Do you believe that the world's worst enemy can be stamped out of existence by observing a grim silence, a false modesty, but people are waking up, the nation is beginning to realize, and it is up to you and I also to do our bit. The war is past and gone, but a force far more powerful than the war, which is taking its toll of human lives, and happiness, destroying hopes, and killing loves, a force far more ravishing than any war could be—what is it? Why, that worst of all evils, the disease, the horror which is undermining the health of all civilization, and which is so graphically and truthfully exposed in that wonderful hygienic picture "The End of the Road." You get the plain truth there, you see right before your eyes, what happens to those who take the primrose path, here they may be caught at once, or travel for a long time, but as surely as the working of the laws of the universe, their behavior will cause their destruction, they will reap the benefit of their sowing, and more than likely drag down with them to a fate more horrible than any other on earth except leprosy, many innocents.

Are you going to be one of those to see "The End of the Road" when it is shown here on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 10th and 11th, in the Opera House, and who will leave the place, feeling that you have been strengthened, that you have been awakened, to a better watchfulness, to a higher standard of ideals, to bigger and better morals. Mothers, fathers, young men and young women, if you only realized the magnitude of this evil, you would not miss an opportunity like this of becoming enlightened. The lessons in "The End of the Road" are manifold, and not only does it deal most commendably with this terrible social evil but thrills and entertains as well.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

I wish to notify Farmers and the General Public that on and after Monday, Nov. 22nd, I will buy Poultry and other small Produce in the building on Mill Street, opposite Watt's grist mill, formerly occupied by Watson McCluskey.

I will be in my new premises Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week during business hours and will continue to pay the highest market prices for Live and Dressed Fowl, Butter, Eggs, etc.

W. FAIRBAIRN.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market.

FEEDING—If your poultry are not well fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. It will pay you many times over for your trouble and expense. Buttermilk, or skim milk, ground wheat, bran, low grade flour, and ground oats is a good feed.

Very good results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-2 ground wheat, 1-4 oats and 1-4 barley, mixing the feed twelve hours before feeding.

KILLING—Starve birds for sixteen hours, during which time they should only have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, dry picked and undrawn.

COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave poultry hanging over night.

A PRESENTATION

One evening last week the station staff gathered together and presented Miss Jennie Matson with a walnut rocking chair and the following address:—

Dear Jennie:

We, a few of the employees and officials of the C. P. R., having learned with regret that you have severed your connection with the Restaurant Department, cannot let you depart without in some little way showing you the high esteem in which you are held by us. Therefore, we ask you, Jennie to accept this chair as a token of our good will to you, and trust it will, in the future, recall to your mind the many good friends you had associated with on the C. P. R. In conclusion we hope and pray that you will be blessed with a long and happy life.

Signed on the behalf of
The officials, H. Ross, T. Moore.
The employees, J. A. Henry, A. Edwards
The staff, P. V. Trought, A. Cane.

Miss Vera Thompson read the address and Mr. P. V. Trought made the presentation. Miss Matson made a brief and appreciative reply after which all spent a pleasant social evening.

The Dufferin County Local Board of Mothers' Allowances Commission was organized in the Council Chamber, Orangeville, on Nov. 15th. The following officers were elected: Pres., Thos. Henderson, Orangeville; Vice-Pres., H. Falconer, Shelburne; Sec., Mrs. C. Dahl, Orangeville. Other members of the Commission are: Mrs. Alfred Menary, Grand Valley and E. F. Tuck, Orangeville. THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Last Monday evening the Social Committee put up one of the best socials yet. The first item was a soliloquy on the Law which proved quite amusing. Then a peanut hunt was introduced; peanuts having been hidden in different parts of the room. The idea was to see who could find the most of them. A spelling match added greatly to the enjoyment of the affair. Everybody had their fortune told and some were sure that they had at least their future plainly before them. "Musical chairs" made all step lively. A "take off," entitled "satisfied," also sent the crowd into fits of laughter. Two or three other numbers completed the very successful time which, it is hoped, is only a fore-runner of more good times under the auspices of the Social Committee.

Next Monday night the Prayer Meeting Committee will be in charge. A good program and a large attendance is looked for.

THE STRENGTH OF THE FARMER

Recent events have clearly demonstrated the power of organized agriculture. Are you doing your bit? Are you reading The Farmers' Sun, the Organ of the Ontario farmers? No other publication fights the farmers' cause with the same vigor. No other paper offers its readers as great value individually or as business farmers. Its market reports are worth many times the subscription price. The twice-a-week service of The Farmers' Sun costs more than twice the subscription price of $1.50. Are you doing your bit to strengthen the movement? The most effective way to do this is by reading The Farmers' Sun and by getting your neighbors to subscribe. The greater the Sun's circulation the greater the growth of the movement. The strength of the movement is what you make it. Let all help and the proper time is now. Send your subscription, only $1.50, twice-a-week, one year. The Farmers' Sun, Toronto.

—The popular Patricia orchestra, of Waldemar, will provide music before the Play and between acts at Laurel on Friday, Dec. 10th.

NEWS NOTES

Injuries received from a fall five weeks ago resulted in the death at Seaforth last week of Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, wife of Dr. J. G. Scott, coroner of Huron County.

The Kitchener and Waterloo Collegiate Institute Board has decided, owing to the advanced cost of building, to defer the erection of the proposed new Collegiate Institute.

Chas. Abbott, of Dundalk, who recently sold a 16th century carved oak chest to the Jenkins Company, Toronto, dealers in antique art goods, for $90, took down some other rare articles, getting $40 for some old chairs and $75 for a Dutch clock.

Andrew Martin of the Cochrane Lumber Co., was killed by the accidental discharge of a comrade's gun while they were deer shooting north of here. Mr. Martin was about 60 years of age, and leaves a wife and grown-up family, who reside in North Bay.

In Shelburne this year 5 per cent. is added to taxes not paid on or before Nov. 15th, but the five per centers are few, as, out of a total taxation of $20,951.38, there was only $822.16 left unpaid at the close of the time for receiving payments on the 15th, the other $19,129.22 having been paid.

Starting up his gasoline engine to saw wood, Angus Carnwall, a prosperous young farmer residing between Cainsville and Langford, on Saturday afternoon met a horrible death. His clothing caught in the shafting and was removed while his right leg became entangled and was torn off, death following in less than an hour. He leaves his wife and two young children.

While working over time in the Mount Forest Carriage Factory Mr. Alfred Fosbaury got his right hand caught in the sandpapering machine. Exerting all his strength he pulled it out in a moment and saved the member from a much worse injury, but not before the fingers were so severely hurt that the third and fourth fingers had to be amputated between the first and second joints and the flesh of the first and second fingers was torn off to the bone.

HOUSE OF REFUGE

The Committee appointed by Dufferin Council to confer with similar Committees from the Counties of Peel and Halton on the subject of a union Gaol and House of Refuge for the three counties, submitted its report at the County Council meeting last week. The important clauses of the report read:—

"Halton county is already connected with Peel in the support of their House of Refuge at Brampton, but refused to unite with Peel in the matter of one jail.

"Peel County would be glad to have Dufferin unite with them on either the jail or House of Refuge proposition, but would want us to bear half the expense of the jail maintenance and also pay half of the capital account invested in the jail. We do not think that Dufferin should be expected to bear the percentage of expense considering the fact that we already have a jail, but scarcely ever have any jail inmates.

"They would want us to pay one third capital cost and one third maintenance with Halton and Peel on the House of Refuge, which proposition we would leave to your consideration."

GIVE FURNITURE THIS CHRISTMAS

Furniture has always been one of the most popular, most appropriate and most useful of Christmas Gifts

THIS year it is doubly so, because of the movement "to beautify the home" that is, at present, sweeping across the world. Therefore, gifts that will help to make the home more attractive, more refined, more comfortable and more hospitable, are particularly timely this Yuletide.

Christmas in the Dining Room

Just think how much more delicious and more delightful the savory turkey, the plum pudding, the entire dinner, will taste if served in a dining room that is furnished to reflect the good cheer and warm hospitality that are associated with Christmas time.

Why not give "The Home", itself, a gift of a beautiful new dining room suite? "The Home" is just as deserving of a Christmas gift as the individuals who live in "The Home" and to whom it is the dearest place in all the world.

A Family Gift

Let all the family club together and give "The Home" a real, true Christmas gift. If not a dining room suite, then a Chesterfield suite, or some bright, cheerful sun-room furniture, or a richly designed library table, or a handsome chair, or an attractive, decorative hall seat and mirror, or some other appropriate piece of furniture.

For members of the family there are more than a score of suitable gifts of furniture.

For father or big brother, one of the handiest and most welcome of gifts is a Chiffarobe or Chiffarette. It is a real aid in keeping clothes, shirts, ties, etc., in smart orderly shape.

For mother, there's the curate or the tea-wagon and tray that she's been wanting for such a long time. Or wouldn't she be happy if she were to receive a modern vanity dresser, or a little bedroom rocker, or a sewing cabinet, or a charming writing desk.

More Furniture Suggestions

And for baby, there's the cute little cot, or a high chair, or a small table and chair, or a suite of juvenile bedroom furniture.

For the friends that are dear to you there is nothing more appropriate or that more truly represents faithful, lasting friendship than gifts of beautiful furniture.

For men friends, there's the smoking table or stand, the bench on which to rest the feet, the card table, the easy chair.

For women friends, there's the bedroom box and many kinds of artistic tables and chairs.

As a present to a man and his wife, what could be more suitable than a telephone table and chair, a flower box, a jardiniere stand, a floor or table lamp, a pedestal, a reading table or a fireside bench?

Tokens of Happiness

Gifts of furniture are gifts of cheer and happiness. Unlike many other gifts, they have the advantage of permanency. A piece or a suite of furniture is a lasting token of your love or friendship for the person to whom it is given. And it will help to beautify the home, which makes it the ideal gift—

TORONTO MAN HAS GAINED 37 POUNDS

Robert Moffitt Says Tanlac Has Put Him Back on His Feet Feeling Fine.

"Tanlac has not only put me back on my feet so I can work every day, but has actually built me up thirty-seven pounds in weight," said Robert Moffitt, 36 Hamilton St., Toronto, Ont., a well-known employee of Bennett & Wright.

"I had an attack of influenza nearly two years ago which left me in a very weak and run down condition. My energy was completely gone, I had no appetite and could scarcely eat enough to keep me alive, to say nothing of building up my strength.

"I was so nervous and weak I could hardly get around, and for weeks I couldn't do a bit of work. I often got so dizzy I would fall if I attempted to walk, and it seemed that I was getting worse every day in spite of all the medicine I had taken.

"But Tanlac brought about a great change. My appetite is so good now I eat like a wood chopper, and my nerves are as steady as can be. The dizziness and weakness is entirely gone, and, in fact, I'm feeling fine and working every day. I count myself lucky that I got Tanlac, for I don't think I could have stood up under my troubles much longer. Tanlac will always have a hearty recommendation from me."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

One of Dufferin County's original pioneer settlers died a week ago Monday at Beeton in the person of Robert Philip. The late Mr. Philip was in his 84th year and until three years ago had not experienced a day's illness in his life.

A good-sized meeting of working men at Owen Sound went on record as favoring the establishment of a municipal coal and wood yard in that city. The scheme was suggested a short time ago and is likely to be one of the planks in the Labor men's platform at the Owen Sound elections.

Our heartiest congratulations are extended to Mr. R. E. Mills, editor of the Elora Express, who on Nov. 16th completed his 17th year as head of that worthy journal. During this time he has made manly decided improvements both in his paper and in his plant, and we wish him continued success.

Caledon, Ont., October 26th, 1920.

The Reeve and Council of Caledon Township,
Caledon, Ontario.

Gentlemen:

I herewith present my annual report as Medical Officer of Health of Caledon Township for the year ending October 26th, 1920.

During the year the following infectious diseases were reported:—

Smallpox, 47 cases; Measles, 72 cases; Influenza, 125 cases; Influenzal Pneumonia, 7 cases; Scarlet Fever, 5 cases; Anthrax, 1 case; Chicken Pox, 1 case; Gonnorhoea, 1 case.

SMALLPOX—This epidemic took place chiefly in the western part of the Township, although isolated cases took place in other parts of the Township. The epidemic, with a few exceptions, was of a mild type. Efficient vaccination appeared to be the only means of checking the spread of the infection. Approximately 1,000 people were vaccinated successfully during the epidemic. There were no deaths from the Smallpox.

MEASLES—This epidemic was of a mild type generally. It, however, was no respecter of persons, as grown folks, who had not previously had the disease, generally took it if directly exposed to it. One death from pneumonia as a sequel to measles took place. As the epidemic was of mild type, I found it difficult to locate the cases early. It was not until some complication arose that the parent would call in the family physician.

INFLUENZA—The epidemic of Influenza last winter was quite as severe as that of the previous winter. In this visit of the plague all members of a family took it simultaneously, so that the problem of nursing the victims became a difficult one. In many cases the disease assumed a gastro-intestinal character simulating Typhoid Fever. Although 125 cases were reported yet the number of cases was greater than that, as the doctors were too busy fighting the "flu" to get time to report. Few cases took place in people who had it before.

SCARLET FEVER—Five isolated cases were reported. They were of a mild type.

ANTHRAX—One case reported. This proved to be a local sepsis and not Anthrax.

VARICOCELE—One case reported.

GONNORHOEA—One case reported.

At present the Township is quite free from infectious diseases.

We were ably assisted by the Provincial Laboratories who furnished vaccine and antitoxins gratis.

During October I made a sanitary inspection of the schools in the Township and my report is appended to this report. In almost every case the school had a very poor water supply, and the outhouses were in need of attention. Next year, I would recommend that the Health Officer make a medical examination of the pupils as well as of their surroundings. I believe that the school nurse is doing good work, but it would be better if carried on under the direction and with the assistance of the Board of Health.

I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

J. T. THOMAS,
Medical Officer of Health.

(Report adopted)

THE TOWN COUNCIL

The Town Council passed the following corporation accounts at its meeting on Monday night:—

E. M. McLachlan, 4Rc.; W. J. Curry, $7.60; Samuel Ewing, Thos. Pegrey, Fred Manship and Alex. Cooley, $1.50 each for services as special constables on Hallowe'en night; Robert Lennox, $16.00; Canadian Surety Co., $30.00; S. Trafford, $4.53; Dominion Express Co., 50c; E. C. Clark, 40.00; D. A. Hogg, $4.00 and $48.42; Municipal World, stationery, $7.85; Geo. King, $8.50 and $11.00; Samuel Street, $2.50; Hughes & Morris, $56.50; John Morris, $25.00; Orangeville Hydro Commission, town property, $5.35; fire, $4.73 and $28.50; Street lighting, $306.40.

An account from Geo. King for $2.50 was referred to the Street Committee.

A communication from Mr. D. B. Brown, Secretary of the Dufferin Agricultural Society, asked Council to reconsider the matter of making the usual grant of $200 to the Dufferin Agricultural Society. At a former meeting the Council declined to make the grant on the ground that the application had not been received before the estimates were prepared. Council agreed to reconsider the matter at its next meeting.

A resolution was passed confirming the sale of a vacant lot in the West Ward to Mr. M. Varcoe for the sum of $50.00.

To the Property Committee and Councillor Walker was delegated the duty of bringing in a report at next Council meeting setting forth the best method of repairing the ceiling of the market room.

A by-law was introduced and passed fixing polling places and appointing deputy returning officers and poll clerks for the next municipal election. The blanks were filled at follows:—

East Ward—Grand Central Hotel, Jas. A. Patterson, D. R. O., Wm. Watt, poll clerk.

North Ward—Opera House, Bert Booth, D. R. O., Wm. Hughes, poll clerk.

South Ward—Fire Hall, H. A. Duke, D. R. O., Walter Dahl, poll clerk.

Owners of the booths will receive $4.00 apiece and the Deputies and Poll Clerks will be paid $5.00 and $2.00 respectively for their services for the day.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. Whitfield Jessop, who departed this life December 11th, 1918.

Dearest sister, thou hast left us:
Here thy loss we deeply feel;
But 'tis God, Who hath bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

She is free from earthly care,
All trials and pains are o'er,
She has joined the Heavenly band,
Of loved ones gone before.

Loving mother, your dear daughter
Now awaits you on that shore,
Where the ransomed all are singing,
Where we meet to part no more.

'Twill only be a little while,
She has only gone before;
Then friends with friends shall meet,
Where parting is no more.

SISTERS.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear father, John Betteson, who departed this life on December 11th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one I loved was called away:
God took him home, it was His will,
But in my heart he liveth still.

It was hard to part from one so dear,
But God, who knoweth best,
Held wide His loving arms and said,
"Come unto Me and rest."

Yet how oft my thoughts do wander
To a grave not far away,
Where I laid my dear father,
Just one year ago to-day.

But 'tis sweet to know we'll meet again,
Where parting is no more;
And that the one I loved so well
Has only gone before.

This world may change from year to year,
Our friends from day to day;
But never shall the one I love,
From memory pass away.

Sadly missed by his daughter,
MRS. GEO. WESTLAKE.

WAR MEMORIAL

Memory of Canadian Heroes Perpetuated in Old London.

The following despatch in Tuesday's dailies was read with keen interest here owing to the fact that Lieut. Wheelock, one of the four Canadians named, is a son of County Treasurer C. E. Wheelock and Mrs. Wheelock, of Orangeville:

London, Dec. 6—Names of four Canadian members of the Royal Air Force occupy prominent places on the memorial which the Duke of York will unveil at St. Albans Church Wednesday. The Canadians are Lieuts. Charles Reginald Ledoe and Allen George Dew, both of Ottawa; Harry Hall Gunther, Listowel, and Charles Wheelock, Orangeville. All were killed on duty while stationed at Joyce Green Aerdrome in war time. This was the chief airdrome for the defence of London from Germain raiders.

Representatives of the Canadian High Commissioner will be present at the unveiling, also General Lord Horne, formerly Commander of the First Army in France; Air Marshall Sir Hugh Trenchard and the Home Secretary.

The memorial is in the form of a Celtic cross of Cornish granite and is in the church yard. There also is an oak tablet inside the church door whereon are inscribed the names. The latter includes the name of an Australian, Lieut. Graham Belmon, believed to have been the only airman killed over London in its defence. He was killed July 7, 1917.

The science of magic, or legerdemain, according to William Duncan, Vitagraph serial star, is divided into fifteen fundamental forms or periods of development. A report from the coast recently, following a conference between Duncan and a party of famous magicians, sets forth that the star has given a demonstration of each system of magic in his latest serial, "The Silent Avenger."

The hiding of a lighted cigar in the mouth, classified in the same period of magic development as sword swallowing, forms one of the principal tricks performed in Episode Four of the serial.

Duncan is said to have confined his magic tricks in each episode to the particular phase of the science its episode number represents. The star starts with the magic supposed to have been invented by the Phoenicians, then that of the Greeks, the Romans and the Atlantians, etc.

CALEDON.

The members and friends of Caledon Methodist Young People's Society held their monthly social meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Speers to speed Mr. Wesley Speers on his return journey to the West, where he is ranching. Devotional exercises were followed by a delightful program of games and music. The delicious refreshments provided by the young ladies were much appreciated even by our bachelor men. Mrs. Barber has kindly invited us to her home for next month's meeting.

CAMILLA

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ledlow are visiting friends in Brampton.

Mr. Alexander Bell was the guest of friends in Listowel several days last week.

Messrs. Ed. Freeman and George Walton leave this week to spend Christmas with the home folks in England.

Miss Hamilton and Mrs. Smith, of Redickville, are guests of Mrs. A. Madill.

The Young Peoples' Society held a good meeting Saturday evening in spite of inclemency of the weather. Miss Florence Curtis gave a fine paper on the Topic. The Young People took up a special collection a week ago for the starving Chinese. It amounted to the fine sum of forty-six dollars.

Rev. Mr. Coutts preached a very practical sermon to men Sunday afternoon. There was a large attendance present to benefit by it.

Preparations are being made by the Dramatic Club to put on a play during the Christmas season. We understand there will also be a Children's Concert and Christmas Tree.

FATHER WAS ONCE A BOY

Johnny liked ice cream, but he drew the line at turning the freezer. One day when his mother returned home, she was agreeably surprised to find him working away at the crank as though his life depended on it.

"I don't see how you got him to turn the freezer," she said to her husband. "I offered him a dime to do it.

"You didn't go at it the right way my dear," replied her husband. "I bet him a nickle he couldn't turn it for half an hour."

RETAINED GOOD NAME

Lion's Head Man Victim of Series of Financial Reverses.

The victim in 1913 of what Justice Middleton describes as "a series of financial reverses comparable only to the business disasters of the patriarch Job," Charles Pedwell, of Lion's Head, Bruce County, sawmiller and lumberman, had been in 1912 abundantly solvent, worth $75,000, according to his own estimate, and $25,000 according to his banker's. He struggled along for six years as one "whom unmerciful disaster followed fast and followed faster." In 1919 he was hopelessly insolvent, and on November 21st, 1919, assigned to Osler Wade for the benefit of his creditors.

In July, 1912, in the days of his prosperity, Mr. Pedwell had given his wife certain property for an expressed consideration of $9,800. She had granted him the right, on the same day as the gift, to cut timber on the land for twenty years. This right he mortgaged with his bank to secure the ready money, $9,800, which he required to close a contract for the purchase of a valuable timber property in which he was associated with a man named Tackaberry. The gift to his wife was part of a plan to raise the necessary funds. The bank not being able to advance the money on the land, the bank and the bank's lawyer devised this scheme to circumvent the provisions of the Bank Act.

In the days of Mr. Pedwell's adversity his former business associate and friend instigated legal action which the assignee had not desired to take. The action attacked the gift of these lands to Mrs. Pedwell, who has since died, as being fraudulent and void as against Mr. Pedwell's creditors. Mr. Justice Middleton has to-day given judgment dismissing the action with costs, pointing out that the property given to the wife was but an insignificant fraction of Mr. Pedwell's wealth in 1912, holding that there was an effective gift of the property, and that there was nothing further from Mr. Pedwell's mind than to defeat or defraud his creditors.

Mrs. Pedwell died intestate in 1915. Mr. Pedwell's share of the property has passed to his assignee for the benefit of his creditors. It was the share which would pass to her six children which Mr. Pedwell's creditors have vainly attempted to seize.

BETTER LIGHTING

Erin Citizens Discuss Proposition With J. M. Deagle.

On Monday evening, a meeting of the citizens was held in the Town Hall, for the purpose of discussing with Mr. J. M. Deagle, of the Cataract Electric Company, the question of an advanced rate for street lighting, asked for by the company. Mr. Deagle laid his proposition before the meeting—in which he proposes to put forty-one one-hundred candle power lights on the streets the year around, for $900.00 and to make a revised rate for domestic and commercial light and power, which would be on a basis of consumption and floor space, and according to Mr. Deagle would be cheaper to the average citizen, than the old rate. In order that this be successfully carried out, Mr. Deagle also intends to remodel the whole system and put it up to Hydro standard, which would be completed within six months from January 1st next. A number of the citizens gave their views on the question and an open vote was taken which proved strongly in favor of the new rates and system. A final decision will of course be taken by ballot, on a by-law, presented to the voters at the Municipal Election. Here's hoping that all entitled to vote come forward and cast their vote in favor of the new system. We don't want to go back to the oil lamp and candle age.—Erin Advocate.

APPEARANCE AND REALITY

For the advance of God's kingdom there must be men and money, but these, however important, are not all important.

There is peril in the temptation to substitute the spectacular and the immediate for the sacrifice and patience of slow growth. This substitute is being dangled before the eyes of ambitious and self-sufficient men.

We are in peril of being led off from the straight and narrow way—the only way that leads to success—by publicity campaigns and huge budgets to be raised immediately. "The kingdom of heaven cometh not with observation." It does not come with the beating of drums, the blowing of horns, the waving of banners, the holding of banquets, the piling up of unconsecrated money.

VERY CANDID

Mrs. Jones was entertaining some of her son's little friends to a birthday party.

"Willie," she said addressing a six-year-old who was apparently enjoying a plate of cold beef, "are you sure that you can cut your own meat?"

The child, who was making desperate efforts with his knife and fork, replied: "Yes thanks, I've often had it as tough as this at home."

DEER HUNTING

The boys of the Orangeville Hunt Club, No. 1, have returned from their hunt in Northern Ferry County and report an excellent time. The members of the Club were as follows:—Dougal Largy, Joe MacMaster, Vernet Armstrong, Charley Dyer, Billy Parks and Ross McKay.

The party left for Naiscoot a day before the season opened with Armstrong, Dyer, MacMaster and McKay as forerunners to prepare the camp, the other two boys remaining behind for a few days to store the remnants of their vegetable crops. The scouts of the party reached Naiscoot at 5 a.m. Nov. 6th, and were greeted by a small station in a wilderness of rock and pine. The camp equipment had to be carried about 440 yards down the track to the river where it was loaded, or rather overloaded, onto a red boat the boys had taken with them. Incidentally it might be said here that it was some boat.

When as much material as possible had been stored on the red schooner, Charley and Ross started up the river on the four mile journey while Joe and Vernet played the tug game around to the lake. The boat proved to be a mysterious craft and made some rare movements and headed for every direction but up river and the one direction that the pilot and skipper did not want it to go was the one it favored most, and that was to the bottom of the river. However, after some joyous paddling and rowing the old skiff was docked at a black ash log at the edge of the river and goods nicely stored on the dry side of a tree. Then the pilot and skipper, with dogs, started towards camp. The going wasn't good so the journey on foot was abandoned, and the boys returned by boat to the station where a change of clothes was effected at the Kingsville camp and one of their boats borrowed. These were good hearted fellows and transportation up the river in a real boat was soon accomplished. In the mean time Joe and Vernet had reached camp and after waiting for quite a time in the cold and wet, for it had been raining heavily all day, they started down river to look up their lost companions and to see that nothing had happened to the much prized schooner.

To cut a long story short they passed each other on the way and when they announced their arrival at camp by loud cheerful shouts they found Ross and Charlie already there with fire on and supper ready. Not a very cheerful start but all were in good spirits.

Next morning an early start was made and runways manned. Veteran Joe started out with the dogs. While on the river Armstrong took a long shot at a deer standing in the grass and hit him badly. He left a trail of blood but could not be located. It was a remarkable shot. Later the dogs picked up his trail and the deer feeling he was more acquainted with Vernet struck for his runway where he was halted by a well placed shot in the shoulder. Not content with this he got up and started off for the third time, but was forced to remain by a third shot. A big moose, feeding on the rocks, was seen by Armstrong, but fled off before chase could be given. Partridges were plentiful and proved a dainty change in the menu.

The second morning the dogs took a young doe along the runway manned by Ross and his fate was sealed by two shots, the second going through the head. Two deer in two days made the boys feel good and after the usual good supper the fiddles were tuned and the dance started, all taking part.

Sunday was passed in quiet, it being a beautiful day the boys started down to the station and met boys from other camps. Monday morning was bright and so were the hunters. McMaster with the dogs started a big buck which loped along to startle Charley where he was doing sentry duty. Charley didn't like the daring of the creature so introduced himself by a well placed shot through the neck which dropped the buck in his tracks. The camp by this time was in excellent spirits and the evening performance was started earlier than usual and a few new steps tried. While the fun was on unearthly shouts announced the arrival of somebody that later proved to be Dougal and Billy, who, when put through inspection and passing muster, were taken into camp where they were suppered and initiated. Ross, the only freshman, had been doing the preliminary duties of camp which space forbids publishing. When bed time came the late arrivals had some great rustling around to find the soft side of the boards in their bunks. Ross and Charley fared better on their pine bough mattresses and snored off the slumber hours with regularity, save when Charley came in contact with some porcupine quills that frequented the pine needle bed. The other two boys appeared quite satisfied with their lot. Joe frequently gave thanks through the night for man having four sides and had the strength of his convictions as he tried those four sides in regular rotation. These improvised beds gave wonderful comfort and quick rest that was evidenced by the early rising of the camp.

Some days passed without blood being drawn. The deer were cautious and hard to start owing to the fall of snow, so the boys had time for reflection on other matters. Improvements on the camp were discussed at great length and various schemes were put forward. Harnessing the Naiscoot falls for electric light was a favourite topic and met with unanimous scorning. The installing of a furnace in the cellar also was advanced as a desirable addition to the already convenient camp. However, some difference of opinion was met now as to the heating system. Some favored hot air heating, others the hot water system. Vernet, who had been pondering the matter, and after listening for some time to stories of good shots made in the past years, casually remarked that he thought they had plenty of hot air in camp now and that the hot water would be preferable seeing that it was what was often needing. The discussion was dropped for the time.

Dougal, with an eye to the camp's present entertainment, organized a quartette which gave a good account of itself, as the camp never was annoyed by the howling of the wolves. They stayed around the camps farther up the lake, where there was a chance to heal their own, because they sure weren't in it around Naiscoot Falls camp.

The boys began to settle down to real hunting as they were determined to get the count. Genial Joe did his best to rope one and tie it to a tree to allow Dougal, who lacked experience, to have a shot at it. Vernet, fearing Dougal would take buck fever and knowing that there was no medicine in camp for that malady, saw to it that he was placed on a runway where the deer seldom passed.

Just at noon on the 12th Joe and Vernet made lightning shots at a flying white streak which resulted in a big doe falling a victim to their marksmanship. The sound was as one shot, both bullets finding their mark and making the count four. The snow was deep and light and made the scent hard for the dogs to follow.

Ross left for home a week before the rest of the gang and was cautioned not to take anything home that he didn't bring.

Tuesday of the last week Joe was doing sentry duty on a big fallen elm, when the stillness was broken by a command to halt. The trespasser failing to respond Joe made his challenge good by a soft nose from his 35. The victim proved to be the biggest buck of the hunt and possessed a magnificent head of horns. Joe returned to camp not a bit angry, and whistling "We a' gae hame the same way."

Dougal to date had belonged to the Hermane Society and hadn't harmed anything. The boys began jeshing him about his bush and insisted that he wear a different cap to see if it would improve his success. He did wear a different cap, whether for that reason or not they didn't say. However, you can't fool Dougal and that sly twinkle in his eye the morning before the hunt closed meant something. Without any fuss he stationed himself at a new runway, known only to himself, and at the opportune time stepped one of the finest bucks that leads the chase. He even arranged the spot for easy transportation to the station. His casual remark that he always liked to take home fresh venison explained why the other lads got the chance to do the early shooting.

The count complete. Now! for home! In the early morning repacking started. While Vernet, Charley, Joe and Billy were packing the boxes and hunting up mislaid articles, Dougal was sorting kit bags. Coming to sort and repack Ross's kit bag he said it made him feel quite at home as he saw so much of his own stuff. However the packing went on and the journey commenced. Perfect harmony existed at all times whether there was a kill or not. Only once was there any form of discord shown and that was when Dougal indifferently remarked that if a little flour were procured he would make some hot biscuits for a change; but when some of the boys quietly reached for their rifles he allowed the idea to pass without further action and the change spoken of wasn't introduced.

In conclusion it is fitting to say that the deer in southern districts are getting scarce and prospective hunters must needs go farther north to secure the bearing of game. However, when you have a large man with an Armstrong and a Mac that is a Master in baiting game and a Jack to Ring out the Chase. It makes Dyer foreboding for deer roaming the hunting Park. From this it stands to reason that the count was obtained even in the face of difficulties.

Come-hear Rachmaninoff on the New Edison

RACHMANINOFF has not only made RE-CREATIONS for the New Edison. He has also made recordings for one of the standard talking-machines.

We are glad to announce that these talking-machine recordings may now be heard. We want you to hear them—and compare! Determine for yourself which gives you the real Rachmaninoff.

Let us play Rachmaninoff's Edison RE-CREATIONS for you. Mark how clear, how true the piano tone. See how every note in his runs, every accent in his interpretation, every shade in his pedalling is perfectly RE-CREATED.

This was proved by a test made at Mr. Rachmaninoff's home in New York City. He played the Second Hungarian Rhapsodie (Liszt) in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his performance by the New Edison. The absolute fidelity of the RE-CREATION to the artist's original peformance astounded the listeners.

Make the Rachmaninoff comparison. It will guide you right in selecting your Christmas phonograph.

Ask also about our Budget Plan

It brings your New Edison for Christmas without squeezing your pocketbook. Remember, too, that, in buying a New Edison now, you are virtually buying a before-the-war-value with an after-the-war-dollar. The price of the New Edison has increased less than 15% since 1914 (United States prices), and a portion of this increase is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of every one who loves beautiful music.

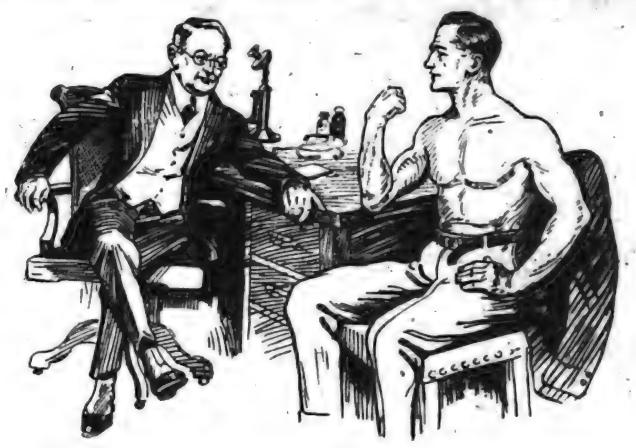
The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"



"But I Am Not Nervous, Doctor, See How Strong I Am"

"YES, you are strong, all right, and I find after a careful examination that there is no indication of organic disease."

"Then what does seem to be the trouble?"

"It is your nerves, the internal nerves which control the action of the vital organs such as the heart, the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, etc. This is called the sympathetic nervous system. It is not at all uncommon for strong, healthy-looking people to suffer from this form of nervous trouble."

"I never thought I was nervous."

"How do you act in the dentist's chair?"

"Well, I generally keel over in a faint."

"That is just it. Your sympathetic nervous system is affected by the thought that you are going to be hurt. Your digestive troubles are due to the run-down condition of your nerves."

"I never thought of that."

"No, and not many people realize the all-important part played by the nerves in the digestion of the food and the functioning of the vital organs. The flow of the digestive fluids in the stomach, the filtering of bile from the blood by the liver, the purifying of the blood by the kidneys—all these functions and many more are controlled by the sympathetic nervous system. Consequently when the nervous energy runs low all these processes are slowed up and you suffer accordingly.

"While examination shows that there is no organic disease, the action of these organs is weak because of the exhausted condition of the nerves. You need a good nerve tonic."

"What about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"

"There is nothing better that I know of. I find evidence everywhere I go of the exceptional restorative power of this popular treatment. But do not expect to get well in a day. It takes time to bring back strength and vigor to an exhausted nervous system."

"How long will I need to use the Nerve Food?"

"That is hard to say. Perhaps two or three months. But you will soon feel the benefit of this treatment and then keep right on using it until you are fully restored."

Just in Time To Save Lives

THE visitor was ushered into the little living-room. Through a back window one glimpsed three children busy over mud pies.

The last time the visitor had seen the young mother and her husband had been at the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Some months previous to that both had developed tuberculosis. Future health—life, indeed—depended on prompt measures. Yet, if the husband stopped earning, how could they live. Their despair had been tragic. In just such cases the "Muskoka Free" fulfils its mission. Husband and wife were sent there and given every care. Grandmother, with financial help from the Samaritan Club, kept the children. To-day, they are home again, cured.

"We went just in time," said the young wife, gratefully, a tender light in her eyes as she glanced at the little mud-pie cooks.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear father, John Betteson, who departed this life, December 11th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved so well was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.

Little did we think that morn,
When we from slumber rose,
That Father would be cold in death,
Before the day would close.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
Only those who are left can tell;
We little thought Father's death so near;
The pain of parting without a last farewell.

If we could have raised his dying head,
Or heard his last farewell,
The grief would not have been so hard,
For those who loved him well.

Many a sigh was heard that day,
And many tears did fall;
Father was not loved by friends alone,
But by his neighbors all.

Never a day but his name is spoken,
Never an hour but he is in our thoughts;
A link in our family chain is broken,
Father is gone from the home, but not from our hearts.

It is lonesome without you here, Father,
And sad the weary way;
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.

Then try to wipe away those tears,
And try to weep no more;
For God knows best, He took him home,
Where parting is no more.

The golden Gates were open,
A gentle voice said, "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
He calmly entered home.

When the robbery committed at the store of Wm. Shenck, of Glenwilliams, on Sunday night Nov. 21, was reported to Crown Attorney Dick by Police Magistrate Moore, after a sitting at the Glen, the Crown Attorney immediately communicated with the Attorney General's Department, at Toronto. Superintendent Rogers, of the Provincial Police, detailed Inspector Springer of his force to Glenwilliams forthwith.

Under the guidance of County Constable Marchment the robbery was investigated with the result that goods valued at $807.00 were discovered hidden, part of them in a cave, and the remainder under the straw in a barn on the Logan farm.

Three young men, Ben Allen, Monty and Norman Logan were arrested, charged with breaking into the store, and stealing the goods, and were committed for trial.—Acton Free Press.

BROADWAY, ORANGEVILLE

WHITTINGTON.

(Intended for last issue.)

The Sunday School intend holding their Christmas concert on Monday evening, Dec. 21st. Watch for further particulars.

Mrs. Farnell spent a few days last week as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Meade Cruikshank.

Mr. G. H. R. Phillips is visiting relatives in Toronto.

The Whittington Epworth League met as usual on Thursday evening, the President, Miss Katie Brett, presiding. The Citizenship Committee had charge of the program, which took the form of a mock council meeting. The candidates for municipal honors, who had been nominated the previous month, first made their election appeals. The views of the candidates are quite progressive and when their promises are fulfilled many changes will be noticed in this vicinity. After selecting Milton Brett as returning officer and Miss Margaret Chapman as poll clerk the voting took place. The officers of the Council were elected as follows:—

Reeve, Miss Lorna Cruikshank; Deputy-Reeve, Mr. John White; Councillors, Miss Gladys White, Miss Kate Brett and Harold Cruikshank.

Misses Gladys White and Lorna Cruikshank rendered a duet which was much appreciated. There was a splendid attendance and a most profitable and enjoyable evening was spent.

CALEDON.

(Intended for last week.)

Quite a number of changes have taken place lately on the 1st line, west. Mr. Norman McLachlan has sold his fine farm to a Mono man, while Mr. Frank Billock chased Mr. Wm. Jenkins' farm on 20 side-McGuire, and Mr. John Corbett has purchased Mr. Wm. Jenkin's farm on 20 side-road.

The home of Mr. Thos. Speers was taxed to its capacity on Tuesday night, when the Young People's Society held their social evening there. The Speers family proved to be excellent entertainers and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Our Hunt Club returned home laden with all the deer the law would allow. They all report a good time and look the better for their holiday.

Some of the ratepayers would like to see a lady trustee on our School Board. We have good material here and there is no reason why one of our capable women should not grace the next Board of Trustees for S. S. No. 3, Caledon.

Caledon Methodist Church will hold anniversary services on Sunday, Dec. 26th, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Rev. H. L. Partridge, of Orangeville, will preach at 11 a.m. and the pastor, Rev. J. F. G. Morris, at 7 p.m.

ALTON.

The ladies of Alton Methodist Missionary Circle are preparing for a Bazaar in the Club Rooms on the afternoon and evening of Dec. 14th. In addition to the regular features of fancy and utility needlework they will have a Christmas parcel post office, homemade baking, candy, Christmas greens, flowers, afternoon tea and oysters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dods are home again from their trip to Japan and China. Both are looking well and have many interesting things to relate of their journeys. Mr. Dods will tell us of it all on Sunday evening, Dec. 26th, when our League will have charge of the service.

HOCKLEY.

(Intended for last week)

The dance held in Hockley Friday evening under the auspices of the Hockley Dramatic Club was a huge success.

On Tuesday evening last the people of this community held a fowl supper as a farewell for Mr. and Mrs. William Quigley and presented them with a chair, a couch and a clock. Mr. Jas. McCutcheon read the address and Mr. Wilson Irwin made the presentation. After the presentation an old time square dance was held, in which all joined heartily.

We hear that M. J. Varey prefers to start the Dramatic Club at 9.30 rather than at 7.30 p.m.

Miss Edna Young, of New York, is visiting Miss Hazel Lee, of Connor.

Mr. Charles Firth, of Alliston, spent the week-end with Mr. John Purdon.

Mr. Dunning Irwin spent Sunday night in Tottenham.

Miss Lulu Beatty and Miss Jean Growden called on Miss Thelma Purdon Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Joseph Irwin took a load of potatoes to Tottenham last week and reports poor sledding.

What we would like to know:—

Whether Leonard came home from Orangeville by Mono Mills or by Hockley?

We hear that Fred McCarthy is talking of selling the store. We wonder who the next storekeeper will be.

MONO CENTRE.

Editor of The Banner:

As our little hamlet has been very quiet of late I thought I would start out on a little trip and see what the people were doing. As I was sitting in Mr. Donaldson's store Harold Marshall came along looking worried and tired. I asked him what was wrong and he responded that he had to go home to keep out of the way of the girls. "Oh," I rejoined, "you'll soon get over that." As I was on my way across to the 3rd line I met the Elder scribe, who informed me that he was going to dehorn Archie McQuilken's cow. Next I met Jim Henry, who seemed to be somewhat out of sorts. He told me that the trouble was he had spent all day trying to get Willie Holmes' car started. Herb Ewing was the next man I encountered. Herb was all smiles and as we talked he told me of the stranger, who came to their place one night lately and added that they were going to keep it. We laughed over the joke and Herb asked me in for dinner. I gladly accepted and had a very pleasant visit. When I felt it was time to be on my way I set out up the 3rd line. I had not gone far, when I met Theo. Wilson, who said he was out buying thoroughbred cattle. I expressed some doubt, and as we were talking Lawrence came along. I asked him if it was a fact that Emerson Holmes was going to emigrate to England. Lawrence looked puzzled, but stated that he had no objection. I had just proceeded a short distance after leaving the boys, when Earl Lewis overtook me and asked me to have a ride. We had not gone far when Earl asked me if I often saw Clinton round the Centre. I replied that I had not seen him so often since the holidays. When I got out at the gate I noticed a track that looked like that of a Gray Dort. As I was meditating I ran into Carman who looked quite sleepy. I remarked that I thought he was looking tired and received a rather roundabout answer. As I left him I met Oliver Scott coming along the road singing, "I kissed her twice and I asked her once if she would be my bride." I sure was startled. As I was now feeling tired as a result of my wandering to and fro, I hastened back home to get a much needed rest. A fuller description of my journey will be reserved until a later date.

"THE END OF THE ROAD" COMING TO OPERA HOUSE

No doubt many of the Picture Fans of Orangeville were disappointed in not being able to see the Mary Pickford show that was held recently, but the same management have returned and have as an added attraction a Ladies' Orchestra of 2 pieces and the Special Feature Picture "The End of the Road," which will be shown at the Opera House, on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 10th and 11th, under the auspices of the Canadian National Council for Combatting Venereal Diseases, with Claire Adams, the Canadian actress, as the heroine. This picture is endorsed by leading physicians and clergy and teaches a great moral lesson. The following will be of interest to those who intend to witness this great film:

Are you one of those narrow minded persons, that say "That is not a subject to discuss." Do you believe that the world's worst enemy can be stamped out of existence by observing a grim silence, a false modesty, but people are waking up, the nation is beginning to realize, and it is up to you and I also to do our bit. The war is past and gone, but a force far more powerful than the war, which is taking its toll of human lives, and happiness, destroying hopes, and killing loves, a force far more reaching than any war could be—what is it? Why, that worst of all evils, the disease, the horror which is undermining the health of all civilization, and which is so graphically and truthfully exposed in that wonderful hygienic picture "The End of the Road." You get the plain truth there, you see right before your eyes, what happens to those who take the primrose path, how they may be caught at once, or travel for a long time, but as surely as the working of the laws of the universe, their behavior will cause their destruction, they will reap the benefit of their sowing, and more than likely drag down with them to a fate more horrible than any other on earth except leprosy, many innocents.

Are you going to be one of those to see "The End of the Road" when it is shown here on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 10th and 11th, in the Opera House, and who will leave the place, feeling that you have been strengthened, that you have been awakened, to a better watchfulness, to a higher standard of ideals, to bigger and better morals. Mothers, fathers, young men and young women, if you only realized the magnitude of this evil, you would not miss an opportunity like this of becoming enlightened. The lessons in "The End of the Road" are manifold, and not only does it deal most commendably with the terrible social evil but thrills and entertains as well.

CALEDON

It is with deep regret that we, this week, record the death of Mr. Archibald Ferguson, who passed away very suddenly last Friday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Peter Baxter, 3rd line, east, Caledon. Deceased was in his usual health up to a few days before his death, when he contracted a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia, causing his death. A skilled nurse and two doctors were in constant attendance. The late Mr. Ferguson was an honest, upright man, of high principle, a good neighbor and friend and a man who was highly respected and well thought of by all who knew him. Owing to ill health he rented his farm a few years ago and since that he made his home with his sister, Mrs. Baxter. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to St. Andrew's Church burying ground, 4th line, Caledon, on Monday, when Rev. Mr. Lockhart preached an impressive sermon. The remaining brothers and sisters are Norman, of Erin, John, of Manitoba, Mrs. Wehn Baxter, Caledon East, Mrs. Peter Baxter and Miss Betsy, of Caledon.

The Ladies' Aid of Knox Church, Caledon, held a very successful Bazaar in the basement of the Church last Thursday evening. Proceeds amounted to $170.

Miss Irene McArthur returned home this week after spending a couple of weeks with friends in Erin.

The Women's Institute held a Fowl Supper in the Town Hall, Monday evening last. All that were present report a good time.

Saved Lives of Husband and Wife

THERE is a pathetic instance of a little Toronto family, sadly handicapped owing to the War. The young husband suffered a serious head wound at Passchendaele. Months later, he was invalided home to his wife and two little sons.

But the trouble was not over. Violent convulsions followed. Finally the dangerous operation of removing a bone splinter from the brain was performed, and the man is recovering. Just as happiness seemed within their grasp, the wife developed tuberculosis. Never of rugged health, anxiety and care had exhausted her strength. If her life was to be saved, complete rest was imperative.

But the money——

To-day, thanks to those who back up the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, she is there, gaining daily under careful treatment, and before long the family will be re-united.

W. FAIRBAIRN.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market.

FEEDING—If your poultry are not well fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. It does not take many times over for the extra expense. Buttermilk, ground wheat, bran, ground oats and ground oats is a good ration. Very good results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-2 ground wheat, 1-4 oats and 1-4 corn, mixing the feed twelve hours before feeding.

KILLING—Starve birds for eleven hours, during which time they should only have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, to get clean picked and undrawn.

COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave poultry hanging over night.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market.

FEEDING—If your poultry are not well fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. It will pay you many times over for the expense. Buttermilk, sour milk ground wheat, bran, [illegible] flour, and ground oats is a [illegible]. Very [illegible] results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-3 ground wheat, 1-3 oats and 1-3 barley, mixing the feed twelve hours before feeding.

KILLING—Starve birds for sixteen hours, during which time they should only have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, dry plucked and undrawn.

COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be cooled hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave poultry hanging over night.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S.

The meeting of St. Andrew's Y. P. S. on Monday night was one of the most successful of the year. The program was in charge of the Literary Committee and as this was the first meeting of the Membership and Program Contests an exceptionally good program was provided. "Ancient Guilds and Churches of Great Britain" was the subject of an interesting illustrated address by Miss G. M. Strang, of the High School staff. Following the address a tableau based on Scott's "Young Lochinvar" was given by members of the Society in appropriate costume and added much to the entertainment of the evening. Next Monday night will be Consecration Night, when a good program will be provided and a large attendance is expected. All young people are welcome.

CONCERT REPEATED

In response to numerous requests the Orangeville Public School staff and pupils have agreed to repeat their Concert in the Opera House on Friday night, December 17th. The seating accommodation of the Hall proved quite inadequate to accommodate all who wished to hear the Concert last Friday night and as a result scores of people were turned away at the doors. All who were disappointed will have an opportunity to hear the children at the second Concert. Do not forget the date—Friday evening, Dec. 17th. Admission, 35c. to any part of the hall.

WANTED MONEY BACK

An unusual case was tried in Orangeville Division Court on Tuesday. Some months ago Chas. S. Dennis, a Toronto man, bought some property in East Garafraxa from Hugo Rennick for $1900 and paid down a deposit of $200. Later on he changed his mind, deciding to remain in Toronto, and brought suit to recover the $200 he had paid on the ground that there was no written agreement for the sale of the property. Rennick refuses to return the money, holding that he is prepared to carry through his part of the deal. After hearing the evidence Judge Fisher reserved his decision. C. R. McKeown appeared for Rennick and a Toronto lawyer represented Dennis.

Mr. Houston had sold his farm, largely on account of the ill-health of Mrs. Houston, and was planning to come to Orangeville as soon as he could secure a suitable house, when his wife's illness took a serious turn making it necessary to postpone his plans. Deceased was 54 years of age and was a member of the Willis family, formerly well-known residents of Alton. The funeral was held to Alton cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

P. S. CONCERT

Orangeville Public School Concert in the Opera House on Friday night drew an overflowing house. Every seat was filled, extra chairs were placed in the aisles and at other vantage points and still scores of people were turned away from the doors. The program, which was given under the direction of Mr. J. E. Jessop, who was appointed musical instructor in the School last spring, proved one of the most popular heard here in a long time. The children sang with a precision that showed thorough and capable training. Listening to the program one could not fail to be greatly impressed with the value of competent musical instruction in our schools and its potentiality as a factor in influencing the life of the community and indeed the whole nation in the years to come. The full class numbers were:—Song, "Canada," by Miss Hunter's class; song, "Merrily Over the Snow," Miss Irwin's class; song, "Stars of the Summer Night," by eight girls; songs, "Mistletoe and Holly" and "All on Christmas Morning," by Miss Lalor's class; songs, "I Love the Merry Sunshine," "There's a Purple Tint," and Exercises in Tonic Sol Fa by Miss McConnell's class; song, "This is East and This is West," by Miss Porter's class; song, "The Young Musicians," by Miss Kannawin's class; Staff Notation and song, "Moonlight Sail," by Miss F. Shain's class; Modulator Drill, Miss C. Shain's class; Modulator Drill, Minor Key Staff Notation in any Key, song, "We are Part of Britain" and Round, "Three Blind Mice," Miss McArthur's and Principal Firth's classes and the first verse of "O, Canada," by the whole School. Added variety and charm was given the program by a capital song by Master Morley McLean, a very pretty duet, "Where Are You Going My Pretty Maid" by Miss Lucille Montgomery and Master Sidney Jessop, piano duets by Misses Muriel and Leona Ellis, Misses Minnie Daniels and Marion Kearns and piano solos by Misses Marguerite Arnott and Ethel Trimble. Mr. Albert Walker, Chairman of the School Board, gave a short address on the work of the school and presented the Fire Prevention Contest Medals to the successful competitors. The winners were Crosier Price, best essay in Fourth Classes, and Ethel Mills, best essay in Third Classes. Another pleasing feature was the presentation of a gold pin to Miss Ina Porter of the School staff for rifle shooting. Miss Porter has the enviable distinction of being the first lady in Canada to win this Pin, which is donated by the Dominion Cartridge Co., of Montreal. Ten targets must be submitted to qualify for these prizes and in order to win the gold pin the competitor must score at least 65 points out of a possible 70. Miss Porter's score was 66. Too much praise cannot be given Principal Firth ,the members of the teaching staff and Mr. Jessop for the very complete arrangements for the concert and the delightful musical treat they gave the parents and friends of the children the opportunity of enjoying on Friday night. We understand the proceeds will be used to purchase a grafonola for the use of the school.

THE FAMILY HERALD AND WEEKLY STAR

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has announced that after December 31st, 1920, the subscription price of that great weekly will be $2.00 per year in Canada, England, Ireland or Scotland, and $2.50 to the United States. The recent heavy increase in the cost of white paper makes the slight advance necessary, in fact is is only a small portion of the increased cost over pre-war prices of production. All renewals and subscriptions, the publishers say, mailed before December 31st, 1920, will be accepted at the old rate of $1.50. Even at the advanced price of $2.00 a year The Family Herald is regarded as the best value on the Continent. It is acknowledged to be absolutely without a rival, hence its enormous circulation.

MASONIC AT HOME

Harris Masonic Lodge At Home on Wednesday night of last week was an unqualified success. About two hundred guests attended the function. Past-masters of the Lodge acted as a reception committee and with the regular officers and committees saw that everything possible was done for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors. A delightful program was provided during the early part of the evening, W. Bro. Capt. A. W. Firth, Worshipful Master of the Lodge, occupying the chair. The numbers were a piano duet by Misses Marguerite Arnott and Muriel Ellis, a brass quartette by Messrs. F. Marshall, Russell Morrow, T. H. Greenis and C. B. Robinson, a saxophone, violin and piano trio by Dr. Stubbs, Miss Cardwell Stubbs and Mrs. Gillespie, of Caledon, recitations by Mrs. Wm. Dorrington, of Alton, songs by Messrs. Wm. Dorrington, J. E. Jessop and W. A. Clowes and a duet by Messrs. Jessop and Clowes. Later a very pleasant time was spent in progressive euchre, dancing and other amusements. The winners of the euchre prizes were:—lone hands, Mrs. I. J. Murphy and Mr. C. A. Lamon; points, Mrs. H. T. Anderson and Mr. Chas. Masters. Dainty refreshments were served under the direction of the stewards and a special refreshment committee.

PACE THAT KILLS

Spurr, the keeper of the livery stable, would never allow a horse out of his sight without giving the hirer strict injunctions not to drive fast.

One day a caller asked for a horse to attend a funeral.

"Certainly," said Spurr, and then forgetting the solemn purpose for which his customer wanted the horse, he added, as usual, "Don't drive fast!"

"Look here, old man," was the reply, "I would like you to understand that I shall keep up with the procession if it kills the horse."

Erin and Caledon township councils appointed a joint committee to agree on a price for the property of the Consolidated Telephone Co.'s system and determine what portion of the purchase price each of the municipalities should pay. The committee has fixed Erin's share of the purchase money at $27,775 and Caledon's at $26,725. Each of the municipalities will pay half of the costs incurred in connection with the taking over of the system.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

An Educational Conference will be held in the Public Library Auditorium on Friday night of this week under the auspices of the County of Dufferin Educational Association. Judge J. H. Scott, President of the Ontario Trustees' Association, and Dr. Jas. Millar, Assistant Director of Technical Education, Department of Education, will be the chief speakers. Dr. Millar will speak on "The Training of Adolescents." Conferences will commence at 3 o'clock. All citizens of Orangeville and district invited. The ladies are especially invited to come. There will not be an admission charge.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

Durham got their hard coal this year, and lots of it, at $15.00 to $16.50 a ton. Owen Sound $17 and $17.50, while Flesherton paid $22.50. Now, why this disparity of prices all over the country? Our coal was purchased direct from the mines and delivered direct from the car to the consumer, yet we paid from $5 to $8 a ton more than some of those other fellows. We are now out guessing for an explanation, and other towns treated as we were are out on the same quest. There is no answer yet. —Flesherton Advance.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

At the regular monthly Consecration meeting of the Orangeville Epworth League held last Monday evening in the Methodist Church, Rev. H. L. Partridge spoke on the "Glad Life." There was a good attendance at the meeting which was presided over by Miss E. McCracken in a very capable manner. Misses Kearns and Ewing played a duet and Mr. C. McConnell sang a solo.

Next Monday evening the meeting will be under the auspices of the Missionary Committee. The Women's Missionary Society will have charge of the program.

$2.00 RATE IN ARTHUR

With the Arthur Enterprise going to $2.00 a year in advance on Dec. 1st, Dufferin County papers are left in that splendid isolation of the $1.50 rate. They are the only papers in this part of Ontario retaining the old rate as they were the last to raise to $1.50 from $1.00. With another rise in the price of newsprint on Jan. 1st next, postage rate one-third higher and operating expenses still climbing, do not be surprised if a change will come here also.—Grand Valley Star & Vidette.

LOST INFANT CHILD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFadden, of Mono Centre, have the heartfelt sympathy of their neighbors and friends in the loss of their four months old son, James Edward, who passed away on Friday, November 26th. The child had not been very well since about a month old. The funeral was held to Belcosey Methodist burying ground on Sunday, Nov. 28th, Rev. Mr. Forth, of Rosemont, was the officiating minister.

LUMBER DEALERS MEET

The annual meeting of the Orangeville District of the Ontario Retail Lumber Dealers' Association was held in the Council Chamber, Orangeville, on Wednesday, December 1st. There was a representative attendance from the district, delegates being present from Brampton, Georgetown, Grand Valley, Harriston, Cheltenham, Millsburg and other places.

The prospects of business for the coming season were discussed, and it was thought that the building outlook for next spring was very fair in some sections. Lumber has been steadily coming down in price, but the general opinion was that, next spring when the demand set in, values would increase, as in many instances the product is being sold below the actual cost of production.

J. A. Matthews, of Orangeville, was re-elected chairman for the coming year, and J. H. Mackenzie, of Georgetown, secretary. Addresses were delivered by John B. Reid, of Toronto, president of the Ontario Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, Horace Boultbee, Toronto, secretary of the Association, and others. The re-election of Mr. Matthews to the chairmanship marks his third term of office, which is a tribute to his faithfulness and ability.

DUFFERIN COUNTY U. F. O.

Decides to Formally "Organize for Political Purposes."

Although the Dufferin County U. F. O. has always been in politics, its original organization was supposed to be more for social purposes and general mutual benefit in the discussion of farmers' problems. The County Convention in Shelburne Town Hall, Wednesday afternoon of last week, took the final step by adopting the following resolution:—

Moved by R. J. Woods, of Melancthon, seconded by Malcolm McCormick, of East Garafraxa, That we organize for political purposes.

The Convention also endorsed the U.F.O. Legislative Committee, by adopting the following resolution, which was presented by Jas. G. Little:—

Whereas the Provincial Government of Ontario was elected by the people of Ontario on the platform of the United Farmers of Ontario, and whereas there is a Legislative Committee of the U.F.O. to further the policies for which the movement stands: therefore be it resolved that this Dufferin County U. F. O. Convention approves of the policy of the elected U. F. O. members keeping in touch with the Legislative Committee and endeavoring to present the principles of the United Farmers' movement in the Legislature; and further, that we re-affirm our faith in the ability of the said Committee.

The following officers were elected:—County Director, J. M. McNaughton, Orangeville; Secretary-Treasurer, J. A. Marshall, R. R. 1, Orangeville. Township Directors—Mulmur, Geo. Ferris; Melancthon, A. Vance; Amaranth, W. R. Rintoul; Mono, Jas. White; East Luther, H. H. Hilborn; East Garafraxa, M. McCormick.

County Director McNaughton, who is a member of the Legislative Committee, told of the work of that Committee, and how it got the views of the U. F. O. club members, crystallized them, and passed them on for the guidance and, if needs be, admonition, of the U. F. O. members of Parliament.

A. A. Powers, President of the Farmers' Co-operative Co., Toronto, who gave an address on the special branch of U. F. O. endeavor he represents, said the Legislative Committee had had its requests ignored in the matters of civil service reform, the road question, and the sessional indemnity.

T. K. Slack, M. P. P., said that as the U. F. O. was a democratic movement, its life depended on keeping in touch with its parliamentary representatives. "It's your business," said he, "to see that I'm instructed. You should keep in touch with the Government. It is democratic and we must keep it so." He could not see why the Members of the House should not be in consultation with the U. F. O. Legislative Committee. There were plenty of committee rooms in the House, and they could come there.

Considerable discussion also took place re the manner of taking the vote, and as to who should be qualified to vote at Conventions to choose parliamentary candidates. Three plans found supporters: 1—To have delegates appointed from each polling sub-division, as is the custom the older political parties; 2—To have the delegates appointed by the U. F. O. Clubs and Women's Institute Branches; 3—To have the Conventions open to all comers, with no restrictions as to who shall or shall not vote.—Shelburne Economist.

$140 PER ACRE

Record Price Paid For Western Farm Land

Wilcox, Sask., Nov. 26th—What is believed to be a record price for farm land in Saskatchewan, $140 per acre, for a section of land, was paid here recently by W. F. Drew to John Ringdahl. The total paid for the farm and buildings was $89,600. The did not include equipment and stock. The farm is situated about one and one-miles south of town.

Another farm of the Wilcox district which sold for a high price, $126 per acre, was the Gooderich farm, half a section, sold to Willis Foster.—Regina Morning Leader.

"Where is your father, little boy?" asked the insurance man calling at the back door. "Father's down in the pig-pen," said the boy curtly. "You can go and find him." And, he added, as an afterthought, "You'll know father, he's got a hat on."

DAVIDSON—VANCE

A wedding of much social interest was solemnized at half past two o'clock last Thursday afternoon at Trinity Church, Barrie, when the marriage took place of Miss Alice Ruth Vance, second daughter of Mr. Justice and Mrs. George M. Vance, to Captain Robert Hay Davidson, son of the late John L. Davidson and Mrs. Davidson, 18 Madison avenue, Toronto. The service which was fully choral, was taken by the Rev. A. R. Beverley, the chancel altar and guests' pews being decked with chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and evergreens. The bride, who entered the church with her father, wore a gown of melon georgette heavily beaded. Her veil, of Brussels lace, which came from Brussels, was arranged in cap effect and caught at the back with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an armful of sunset roses. The groom's niece, Miss Mary Bickford, was the bride's only attendant. She was wearing blue shot taffeta, a coral georgette flower hat, and she carried violets and marguerites. Dr. Cosbie was best man and the ushers were Captain W. Lawson, of Barrie; Capt. R. Turnbull, Mrs. W. H. Menhennett, the bride's sister, Mrs. G. H. Menhennett, the bride's sister, played the wedding music. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests drove to "Draycott Place," the residence of the bride's father, where a reception was held by Judge and Mrs. Vance, the latter wearing grey charmeuse and gold lace, with grey hat, and corsage bouquet of violets. Mrs. Davidson was in mauve and gold brocade. Mrs. Harold Bickford was in a blue frock with blue georgette hat. After a wedding trip across the line, Captain and Mrs. Davidson will reside at 16 Madison avenue. The bride went away in a brown silverton suit and henna and gold hat and opossum furs. The Toronto guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Grey, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Grey, Mrs. John E. Hay, Mrs. John Kay, Major and Mrs. Eric Armour, Mr. W. Mavor, Mr. Sidney Orr, Mr. A. and Mrs. B. Turnbull.

The death occurred at Brampton of George M. Scott, who was born in Brampton seventy-seven years ago. Mr. Scott was at one time engaged in business in Brampton, and had also conducted business concerns in Bolton, Acton and Toronto, retiring about nine years ago. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Maria Waite, and one son, Ernest.

MRS. JONES GIVES OUT MORE FACTS

Says Tanlac Has Completely Restored Her Health and Has Gained 38 Pounds.

"As Tanlac has helped me so much since I gave my testimonial three years ago I feel it my duty to make another statement for the medicine has really and truly made me feel like a new person," declared Mrs. B. E. Jones, of 187 Oak Avenue, Hamilton, Ont.

"As I said in my previous statement, for thirty long years I suffered dreadfully from nervous indigestion and stomach trouble. Everything I ate seemed to disagree with me and I had severe pains all through my stomach. Gas formed and bloated me up, causing severe palpitation of the heart, and I would have terrible headaches and dizzy spells. I lost a great deal of weight and my kidneys also bothered me very much.

"My condition finally got so bad that I was confined to my bed for about two and a half months, and when I got up I was so weak that I could hardly walk. I had to live on a special diet, and was so nervous that I just didn't know what to do.

"When I started taking Tanlac the first few bottles helped me so much I made a statement telling of the remarkable good it was doing me. It has restored my health so completely that I feel like I owe it to all suffering people to make a further statement and let them know how it has freed me of all my troubles and built me up.

"My appetite is so good and everything agrees with me so well that I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight. My nerves have quieted down and although it has been seven months since I have taken any Tanlac, I'm still feeling just fine."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

A strange article was picked up on Mr. Mainland's farm, 3rd con., West Luther, the other day that is causing some speculation. It is rough, uneven, about 10 inches long and possibly 4 inches wide and about the same in depth. It looks as though two pieces of material had been fused by great heat, the seam showing distinctly down the centre, while from each side rib like formations set out in irregular fashion. It is not pure metal, and too heavy for stone, and some suggest it may be of meteoric composition.

Mr. Sirr was 58 years of age, and was born at Varney, near Durham. He had lived at Morris for the past 32 years.

FARM HELP

Owing to unemployment in centres of population there are many men now available for farm work. A large number of these men have had farm experience and their services are now available at moderate wages with board. Farmers who can usefully employ one or two of these men at this time will be rendering a service to the community as well as to themselves. Many farmers have repairs and other odd jobs which have been put off for years on account of the high cost of labor. This might be a good time to get caught up with work of this nature.

Farmers desiring help please communicate with your local Representative and state the nature of the work and wages you are willing to pay.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

Important Addresses in Library Auditorium on Friday Night.

Judge J. H. Scott, President of the Ontario Trustees' Association, and Dr. James Millar, Assistant Director of Technical Education for the Ontario Department of Education, addressed a public meeting in the Library Auditorium on Friday night. Principal Hackett, of the High School, presided. The audience numbered about seventy-five persons. Judge Scott spoke in general terms of the aims of the Educational Associations that are being organized throughout the province, of school attendance and school problems, touching on consolidation as a possible remedy for some of the latter. Dr. Millar spoke in interesting manner of the development of the school from its former position as handmaiden of the church and serving the church into an institution that serves the whole state. Unlike some of the leaders of the U. F. O. movement the speaker regarded the exodus from the country to the towns and cities as a perfectly normal and natural happening from an economic point of view. He described the function of the school as fourfold—protective, corrective, educative and selective. Not much attention had been paid to the last function in the past, but the complexities of modern communication, transportation and production outlook made it imperative that we pay more attention to determining the capacities of children and giving them special training along the lines for which they are by nature best adapted. On account of this ever increasing complexity it had become a national necessity to keep the boys and girls, especially the boys, in the schools longer than formerly. The speaker paid a warm tribute to the High schools of the Province stating that within the limits of what they attempted there was not any class of institutions doing their work so efficiently as the High Schools of Ontario. Rev. W. M. Morris, Col. Preston, M.P.P., H. F. Tuck, Inspector Liddy and others took part in an interesting discussion following the main speeches.

LEATHER CLUB BAGS

Rings and La Fortuna Cup for the Champion Dufferins.

The presentations to the members of the champion Dufferin Lacrosse team attracted a large and decidedly enthusiastic audience to the Opera House on Wednesday night of last week. All classes of citizens vied in doing honor to the boys, whose skill on the lacrosse field brought two championships to Orangeville and heralded the fame of the Dufferins from coast to coast as one of the mightiest lacrosse teams ever known in Canada. The champions and a number of officers of the Club occupied seats in the centre of the hall. The players were given a rousing reception as they filed into the hall just as the program was about to commence and again when they were called to the platform to receive the rings presented by the Ontario Lacrosse Association and the handsome black leather club bags presented on behalf of the Council and citizens of Orangeville.

The presentations were preceded by a delightful musical program by local talent assisted by Mrs. Dorrington, of Alton, and the Stubbs family of Caledon. Mayor Parkinson presided and in the course of a brief address expressed the pride and pleasure it gave him as Mayor of the town to preside over a gathering called for the purpose of doing honor to the splendid athletes, whose prowess had brought so much honor and fame to Orangeville. With Mr. Parkinson on the platform was Mr. T. K. Slack, M. L. A. for Dufferin, who in the course of a brief and pleasing speech warmly complimented the champions on their success and the clean and manly fashion in which they had played the game throughout the season. Mr. Slack stated that to his way of thinking the Legislature would be quite warranted in making a grant for the purpose of assisting to defray the expense of sending The Dufferins to the Coast after the Mann Cup next spring. The musical program consisted of a saxophone, violin and piano trio by Miss Cardwell Stubbs, Mrs. Gillespie and Dr. Stubbs, of Caledon, vocal solos by Mrs. Russell Morrow, Miss Bessie Lewis, Mr. Wm. Clowes and Mr. Fred Falconer, a brass quartette by Messrs. F. Marshall, C. B. Robinson, T. H. Greenis and Russell Morrow, piano duet by Mesdames Liddy and Bowles, cornet duet by Messrs Morrow and Robinson, recitations by Dr. Price and Mrs. Wm. Dorrington, both of whom were warmly encored, and a male quartette by Messrs. Clowes, Falconer, Price and Jessop. The different numbers were warmly received and encores were quite the order of the evening. Mrs. (Dr.) Bowles, Mrs. Morrow and Miss Ruth Shaw were the accompanists. In a reading of his own composition Wilson McConnell reviewed the triumphs of the season and paid glowing tribute to the champions. Lack of space precludes publication of the verses this week, but we hope to give them to our readers in a future issue.

Mr. Fred Waghorne, the widely known lacrosse referee, and Mr. B. McGuire, Past President, represented the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association when the presentation stage was reached. Mr. Waghorne presented Mr. James Armstrong, the genial manager of the Dufferins, with the La Fortuna Cup, an imposing championship trophy, and Mr. McGuire presented the sixteen members of the team with rings on behalf of the Association. In the absence of two of the players, Harry Firth and Stanley Cranston, Capt. A. Firth and Mr. W. G. Cranston were called to the stage to accept the gifts in behalf of their sons. Mr. Waghorne paid a hearty tribute to the prowess of the Dufferins, complimenting them particularly on the clean way in which they played the game. The team had looked good to him all season and he was glad it had won the honors. As an officer of the St. Simons Club, Mr. Waghorne conveyed the greetings and congratulations of the Dufferins' city rivals for the premier honors. Mr. McGuire, a player of some forty years ago, related some interesting reminiscences of early day lacrosse and created amusement by telling of a dream he had before the fateful game at Scarboro Beach. Fortunately the dream did not come true, otherwise there would have been no senior championship for the green shirts. Mayor Parkinson made the presentation speech on behalf of the town and then called on sixteen young ladies to present the club bags. This the girls did in a pleasantly graceful manner and then gave point to the presentation by singing a couple of stanzas of an adaptation of "Pack Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," in which they urged the champions to "Pack Your Troubles in Your New Club Bags and Smile, Smile, Smile." Did the boys smile? Well, we should say they did. Mr. C. R. McKeown made an eloquent and happy reply on behalf of the players and then the program was brought to a close by a round of hearty cheers for the champions followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

The concert and presentation was followed by a delightful dance in the old Council Chamber downstairs.

Bert Booth, the player President of the O. A. L. A., was amongst the honored players. This has been a big year for Bert—his own team won two championships—and the Association, of which he is head, has had one of the best years in its history.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

Mrs. Thos. Phair, mother of Mrs. J. A. McMillan, Broadway, met with a sad and fatal accident at her home in Greenbank, a short distance from Uxbridge, on Wednesday, Dec. 1st. She was engaged in snuffing a lighted lamp, which had not been burning properly, when the lamp broke in her hands and fell in pieces on the floor. The blazing oil burned her so severely about the hands, arms and body, that she succumbed to her injuries on Sunday following the accident. Mrs. Phair was about 70 years of age and a widow. She leaves three sons and Mrs. McMillan, who is the only daughter. Mrs. McMillan left for Greenbank immediately after learning of the said occurrence and has not yet returned home. Mr. McMillan was down for the funeral. The sympathy of their Orangeville friends is extended to the daughter and her husband in their trying bereavement.

A NEIGHBORLY ACT

Albert Looby, of Amaranth, who lost heavily recently by the destruction of his barn and its contents by fire, was on Saturday given a very practical expression of sympathy by friends and neighbors. The sympathy took the form of the presentation of $515 in cash; the result of the collection efforts of some hard-headed Amaranth men, who became imbued with the common sense idea that there are occasions on which money should be called on to talk. —Economist.

H. S. COMMENCEMENT

"Our Empire and How We Got It," will be the theme of an instructive and entertaining illustrated lecture, which Rev. W. J. Spence, of Chatham, will give at the High School Commencement in the Opera House on Tuesday evening next, Dec. 21st. The lecture will be illustrated by a very fine collection of hand painted pictures on the Empire. These number about 200 and are all reproductions of famous paintings or direct photographs of noted places. They will be thrown on the screen by a powerful dissolving Brenopticon. An excellent musical program will be furnished by the pupils of the High School and other local talent. Admission, 35 cents.

William Duncan, the serial star whom it is said no accident insurance company will have anything to do with, came into spectacular attention recently at Los Angeles, by performing a "Time" jump underneath a falling piano. Duncan enacted this spectacle for a scene in the fifth episode of the latest Vitagraph superserial "The Silent Avenger."

An enormous crowd collected around the street where the scene was to be taken. A rope was strung in a semi-circle of twenty feet surrounding the spot of the piano fall, fencing out the crowd. The spectators gazed breathlessly on while Duncan braved the falling piano.

As the star stepped within five feet of the spot the make-believe plotters above cut the rope. At the right moment a fellow player yelled "Jump," and Duncan leaped forward. The piano missed him by inches.

BLOUNT.

The Blount Women's Institute held its annual fowl supper at the home of Mr. Elgin Williams on Monday evening, November 29th. Over seventy persons sat down to the excellent supper provided for the occasion. After justice had been done to the good things the ladies had supplied an enjoyable program was provided, consisting of recitations by Harvey Woods and Katy Reid and a very appropriate song entitled, "Smiles," by the girls. Afterwards Rev. Mr. Morris, of Orangeville, gave an address on different subjects, which was heartily enjoyed by all. A very pleasant hour was afterwards spent by the young people in dancing and other amusements. All went home carrying with them kindly recollections of the hospitality of Mr. Williams.

LAUREL

A real treat was handed the people of Laurel and vicinity on Friday evening last, when the Play, "The Dust of the Earth," was presented by the Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church. The hall was crowded to overflowing and the entire audience was captivated by the superior and consistent representations of the various characters by the respective players. Many times during the night loud applause was won by Nell, "The Dust of the Earth," Arabella, the village gossip, and Jerry, the eccentric son of David and Mrs. Moore, owners of "Maple Farm Cottage." The love affair of Rev. Dr. Templeton and Elizabeth, the pretty and refined daughter of the Moores, was followed with keen interest as was also that of John Ryder, a gentleman land owner, and "Nell." The necessary pathos was supplied by "Mr. Tom" the victim of an unusual circumstance, and his negro friend "Mose." The Patricia orchestra entertained the audience with their jolly jingles and sunny syncopations before the Play commenced and between acts. From the rise of the curtain until the National Anthem there was not a dull or uninteresting moment. Taken in any way the performance was an unqualified success and cast a creditable reflection upon the abilities of those who took part. It also illustrates what can be accomplished in this line in a community such as Laurel.

Owing to the inadequacy of the seating accommodation it was found necessary to refuse admittance to many and in consequence of this and of many requests they have received for a second performance the Y. P. S. have decided to repeat the Play on Saturday evening, December 18th. The Play will be repeated in the Town Hall, Laurel, with exactly the same cast of characters. The Patricia orchestra will be in attendance again. The performance is well worth seeing and should draw another crowded house on Saturday night. Admission, 35 cents and 25 cents.

A Christmas Entertainment will be given on Wednesday evening, December 22nd, under the auspices of the Bowling Green Methodist Sunday School. A good program of dialogues, music and recitations will be provided.

Mr. Geo. Carson was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jelly over the week-end.

When Mother's Advice is Most Needed

At about fourteen years of age important mental and physical changes are taking place, which every girl should understand. Then it is that she needs the care and advice of her mother.

Unfortunately this is about the time when school work and examinations are likely to prove an excessive strain on the nervous system.

Anaemia, chlorosis or nervous breakdown in the form of St. Vitus' dance are not uncommon at this age.

There is a failure of the blood to supply the nourishment required by the nervous system. Excessive mental effort consumes the nervous energy required to insure good digestion and the proper functioning of the vital organs.

It is surprising to find how quickly the nervous system responds to the restorative influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. There is no longer any question that this treatment is admirably suited to help girls through this most critical period of their lives.

In almost every community are many cases to prove the exceptional restorative influence of this well-known treatment.

The use of the nerve food stimulates the appetite, improves digestion, and builds up the system in every way.

Miss Rena B. Crossland, Kempt, Queen's Co., N.S., writes: "I feel it a duty, as well as a privilege, to tell of the wonderful benefit I derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In March, 1917, I had anaemia of the brain, and the mental and physical suffering I endured is indescribable. I had treatment from three doctors, and for twelve days was unconscious; while for three months I was fed and cared for like an infant. My mother was so anxious for me to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that she crushed it and baked it in my food. After using two boxes I could feed myself, and after using it for two months, my health improved so rapidly that doctors and friends said my recovery was a miracle.

"I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food too highly, even to those who seem to be facing death. We keep it in the house now, and I use it occasionally to 'keep fit.' I shall always regret that I did not follow my mother's advice and use it while I was away teaching, whenever I felt nervous or tired. But as I had no serious illness and did no realize the value of it, I neglected heeding mother's advice until it was too late and I had a complete breakdown. But, thanks to Providence and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I have been enjoying my former health and strength for the past two years."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. On every box of the genuine you will find the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

YOU never saw more exquisite cabinets.

The world has never produced any more exquisite cabinets.

This was the age when Europe built its most luxurious palaces, created its greatest works of art, developed its finest types of craftsmanship.

Mr. Edison's designers went back to the furniture masterpieces of this period. They adapted 17 of them for the modern American home. They made every Edison Cabinet a period cabinet,—even the least expensive.

You must see these cabinets. Only then will you appreciate what wonderful richness and atmosphere one will add to your home.

A Word About Prices

In 1914, as you can ascertain through practically any investment banker, the Edison Laboratories were selling phonographs on a narrower margin of profit than the other manufacturers. Since 1914, the price of the New Edison has advanced less than 15% (United States prices) —and a portion of this is war tax. "Edison stood the gaff" to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

AN INDIAN GIFT

The first time I heard about an Indian gift I did not understand what it meant. However, it was explained that an Indian often gives a gift but feels at liberty to take it back again. He looks on the gift as a loan to be taken back at his pleasure.

We may have a laugh at this kind of giving, but, after all, if we pause and consider, is not this the very way in which we treat God? Under the impulse of an earnest sermon or other urging we resolve to give ourselves unreservedly to God, and we do so in good faith. After a while perhaps our ardor cools, and, to our shame, we must admit that we have taken back part if not all our gift. We really thought that we had surrendered all but self rose up, and, yielding to its entreaties, we took back that which we had given.

It is only when we have fully and permanently given ourselves to God that He can give His best gifts to us and use us in His service. One writer has said that God can give everything to the man who is satisfied with nothing but Him.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Auto and Buggy Both Ditched When Horse Took Fright.

An accident that might easily have been attended with fatal results occurred at the easterly boundary of this village on Tuesday afternoon, says Mildmay Gazette. Peter Reuber was returning to town with his Overland touring car, and in coming down the hill toward the Brown and Berberich swamp he met a buggy, the occupants of which were Roy Dickison and his sister. Each vehicle turned to the proper side of the road, and all would have gone well but for the fact that the horse driven by Mr. Dickison commenced to shy at the car and act up badly. The animal tried to turn around on the road, and swung directly in front of the approaching car. Mr. Reuber, in order to escape collision with the horse, shot his car to the opposite side of the road, and owing to the muddy, slippery condition of the road the big machine went over the embankment, and upset into the ditch, which at that point is about four feet deep. Mr. Reuber was pinned beneath the car, the door of the machine resting on his side. The alarm was quickly raised, and very soon Mr. and Mrs. R. Brown and Mrs. Stump reached the scene. It was plainly to be seen that unless very prompt action was taken in releasing him from his awful position, he could not survive longer than a very few minutes. Mr. Brown got a rail and got the ladies to pry up the car, while he and Mr. John Diebel pulled him out of his precarious position. He was carried into Mr. Brown's house, and Dr. Carpenter hurriedly called. The injured man was bleeding profusely from the mouth, and it was feared that he might bleed to death. The doctor succeeded, however, in stopping the flow, and upon examination found that two ribs were fractured and the patient otherwise crushed. He remained at Mr. Brown's house until Wednesday noon, when he was conveyed to his home and the best hopes are now held out for his recovery. He is being attended by his sister-in-law, Miss Clara Damm, a trained nurse. Roy Dickison, who just returned from the West, was thrown down the embankment at the other side of the road, and the buggy fell on him. His shoulder and arm were badly bruised, and we understand he is suffering considerable pain. His sister fortunately escaped unhurt.

A PRESENTATION

The ladies of the Hockley Red Cross Society, having closed their Branch, entertained their friends last Monday evening, Dec. 6th, to a fowl supper and entertainment. About one hundred and fifty sat down at the tables which fairly groaned under the weight of the good things provided by the ladies. After ample justice had been done to the wants of the inner man, Mr. Bower, Deputy-Reeve of Mono, was called to the chair and after bringing the large gathering to order, Mrs. G. Proctor was made the recipient of a leather seated oak rocker by the ladies of the Red Cross, as Mrs. Proctor is the only mother in this vicinity who has lost a son in the Great War. Mrs. W. Bower, ex-President, read the address, and the President, Mrs. S. Irwin, made the presentation. The address read as follows:—

Mrs. Geo. Proctor,
Hockley, Ont.

Dear Friend:

We, the Red Cross Society of Hockley, have assembled here tonight to tender you our appreciation of your sacrifice through the death of your son, John, who gave his life to save his country from the ravages of the cruel Hun. We feel we cannot do enough in memory of our brave boys who fought and fell in the Great War, that this fair land of ours might still enjoy peace and freedom. It is with the warmest feelings we are gathered here, as you are one of the many mothers who mourned the loss of a loved one, so we ask you, Mrs. Proctor, to accept with our heartfelt gratitude and sincerest loyalty, this chair. We hope it will convey to you a little of our goodwill and esteem. In conclusion, we pray that you may be spared many years to enjoy this little token of respect.

Signed on behalf of the Hockley Red Cross Society,

MRS. SAMUEL IRWIN.
MRS. WILLIAM J. BOWER.

Mrs. Proctor replied in feeling terms, expressing her heartfelt thanks to the people for their kindness and sympathy to her. Upon the conclusion of her reply the crowd sang "For She's a Jolly, Good Fellow," played by Mrs. G. L. Irwin. After the singing of "O, Canada," short speeches by the chairman, Mrs. S. Irwin, Mrs. W. Bower, Mrs. D. Galbraith, Mrs. J. Purdon, and others, the rest of the evening was spent in music and other amusements. The singing of God Save the King brought the happy event to a close.

On November 6th Mr. Elmer Gibson, of Palgrave, had a serious accident with his threshing outfit on the county road near the 6th line of Albion. While ascending the hill, something went wrong with the traction engine, the thresher turning over and the tractor backing into it. The damage to the machine is estimated at about a thousand dollars. Mr. Gibson asked the county council for damages and a committee from that body visited the scene of the wreck last week.

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery!

Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, those Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

ROUGH BUT KIND

He was a rough newsboy on an emigrant train, crossing the western prairies many years ago. A traveller, thin and wasted, with hollow cheeks and looking as if he were at death's door, sat on the end seat of the car. Because he was ill and feverish he held the door open with his foot for the sake of the fresh air. In this position his leg deterred the newsboy from his box of merchandise. The traveller made haste to let him pass, whenever he saw him coming, but being busy with a book, once or twice the newsboy came upon him unawares. On these occasions he most rudely struck the traveller's foot aside. The sick man apologized but the newsboy answered him never a word. The traveller chafed furiously at such treatment and had difficulty to keep from uttering angry words.

At last suddenly he felt a touch upon his shoulder and a large juicy pear was thrust into his hand. It was the newsboy, who had observed that the traveller was looking ill, and so made him a present out of a tender heart. "For the rest of the journey," reports the traveller, "I was petted like a sick child; he lent me newspapers, thus depriving himself of his legitimate profit on their sale, and came repeatedly to sit by me and cheer me up."

That sick traveller was Robert Louis Stevenson, and he has enshrined the kind deeds of the rough, but tender-hearted newsboy, in one of his charming books, "Across the Plains."

Many people who have, in reality, kind and tender hearts, hide them under a rough and boorish exterior. This is a grievous mistake, for by their discourtesy and ill manners they cause much needless vexation and pain.

Some weeks ago the G. B. Ryan & Co. store in Guelph was burglarized and about $6000 worth of clothing, etc., was taken from the store. The police in Toronto have recovered about half of the stolen goods, and there are good prospects of much of the balance being located.

A CITIZEN'S RESEARCH BULLETIN

(By J. E. Middleton.)

The Bureau of Municipal Research is an organization supported by voluntary gifts of eminent citizens. Officers of the Bureau study the details of municipal government in the community where it is established and issue periodically printed bulletins, presenting in tabular or in graphic form various phases of the information acquired.

An offshoot of this Bureau is The Citizens' Research Institute of Canada which considers Provincial and Federal conditions, and also "goes to press" from time to time. Bulletin No. 15, dated November 2nd, 1920, is entitled Public Ownership in Canada. There is a preface which says two obvious things, (1) that enterprises under public ownership should pay their way, and (2) that politics of any sort should be kept out of them. Then follows a survey of the investment of the Federal Government in Railways, Steamships, Telegraph Lines, Grain Elevators, and Postal Service; a total of $670,000,000. Investments of the Provincial Governments are said to make a total of $124,000,000.

For Ontario, is set down $84,384,918, which includes $22,384,918 for Railways, and $62,000,000 for Hydro-Electric development. This last item is explained in the following paragraph:—

"Ontario's Hydro-Electric enterprise which is, in effect, a joint Provincial and municipal undertaking, is an outstanding example of public ownership. However, while the amount $62,000,000 has been listed in this bulletin as a provincial investment, it is not one in the same sense as "Railways," because in time the municipalities will have redeemed all the outstanding bonds and the investment will then be totally municipal."

The Bulletin ought to be more accurate than this, if it is to deserve the confidence of subscribers. Here is an extract from the Statutes, which goes to show that the "Hydro" is not an investment of the Province in any sense.

"The Commission shall pay to the Treasurer of Ontario annually interest on the indebtedness of the Commission to the Provinces for moneys advanced to the Commission by the Province as may be from time to time determined by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council as sufficient to reimburse the Province the full amount of interest paid by the Government on moneys raised for the purposes of the Commission and the charges incurred by it in providing the money."

Since the revenue of the Commission comes entirely from the sale of power to municipalities, it is clear that the municipalities and not the Province, have responsibility for the whole investment, central and local. That is actually the fact. The local Commission pays interest and sinking fund on the local investment, and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario provides from its revenue interest, sinking-fund payments as they become due, and renewal payments on the generating, transforming and transmitting plant.

The Province does not INVEST money in the "Hydro." It merely ADVANCES money on municipal collateral. If a Bank loans $1,000,000 to a corporate Company, taking the Company's securities as collateral, would it be fair to say that the Bank has INVESTED $1,000,000 in the Company's enterprises.

But it may be said that the Province has guaranteed bonds and therefore is technically liable. It can never be actually liable for payment unless the municipalities fail to pay for their power, an amount of about half of their annual revenue. That condition of affairs could never arise. No community would tolerate a default that would result in the cutting off of the power and lighting service.

The Bulletin would have been more accurate if it had shown this $62,000,000 in its classification "The Municipal Governments," adding it to the $36,000,000 there set down as municipal investment.

The conclusion of the Bulletin is a series of six points which must be given careful consideration if Public Ownership in Canada is to be successful. Five of these have to do with accurate accounting, profitable operation, sane administration and the elimination of Politics. No objection stands against any of these points.

But No. 3 is a fallacy. "Whether taxes are actually levied on publicly-owned enterprises or not, their operating accounts as published should show the deficits, or surpluses in operation after allowing for taxation, actual or estimated. Only thus can the public compare the financial results of public and private operation."

The object of Public Ownership of a natural monopoly, such as light and power, is to supply service at the lowest rate compatible with sound financing. So far as the Hydro-Electric System is concerned the financial requirements with respect to sinking funds, renewals and depreciations are far more stringent than the practice in any similar institution under private or corporate ownership, and with an irreducible share-capital.

Depreciation is written against operation of the local system at a rate ranging from 3 1-4 to 4 per cent. So far as the central plant is concerned, a Renewal Fund is being built up sufficient to reproduce the entire value of the investment within 25 years. This is in addition to the ordinary sinking-fund requirements. Moreover the land held by the Hydro-Electric Commission is "subject to assessment and taxation for municipal and school purposes at the actual value thereof."

The object of Public Ownership is not to prove that it is more economical than private ownership, and continue a controversy long since settled in the minds of reasonable men. It is to serve the needs of the people at the lowest possible rates.

Why should the consumers of light and power be burdened with a mere book-keeping charge, especially when the principle that King's Property is exempt is generally accepted all over the Dominion. Taxation of the Postal Service could never show that private ownership of that service would be better in any sense. The distribution of electric energy for power and light is a natural public utility like the Postal service.

The people of Ontario are under no obligation to pay taxes on the Parliament Buildings. Why should they be asked to pay on a municipal investment, which like a Park or a City Hall, is for the direct benefit of all the people?

Fire destroyed the barn of Finlay McRae, at East St. Elmo, resulting in the loss of 27 head of cattle and five horses.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as antitoxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery! Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once wafted down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter the lungs, bringing relief and healing to the lungs. In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, the Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write on it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

IN MEMORIAM

COURTNEY—In loving memory of my dear sister-in-law, Pearl Courtney, who departed this life December 16th, 1919.

In our home she is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name;
Hearts that loved her with deepest affection
Still love her in death just the same.

'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again
Where parting is no more;
And that the one so dear to us,
Has only gone before.

Safe from this world of sorrow,
Gathered while young and fair;
Our darling sleeps near the Saviour,
O' may we meet her there.

On Monday evening, December 13th, the home of Mrs. D. Sanderson, 132 Essex Ave., Toronto, was the scene of a surprise party in the form of a miscellaneous shower, in honor of her daughter, Ethel, prior to her departure at the latter part of this month. The shower was given by Miss Marian Bennett. About thirty of the friends of the bride-to-be gathered and a very enjoyable evening was spent in games and dancing, after which lunch was served. Miss Sanderson was the recipient of many useful articles and in a few well chosen words showed her appreciation of the event.

MELANCTHON STATION

The coldness of this northern burg have been favored with very mild weather up to the present, but it is snowing now and we look for winter.

Rev. Father Clokey, of Dundalk, held services in St. Patrick's Church here last Sunday.

Mr. S. Sawden, of Toronto, spent a few days in our village last week

We regret to report that Mrs. James Sloan is on the sick list. Dr. Fallis is in attendance.

Melancthon grain market is brisk these days. Oats are worth 40 cents per bus. and barley from 65 cents to 80 cents. It is time Melancthon had a live stock market as well as a grain market.

The latest report in Melancthon coal mine circles is that another expert came up from Toronto and, after making extensive tests on the Stoddart farm as well as on several other farms extending into the corporation of the village, he claims we not only have coal in abundance but also coal oil, silver and gold, and says there is a very bright future for Melancthon.

The Drury Government has men and teams at work gravelling the old T. and S. Road, which has been chosen as one of the Provincial highways running from Toronto to the Baby City, Owen Sound. An acre of first class gravel has been purchased from the Thomas Pit.

Municipal matters are boiling up as nomination day draws near. In the event of Reeve Prentice retiring from the field Deputy-Reeve Vance, of Riverview, will stand for Reeve. Several new aspirants will run for the various positions. There are many complaints over the increase in taxes but we must remember that everything else has increased in price.

Farmers are in the midst of threshing in the month of December. Three machines are working in the district. Henry Fielding is engaged on the farm of T. K. Sloan, E. P. P., John Waters and Wm. Stone threshed for those north of the village. James Hammond, Billy Barrett and John Kirkton, while Messrs. Watson and Young threshed for those within the corporation. John Crombie, Michael Greenaway, Geo. Barrett, James Sawden and James Brown. Grain is yielding well.

A recent letter from Joseph Hanna, who went West some time ago, says Joe is doing well in the land of the setting sun.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. James Thompson, West Broadway, left on Wednesday morning for Toronto, Hamilton and Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Campbell and little son, from near Calgary, are visiting Mr. Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mill St.

Mrs. M. E. Dodds returned to the city for the winter on Saturday after spending three months in town with her daughter, Mrs Fred. Falconer.

Mr. Andrew Collins, of Toronto, an old-time citizen of Orangeville, was the guest of friends here over the week-end. Mr. Collins spent last summer farming near Dunnville.

Mr. Jos. J. Kelly and Miss Kelly, of Owen Sound, came down expressly for the Dufferin Lacrosse Club concert on Wednesday night of last week. They were the guests of Mrs. Dalton while in town.

Mrs Geo Temple and Mrs. Rich. Sanderson returned home last week after a pleasant visit with the former's son, Mr. Alf. Temple, Hamilton, and with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. D. Sanderson, of Toronto, announces the engagement of her daughter, Ethel Luella, to Mr. Jos. J. Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs Thos. Armstrong, Mansfield, Ontario, the marriage to take place the latter part of December

Announcement is made of the engagement of Ruth, only daughter of Mr and Mrs. Frederick W. Ritchie, 1337 South Harvard Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, to Carl Victor Green, elder son of Professor and Mrs. C. W. Green, Los Angeles. The wedding will take place at First Adams Methodist Episcopal Church on Christmas Day

Mr. Lee Armstrong, of Prelate, Sask, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong, formerly of Amaranth, is visiting friends in Orangeville and vicinity and will probably spend the most of the winter in Ontario. Mr. Armstrong brings favorable reports from the West. Good crops gladdened the hearts of the farmers in his district. His parents and brothers were all in good health when he left to come east.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dods, of Alton, who were among the delegates to the World's Sunday School Convention in Tokio, Japan, arrived home on Monday of last week. They report a strenuous but an extremely interesting trip. During their stay in Japan the delegates were entertained no less than three times by the Emperor, one of the entertainments taking the form of a garden party in the famous Royal gardens in the capital. Mr. Dods states that Tokio is being modernised very rapidly and will in another ten years be very much like one of our new world cities. Mr. and Mrs. Dods visited Seoul, Shanghai, Pekin and other centres in Japan and China and also spent a day and a half at Honolulu, one of the beauty spots of the Pacific. They passed through a section of the famine district in China and witnessed some harrowing scenes showing the dire extremity to which the poor sufferers have been reduced in their fight against starvation.

In response to numerous requests the Orangeville Public School staff and pupils have agreed to repeat their Concert in the Opera House on Friday night, December 17. The seating accommodation of the Hall proved quite inadequate to accommodate all who wished to hear the Concert last Friday night and as a result scores of people were turned away at the doors. FACE BURNED

During the burning of the steamer Schoolcraft near Wolfe Island, Lake Ontario, Capt. Ike Woolner, Collingwood, a well-known mariner to Owen Sounders, had his face slightly burned. The rest of the crew escaped without injury. The steamer, which was owned by Manley Chew, Midland, took fire, and although the flames were quickly devouring the vessel, Capt. Sumbur, the pilot, stuck bravely to his post until he succeeded in beaching his vessel. The Schoolcraft was a thousand-ton boat, and had been engaged in the coal carrying trade between Erie and Montreal, and was going to winter quarters in the latter place. The majority of the crew were from Midland. The crew had all taken to the lifeboats but the captain, who remained at his post alone.

FIFTY-YEAR-OLD WAGON SOLD FOR DOUBLE ITS COST

John Adolph was Chesley's first wagon maker. His shop stood where Beattie's livery now is; as a matter of fact, the framework is the same. The wagons made by this pioneer wood-worker were substantial and built to last. The axles and tongues were of oak, which was quite plentiful in the bush around Chesley. That was before the days it was cut about three-sixteenths of an inch thick and used for flooring in the best homes of the land. One of these oak wagons, made by hand by John Adolph about fifty years ago for $40, was sold by Auctioneer Case at Reinhart Diebel's sale last Thursday for $73.50, or nearly twice what the original cost was. It is a better wagon now than a lot of those trashy factory-made ones where the defects are covered up by paint as thick as on a variety actress' hard-looking mug. Out in the Shaw barn, on lot 31, con. 5, Elderslie, is the old wagon that the late John Doble teamed wheat and pork to Guelph in, bringing back groceries and other supplies for the pioneer store in Chesley. In those early days, these hand-made wagons and buggies were built to wear, not to sell. Some of the factory-made buggies rattle in a few years like the artillery of an approaching thunderstorm.—Chesley Enterprise.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

The Consolidated School Question will be discussed by Rev. J. E. Bell, of Toronto, Mr. J M McNaughton and other speakers at a public meeting in the Church of England Hall in Mono Mills on Friday night, Dec 17th. The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock sharp. All ratepayers and ladies of Mono Mills and district are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

.ST. ANDREW'S ANNIVERSARY

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Orangeville, will hold its annual anniversary services on Sunday next, Dec. 19th. Dr. John Neil, of Toronto, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, will occupy the pulpit at morning and evening services. The church choir will provide special music.

RECEIVED MEDAL

Mrs. Ed. French, Orangeville, mother of Isiah Winterton, who gave his life in France on October 18th, 1917, has received a sterling silver token in a leather case from the Militia Department at Ottawa. The design is a cross and wreath and set in three points of the cross is a maple leaf surmounted by a crown, with the letters, "R. C." inscribed in the centre. The reverse side of the medal bears the soldier's name and number.

WILL REPEAT PLAY

Owing to numerous requests from interested friends the Y. P. S. of Laurel Presbyterian Church have decided to again present the Play, "The Duet of the Earth," in the Town Hall in Laurel on Saturday evening, Dec. 18th. This Play was heard by a record crowd last Friday evening and many had to be turned away owing to lack of seating accommodation. The Patricia orchestra will be in attendance. Admission, 35 cents and 25 cents. Doors open at 7.30. Play commences at 8 o'clock

NEWS NOTES

The Bank of Canada and Merchants Bank at Hanover have decided to close at noon on Saturday, instead of Wednesday as heretofore.

Eastnor Township Council will erect at Lion's Head, a Memorial Monument at a cost of $1,000, to the memory of six residents of the township who fell in the late world war.

The general depression is being felt by Bolton industries. There has been a cut of ten per cent. in the wages at Walshaw's Woollen Mill and an eight hour day inaugurated at Dick's and Plummer's foundries.

Mr. C. A. Norsworthy, manager of the Merchants' Bank in Flesherton since the branch was opened, has been removed to Granton, near London. Mr. Scott, of Granton, takes his place in Flesherton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, of Grand Valley, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Alma Elsie, to Mr. George T. E. Robson, of East Garafraxa, the marriage to take place this month.

Mr. John Gordon, of Drayton, License Inspector for West Wellington, tendered his resignation to the Ontario License Board to take effect on Dec. 31st. He will be placed on the superannuated list. Mr. Gordon has held this unenviable position for fifteen years.

Falling from the window of the room on the fourth floor of the Iroquois Hotel, York and King Sts., Toronto, a week ago Thursday afternoon, Wm. J. Boyd, cattle drover, of Flesherton, was instantly killed. The body was removed to the Morgue where an inquest was held.

A Southampton man, John Clancy, a G. T. R. brakeman, who has been running between Palmerston and Southampton for the past ten years, is seriously ill at his home there with what the physicians pronounce inflammation at the base of the tongue. It is said to be the first case of its kind to come under observance by medical men of the district. The victim has been unable to eat or sleep for over a week.

Mr. A. Collins, clerk of Walkerton, received a communication from the Hydro Commission stating that the Engineers had completed their estimates of the distributing system and electric light plants of the Walkerton and Saugeen corporations, which include Southampton and Port Elgin and that they are now ready to make their offer and take over these systems.

W. C. Bonesteel, a farmer residing near Wiarton, was taken to the General Hospital in Owen Sound suffering from a serious gunshot wound in the thigh. He and his son had gone out to the bush to cut wood and had taken a shotgun along in case they might see some game. During the afternoon the father noticed a rabbit and called to his son, "there's a rabbit!" The boy grabbed the gun; but as he did so it went off and the charge struck the father in the thigh, grazing the bone and making a nasty wound.

GILLAM IS LIKE BRAND NEW MAN

Brimful of New Life and Energy Since Taking Tanlac—Gains Sixteen Pounds.

"No sir, I wasn't much surprised when I got on the scales and found I had gained sixteen pounds in weight, for I have been eating like a wolf ever since I started taking Tanlac," declared Robert Gillam, a well known machinist, formerly a popular ball player, living at 135 Niagara street, Hamilton, Ont.

"For about two years I had no end of trouble with my stomach and sometimes my suffering was just about all I could stand. After every meal I bloated up with gas, and I had spells for three or four days at a time when I just had to take to my bed and was so sick at the stomach I couldn't retain even a glass of water.

"These attacks were so severe at times it just looked like they would finish me. My appetite was gone, I never slept well and though I took any quantity of medicine I lost weight and went down hill rapidly.

"I kept reading in the Hamilton papers about the remarkable results that were following the use of Tanlac, and concluded to try it in my case. Well, sir, by the time I had finished the second bottle I was eating good and digesting what I ate and now, since taking four bottles, I simply feel like a new man.

"Why, the dinner bell never rings quick enough for me now, and I can eat just anything I take a notion to and it never hurts me a particle. I sleep fine at night and wake up in the morning brimful of life and energy and ready for a big day's work. Everybody tells me I'm the picture of health and I feel great all the time. Whenever I see anybody suffering like I was I tell them to take Tanlac, and it will always get a good word from me."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

MUNICIPAL NOTES

We understand that the Orangeville Council expects to be able to show a surplus of about $2,000. This will enable the 1921 Council to start off right.

Municipal nominations will take place next Monday. In the townships the nomination meetings will be held in the afternoon. In Orangeville and other urban municipalities they will take place at night.

Reeve Theo. Watson, of Grand Valley, will seek re-election for a second term. He may not have any opposition, although Councillor J. G. Keith and William McClelland are said to be casting longing glances in the direction of the Reeve's chair.

The friends of Councillor Geo. Patterson, Adjala, are urging him to stand for the office of Reeve. There is a feeling that if Mr. Patterson could be persuaded to stand for the office he would be reasonably sure of election. He has had considerable municipal experience, is well liked and has proved himself a careful and level headed public representative.

Everything seems just about expresses the situation in Orangeville. We understand that Mayor Parkinson will ask for the customary second term and that Reeve Jeffers will again stand for the Reeveship for 1921. Deputy-Reeve Gillespie is a young man and while he has aspirations it is said that he will not force a fight by aspiring to the higher reeveship.

Reeve Alex. Ward, of East Luther, Reeve Prentice, of Melancthon, and Reeve Barber, of Mulmur, are retiring from municipal life. Deputy-Reeve Arch. Vance will stand for Reeve in Melancthon and may be opposed by ex-Reeve Jas. R. Clarke. Deputy-Reeve Rice Hill will be in the field for the Mulmur reeveship and may not have any opposition. An indefinite situation exists in East Luther and it is uncertain how matters will shape.

It looks very much like an acclamation in Amaranth, although there is no telling what may happen on nomination day. Taxes are high this year and this furnishes ambitious newcomers with a weapon which they can brandish to good advantage. Reeve Reid and Deputy-Reeve Simpson will both seek re-election. So far as we can learn the three Councillors are content to remain where they are for another year.

Reeve James Brown, of East Garafraxa, will seek re-election and it is thought that if he succeeds he will stand a good chance of being Warden of Dufferin next year. However, if Mr. Brown gets another term in the Reeve's chair he will only do so after a hard fight, for Mr. W. H. Hunter, one of the members of this year's Council and a son of the late W. H. Hunter, is out for the Reeveship. Both men are well thought of and both have plenty of warm friends in the township. They should make a good race for the position.

Reeve Moffatt, of Mono, had decided to retire, but his supporters have been urging him to stay on the job and there is a possibility that he may accede to their wishes. The ratepayers are pretty well satisfied with the old council on account of the comparatively low tax rate. Deputy-Reeve Bower is said to be definitely in the field for Reeve, so that if Moffatt decides to stand there will be a lively contest. Councillor Barber is mentioned as a likely candidate for Deputy-Reeve. Councillor McNaughton, admittedly an excellent representative, is disposed to drop out, but may be induced to stay in the Council for another year. Councillor Parks, who was chosen to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Councillor Morton, will be in the field for Councillor.

It looks like a redhot nomination meeting in Caledon next Monday, followed by an all round election. The purchase of the Consolidated Telephone System and the telephone tangle that has existed for the last year or longer will furnish plenty of material for contentious discussion. It is said that the veteran Reeve, Thomas Smith, and Deputy-Reeve W. Sutton will line up for the Reeveship fight. It is also whispered that Jas. R. Hillyard, a former member of the Council, may take a hand in the fray, making the contest a three cornered affair. The three men are residents of the Caledon division and comparatively close neighbors. Councillors W. J. Wilson and John McBride are named as possible candidates for the Deputy-Reeve's chair. Councillor McDonald will run for the Council and it is said that there will be no dearth of new men for the two vacant places.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

The following accounts were passed by the Town Council at last regular meeting on Wednesday evening, Dec. 15th:—

Chas. Gillespie, salaries firemen, $276.25; J. M. Bennett, Division Court fees, $32.00; Jos. H. Hughes, Division Court fees, $32.00; John Norris, postage account, $20.00; Municipal World, marriage register, $3.24; Armstrong & Robinson, $14.25; George Eudie, $7.20; Jas. A. Matthews, $1.85; C. C. G. Hannah, $4.00 and $21.00; Jas Graham, $2.80; Matthews & Gilmore, 75c.; Ed. Delaney, $4.20, $4.40 and $6.25; George King, $5.50; A. A Hughson, $23.00 and $11.00.

Mr. H. F. Tuck was granted free water, free light, the use of hose and free lamps for his open air skating rink in the South Ward.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

At the Epworth League meeting last Monday evening Mr. Will Porter, convener of the Literary Committee, occupied the chair. Mr. W. R. Liddy gave an excellent address on the Drama, which contained much valuable information on the development of the theatre from the time of the miracle plays, or passion plays, up to the present. In the course of his address Mr. Liddy said that in the old Greek plays the chorus was composed entirely of men, who wore masks and that this part of the company sang between acts and acted as spectators when the actual play was in progress. These plays grew immoral at times and it was well that the chorus was composed entirely of men. However, the drama grew steadily better until it reached its present state. The speaker clearly distinguished the drama from the novel. The former is written often in verse to be acted on the stage, whereas the latter is written to be read only. The Book of Job is one of the oldest drama known.

Next Monday evening the Citizenship Department will have charge of the meeting. An excellent programme is being arranged for. Come and bring your friends and visitors.

Phil Read ..... William Duncan
Helen Durham .... Edith Johnston
Irvine Somers ..... J. Richardson
Jack Durham ..... Ernest Shields
Francine Olivette .....
.... Virginia Nightingale
John Durham, the father ....
..... W. S. Smith

One of the most daring motion picture exploits ever accomplished is declared to have been done by a Vitagraph crew in the filming of a motorboat collision with a half submerged piano box containing an imprisoned man. The performance was done for scenes in the sixth episode of Vitagraph's latest superserial, "The Silent Avenger," of which William Duncan, the Sandow of the screen, is star.

Duncan, playing the role of Phil Read, a one-time bank official, who has been railroaded to prison on a false charge, and who escapes by impersonating a dead man, appears as hero of the piano box adventure. He is locked in the box by conspirators, and thrown thus into the river.

A motorboat plowing rapidly through the water collides with the half submerged box. It tears a wide rent in the box, and Duncan, who is bound and gagged, kicks and struggles through the opening.

"My! How I did used to dread having the Threshers come—but I don't mind now."

"WHY, a year ago I could no more think of cooking a big dinner than I could fly.

"I did not seem to have any strength then, and a little extra work or excitement would use me up for a week.

"The doctor said my nerves were weak and that I had nervous prostration. I certainly was nervous and irritable. I was always worrying about something.

"It all looks very foolish now. But that is just the difference between being weak and strong.

"But I suppose they do not all know about it or do not realize what it will do for them. Then perhaps some of them do not use it long enough to build up their exhausted nervous systems.

"One thing sure, the women of this community will know all about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for they know how miserable I was, and I will see that they know what I used to make me well.

"I certainly did get into a terribly rundown condition, but no one would believe it to see me now since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can now take a real pleasure in life and its activities.

"And why shouldn't I? I sleep like a top, enjoy my meals and get outdoors where the fresh air and sunshine help to keep me feeling fine.

"I don't believe people appreciate good health until they have been sick for a time. I am sure that I did not. The credit for my splendid health now is undoubtedly due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I want every woman to know it."

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND
AMBEROLA

Edison's Amberola is one phonograph that can successfully pass the critical test of a Free Trial in your home. Many purchasers of "talking machines" and ordinary phonographs have discovered too late that the machines didn't sound the same in their homes as in the store when they bought them—possibly because they had more time to note the shrillness and metallic sound of these machines in the quiet of their homes.

The pure tone of the Amberola will meet any test. That is why we will gladly place one of Mr. Edison's wonderful phonographs right in your home for a three days' FREE Trial. This trial places you under no obligation whatever. It does not cost you one cent. Come to our store and select your Amberola and a dozen records. We will deliver these promptly to your home and allow you three days to judge and compare the Amberola with any higher priced "talking machines" or commercial phonographs. At the end of the three days just let us know whether or not you wish to keep the Amberola—that is all.

Moreover, if the Amberola's pure music tone, permanent Diamond Point Reproducer and long-lasting Amberol records have convinced you, we will arrange the most satisfactory terms of payment you could wish. As this Free Trial offer is only for a limited time, we urge you to call or write to us at once. Talk it over with the family tonight—and let us hear from you tomorrow.

A wedding of much interest took place quietly at the Guelph General Hospital, when Miss Dorothy Beattie, daughter of County Clerk and Mrs. Beattie, of Fergus, was united in marriage to Count de Beaujeau, of Montreal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father F. W. Doyle, S. J., of the church of Our Lady, and was held in the private room of the groom, who is now seriously ill in the hospital. Count de Beaujeau, who was an aviator, had a splendid record at the front, having served with distinction in the French foreign legion. His bride was in the ranks of the V. A. D. A good musical program was also provided and was greatly enjoyed by all. After a full discussion it was moved by Rev. Peter Tiller, seconded by Mr. D. N. Potter, "that we approve of the principle of consolidation and request the Department of Education to have a survey made of the territory adjacent to Mono Mills and report if it is desirable and practicable to establish a Consolidated School in this vicinity."

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Nathaniel Thompson, who departed this life on December 4th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one I loved was called away;
God took him home, it was His will,
But in my heart he liveth still.

It was hard to part from one so dear,
But God, who knoweth best,
Held wide His loving arms and said,
"Come unto Me and rest."

—Wife and Sons.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of John Clarke, who departed this life December 24th, 1918.

Two years have passed, our hearts still sore,
As time goes on we miss him more;
His cheerful voice, his welcome face,
No one can fill dear father's place.

His memory is as dear to-day,
As at the hour he passed away;
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear father, how we long for you.

Sleep on, dear father, thy labor is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more;
He took you home, He thought it best
To give you everlasting rest.

IN MEMORIAM.

HARRISON—In loving memory of our dear father, Thomas Harrison, who departed this life on December 17th, 1919.

We think of you, dear father,
But not with outward show,
For the hearts that mourn sincerely
Mourn silently and low.

The silent grief that's in the soul,
No human life can trace,
For many an aching heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.

In his grave he's calmly sleeping,
His spirit shines above;
Safe in the Saviour's keeping,
Waiting for those he loves.

God knows how much we miss him,
He counts the tears we shed,
And whispers "Hush, he only sleeps,
Your loved one is not dead."

We loved him, yes, we loved him,
But Jesus loved him more,
And he has taken him to yonder shining shore.

The heavenly gates were opened,
A gentle voice said "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
He quietly entered home.

—Daughter, Ada J. Harrison.

—Municipal nominations will take place on Monday, Dec. 27th, and the elections a week later, Monday, Jan. 3rd.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market.

FEEDING—If your poultry are not fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. It will pay many times over for the extra trouble and expense. Buttermilk, skim milk, ground oats, wheat, bran, corn, coarse flour, and ground oats is a good mixture.

Very good results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-2 ground wheat, 1-4 oats and 1-4 canary, mixture to be given twelve hours before feeding.

KILLING—Starve birds for about 24 hours, during which time they should always have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, so as to clean picked and undrawn.

COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to have poultry hanging over night.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Large congregations attended the anniversary services in St. Andrews Church last Sunday. Rev. Dr. John Neil, the venerable ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly and for many years the beloved pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Toronto, occupied the pulpit at both services. In the morning Mr. Neil held the history of the Bible and the sources from which it was derived in convincing and instructive manner. At the evening service he delivered a missionary sermon based largely on personal experiences during a two months' trip through Western Canada. The choir, whose numbers had been augmented for the occasion, led the service of song in an inspiring manner. Mr. Clayton Hamilton, of St. Ann's, presided at the organ and proved himself a player of much more than average ability. The young musician is a nephew of Mr. G. A. Hamilton, of Mono. His father is a minister of the Presbyterian Church.

HOSPITAL NOTES

A NEW BUTCHER SHOP

Mr. Geo. McIntyre has sold the West End Laundry building and property adjoining the Fire Hall to Mr. Richard Dodd, of 944 Bereaford Ave., Toronto, who is having the building converted into a butcher shop, which he expects to open for business shortly after the New Year. The new owner is having the building overhauled, repaired and thoroughly renovated. Mr. Dodd is a practical butcher and meat dealer, having been in that line of business in Toronto for the last twelve years and prior to that in Cressmore for six years.

"A NOBLE OUTCAST"

The Camilla Dramatic Club will present the four act drama, "A Noble Outcast," in Mann's Hall, Camilla, on Christmas Night. The time of the presentation will be about two hours and thirty minutes and the program will be varied by selections by the Orangeville orchestra, which will play before the curtain rises and between acts. The dramatic interest of the plot is said to be intense, the appeal to the sympathy of the human heart powerful and the Comedy as refined as it is successful in moving the audience to laughter. Seats are now on sale at Mann's Store, Camilla. Admission, 60c and 50c; children, 25c. Proceeds in aid of the Building Fund of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla.

To its many readers and the people of this community generally The Banner extends its sincere wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Bright, Happy New Year. We will all be better for the brief respite from the cares, anxieties and toil of everyday life that Christmas Day brings. Let all make the most of it. And as we celebrate may the real spirit of the Christmas season fill our hearts and overflow into our lives making them better, nobler and more useful in the years to come.

H. S. COMMENCEMENT

A large audience attended the High School Commencement Exercises in the Opera House on Tuesday night. The most important feature o fthe program was a very instructive illustrated lecture by Rev. W. J. Spence, of Chatham, on the Subject, "Our Empire and How We Got It." The lecture was splendidly illustrated and furnished the audience with a graphic story of many outstanding events in the history of the great Empire of which Canada forms an important part. The other numbers included a piano duet by Misses Dorothy Wright and Muriel Torrie, a club swinging exhibition by girls of the school, a piano solo by Miss Dorothy Wright and a reading by Wilson McConnell. Mayor Parkinson occupied the chair and Principal Hackett reviewed the work of the school in an interesting manner. Successful pupils at the departmental examinations last June were presented with their diplomas and certificates. The presentations were made by Mrs. Morris, wife of Rev. W. M. Morris, Chairman of the High School Board.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. Arthur Torrie, of Queen's University, is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Torrie.

Rev. Herbert L. Partridge left town on Monday morning to be with his mother, who is critically ill with pneumonia at her home in Barrie.

Mr. J. J. White of this town was one of the eight hundred nobles who attended the annual meeting of Rameses Temple, Mystic Shriners, at the Masonic Temple in Toronto on Wednesday night of last week.

The Star & Vidette says that while nothing definite has developed in East Luther municipal politics, the friends of William Baxendale are again urging him to enter the fray. Councillor Albert Reilly's name is also freely used, although it is not known if he has definite ambitions that way.

AIKENS–ALLEN

A pretty wedding took place at Camilla on Wednesday afternoon, December 15th, when Miss Florence Allen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, lot 13, con. 4, east, Mono, became the wife of Mr. George H. Aikens. The marriage service was performed by Rev. William Coutts in the presence of a number of friends. After the ceremony the happy couple and the guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Simpson, Mono Centre, where a sumptuous wedding repast was served by Mrs. Simpson, who is a sister of the bride. The evening was afterwards happily spent in dancing, music and other amusements. The many friends of the happy couple wish them a long and a happy wedded life.

GARRITY–O'BRIEN

St. Clare's Church, Toronto, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Louise, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Brien, Fairbank, was married to Mr. Jas. E. Garrity, Caledon, by the Rev. Father McCabe. The bride was attired in a navy model suit heavily embroidered in black, with beaver trimmings, and a small white French hat; also wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and was attended by her niece, Miss Irene O'Brien, as bridesmaid, wearing a smart navy suit with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Frank McCarthy, Caledon. After the ceremony, the bridal party motored to the Prince George for a wedding breakfast. The bridal pair left later for Detroit and eastern cities, and on their return will reside at Caledon.

O. H. S. LITERARY

A successful meeting of the High School Literary Society was held in the Assembly Hall last Thursday afternoon. The President, Graham Kearns, occupied the chair. Following the reading of the minutes, the boys of 1a and 1b gave a burial of Julius Caesar from the well-known Shakespeare play of the same name. This was followed by a much appreciated piano duet by Misses Helen Irwin and Margaret Meek.

"Vox Scholae" is the name of a school paper that has been started and will appear at regular intervals during the coming school term. The members of the staff are: Editor in Chief, Arthur Macpherson; Editor, Kathleen Wheelock; Assistant Editors—Athletic, Muriel Torrie, Dug Adamson, Faith Wise; Social, Elizabeth Crozier, Juanita Hannington and Dorothy Wright; Current Events, Murray McKitrick; Staff Representative, Miss Sinclair; Business Manager, Wilson McConnell. The name selected for the publication was chosen from a number submitted by students. It was suggested by Miss Isabel Fife, who was awarded the prize, a six months subscription to the Paper. "Vox Scholae" will be issued monthly or perhaps twice a month. The first issue was read by the business manager. Other numbers on the program were Club Swinging by eight girls of Form 1a, a reading by Miss Jean Currie and a quartette by the "Dramatic Club" of Form IV. The meeting was closed by singing God Save the King.

CALEDON.

Warnock L. O. L. No. 250 held its annual election of officers on Monday night last, when the following officers were elected for the incoming year:—

P. W. M., Homer Hillyard; W. M., G. Glassford; Chaplain, James R. Hillyard; Recording Secretary, Gordon Vanwyck; Treasurer, Fraser Warnock; Fin.-Sec., E. J. Chambers; D. of C., Samuel Warnock; Inside Tyler, G. Faulkner; Outside Tyler, John Warnock; Lecturers, H. Hillyard and E. E. Stubbs; Committee, E. E. Wilson, Cecil Dodds, Norman Widdis, W. T. Harris, and W. D. Patterson; Auditors, W. J. Warnock and Cecil Widdis. The Lodge will hold its regular meetings the first Monday of each month.

Anniversary services will be held in Caledon Methodist Church on Sunday, Dec. 26th, when Rev. Mr. Partridge, of Orangeville, will preach at 11 a.m., and Rev. J. F. G. Morris at 7 p.m. Special music by the choir. The usual Christmas offering is being asked for by the officials of the church.

Caledon Council for 1920 adjourned sine die on Wednesday, Dec. 15th. The nominations will take place on Monday next and the general prediction is that there will not be one dull moment during the whole afternoon. Reeve Smith and Deputy-Reeve Bates of the old Council have announced themselves as candidates for the Reeveship and Councillors W. J. Wilson and John McBride will contest the Deputy-Reeveship. It is understood that Mr. McDonald, who only entered the Council last May, has already had enough of municipal politics and will not seek re-election, so that a new set of councillors will be needed for next year. Who knows but we may have a whole set of new men at the council table next year. In the present state of public feeling he would be bold indeed who would venture to predict the outcome of next Monday's meeting and the election that is sure to follow.

The Methodist S. S. will hold its annual entertainment and Christmas Tree on Thursday night, Dec. 23rd. A splendid program will be provided. Admission, 15 cents. Proceeds in aid of the China Famine Fund.

S. S. ENTERTAINMENT

The children of St. Mark's S. S. will give a Christmas Entertainment on Wednesday evening, Dec. 29th, at 7 o'clock. The program will consist of choruses, solos, recitations and "Madame Jarley's Wax Works," including such characters as "Bluebeard," "Simple Simon" etc. There will be no entrance fee, but a silver collection will be taken. All are cordially invited.

On Sunday afternoon at 2.30 there will be a special Children's Service, when Christmas Carols will be sung. The music will be furnished by the S. S. orchestra. Adults are especially invited.

BACK HOME

Homeless, worthless and nearly blind, a young Orangeville girl, whose recent habitation was a den on York Street occupied by a Chinese and a Maltese, was remanded at her own request to return to her home town, where a brother and some acquaintances live. She refused to remain at St. Faith's Home.—Evening Telegram.

A PROVINCIAL CONSTABLE

In order to assist in the prompt and satisfactory administration of justice the Attorney General is arranging to place a Provincial constable in each of the principal towns of the Province under the direction of the Crown Attorney. It will be the duty of this officer to attend, under the direction of the Crown Attorney, to police work, in connection with all parts of the county where there is no police force. In cities and towns having a force, while of course it is the Provincial officer's duty to give what assistance is necessary, he will not relieve the local police of their duty or interfere with their activities.

It will be his duty to enforce the Criminal Code, the Ontario Temperance Act and any Provincial Statutes, but not of course Municipal by-laws which of necessity will be left to the Municipal authorities.

It is hoped that the appointment of these officers will result in a greatly improved administration of justice, especially in the rural districts. All complaints of criminal offences, offences against sections of the O. T. A. or offences against other Provincial Statutes should be made to the Crown Attorney, who is responsible for the enforcement of the law in his County.

HER FRIENDS WERE GROWING UNEASY

Toronto Woman Was Unable to Do Any Work For Five Weeks Before She Got Tanlac.

"I've just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and am feeling better in every way than I have for the past eleven years," said Mrs. C. Roscoe, who resides at 156 Jones avenue, Toronto, recently.

"When I started taking the medicine I was in such a general rundown condition that I had been unable to do any work for five weeks. I think my bad state of health was due to a severe nervous breakdown which I had two years ago and which upset my whole system. My digestion became so disordered that whatever I ate would sour on my stomach and make me extremely bilious and I had such spells of dizziness that I often had to sit down and rest. I became very thin and so weak that the housework was a burden to me and I simply had no energy at all. My nerves were so bad that the least unusual noise would scare me, and all night long I would keep waking up. All my friends were concerned about my condition, and I was very down-hearted, for I had tried so many medicines without getting any relief, that I didn't know what to do next in order to get well and strong.

"Then one day I read in the papers of how a woman with troubles just like mine had been greatly benefited by Tanlac, and I determined to give it a trial. The first thing it did was to give me a ravenous appetite and I soon found that I could eat anything I fancied without being troubled with indigestion or billiousness afterwards. The spells of dizziness left me, my nerves got stronger every day, and I now sleep right through the night without once waking up. That tired feeling has left me and I am able to do my work without any trouble. After my experience I think Tanlac is the best medicine in the world."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, DEC. 30, 1920

ORANGEVILLE QUIET

MONDAY NIGHT'S NOMINATION MEETING WAS UNEVENTFUL.

Next Year's Council and School Trustees Elected by Acclamation.

Not more than two hundred ratepayers attended the Orangeville nomination meeting on Monday night. The meeting passed off very quietly the speakers being given an attentive hearing. The addresses of Mayor Parkinson and Reeve Jeffers showed that the finances of the town are in much better shape this year than usual. There were plenty of nominations, but in the end the 1921 Council, Hydro Commissioner and School Trustees were elected by acclamation as follows:—

Mayor—T. S. Parkinson (re-elected.)

Reeve—C. V. Jeffers, (re-elected)

Deputy-Reeve—W. J. Gillespie, (re-elected)

Hydro Commission—Thos. Henderson (reelected.)

P. S. Trustees—North Ward, Alex. Bremner; South Ward, Robt. McConnell and W. C. Barber, the latter for the unexpired term of J. J. Laverty, resigned; West Ward, Fred. J. Patterson; East Ward, Henry Hanna.

T. S. Hewson, the first speaker, pleaded for economy in municipal administration. High taxes would drive people away from the town. Mr. Hewson criticised certain features of the financial statement, claiming that the statement did not give details of the expenditure in some of the departments. He was surprised that so large a sum as $585 had been paid out for charity, because he did not think that there was so much want in the town. Mr. Hewson also asked for information about local option expenses and items of expenditure entered under the heading, police salary. He thanked the electors for the support given him in the Mayoralty contest a year ago, wished all the compliments of the season and stated that he would reserve his decision on the question of entering the Mayoralty race this year.

Mayor Parkinson thanked the electors for their support a year ago and also expressed his thanks to his opponent Mr. Hewson for the clean, sportsmanlike and gentlemanly manner in which he had conducted his campaign. The 1920 council commenced the year with an overdraft of $12,500 which had gradually accumulated since 1912 and 1913. It had issued debentures for $12,000 of the overdraft and had closed the year with a bank surplus of $3200. There was still $1300 owing to the schools, but apart from this all accounts had been paid including the county rate, so that there was a real credit balance of about $2,000. Council had intended to issue the debentures for the overdraft for a period of twenty years, but the longest term the Municipal Board would allow was five years. The Board had also made it plain that in the future municipal councils must strike a rate sufficiently high to provide for all the expenses of the year. The Council through a sub-committee had sold these debentures to local investors, realizing a price of 96.35. This His Worship thought was a very creditable sale in view of the fact that the Province of Ontario had sold its debentures for 94.34, the city of Oshawa for 94, the County of Renfrew for 94 and the City of Winnipeg for 94.32. Some people wondered why it had been necessary to levy a higher tax rate in view of the increase of about $100,000 in the assessment. The necessity Mr. Parkinson made clear was due to the increase in the uncontrollable expenditure. Last year the taxes amounted to $37,000. This year's council raised $44,000, or roughly $7,000 more than the council raised in 1919. In 1919 the High School requisition was for $6500. In 1920 it was for $7050. Similarly the Public School expenditure had increased from $8800 to $12,100, the expenditure for street lighting from $1857 to $2849 and the county rate from $5040 to $5,600. These four items of uncontrollable expenditure accounted for $6,400 of the extra $7,000 raised by this year's council. Another $500 was used in cleaning up the balance of the $12,500 overdraft not covered by the debenture issue. As a matter of fact the expenditure over which the council had control had increased very little from 1919. The large expenditure on charity account was due mainly to the fact that a couple of citizens had died in indigent circumstances and the town had felt it a duty to see that they were given decent burial. As to the future His Worship stated quite frankly that he could not hold out any prospect of an improvement in the tax rate for 1921 or 1922. Debentures to the amount of $3600 would mature in 1923 and consolidated debentures to the amount of $16,000 in 1924. When these were out of the way it should be possible to lower the rate materially, provided no new obligations were undertaken in the meantime. The debenture debt stood at $94,000. Deducting from this the Dods Knitting Co. and the Hydro debentures, both practically self-sustaining, the debt was only $39,000. In this respect Orangeville compared very favorably indeed with most urban municipalities of similar size. The Mayor advocated an early extension of the water service to serve citizens in the outlying sections of the town. His Worship expressed hearty appreciation of the work of the council over which he had presided, remarking in doing so that it was a unique council in that it included a Warden of the County and the first lady councillor elected in Orangeville. He believed it was the custom to give the Mayor a second term and he would be very pleased to serve again as Mayor in 1921. Last year he had made no pre-election promises except to endeavor to improve the financial standing of the town and this the Council had succeeded in doing. To-day there was a cash balance in the town treasury at the close of the year for the first time in a great many years.

Warden C. V. Jeffers thanked the electors for the splendid support they had given him in his fight for the reeveship a year ago. He had served as Chairman of the Town Property Committee during the year. The Committee had spent $742.38 as compared with an expenditure of $716.84 in 1919 and had in his opinion got good value for the money. The rent of the Opera House had amounted to $277.00 as compared with $235.00 in 1919. Considerable repair work had been done to the living apartments in the fire hall and the Committee had built a new coal shed at the rear of the hall. These improvements were all badly needed and quite necessary. Mr. Jeffers called attention to the unsafe condition of the ceiling of the market building and stated that the Council was asking for tenders for a new ceiling. The tariff had been raised for the use of the Opera House because of the increase in the cost of fuel and other expenses. Mr. Jeffers also gave an account of the work of the Road and Bridge Committee on which he served. The Committee had expended $419 more than the 1919 R. & B. Committee, but the increase was attributable very largely to the increased cost of labor and material. The Reeve told how the Committee had caused leading streets of the town to be dragged and rolled last spring, using the steam roller belonging to the county. Excellent results had been secured at a comparatively trifling cost. Then Mill St. had been improved at a cost of about $500 and put into a condition that would compare very favorably with some of the Provincial roads on which as much as $11,000 a mile had been expended. Mr. Jeffers discussed county council business at some length, referring first to the levy of one mill on the dollar for the purpose of assisting the people of Dufferin to erect memorials to the soldier sons of the County who had made the supreme sacrifice in the late war. As a result $3350 was now available for a memorial in Orangeville and similar sums for memorials in Grand Valley and Shelburne. The Warden discussed county grants for school purposes, payments to other schools for pupils resident in this county, expenses for registry office equipment and the county grant to Lord Dufferin Hospital. He also stressed the steps taken to have the Toronto-Owen Sound road designated as a Provincial Highway and predicted that Orangeville would eventually become the centre of a network of good roads carrying much through traffic. Orangeville as a result of better roads and the development of auto traffic was more prosperous than a number of years ago. There were no empty stores and very few empty houses in the town. Mr. Jeffers stated that he had no intention of aspiring to the Mayoralty, but would be pleased to serve for another term as Reeve. A number of friends in the county had asked him to go back to the county council for another year and he would be very glad to do so, although he hoped he would not have to go through another contest for the reeveship.

Deputy-Reeve W. J. Gillespie thanked the electorate for the honor they had done him at last year's election and also for the compliment of a second term by acclamation. Mr. Gillespie spoke briefly of county affairs, named the committees on which he had served in the county and town councils, and then discussed the work of the Fire & Water Committee in detail. He narrated the circumstances leading to the appointment of the present Town Engineer, Mr. Marshall, and pointed out that the Council had saved money by combining the offices of town engineer and hydro engineer. The supervision of work on the streets had been transferred to the Chief, who was given $10 a month extra in summer and $5 extra in winter for the added duties. The Committee had purchased 100 feet of additional hose, the first new hose bought since before the war. It had installed ten new water services, repaired a bad break in the main on Broadway and kept the waterworks system in a first-rate state of repair. Mr. Gillespie referred to the steady decrease in the water supply at the town reservoir near Greenwood Cemetery and suggested the wisdom of early action to meet the situation and guard against the possibility of a water famine in the event of a prolonged dry season.

Ex-Mayor Thos. Henderson, the retiring member of the Hydro Commission, spoke on hydro matters and presented a very satisfactory financial statement on behalf of the local commission. After pointing out that the expense of providing meters and installing services affected the revenues very seriously for the first few years, Mr. Henderson stated that the Commission had installed 28 new services during the year and that the hydro finances were in good shape. Receipts for the year were $15,659.75, made up of a balance of $1006.09 from 1919, residential lighting $2869.66, commercial lighting $2807.13, power $4124.12, street lighting $2849.15, supplies $1958.60, and miscellaneous $45.00. The expenses were $13,401.58, leaving a balance of $2258.17 on the year's operations. The items in the expense account were:—construction $722.64; power $6386.04, line maintenance $1422.25 street lighting $297.58, general expense $430.57, debenture payment $2666.62, old plant $24.10 and supplies $1476.51. Mr. Henderson stated that he was willing to continue to serve on the Commission, unless some person who was better qualified for the work would take his place.

Mr. E. H. Sproule, the other nominee for the Hydro, was not in the hall when called on.

Alex. Dalgleish, the first nominee for Councillor, called on to speak, declined to go to the platform and spoke briefly from his seat in the hall. When he resumed his seat Reeve Jeffers arose and after asking the privilege to say a few words about Mr. Dalgleish, referred to the councillor's excellent work as chairman of the R. & B. Committee. Mr. Dalgleish, said Mr. Jeffers, had given freely of his time. He had also taken off his coat and worked like a hired man on the streets and had not charged the town a cent for his services. The modest councillor was rewarded with a hearty round of hand clapping, in which everybody joined.

Jas. Thompson stated briefly that he was not a candidate and did not think it necessary to occupy the time of the meeting.

David Young, who was defeated for deputy-reeve a year ago, thanked the electors for the vote they had given him. Although unsuccessful he had no regrets over the election. He had interests in the town and was interested in its prosperity and he thought this justified him in deciding to come for the office.

Joshua Reid thanked his mover and seconder for the unexpected honor of a nomination and stated that he would take time to consider whether or not he would stand for the council.

As the first woman elected to the Orangeville Council Miss Foley hoped that the electors would not attribute the high tax rate to the woman in the case. As head of the Industrial Committee she had done her little best to attract industries to the town, but unfortunately without any great measure of success. The efforts of the Committee had been balked in at least one instance by the thoughtless talk of citizens who gave the promoters of the prospective industry a bad impression of the town. The speaker had succeeded in attracting one modest industry in the form of a shoe repairer, whom she had persuaded to locate in the town and bring his family of seven to live here. He was a returned soldier, who was in this way established in a comfortably way of making a livelihood for his family. Miss Foley told of her unsuccessful effort to induce the council to clean up the the town lot at the corner of Church and Mill Streets and convert it into a resting place. She referred to the violation of the by-law which prohibits the dumping of ashes on the streets and advocated the systemmatic collection of ashes and cinders and their use for foundation material for roadways. The speaker criticised some items of expense incurred in the fitting up of the engineer's living apartments in the fire hall and also found fault with the council for increasing the salaries of two such confirmed batchelors as the town clerk and town treasurer. She also asked why all the little jobs that mean tobacco money should be given to retired farmers instead of going to the real laborers of the town. Miss Foley's criticism was in a semi-humorous vein and she was warmly applauded at the close of her address. Her parting shot was to the effect that while she had a little faith left in the men she felt at heart that "if you want good men you will have to get the women to do your business."

Mr. S. H. Rutledge had enjoyed the addresses and as a newcomer had learned a good deal about the affairs and finances of the town from the speakers. He had no intention of aspiring for any public office.

Other nominees were conspicuous by their absence and the meeting came to an abrupt close, when the clerk announced after calling out a number of names that he had reached the end of the list.

For the first time in many seasons of film making a fight scene has been performed with "fake" punches. It is an ironclad rule among picture makers that a fight must be real, and the punches must be actually delivered with full force. Extra players who appear in such scenes are frequently laid up for days as a result.

In episode seven of Vitagraph's latest serial, "The Silent Avenger," however, about two hundred fake punches are delivered by actual design.

This occurs when a band of plotters abduct the heroine of the story, under orders from an unknown leader to let him suddenly appear and save the girl. William Duncan, playing the role of Phil Read, the hero, learns of this plot and takes the place of the chief plotter. He breaks into the abduction scene and knocks the gangsters all over the place.

CAMILLA

On Christmas night Mann's Opera House was filled to capacity by an interested and appreciative audience to see the presentation of "A Noble Outcast" by the Camilla Dramatic Club. "A Noble Outcast" is a drama of the most absorbing human interest and highest moral tone showing how even when adverse circumstances make an honest man a desperate outcast that outcast may be redeemed by the kindness and sacrifice of a devoted daughter. It shows further how virtue is its own reward and even though unscrupulousness may prosper for a time it cannot finally succeed. The interest begins when the curtain rises and continues as the plot developes until the final climax in the concluding act. The members of the Dramatic Club deserve the highest praise for their excellent presentation of the play. Great credit is also due to Mr. Mann for his splendid assistance.

KEEPING AT WORK

You long for the day to come when you shall have put aside money enough to retire from business. You long for a life of repose-ful do-nothing ease.

That, perhaps, is not a surprising longing, particularly if you are now a hard worker. But it is about the most foolish longing you can entertain.

For though you evidently do not suspect this, it is practically a longing for a life of groans and aches and discontent, and perhaps an untimely death.

The wise among men never really retire from business. It is true they may drop out of the trade or business or profession in which they have been gainfully engaged.

But in one way or another they still keep at work intuitively appreciating that to do otherwise is to endanger life itself.

"The Bloomin' Old Rag Overhead"

A SMALL Union Jack rippled amid the tree tops. There seemed something valiant about it, a gay, won't-be-downhearted spirit, when you heard its history.

A doctor at the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives was talking. "The sad thing is, it's young people, eager, hard-working boys and girls, T.B. attacks usually—those who make the best Canadians, because they're ambitious. See that flag? The fellows in that pavilion were determined to have a flag. Each contributed the little he could. They got the flag, but, poor chaps, they're disappointed—it's so tiny."

Yes, tiny up among the towering pines, but defiantly proclaiming "What we have we'll hold." And in the cots beneath, lads, weak and ill, but battling for health, lads whose precious pennies bought "the rag overhead," are echoing its dauntless spirit—"What life we have we'll hold." Lads worth saving surely!

LACROSSE BOOMED

Review of the O. A. L. A. Season That Has Just Been Completed.

The Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association season that has just come to a close has marked a distinct step forward in the national game in this Province. The outstanding feature of the year was the quality of the lacrosse played. Every series produced at least one team which will be talked about in the days when lacrosse fans of to-day are old-timers filled with reminiscences about the season when Bert Booth was president of the Association and goal-keeper of the champion intermediates. It was in the best interests of the game that the championships were fairly widely distributed, the small towns getting three out of four. The past year has been, in many respects, the banner year of the O. A. L. A., and with 1920 as a jumping-off place, 1921 ought to see a tremendous boom, in spite of the high costs of sticks, etc.

The Senior Champions

Grit and cleverness won the senior championship of the O. A. L. A. for St. Simons, of Toronto. They started off the season by dropping two games, one of them being their home fixture against Brampton. They tied their next appearance. After that the Saints could not afford to lose a single game, as one loss would have put them out of the running. After the first week of July, St. Simons had to play with their nerves on high tension, but they did what even their most sanguine friends regarded as the impossible. They came through to the end of the senior schedule without dropping another game. It was a gruelling pace, but they held it without cracking. The triumph of St. Simons was a triumph for the clean variety of lacrosse, with plenty of close combination play. They had a prolonged season. They captured the Desborough Cup, and then defeated Ottawa for the championship of Eastern Canada, after which they slumped. The second game against Ottawa was the hardest contest an O. A. L. A. team has gone through this year, and was enough to break any line-up. It provided a good argument against any Ontario team entering the Eastern league, where they believe in crippling players they cannot beat.

Orangeville's Crack Team

It is generally conceded that the intermediate series has seldom, if ever, produced a better team than the Dufferins of Orangeville. They completely outclassed their rivals in that series, and marched from victory to victory through a long season until they put Mimico out in the championship finals by a very substantial lead. Their hardest fight was in their own group against Weston. Each team won their home game, but Orangeville won the play-off. After that they did not encounter any serious opposition. They had the satisfaction of putting Bracebridge out of the race, which was sweet revenge, as Bracebridge took the championship from them last year. According to the new rule of the O. A. L. A., Orangeville and St. Simons played off for the championship of Ontario and the right to challenge for the Mann Cup. The comparatively easy double win of the Dufferins was the big surprise of the lacrosse season. If the Dufferins hold together, they will probably be found in the senior series next year and will add greatly to the interest of that series, especially if Weston follows them into it.

The Junior Champions

The phenomenal scoring team of the season was that which hailed from St. Catharines and won the junior championship. Nobody knew much about these boys until the semi-finals were reached, and then they suddenly leapt into the limelight. They established new records for fast scoring in important matches, and those who did not see the games are still wondering how it was possible to run in between 20 and 40 goals against any sort of a defence at all. In their final appearance a real stand was made against them by Hanover, who were looked upon as the probable junior champions until St. Kitts lads loomed up and gave the lacrosse world something to gasp about. The St. Catharines boys are so enthusiastic about the manner in which they can beat goal guardians that they have challenged the Dufferins to play off for the honors of Ontario, but dignified silence reigns in Orangeville. Up in Bert Booth's town they evidently believe that success has run away with the sense of proportion of the lads in St. Kitts. But over there beside the canal they will hold for years to come that they could have beaten the Ontario champions by running around those big defence players like wasps around elephants. However, it is going to remain a verbal argument, with neither side in a position to prove its case, though neutrals would prefer to back Orangeville. Be that is it may, there is lacrosse material coming along in St. Kitts that ought to win back the Globe Shield, to which the St. Catharines club kissed good-bye in 1913 after holding it for many seasons.

Clever Youngsters

Only once before in the history of juvenile series has there been a juvenile team to equal that which came out of Shelburne and won the honors. As exponents of real lacrosse the Shelburne lads deserve to be ranked with the winners of 1916. They played off the finals a year ago against Maitlands and were beaten, but after a year of seasoning and experience they came along this year like a whirlwind. Everybody who saw them play picked them early in the summer as the class of the juvenile series, and they proved it again and again. It was individual cleverness, combined with real team play, that made Shelburne a more than usually interesting juvenile team to watch in action.—Toronto Mail & Empire.

FARM BEATS CITY LIFE

A Fine Talk by O. A. C. President to Toronto Teachers.

Mr. J. B. Reynolds, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, addressed the public school teachers of Toronto, taking as his subject "The Cult of Agriculture." "Our industrial system has defeated its own ends. It has built up the cities at the expense of the country. The spirit of a great city is alien to the spirit of agriculture," declared the head of the O. A. C. in his opening remarks.

"Agriculture is a cult—a creed—a cult with its devotees in its own world, but I hope that even in the midst of the city there will be found some to sing "Down on the Farm" and "The Old Oaken Bucket."

He has been informed that there was to be an attempt to teach agriculture and horticulture in the schools. Such instruction would serve a twofold purpose. It would help to brighten the lives of the young people in the big city, and direct the minds of the youth of the city toward agriculture as a profession.

Professor Reynolds was convinced that there were multitudes of Canadian people in the towns and cities who would be happier in the country. In the cities the people had become urban-minded, incapable of understanding rural occupations and rural life. "We have become obsessed with several delusions. First, that the city is a better place than the country to live in; second, the factory is more necessary than the village shop; third, that education is to be used to escape work; fourth, that farming is monotonous; and, lastly, that country life is dreary and desolate." It was the object of the speaker to show the fallacy of each of these conceptions of rural life, and to present the case for the small town and open country.

Professor Reynolds was born on the farm, and is not ashamed of his origin. To him the introduction of machinery has not been by any means an unmixed blessing. It has destroyed the individuality of the man, and driven him from the country to the town, to become part of a machine. There has been no economy of labor, but rather a transference of labor, and where in the old days it took ten men one day to reap a field of grain, one man and a binder now do the same work in a few hours, while the other nine have been driven to the city to make the binder.

From his own experience Prof. Reynolds told something of the life of the farm of the old days. It was in the beginning of the nineteenth century that there existed the golden age of agriculture. In those days men were cast in kindlier mould, and there was a zest and a flavor in life that is sadly lacking to-day. "If Canadian democracy is to be sound we must have a greater diffusion of rural opinion and rural population than we have at present. What we need in the country," concluded Prof. Reynolds, "is an increasing number of people who believe what I say—that farming is, from one end of the year to the other, more interesting than city life. I cannot for the life of me understand why people will persist in living in the slums when they can have God's country to go to."

MAN'S TERRIBLE DEATH

Found Dead and Trampled in Horse Stall Beyond Recognition.

The tragic death of Charles McNally on Sunday night at Glenwilliams has stirred the community as it has seldom, if ever, been moved before, says the Acton Free Press.
Following the trials for liquor selling last Friday McNally is alleged to have been invited to one of the places against which a charge had been laid for illegal selling. He procured liquor and went home to Hugh Logan's, near the quarries, quite intoxicated. On Sunday he showed signs of drinking again and late in the evening went out to the stable where one of the horses was sick. He did not return and the Logan family thought he had gone up to his brother's, who occupies a neighboring farm.
Nothing more was heard of him until the next morning when one of the Logan boys went out to the stable. Then his body was discovered lying in the centre of the stall between the feet of one of the heavy farm horses which had been newly shod. He had been trampled by the horse and his face was almost unrecognizable. Life was extinct when the body was found.
Coroner McColl, of Milton, and County Crown Attorney Dick were informed of the fatality and went to Glenwilliams to investigate. The Coroner's jury viewed the remains and adjourned until Monday evening next at 8 o'clock.
The unfortunate victim of this accident was about forty-five years of age. He was unmarried and had lived at Hugh Logan's for sixteen or eighteen years. He was a good workman and spent his time between the farm and the quarry. His widowed mother lives with his brother.

THE GOOD CITIZEN'S CODE OF CONDUCT

Moral Code for Boys and Girls

Boys and girls who are good Canadians try to become strong and useful, that our country may become ever greater and better Therefore, they obey the laws of right living, which the best Canadians have always obeyed.

The Law of Health.

The good Canadian tries to gain and to keep perfect health. The welfare of our country depends upon those who try to be physically fit for their daily work. Therefore:

1. I will keep my clothes, my body and my mind clean.
2. I will avoid those habits which would harm me and will make and never break those habits which will help me.
3. I will try to take such food, sleep, and exercise as will keep me in perfect health.

The Law of Self-Control

The good Canadian controls himself. Those who best control themselves can best serve their country.

1. I will control my tongue, and will not allow it to speak mean, vulgar or profane words.
2. I will control my temper, and will not get angry when people or things displease me.
3. I will control my thoughts, and will not allow a foolish wish to spoil a wise purpose.

The Law of Self-Reliance.

The good Canadian is self-reliant. Self-conceit is silly, but self-reliance is necessary to boys and girls who would be strong and useful.

1. I will gladly listen to the advice of older and wiser people. I will reverence the wishes of those who love and care for me, and who know life and me better than I, but I will learn to think for myself, choose for myself, and act for myself.
2. I will not be afraid of being laughed at. I will not be afraid of doing right when the crowd does wrong. Fear never made a good Canadian.

The Law of Reliability

The good Canadian is reliable. Our country grows great and good as her citizens are able more fully to trust in each other. Therefore:

1. I will be honest in word and in act. I will not lie or pretend, nor will I keep the truth from those who have a right to it.
2. I will not do wrong in the hope of not being found out. I cannot hide the truth from myself and cannot hide it from others.
3. I will not take without permission what does not belong to me.
4. I will do promptly what I have promised to do. If I have made a foolish promise, I will at once confess my mistake, and will try to make good any harm my mistake may have caused. I will so speak and act that people will find it easier to trust each other.

The Law of Clean Play.

The good Canadian plays fair. Clean play increases and trains one's strength, and helps one to be more useful to one's country. Therefore:

1. I will not cheat, nor will I play for keeps. If I should not play fair, the loser should lose the fun of the game, the winner would lose his self-respect, and the game itself would become a mean and cruel business.
2. I will treat my opponent with courtesy.
3. If I play in a group game, I will play, not for my own glory, but for the success of my team and the fun of the game.
4. I will be a good loser or a generous winner.

The Law of Duty

The good Canadian does his duty. The shirker or the willing idler lives upon the labor of others, burdens others with the work which he ought to do himself. He harms his fellow-citizens and so harms his country.

1. I will try to find out what my duty is, what I ought to do, and my duty I will do, whether it is easy or hard. What I ought to do I can do.

The Law of Good Workmanship

The good Canadian tries to do the right thing in the right way. The welfare of our country depends upon those who have learned to do in the right way the things that ought to be done. Therefore:

1. I will get the best possible education, and learn all that I can from those who have learned to do the right thing in the right way.
2. I will take interest in my work and will not be satisfied with slipshod and merely passable work. A wheel or a rail carelessly made may cause the death of hundreds.
3. I will try to do the right thing in the right way, even when no one else sees or praises me. But when I have done my best, I will not envy those who have done better or have received larger reward. Envy spoils the work and the worker.

The Law of Team-Work

The good Canadian works in friendly co-operation with his fellow workers. One man alone could not build a city or a railroad. One man alone would find it hard to build a house or a bridge. That I may have bread, men have sowed and reaped, men have made plows and threshers, men have built mills and mined coal, men have made stoves and kept stores. As we learn better how to work together, the welfare of our country will be advanced.

1. In whatever work I do with others, I will do my part and will help others to do their part.
2. I will keep in order the things which I use in my work. When things are out of place, they are often in the way, and sometimes they are hard to find. Disorder means confusion and the waste of time and patience.
3. I will be cheerful in all my work with others. Cheerfulness depresses all the workers and injures the work.
4. When I have received money for my work, I will be neither a miser nor a spendthrift. I will save or spend as one of the friendly workers of Canada.

The Law of Kindness.

The good Canadian is kind. In Canada, those who are of different races, colors and conditions must live together. We are of many different sorts, but we are one great people. Every unkindness hurts the common life, every kindness helps the common life. Therefore:

1. I will be kind in all my thoughts. I will bear no spites nor grudges. I will not think myself above any other girl or boy just because I am of a different race, or color, or condition. I will never despise anybody.
2. I will be kind in all my speech. I will not gossip nor will I speak unkindly of anyone. Words may wound or heal.
3. I will be kind in all my acts. I will not selfishly insist on having my own way. I will always be polite. Rude people are not good Canadians. I will not trouble unnecessarily those who do work for me. I will do my best to prevent cruelty, and will give my best to those who need it most.

The Law of Loyalty.

The good Canadian is loyal. If our Canada is to become ever greater and better her citizens must be loyal, devotedly faithful, in every relation of life.

1. I will be loyal to my family. In loyalty I will gladly obey my parents or those who are in their pace. I will do my best to help each member of my family to strength and usefulness.
2. I will be loyal to my school. In loyalty I will obey and help other pupils to obey those rules which further the good of all.
3. I will be loyal to my town, my state, my country. In loyalty I will respect, and help others to respect, their laws and their courts of justice.
4. I will be loyal to humanity In loyalty I will do my best to help the friendly relations of our country with every other country, and to give to every one in every land the best possible chance.

If I try simply to be loyal to my family, I may be disloyal to my school. If I try simply to be loyal to my school, I may be disloyal to my town or my country. If I try simply to be loyal to my town or my country, I may be disloyal to humanity. I will try, above all things else, to be loyal to humanity; then I shall surely be loyal to my country, my town, my school and my family.

And he who obeys the law of loyalty obeys all the other nine laws of The Good Canadian.

THE HORSE

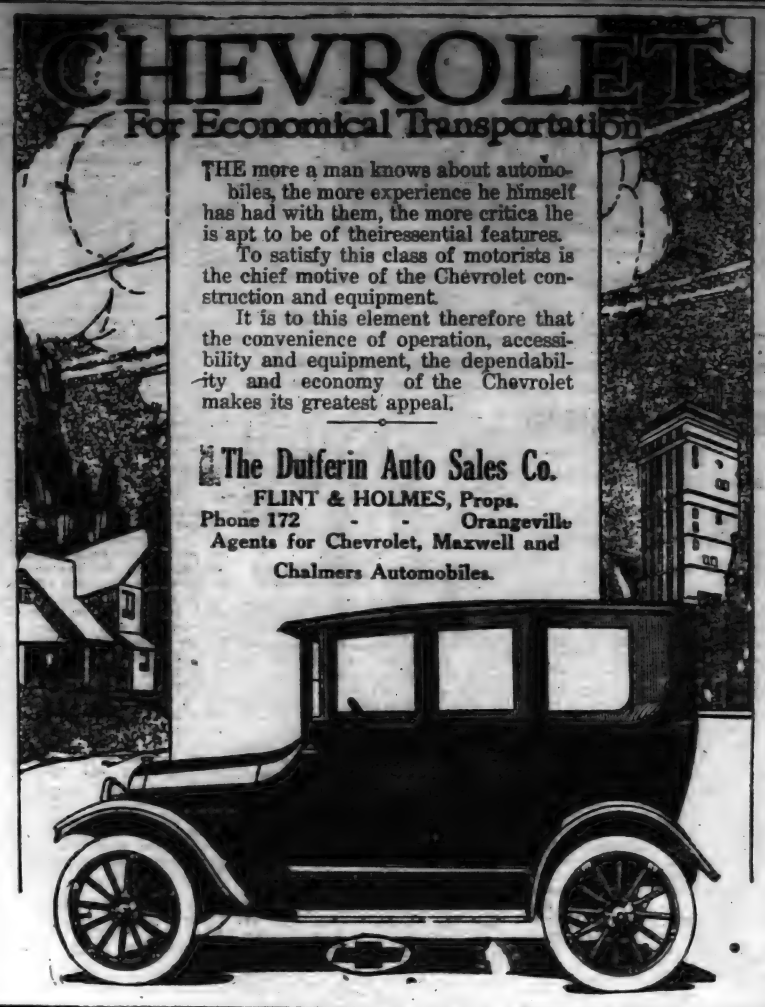
In the world where the horse lives there is one god. This god is only a human creature, soldier by trade, stockrider, groom, drayman or farmer, but from him all things proceed. So far as the horse knows, his god made the girth gall and the harness, the oats and the weather, and most certainly provides a lump of salt to lick, a canter over the turf, or any other little scrap of heaven which falls into his world.

He hates his god, or loves him, fears or trusts him, trying always to believe in him, even if he has at times to kick the deity to make sure he is really divine. His religion, his conduct, his whole value depends upon that poor god, who is usually well meaning enough, although wont to practice a great deal of ignorance.

To get better horses, one must improve the strain of gods.

CHEVROLET

For Economical Transportation



THE more a man knows about automobiles, the more experience he himself has had with them, the more critica lhe is apt to be of theiressential features.

To satisfy this class of motorists is the chief motive of the Chevrolet construction and equipment.

It is to this element therefore that the convenience of operation, accessibility and equipment, the dependability and economy of the Chevrolet makes its greatest appeal.

FOUND DEAD IN KITCHEN

Mr. Wm. McKibbon Expired in the Kitchen of His House in Owen Sound.

The tragic death of Mr. William McKibbon occurred early this week. Mr. McKibbon had been living alone at 1637 3rd Ave E., for some time. His brother-in-law, Mr. Hamilton Nigh, went to see him yesterday about noon, and found the door locked and nobody about. He went next door to Mr. Moore's, who informed him that Mr. McKibbon had not been seen for a couple of days. Becoming alarmed Mr. Nigh broke in the door, and found Mr. McKibbon lying dead in the kitchen. He had had a board stretched from the stove to a chair. Evidently he had been seized with heart failure while sitting on the board, as he was lying just as he had fallen. Dr. Dow was called immediately and decided that an inquest was unnecessary, death having been due, no doubt, to heart failure. When found, the unfortunate man had been dead for some time and his face, and the ends of his fingers had been gnawed by rats.

He was sixty-nine years of age, and was born in Dufferin County. He come to Sydenham and settled near Strathavon when quite young. Forty years ago he married Miss Annie Moffatt, and moved to Owen Sound ten years ago, where he has since lived. He leaves one son, Mr. Ernest McKibbon, of Strathavon; and two daughters, Miss Winnie McKibbon, of Welland, and Mrs. Philip Walter, of Hamilton. One sister, Mrs. Hamilton Nigh, also survives. The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon to McClean's cemetery.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

MR WM. JOHN LINN

There passed away Sunday morning last after an illness extending from Tuesday night, William John Linn, aged 62 years. The late Mr. Linn was born near Orangeville, in Amaranth Township, County of Dufferin and lived there until he moved to Owen Sound in 1871, settling at Ben Allen. Here he carried on the work of farming until two years ago when he removed with his family to Owen Sound.

Mr. Linn was twice married, the first time to Elizabeth Carson, of Cape Rich, St. Vincent Township, and the second time to Margaret Semple, of Tottenham, who survives. By the first marriage there are three children living, Robert Linn, Moosejaw, Sask.; George Linn, Ben Allen; and William, Meaford. There are five children by the second union. Marion, Harvey, Jack, Hugh, and Dorothy, all at home. Six sisters and three brothers survive. They are the Linn on the homestead at Ben Allen, Misses Sadie, Ella, Laura, Alice Mrs. Fred Moffatt, of Toronto; Mrs. Geo. Wilkinson, of Guelph; Messrs. Adam Linn, East Linton; James Linn, Toronto, and Joseph Linn, Moosejaw, Sask.

The funeral takes place this afternoon to Greenwood Cemetery at 3 o'clock. A service will be conducted at the late residence, 2446, 4th Ave., W., at 2.30 o'clock, by Rev. Stanley Elliott, of Owen Sound North Church, and Pastor Ball, of the Pentecostal Assembly. The sympathy of all is with the bereaved relatives. —O. S. Sun-Times.

F. Adams, a bookkeeper, died suddenly on an Ottawa street car.

Bert Cook, caretaker of Brampton Post Office, is in jail for a month, with the prospects of two more if he doesn't pay a fine of $30 and costs, on a charge of assaulting his wife.

Two masked men held up Ira Baker in his home in Brantford Township, and a third party went down cellar, and removed seven cases of whiskey. The culprits had a big car when they called at the Baker home. They jerked the telephone from the wall while they covered Baker with their guns.

MONO COLLEGE

The members of the Mono College U. F. O. are holding their annual social evening in the Mono College school house on the evening of January 7th. The Mono College Women's Institute is joining with the Farmers' Club for the evening. The ladies are expected to provide lunch, consisting of cake and sandwich. The social is for members of the two societies and their families only.

The regular meeting of the Mono College Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Mamie Island, Orangeville, on the afternoon of Dec. 2nd. There was a good attendance of the members and a splendid business meeting. Miss Arkell gave a splendid report of the annual convention of the Women's Institutes of the Province in Toronto. The musical part of the program consisted of instrumental solos by Mrs. Will Irwin and Miss Mona Shirley. Next meeting will take the form of a social evening to be held in the Mono College school house on Friday evening, January 7th. The ladies are asked to provide lunch, consisting of cake and sandwich.

ARMSTRONG—SANDERSON

The home of Mrs. D. Sanderson, 132 Essex Ave., Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding on the afternoon of Christmas Day, when her youngest daughter, Ethel Luella, was united in marriage to Mr. J. J. Armstrong, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, of Manafield, Ont. Rev. R. M. Hudson, of Epworth Church, performed the ceremony. Promptly at three o'clock the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her brother, Mr. J. E. Sanderson, of Orangeville, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Elizabeth Irons, of Mount Dennis. The bride looked charming in a heavily beaded dress of white charmeuse satin and georgette with veil and orange blossoms and carrying a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Marian Bennett, also dressed in white satin. The groom was supported by his brother, Garfield. Little Miss Marjory Armstrong, sister of the groom, acted as flower girl. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold necklace set with pearls, to the bridesmaid and pianiste jewel cases, to the groomsman cuff links and to the flower girl a locket and chain. After the signing of the register the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served to about fifty guests. Girl friends of the bride acted as waitresses. The happy couple left later on a short honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a taupe suit trimmed with opossum fur and with hat to match. On their return they will reside in Toronto, where Mr. Armstrong holds a position on the staff of one of the city banks. The Banner joins the Orangeville friends of the bride in extending its heartiest congratulations.

Y. P. S. MEETING

The next regular meeting of St. Andrew's Y. P. S. will be held on Tuesday night, Jan. 4th, instead of Monday night. The program, which is in charge of the Literary Committee, will take the form of a musical evening. A good attendance of the members is looked for. Everybody welcome.

CALEDON LIVELY

GILES, SUTTON AND QUINN IN THREE CORNERED RACE FOR REEVESHIP.

McDonald and Wilson for Deputy and Five Men in Field for Councillors.

Caledon Township Hall was filled to the doors for the nomination meeting on Monday afternoon. Interest centred in the telephone tangle and there were some lively verbal passages at arms between rival candidates over the parts they have played in the proceedings and negotiations that have brought this vexed and much discussed matter to a point at which all factions and interests seem pretty well agreed that about the only thing to do now is for the municipality to take over the system at the price recently agreed upon. While some of the speakers showed considerable warmth the audience was good natured even if keenly interested in the discussion and all nominees were accorded an excellent hearing. The surprise of the day was the enforced withdrawal of the veteran Reeve of the municipality, Mr. Thomas Smith, who for some reason or other, possibly an oversight on the part of his supporters, was not nominated for the Reeveship. When he learned of the fatal omission Mr. Smith expressed keen disappointment, stating that he assuredly had intended to stay in the fight. A change in the Act, making it necessary for candidates in rural municipalities to qualify if they intend to stand, as has long been the practice in urban municipalities, was the cause of some confusion and misunderstanding. Some nominees, who did not intend to run, qualified in the belief that while this was necessary they still had the alternative of withdrawing their names any time before nine o'clock on Tuesday night. They subsequently learned to their dismay that having qualified they were actual candidates and as such their names must appear on the ballots whether they wished to run or not.

Mr. L. H. Willis, township clerk, received the nominations and presided over the public meeting, which followed. Mr. Smith, the retiring Reeve, reviewed the expenditure on County Roads and then proceeded to discuss the telephone situation. He made the statement that the business of the township had been persistently blocked by certain members of the council, blamed the 1919 council for signing notes and issuing a cheque for part of the purchase price agreed on for the telephone system, and claimed that he and other members who had objected to the original bargain had saved the municipality about $11,000. These statements were greeted with indignant protests and Mr. Smith was soon engaged in a lively debate, first with Councillor Wilson and then with ex-Reeve Kannawin.

Deputy-Reeve Sutton denied that he had persistently blocked the business of the council, but told the meeting that he had opposed paying a legal bill of $1100 from Biggs & Biggs, Toronto solicitors for the municipality, until the firm submitted an itemized statement. He pointed out that whereas Mr. Smith had been quite willing to put through this bill without getting any itemized statement, he (Smith) had insisted that payment of a bill of $32 from the county solicitor, Mr. W. S. Morphy, be deferred until Mr. Morphy rendered an itemized account. Mr. Sutton also charged the Reeve with failing to tell the audience that the municipality was about $8,030 behind on its county roads account.

W. J. Wilson told how an auto accident had increased the road expenditure in his section of the township. The accident cost the township $90 for medical attention and repairs and $380 for fixing the hill where it occurred. Repairs on another hill on the 4th line, west, cost about $200. He had tried to the best of his ability to keep the township out of the lawsuit over the telephone question and had opposed payment of the account of Biggs & Biggs until an itemized statement was submitted to council. Mr. Wilson told how Messrs. Smith and McDonald had rushed Mr. McBride back from the station to put through the account, because they did not want the electors to get an itemized statement of this bill of $1100. In conclusion the speaker stated that he would likely be in the field for Deputy-Reeve and appealed for the hearty support of the electors.

Councillor McBride had tried to be as economical as possible because the taxes were always getting higher. He spent $145 in his quarter of the township and should have spent more. Mr. McBride found fault with the method of doing work on the county roads, claiming that too much work was started and then a lot of it left half finished. He had opposed the telephone bargain from the beginning.

Councillor McDonald devoted himself almost exclusively to the telephone question. He claimed that the 1919 council made a serious mistake in paying over $15,000 to the Consolidated Telephone Co. before the Municipal Board had been given an opportunity to pass upon the bargain. The council had no warrant for paying this money until the contract was approved and legalized by the Board. The speaker contended that the present council was saving the township $11,000 on the deal, stated his conviction that the best thing to do now was to complete the purchase and then for everybody to get behind the system and make the best of it. The people of Caledon needed telephones and should get together and make the system as efficient as possible. In reply to questions Mr. McDonald stated that the petitioners would pay the purchase price for the system and expressed the opinion that the municipality as a whole would have to foot the bill for law costs. He announced that he was a candidate for Deputy-Reeve.

Ex-Reeve S. Kannawin criticised Reeve Smith for helping to vote money to the urban municipalities of Brampton, Streetsville, Bolton and Port Credit out of the Good Roads fund. The township rate of five mills was as high as the rate during the war, when the council levied a special rate for Red Cross and patriotic purposes. Mr. Kannawin made a vigorous defence of the 1919 council in the matter of taking over the telephone system, claiming that the council had acted honestly in what it conceived to be the best interests of the people of the municipality.

In response to questions Clerk Willis made a brief explanation of certain features of the telephone question and stated that in every move the Caledon and Erin councils had acted upon the advice of Mr. A. F. Dagger, the engineer of the Railway Board.

Geo. Giles set the audience laughing with a humorous story, stated he would probably be a candidate for reeve and appealed for support on the strength of three years' previous service in the council.

Jas. R. Hillyard deplored the division that had evidently existed in the council during the year. He did not think such a condition in the best interests of the municipality. It was significant that when the urban municipalities of the county asked for a refund of the Good Roads money the Caledon men were the only representatives from the rural municipalities who supported them in their request. Mr. Hillyard believed in equal rights for all and special privileges to none. He had served in the council for six years and if he stood for Reeve and was elected he would do all in his power to give Caledon its rightful place in the County of Peel.

Thos. Quinn thought a lot had been started and very little finished by the 1920 council. They had expended about $12,000 and still had given practically no account of their stewardship. There was no use trying to hoodwink the electors any longer over the telephone situation. Mr. Quinn appealed for a friendly settlement of this vexed question and an honest effort to win back the confidence of the people in the system. The shareholders were responsible for the present litigation, which if continued bade fair to bankrupt the township.

Mr. Jas. Pearson discussed the telephone situation from the standpoint of a member of the committee representing the petitioners. He expressed the opinion that the 1919 council had made a mistake, but an honest mistake, by attempting to carry out a contract that had not been completed. Mr. Pearson urged an amicable settlement and then stated that had time permitted he had hoped to discuss two important matters, namely the tariff and the Ontario hydro system. A protective tariff, he claimed, could not benefit the farmer because the farmer had no need of protection for the products of his industry. The development of the Hydro he contended was in the the interests of the big cities. Mr. Pearson averred that the policy of the Liberal party was the policy of the U. F. O., the only difference being that on some matters the U. F. O. go a little further than the Liberals.

John Martin, W. J. Trathen, W. R. Dick, Wm. Baker and Wesley G. Speers spoke briefly.

REEVE—Geo. Giles, Jas. R. Hillyard, Thos. Quinn, W. J. Sutton. Mr. Hillyard is not a candidate despite the fact that his name will appear on the ballot. He qualified in the belief that this was necessary and that he could afterwards withdraw. The real candidates are therefore Messrs. Giles, Sutton and Quinn.

DEPUTY-REEVE—Jas. F. McDonald, W. J. Wilson.

COUNCILLORS—J. A. Martin, W. J. Trathen, W .R. Dick, John McBride and Wesley G. Speers. Mr. McBride is the only member of the old council seeking re-election as councillor.

W. A. CONCERT

The W. A. of St. Paul's Church, Mono, are giving a concert in the Parish Hall on January 7th. The main feature of the program will be a play entitled "Aunt Susan's Visit" by the young people of Mitchell's Methodist Church. Admission, 30c. and 15c.

ALTON

The concert given on Christmas night by Misses Hope Barber, Mabel Dods, Margaret Dods and Margaret Lemon, girls of ten and twelve years, was a great success. The youthful entertainers gave evidence of real talent and much promise for the future. Miss Babcock, of Napanee, who is visiting her parents here, delighted the audience by consenting to render a violin solo, which was very much appreciated. Miss Babcock is a violiniste of note and the people of Alton felt privileged to have this opportunity of hearing her. Miss Edith Culligan, the accompanist of the evening, also contributed a couple of fine violin numbers in finished manner. The proceeds, which amounted to $25.60, will be donated to the China Famine Fund.

Leap Year is nearly gone and I'm afraid Clifford Bennett and Ivan Potter have been overlooked again, but take your pastor's advice boys, "Go forth and find."

Please tell us where do Oliver Durkin and Bert Gier spend their Sunday evenings? You know where there are wild men there must be wild women.

By what we can learn, Mr. Carman Jelly and Mr. Bill Wansbro are booked for the Gem Theatre next week in the "Secret Visitor."

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market.

FEEDING—If your poultry are not to be fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. If you have many times over for ... expense. Buttermilk ... wheat, bran, ... grain flour, and ... oats is a good ... Very good results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-2 ground wheat, 1-4 oats and 1-4 barley, mixing the feed twelve hours before feeding.

KILLING—Starve birds for ... hours, during which time they should ... have clean water to drink. ... be killed by bleeding in the mouth, ... clean picked and undrawn.

COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave them hanging over night.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC
wish to notify Farmers and the General public that on and after Monday, Nov. 2nd, I will buy Poultry and other kinds of produce in the building on Mill Street, opposite Watt's grist mill, formerly occupied by Watson McCluskey.
I will be in my new premises Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week during business hours and will endeavour to pay the highest market prices for live and Dressed Fowl, Butter, Eggs, etc.
W. FAIRBAIRN.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market.
FEEDING—If your poultry are not well fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. If possible add to any times over for [illegible] and increase. Buttermilk [illegible] meat, bran, [illegible] flour, and ground oats to a [illegible] mash.
Very good results have been obtained using buttermilk with 1-2 ground wheat, oats and 1-4 oatsey, mixing the feed twelve hours before feeding.
KILLING—Starve birds for about 36 hours, during which time they should only have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, and then picked and undrawn.
COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave poultry hanging over night.

GEESE PROFITABLE

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Galbraith, of West Mono, have demonstrated that there is good money in raising geese these times. Last spring they had a flock of three geese, which produced 63 eggs. Three of these were double yolked and therefore unfit for setting. From the other sixty eggs they reared 39 goslings, which they sold recently for an average of $4.71 each, or a total of $183.69 for the flock. This means a return of $61.23 from each of the three geese with which they started out last spring. The heaviest bird in the lot they sold weighed 19¾ lbs., and the lightest 11 lbs.

CALEDON

A rather disasterous fire occurred on Tuesday night when Mr. George Glassford's house and butcher shop were burned to the ground. Mr. Glassford had left everything in good order and had only a small fire on and had gone down to the hotel for his supper and on his return found the place filled with smoke and entrance impossible. He immediately gave the alarm, but the flames had got such headway that all efforts to save the building were in vain and it was only by the heroic efforts of men, women and girls that Mrs. McArthur's fine residence just beside the burning building was saved. Dr. Thomas worked wonders with his force pump, and everybody did what they could and were rewarded by seeing their efforts to keep the fire in check gaining ground, till all was safe. Mrs. and Miss McArthur are very grateful to all for their efforts in their behalf and much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Glassford as he got nothing whatever saved.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

At the meeting of the Epworth League last Monday night, under the auspices of the Citizenship Department, Mr. Frank Partridge acted as chairman. Dr. Price gave a Paper on "Christmas in the Community." This, he said, is one time of the year, when we should all feel joyful and happy and try to make those around us feel the Christmas spirit. The community gatherings now being fostered by the governing body of our Province represented a step in this direction. A selection from the Male Quartette added to the charm of the program. A piano duet by Misses Kearns and Ewing was also much appreciated. Next Monday evening the Prayer Meeting Committee will be in charge.

TRAGIC AFFAIR IN GARAFRAXA

Mrs. George Clark Instantly Killed and Mr. Clark Seriously Injured by Flying Debris from an Unroofed Barn.

A tragically sad affair occurred on the farm of Mr. George Clark on the 10th sideroad, East Garafraxa, early Tuesday morning resulting in the instant death of Mrs. Clark, and serious injuries to her husband. As the latter was the only eyewitness to the affair and has been in a partially unconscious state ever since, complete details are lacking, but this much is learned from his early statements and from evidence gathered at the scene. The two went to the barn to milk between six and seven o'clock, and when about 30 feet from it both were struck with part of a hay fork track blown from the barn which was partially unroofed by the high wind. Mrs. Clark was killed outright, while Mr. Clark was knocked partly senseless. He came to temporarily, carried the body of his wife to the house and staggered across to his father's on the opposite farm about 10 o'clock, where he incoherently told the story and received attention. He remained unconscious all day, but next morning the doctor held out good hopes for recovery if no unexpected developments occurred.

Mrs. Clark was a daughter of the late Andrew Bayne, about 30 years of age, a splendid type of young womanhood, and whose tragic end has created widespread sympathy for the unfortunate husband.—Star & Vidette.

The news spread like wildfire. As I was acquainted with places along the lake shore where an attempt might be made to land, I started out in the night with John Campbell to warn the settlers along the lake shore. They in turn warned other residents along the Bayfield road. About this time horsemen were put on duty between Goderich and Bayfield, and infantrymen with rifles tramped along the Bayfield road to meet the enemy. Not all of them had rifles. It was reported that one of the recruits had joined the company as it marched along, his only weapon being a pitchfork.

Some of the people went through experiences like those of the refugees in Europe and the few survivors of those times know how to feel for war sufferers. One man took his cow and his bed, hoisted his bed on his back, and led the cow to the highlands of Colborne Township. Another man between Goderich and Bayfield made a supply of pancakes by way of an "iron ration" and took these with him to the safe shelter of a hollow log. One farmer buried his new stove, his most treasured possession, lest it be broken by the invaders. Many others buried their valuables.

A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM

Little Grand Valley Boy Nearly Drowned in Grand River.

Saturday about noon the village had a real thrill of excitement over the narrow escape from drowning of little Garnet Hamilton. He and little Johnston Reith, a 3½ year lad, had spent the morning playing with the Lindsey children and as noon approached they left for their homes. Instead they wandered down to the river behind the fish pond, and Garnet took a slide on the narrow ledge of ice along the shore. His feet went from under him and he shot into the icy waters on his back. The cold water soon chilled him to insensibility, while his heavy woollen clothes kept him afloat for at least half an hour, as he had drifted down stream to the old dam. Little Johnston, with a perception and mental action remarkable for his years, at once started off, and meeting one man endeavored to make him understand what was wrong, and failing, with true child instinct went to his mother. Through his sobs and excitement she divined what had happened, ran into W. H. McPherson's and told the story. Mr. McPherson ran to the river and following the bank down saw the wee chap floating out in the middle. In a minute or two he was in S. Stuckey's house, where doctors, a nurse and other willing hands worked hard to bring warmth to the chilled and stiff senseless body, and to their unbounded joy after an hour's work, the lad's eyes flickered and he recognized his father.

The near tragedy seemed to have the guidance of a Providential hand in the intelligence shown by little Johnston Reith, the readiness and peculiar fitness of Mr. McPherson to run and wade out for the child, the waiting hot kitchen at S. Stuckey's and all available skill and help to render service. To the precise working of all these the life of little Garnet is responsible; for the slightest variance or delay would have resulted in a sorrowful tragedy. Somewhere we read of "A little child shall lead them," of which the above incident is just one example.—Star & Vidette.

THE FLORIST WAS AWAY

A travelling salesman died suddenly and was taken to his home in the West. His relatives telephoned to the nearest florist to make a wreath. The ribbon was to be extra wide, with the inscription, "Rest in Peace," on both sides, and if there was room, "We shall meet in Heaven." The florist was away and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide and bore the inscription: "Rest in Peace on Both Sides and If There is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

George Hunter, employed by the Welch Grape Juice Co., St. Catharines, was struck by a passing train while walking the tracks to work and killed.

EXCITING TIMES OF FENIAN RAIDS

Invasion Was Feared at Goderich And Other Lake Huron Points.

Nothwithstanding the bloodless character of the Fenian Raid, as compared with the terrible struggle that has just closed in Europe, there was really more excitement in Goderich and surrounding country in 1866 than there was in 1914. There was the chance that Goderich itself might be an objective of the invaders, and warlike preparations were made accordingly, says Wm. Swaffield in the Toronto Star Weekly.

For about six weeks after the commencement of hostilities in 1866 business of all kinds in Goderich and its surroundings was at a standstill. I well remember when I donned the badge of Home Guard and night and day tramped up and down to the harbor, where trouble might first have been expected if the invader reached our shores. The garrison consisted of an artillery battery, a rifle company and an infantry company, and these were reinforced by the "fighting Irishmen" from Goderich Township and the adjoining country.

The Hand bakery, opposite the present Park House, was taken over as the guard-room, and rifle pits were constructed along the lake bank, opposite the residence now occupied by G. M. Elliatt. The pits had men stationed in them at all times, night and day. Down below on the docks barrels of salt were utilized to make a "battery," and every precaution of defence was taken.

They were all ready to shoot, when the look-outs announced that a steamer had been sighted on the lake. Excitement prevailed, and the men of the garrison at the harbor and the riflemen on the bank prepared for action. The vessel loomed larger and headed for the harbor. On she came, until directly under the guns of the garrison. Not a sign from her masthead or her decks to indicate whether she was friend or foe, and with the utmost bravado she reached the inner basin.

Then, when another moment might have meant her destruction, she unfurled the American flag. It turned out to be the United States Government ship Michigan with Gen. Sherman aboard.

The posting of sentries along the lake bank was continued after this incident. I was with a company which had a post farther around the lake bank than the present Hotel Sanset. One morning about daybreak a groundhog or some such animal startled a sentry as it moved along the bank, and the sentry shot it, alarming the rest of the guard.

At one time word came that the enemy had left Chicago, en route to Goderich. At another time it was given out that a number of vessels had left Port Huron for Goderich.

EDWARDS GAINS FIFTEEN POUNDS

Feels Fine and Hasn't Lost a Day From Work Since He Began Taking Tanlac, He Says.

"I have picked up fifteen pounds in weight and am feeling like a brand-new man," recently declared Edward G. Edwards, of Mimico, Ontario, in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"For a year before I started taking this medicine I had been going down in health rapidly. My appetite left me completely and I got to where I had hardly any strength to get about. My nerves were all to pieces and I lay awake at night by the hour and got up in the morning feeling worse than on going to bed. I suffered from constipation, had splitting headaches and blinding spells of dizziness. My legs ached all the time and it was just a drag for me to get through the day's work. I kept losing weight and strength rapidly until it alarmed me, and I frequently had to lay off work altogether on account of my condition.

"But all that's a thing of the past now, for I haven't lost a day from work since I started on Tanlac and to-day I feel better than I have for years. I sleep fine and eat like a wolf and it's just building me up in weight and strength right along. Tanlac has made a clean sweep of my nervousness, constipation, headaches, dizziness, and in fact of all my ailments, and it will get a good word from me the longest day I live."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, JANUARY 6, 1921

While Orangeville has a high tax rate (not any higher that most urban municipalities of similar size, yet too high for the liking of the taxpayers), the municipality is fortunate in having a comparatively light debenture debt. The net debenture liability of the town is $94,159.14. Nearly $24,000 of this represents the unpaid portion of the loan to the Dods Knitting Co. The Company repays the principal of this loan in annual instalments, so that the town is only carrying the interest charges. Over $30,000 is accounted for by the Hydro-Electric debentures. In this case both the interest and principal charges are defrayed by the local Hydro Commission out of the revenues from the Hydro lighting system, so that the debt is only a nominal debt so far as the municipality is concerned. Slightly over $12,000 of the Waterworks debentures remain unpaid and as nearly every citizen knows the revenue from the system has taken care of all debenture and maintenance charges for a number of years. Deducting these three items, all provided for annually from other sources than direct taxation, the town has only the modest debt of $27,000 to provide for by direct levy on the taxpayers. A considerable portion of this matures in the near future, so that if care and caution is exercised for three or four years our town should be practically free of debt outside of the three charges we have enumerated. This is indeed a fortunate position and we make the confident assertion that there are very few Ontario town municipalities of over 2,000 people that are in a position anywhere nearly as favorable.

Now that the large floating debt that successive Orangeville councils of the past allowed to pile up has been converted into a debenture liability, it is to be hoped that the town will not witness any repetition of this method of running its municipal affairs. As Mayor Parkinson stated in his nomination speech it is an easy matter for any council to make good fellows of themselves by striking a low tax rate and then leaving a deficit as a legacy to the succeeding council. This is what a number of Orangeville Councils have done and the result was a floating debt that finally amounted to $12,500. Carrying a debt of this size from year to year meant that each year's council found itself obliged to pay interest to the bank almost from the very beginning of the year. This was a cumbersome and expensive method of carrying on and the 1920 council did an excellent stroke of business when it provided for this floating debt by an issue of debentures, which it succeeded in selling to local investors at an exceptionally good price. It is a good thing that the Municipal Board made it plain that it disapproved of the issue of debentures for this purpose. If it were an easy matter to secure approval for this class of debentures altogether too many councils would be seeking this method of escaping from the direct consequences of careless or reckless spending of the people's money. Better far that a council should be required to make sufficient provision by taxation to defray all necessary expenses. This necessity will usually prove an adequate safeguard against improvident expenditure. It must be remembered, however, that the 1920 council was not responsible for the floating debt which it found on its hands when it assumed office. The debt was a legacy from its predecessors and in providing for the debt by issuing debentures it took the sensible and business course—a course that will mean a considerable saving every year in interest payments to the bank. True the debentures will have to be repaid in five years and will therefore entail an appreciable addition to the tax rate, but even at that, the municipality is getting rid of the debt instead of going along paying interest from year to year without making any headway.

Urban municipalities are everywhere faced with the problem of high and steadily increasing tax rates. High taxes are an almost inevitable accompaniment of the expensive times in which we are living. High wages and the heavy increase in the cost of material have made all kinds of municipal work abnormally expensive. In urban municipalities the uncontrollable expenditure has grown by leaps and bounds. School boards have been faced with exactly the same problems as confront municipal councils. Necessary maintenance and improvement work costs them much more money than a few years ago and on top of this there has been a rapid advance in teachers' salaries, an advance made necessary by the increase in the cost of the necessaries and comforts of life. Under such conditions as we have outlined school boards, no matter how carefully they may finance, find themselves obliged to requisition for larger sums each succeeding year. Councils have no option so far as these requisitions are concerned. They are obliged to levy for the amounts asked for by the School boards. The only way in which the increased municipal expense can be met without increasing the tax rate is by an increased assessment. Where population is increasing and new buildings going up every year the assessment can be increased, but in many urban municipalities in Ontario population is almost stationary, and there is very little new building going on. In towns and villages of this class the only means of copying with the added municipal expense is by increasing the tax rate. Thus it is that high tax rates have become general and are likely to continue general for a number of years to come.

One of the surprises of the Orangeville nomination meeting was the excellent financial showing made by the local Hydro Commission. It was not generally expected that the Commission would be able to show a large credit balance, owing to the existence of a privately owned electric light and power company which is an active competitor for private residential and commercial lighting and also a competitor in the supply of electric energy for power purposes. In the face of this opposition and the indifference of many citizens who do not appear to have realized that the hydro is the property of the people of Orangeville, it is gratifying to learn that the Commission has a bank balance of $2258.17 on the year's business. $1006.09 of this balance represents the surplus carried forward from 1919, so that the Commission had an actual surplus of $1258.08. The figures furnish an encouraging indication of what may be expected in a few years, when installation and meter expenses decrease and when an increase in the revenue may be reasonably expected. Citizens should bear in mind that they are now paying for the hydro system, which the town will eventually own free of any debenture incumbrance. When the system is paid for it will of course be possible for the Commission to make material reductions in the charges for light and power and Orangeville will then have really cheap electric power for local purposes. As the town owns the system it is a matter of self-interest for all light and power users to buy their current from the hydro commission, because every Orangeville ratepayer has an interest in the hydro and an interest in making it a successful as possible. The system belongs to the people of Orangeville just as the waterworks system is the property of the people of Orangeville. The two systems are valuable assets and their value will be increased very materially once they are paid for.

The mystery of ten thousand automobile thefts that have occurred throughout the country recently is solved for the first time in the eighth episode of Vitagraph's new serial, "The Silent Avenger." It is revealed that the newest method of automobile stealing is performed through the "tarpaulin trick."

Confessions from a band of thieves whose operations have been baffling the police of a dozen cities for months are taken as the foundation of the thrilling scenes used in the pictures. The tarpaulin trick is operated by means of a truck with an extension top.

The crooks drive their truck alongside of a deserted automobile, hurriedly shoot the extension top over the machine and let down curtains of tarpaulin all around the car. Then a crook slips from the truck to the auto with tools, breaks the lock and drives the machine out from under the tarpaulin.

The eighth episode of "The Silent Avenger," in which this scene occurs, will appear at the Gem Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 10th and 11th.

W. A. CONCERT

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church, Mono, are giving a concert in the Parish Hall on Friday evening, January 7th. The main feature of the program will be a Play, entitled "Aunt Susan's Visit," by the young people of Mitchell's Church. Admission, 30c and 15c.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL

There will be a big change in the personnel of the Dufferin County Council this year. Of the fourteen members of the 1920 Council only six will occupy seats in the new Council. They are the two Orangeville representatives, Reeve Jeffers and Deputy-Reeve Gillespie, Reeve Brown, of East Garafraxa, Reeve Reid and DeputyReeve Simpson, of Amaranth, all re-elected by acclamation, and Reeve Bowers, of Mono, who represented his municipality as Deputy-Reeve last year. Reeve McGhee, of Melancthon, has had previous County Council experience. The other seven men, Barber, of Mono, McKee and Henderson, of Mulmur, Russell, of Melancthon, O'Flynn, of Shelburne, Reilly, of East Luther, and McClelland, of Grand Valley, are entirely new to the County Council and its work. Mr. James Brown, now serving his third term as Reeve of East Garafraxa, would seem the logical choice for the coveted position of Warden. Mr. Brown has a double claim on the office. He is the oldest member of the Council in point of service at the Board and it is East Garafraxa's turn for the office. If he is selected Mr. Brown will fill the office worthily and with credit to himself and the county.

START THE NEW YEAR RIGHT

There is a time to do the right thing, and the man who does the right thing is always conscious of having done his duty. New Year's is a good time to start, so before you renew your subscription to any paper, think a moment of The Farmers' Sun, and what it means to yourself, and the farmers of this Province. The paper is owned by the farmers, and published solely in their interest. No other paper donates its entire energy to the farmers' cause. When sending in your subscription, get your neighbor to subscribe, then you will both be doing the right thing at the right time. Think of the price, 104 issues for only $1.50. There is no other paper just like The Sun. The Farmers' Sun, Toronto.

STUDEBAKER AGENCY

Hand Bros., of Shelburne, who took over the agency for Chevrolet cars about a year ago, are now agents also for Studebaker six cylinder cars for Dufferin County. Those who want a well-built, quiet running car at a modest price should get in touch with them. Studebaker cars are equipped with Cord Tires all round, Rubber Threaded Battery and Timken Roller Bearings in wheels and transmission. An ample stock of repair parts will be carried.

WON AN AUTO

Lieut. Ewart G. Macpherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Macpherson, of this town, won the third prize in the recent subscription contest of the Moose Jaw Evening Times. The prize was a Chevrolet car and is valued at over $1200. Lieut. Macpherson, who has been in Ontario for the last month, left for Moose Jaw on Tuesday evening of last week. He was accompanied West by his little nephew, Master "Dug" Macpherson, who has been visiting with his grandparents here.

MARKDALE STANDARD SOLD

Messrs. Macintyre and Colgan, publishers of the Dundalk Herald, have purchased the Markdale Standard from Mr. C. W. Rutledge and took over the plant and business this week. Mr. Rutledge has been in charge of the Standard for forty years and has been very successful. We understand that he is now retiring from the cares and responsibilities of active journalism. The Banner wishes the new owners of the Standard every success in their venture.

FT. WILLIAM ALDERMAN

Our onetime townsman, Mr. J. R. Gillespie, who took an active interest in municipal politics while living here, has just been elected an Alderman in the city of Fort William. Mr. Gillespie was given the honour of an election by acclamation. Commenting on the municipal situation the Fort William Times-Journal says editorially:—

"In electing to the council two prominent business men like C. E. Chapple and J. R. Gillespie, the ratepayers have hit on what should be a good pair to fill the other two vacancies, since in both these men the city has public-spirited citizens who have taken great interest in city management before they were induced to accept nomination."

PROFITABLE POLICIES

Through Mr. Joseph Reid, the local agent, Mr. J. M. Dods, President of the Dods Knitting Co., has just received from the head office of the Great West Life Assurance Co. a cheque for the sum of $1788.00, representing the cash surrender value of two $1,000 policies, which matured recently. In each case the surrender value of the policy was $894.00. It is of interest to note that the Great West has been paying higher profit returns on its policies than any other Canadian company. Any person thinking of putting on insurance would do well to investigate the merits of this Company. Mr. Reid will be pleased to give full particulars at any time and and being thoroughly posted in the insurance business is well qualified to do so.

THE GIRL WHO SAVED KING ALBERT

"You have done more for the cause of Belgium than any single person at the front."

These were the words used by King Albert of Belgium in conferring upon Mlle. Angelica Vercammau, of St. Gillies, the Order of Leopold II., the Croix de Guerre and the Croix de la Reine Elizabeth, as a reward for saving the life of the monarch after the signing of the armistice.

Mlle. Vercammau was on a train on her way to Antwerp, in February, 1919, and overheard a conversation between a German officer and a nurse which aroused her suspicions. The officer inquired if the girl understood German, and she stated that she did not; but, not satisfied, the German ordered her out of the carriage. She secreted herself in the next compartment, where she could catch snatches of the conversation through a small hole in the partition. Also, through this hole she saw the officer take a plan of Brussels from his valise and explain to the nurse what buildings were mined.

Waiting until the train approached Antwerp, Angelica told her story to the guards. The officer protested against being searched, and, when the girl pointed out the secret pocket containing the plan, he attempted to shoot her, but a Belgian soldier disarmed him. The documents proved that the German had plotted to blow up the palace on February 19, when King Albert was to meet the French and Allied representatives. Because of her bravery and quick wit the Belgian King bestowed the three honors upon the girl, and in the peace fete last August she was accorded a prominent position.

A SHORTHORN SALE

Mr. S. C. W. Hughson, of the Model Farm, East Garafraxa, sold a Shorthorn bull calf, eight months old, to Mr. James Brown, an enterprising Amaranth farmer, for the handsome sum of $475. This is the second purchase that Mr. Brown has made from Mr. Hughson's fine Shorthorn herd. The calf recently purchased is said to be the best bred Shorthorn calf in Dufferin county.

The next regular meeting of the Daughters of the Empire will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Watt, 1st Avenue, on Friday, January 14th, at 3.30 p.m. This is the meeting for nomination of officers, so that a full representation is requested. The Executive will also meet at the home of the Regent, Mrs. W. E. Irvine, on Wednesday, January 12th, at 4 o'clock. All members are asked to accept this as a notification to be present.

Y. P. S. MEETING

Over one hundred members of St. Andrew's Church Young People's Society attended the first meeting of the New Year in the Sunday School Room of the Church on Tuesday night. The meeting was under the direction of the Literary Committee, and Murray McKitrick, the convenor, occupied the chair. The program opened with the singing of a number of familiar songs, followed by a vocal solo, "My Ain Folk" by Arthur Macpherson. The rest of the evening was spent in listening to selections by six of the great vocal artists of the present day, namely, Caruso, Tetrazini, Schumann-Heink, Gluck, Galli-Curci and Fairar. After hearing brief accounts of their lives and work, the audience was treated to some of their best records on a Concert Phonola, kindly provided by Mr. J. C. Kentner specially for the evening.

BOWLING GREEN.

Dear Editor:

Will you please permit me to say a few words in your valuable paper about the scribe, who represented this burg in your column last week. After reading his items we wish to say that in our opinion he has sadly misinformed your readers regarding the happenings of this neighborhood. In the first place he stated that the entertainment held here some time ago was a phenomenal success, but we regret to have to state that as the night turned out very wet and unfavorable there was only a small crowd in attendance. In another item he referred to two of our respectable young men as being wild. This we wish to say conveyed an altogether misleading impression of the young men in question, who are both quiet and respectable young chaps. In conclusion I wish to make it plain that I am not in any way responsible for the items referred to or any other items in this correspondent's budget. I neither wrote the items nor knew anything about them before they were published. I make this statement publicly as a matter of simple justice to myself as I have been blamed in certain quarters for being the author of this misleading and mischievous correspondence.

Yours truly,
CLIFFORD
Clifford M. Bennett.

On Sunday morning, Dec. 12th, the death occurred at Bowling Green of Catherine S. Conner, wife of the late Archibald Lamb, in her 72nd year. Her death was caused from the later effects of Spanish influenza, which she had very bad last winter, and has been in very poor health ever since. The deceased was of a kindly disposition and very highly respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She was almost a life-long member of the English church. The funeral took place on Tuesday, the remains being conveyed to the English church where the services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith, of Grand Valley, and interment took place at Bowling Green cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss: one son, Alex. Lamb, in the West, and two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Johnston, Carievale, Sask., and Miss Jessie, of Toronto, also two brothers, Jas. W. Connor and John Connor, of Amaranth, and two sisters, Mrs. Wm. H. Harkley, of Amaranth, and Mrs. Arthur Rounding, of Grand Valley. The late Thos. H. Conner, of Shelburne, was a brother and the late Mrs. John Bates, of Grand Valley, was a sister. The pallbearers were Wilmer Walker, Harry Jelly, Willis Rounding, Harry Whaley, William Walker and Geo. Johnston.—Free Press.

ANDREW COULTER

The death of Mr. Andrew Coulter, a resident of our town for more than thirty-five years, occurred suddenly on Wednesday, Dec. 15th. He had been in failing health for a couple of years, and through a severe attack of pneumonia the end came. He lived a retired Christian life, a member of the Methodist church for some forty years, and was formerly a member of the Quarterly Board, a Sunday School teacher and a trustee of the church, assisting in the building of the present structure. In politics, he was a Conservative. He was industrious, and successful in his business calling.

He leaves to mourn his loss his widow and two sons, Russell A., of St. John, N. B., and Clarence L., of Toronto, also six sisters and three brothers, Mrs. John Robinson, Barrie; Mrs. Thomas Legate, Orangeville; Mrs. Wm. Watson, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Frank Gray, Toronto; Mrs. (Dr.) H. Stephens, Regina, Sask.; Robt., of Cooksville, Wesley, of Toronto, and Miss Bella and Edward on the homestead. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. B. R. Strangways, an old pastor and family friend, Rev. J. W. Stewart and Rev. W. A. Rodwell, of the Weston Methodist Church, and Rev. W. M. MacKay, of the Old Presbyterian Church, Weston, were held. A quartette from the Methodist church choir rendered the selection "Come Ye Disconsolate." Messrs. A. J. Pritchard, J. C. Bull, E. W. Bull, Wallace Cruickshank, A. L. Campbell and James Dixon acted as pallbearers. Interment took place in Riverside cemetery.—Times & Guide, Weston.

"AUNT SUSAN'S VISIT"

Orangeville Methodist Sunday School scored a splendid success with the Play "Aunt Susan's Visit," which was presented to an over-crowded house in the Opera House on New Year's night. So many people were turned away that it was decided to give a repeat performance on Monday night, when another large audience was in attendance. The play is almost devoid of plot and interest centres around the activities and homely, kindly humour of Aunt Susan, who comes to visit the Tibbs family at a decidedly inopportune time judged from the viewpoints of Mrs. Tibbs and her daughter, Rebecca Jane, who are in a flutter of expectancy over the expected visits of Mr. Guy De Marchment Coggs and Honourable Samuel Smith. The advent of these worthies did not disturb the kindly but imperturbable Aunt Susan in the slightest, even if her familiar greetings and homely advice did upset the equilibrium of the female portion of the Tibbs household. However, the goodness and kindness of the visitor from the Corners won the day and the denouement came in the form of a delightful farewell concert in which all vied in doing honour to Aunt Susan. The characters were all admirably taken by the following young people: —

Mr. John Thomas Tibbs, Mr. Wilson McConnell; Mrs. John Thomas Tibbs, Miss May R. Niebel; Rebecca Jane, Miss Gladys Ewing; Mary Alice, Miss E. M. Budd; Honourable Samuel Smith, Mr. H. Rutledge; Mr. Guy De Marchment Coggs, Mr. Will Porter; Granma, Mrs. W. M. Green; Granpa, Mr. F. A. Falconer; Mrs. Johnson Highborn, Miss Mae Johnston; Mrs. Linda Suggs, Miss Ina P. Porter; Mrs. Jenkins, Miss F. Partridge; Mrs. Weakley, Mrs. J. McKenzie; Mrs. Sadden, Miss B. Hopkins; Miss Pauline Wizer, Miss C. Irwin; Miss Redlips, Miss D. Wright; Caroline (The Maid), Miss B. Rowan.

"Aunt Susan," the leading character, was cleverly portrayed by Mrs. Geo. Williamson, of Toronto, under whose skilful direction the performance was staged. Our readers will be interested to learn that Mrs. Williamson was formerly an Orangeville girl and is still well remembered here by her maiden name, Miss Ella Shields. She is a daughter of the late Robert Shields. Her husband was waterworks engineer here for some years. The family eventually moved to Brandon, where Mr. Williamson afterwards died. After her husband's death Mrs. Williamson moved to Toronto, where she has since resided.

The musical part of the program included cornet solos by Mr. Amos Mason, Alton, solos by Mrs. Williamson and Messrs. Clowes, Falconer and Sloane, a quartette by Messrs. Jessop, Falconer, Dr. Price and Clowes, a character trio by Misses Alma McConnell, Gladys Ewing and Ina Porter, pretty character songs and dialogues by little Miss Luella Johnston and Master Boris Parkinson, and Misses Margaret Price, Dorothy Barber and Master Francis Wright, delightful music by Falconer's orchestra and a number of Phonola selections by Mr. J. C. Kentner. Miss Ruth Coulter and Mr. Wilson McConnell were heard in recitations, the latter giving a clever original composition that elicited both laughter and applause.

Toward the close of the program Mrs. Williamson was treated to a pleasant surprise when Mr. W. E. Liddy, Superintendent of the Sunday School, took the platform and in a neat speech extolled her services in connection with the preparations for the Play and the acting of "Aunt Susan's part. At the conclusion of Mr. Liddy's remarks, Mrs. Williamson was presented with a silver basket on behalf of the Sunday School, little Miss Helen Partridge making the presentation. Completely taken by surprise Mrs. Williamson spoke very briefly in grateful acknowledgment of the beautiful gift.

We understand that arrangements are under way to repeat the Play in Alton on Wednesday, Jan. 12th.

A FUTURE MAYOR

Orangeville friends of Mr. W. R. Bonter, who spent some time hustling insurance here a number of years ago, will be interested in the following unique and original election announcement in last week's issue of the Trenton Advocate, published by V. A. Statia & Son, formerly publishers of the now defunct Dufferin Post:

I'm very much delighted, that, in nineteen twenty-one,
Some friends of mine in Trenton Town appointed me to run.
I might have been, as we might say, an Alderman, you know,
But then I might be covered up with forty feet of snow.
But listen, boys, perhaps some day I'll give you all a chance,
And when I do, just mark you well I'll tell you in advance.
When I have got the time and means to serve the Town a-right,
I'll tumble in and be your Mayor and work with all my might.
And when that time comes rolling round, I hope it won't be long,
Let's see that we united are as one great carol song.
We'll have our faults and make mistakes, but let me tell you this:
The one who tries to double-cross won't have no smiling bliss.
Please hold your horses, "wait a while," when everything is fair,
That day you'll see Insurance Bill your honest, smiling Mayor.

W. R. BONTER.

A case was tried in Durham before Police Magistrate Laidlaw, growing out of an alleged assault made by Mr. Fred Noble, of Egremont, against Mr. Edwin Johnson, an aged gentleman of the same township. The original trouble was over some of Noble's pigs trespassing on Johnson's property. Though no blows were struck, Magistrate Laidlaw deemed that an offense had been committed and fined the defendant $10 and costs, in all about $23.

THE SILVER YATAGHAN

By LILY WANDEL

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Alcina thoughtfully chewed the end of her pencil in Mrs. Mawson's great library. She was off in a corner with her typewriter and letters, but she was not thinking of work. Tomorrow was a holiday and in the evening there was to be a fancy dress ball. Phil, her brother, in a rare burst of brotherly interest had promised to take her to the festivity. "You're getting to be a regular little mouse and I'm going to take you out among people," he had said patronizingly. "Now, don't worry and be bashful; I'll scare up a few fellows to dance with you, but of course you can't expect to be the belle of the evening and all that sort of thing. Get yourself a costume—something that suits you; be a Quakeress or a schoolmarm."

She had nodded and thanked him, but inwardly resolved to throw off her little mouse cloak and be somebody else just for one evening. "I'm sick and tired of being the sedate private secretary; I'm just as fun-loving and jolly as any other girl if I'd have half a chance. And I'm going to have it, too. A masquerade ball is just the thing!" And then and there she decided to go as a Turkish vamp!

At home in a locked bureau drawer lay the costume quite handy—yellow silk trousers, crimson bolero jacket and white batiste chemise, red turban and floating, filmy veil, even turned-up Turkish slippers and a wonderful black and red sash. It was a perfect outfit; she really would look like a Turkish woman, but she wanted to be a vamp! Something was needed, a little touch—she did not know what. So she continued to bite the unoffending pencil and stare with wrinkled forehead at the high bookcases, antique shields and swords that decorated the somber walls. Right above her little typewriter table hung a queer looking thing, a dagger or knife, thought Alcina idly. Very black and tarnished, an odd handle, too, the usual crossbar missing and the blade more than a foot long, flexed in a graceful double curve. On the handle something was engraved, curious characters—she rose to see it better—why—that must be a Turkish inscription. Oh, now she knew, the dagger was a Turkish yataghan! Suppose it were polished and gleaming, stuck in her sash; then she would look like a vamp—a real Turkish vamp!

That was the touch that her costume needed. The only trouble was: Would Mrs. Mawson lend it to her for the ball? She doubted it, for the old lady had recently refused to lend her a book from the well-stocked library. There was another way. Mrs. Mawson never entered the gloomy room. Alcina always went to her employer's parlor or dressing room for dictation or instructions. If she took the yataghan home with her tonight and returned it the day after tomorrow no one would know the difference.

When five o'clock came, Alcina, a bit conscience stricken, took down the dagger, and wrapping it quickly in a piece of newspaper, stuck it in her muff, and without looking right or left hurried from the house.

At home, in the privacy of her room, she rubbed and polished it, and behold, the blade melted away and beautiful, gleaming silver came to view! Her eyes sparkled with delight as she saw herself in her pretty Turkish suit with a silver yataghan stuck in her sash. It was bound to attract the attention of everybody.

When they left the dance a long cloak covered her up completely so that not even Phil had an inkling of her costume. He was not even curious, for he thought he would know her in any kind of dress.

She lingered in the dressing room, and then conscious that she looked very pretty and attractive, took the plunge into the ballroom just in time to see Phil benevolently tuck the head of a demure little shepherdess under his arm and patter off with her under the impression he was doing his duty to Alcina.

Alcina was surrounded at once. Everybody was sure they knew her. Knights and clowns, sailors and Roman soldiers all were highly interested in the Turkish vamp with the glittering silver yataghan. Alcina had not known that any one could have such a glorious time. By and by she realized that she had danced three times in succession with a certain fascinating toreador, and decided it was time to change, but he persuaded her to sit out a dance. Laughing they found a little nook for a tete-a-tete.

"That silver yataghan. It attracted me at once when you entered the room; where on earth did you find anything so wonderful?" he asked.

Alcina flushed under her veil at loss for an answer, when a rather merry Pilgrim strutted up and pulled her off for a fox trot. She gave a little sigh of relief; the toreador was lovely, but the questioning about the yataghan was embarrassing. She noticed with delight that it was near twelve, almost time to unmask. She quite longed to see the Spaniard's face. And then the joy of Phil's amazement when he saw who the Turkish vamp was!

The fox trot over, Alcina put her hand to her sash—it felt a trifle loose. The yataghan must have slipped a little—where was it? It was gone—she had lost it! Then began a frantic search, but it was not to be found. Terror-stricken, she questioned many of the dancers, and then, as a last resort, ran to the dressing room and asked the maid. No one had seen the dagger. It had vanished, it seemed. Tears of fright came to Alcina's dark eyes; she sank to a chair in the cloakroom, miserable, utterly unhappy. The evening was over for her. She could not return to the festivities. In a moment or two, enveloped in her long cloak, she was speeding home in a taxi alone. A sorry end of the wonderful evening.

At breakfast Phil was not even concerned about how she had reached home alone. He was still under the impression that she had been the shepherdess and somebody had informed him that she had left with an escort. Alcina did not explain, she was too miserable to care about anything except how she would explain the loss of the yataghan to Mrs. Mawson.

A very pale, quiet social secretary crept into the great gloomy library for work that morning. She raised two worried eyes to the bare spot where the yataghan had hung—but—was she dreaming—she rubbed her eyes, for there in its old place hung the Turkish dagger, polished like new. Alcina drew back, actually frightened, then hastened to touch it to see if it was real and not an optical illusion. No, it was the silver yataghan, there was no possible mistake.

"I don't understand it," she said aloud; "it's the most remarkable thing that ever happened."

"Not really so very remarkable, considering that I put it there," said a voice strangely familiar. Alcina swung around to see a tall young man quite unknown to her.

"Don't you really remember your devoted toreador?" he questioned, coming nearer.

Alcina gasped. "How on earth did you get here and how do you know me, if you please?"

"I think I would recognize the dark eyes of my Turkish vamp anywhere, but seriously I owe you an apology. I took the yataghan last night—you see it happened to be my yataghan. I recognized it immediately. But if I had had an idea that it would make you leave I never would have done it in the wide world. When I could not find you anywhere, then I left, too."

Alcina, mortified, her breath coming fast, answered, very disturbed, "Then you must be Mrs. Mawson's youngest son?"

He nodded. "I am very much ashamed of myself for causing you an anxious moment over that old knife. And I'm going to confess still further. When I came home night before last I happened to glance in the library, and lo and behold a very charming young woman was taking down my old Turkish yataghan and putting it in her muff. I wondered what on earth she could possibly want with that sword. On questioning mother I found out who you were and that you intended to go to a fancy dress ball. Then and there I decided that I was going to the ball, too, but it was not the silver yataghan that made me go! Please forgive me, and let's be friends!" He held out both hands beseechingly, and before Alcina knew what she was doing she had laid her hands in his! It was a silent but true promise of future partnership in the silver yataghan!

MADE FAMOUS BY COLUMBUS

Island of Porto Santo Known to Moderns as Place Where Great Explorer Once Dwelt.

Off the north shore of Madeira lies a misty strip of island which accounts itself famous because Christopher Columbus once lived there. Porto Santo, as the mist-covered isle is called, consists of huts and houses in the form of a town known as the Villa, scattered vineyards and grain fields, a steep range of hills and a shore line now edged with spiky crags, now sinking into a level stretch of sand.

If it had not been for Columbus the island would be altogether dull and commonplace. As it is, the place is often dull, but it lives in history, and sometimes travelers come over from Madeira to see the island where the discoverer once lived and where he is said by some to have received his first clew to the existence of an unknown land in the West.

Porto Santo was discovered by accident early in the fifteenth century by a Portuguese explorer who was driven there during a storm. As the day happened to be All Saints' day, and as he was particularly thankful to have found a safe refuge from the wind, the navigator named the little island Porto Santo. He then returned to Portugal and spoke in such enthusiastic praise of the discovery that a colony was soon formed to take possession of the land of promise. Among the colonists was Bartholomen Perecstrello, an Italian sea captain serving with the Portuguese government, who was to be governor of the island.

Columbus fell in love with Bartholomeu's daughter in Lisbon. So when she departed for Porto Santo, Columbus followed, and there, in time, he married her.

LIFE AND CANDLES

In highly imaginative pictures life is sometimes represented in the form of a candle, and the lives of people are a good deal like candles.

Candles burn in very different ways—and in the end the light goes out from all. Some of them sputter and make a great fuss and are irregular in the burning. They flicker and flare and droop—bidding fair sometimes to give forth a worthy blaze, a blaze that will light the way. Then splutter and flicker and die.

Others burn with a strong, flaring light that can be seen for a great distance but they don't burn long. They soon wear themselves out. Had they expended their energy more carefully they would have proved just as successful and would have lasted much longer.

Then there is the best candle of all. It burns steadily, brightly, not too high—but always steadily. It is a clear, clean light and it shows the way constantly to those who need more light. It doesn't flicker or sputter. Even when it has reached the socket and nears the end it gives the same steady light.

Yes, the lives of people are not unlike candles.

SHAW—FOSTER

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Foster, of the township of Mono, on Christmas Day at 3 o'clock p.m., their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Clayton William Shaw, also of the township of Mono. The bride was beautifully attired in a white bridal costume with veil and orange blossoms and was attended by her friend, Miss Ruby Henry, while the groom was ably supported by Charles Foster. After receiving the congratulations from about fifty guests they sat down and partook of a Christmas wedding dinner. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Wallace, B. D. The happy couple will reside on the 7th con., Mono. Best wishes.—Free Press.

BOWLES—CLAYSON

A pretty wedding took place on Christmas Day, when Maude A. Clayson, B. A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clayson, Oakwood Ave., Toronto, was married to Alex. C. Bowles, M. C. (formerly Captain, Canadian Machine Gun Corps), second son of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Bowles, of St. Clair avenue west. The Rev. Dr. J. C. Geer conducted the ceremony and the wedding music was played by the groom's mother, Mrs. I. R. Bowles. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a redingote frock of seal brown chiffon velvet trimmed with touches of gold. She wore a smart hat of brown satin and gold lace, and carried sweetheart roses. Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served, and after a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Bowles expect to live in Toronto. The groom, who formerly attended High School in Orangeville, is a cousin of Mrs. W. M. Green and Dr. W. H. Bowles.

DEEP IMPRESSIONS

"That antagonist of yours says he is going to leave footprints in the sands of time."

"He won't," replied Senator Sorghum. "His mind is in the clouds. He is an intellectual aviator. When he comes down he will leave a dent, not a foot print."

AN ENTERPRISING CONCERN

Orangeville Co-operative Marketing Company is a Live Wire.

A staff writer of the Toronto Globe contributes the following in a recent issue: While on a tour of the Maritime Provinces last July the writer learned from Mr. Kerr, Manager of the Canadian Farm Products, Limited, of an interesting venture undertaken by that concern with the hope of furthering the interest of United States growers in Maritime seed potatoes. The Prince Edward Island Co-operative organization, Mr. Kerr said, had planted with their own seed a three-hundred-acre patch in New Jersey, and during the past summer this unique demonstration plot was the object of constant observation on the part of New Jersey potato growers. In conversation recently with Mr. J. M. McNaughton, Manager of the Orangeville Co-operative Marketing Association, this plot was mentioned, and the writer was not a little surprised to find that the energetic Dufferin county official had in mind a somewhat similar project.

"It is a fact not generally known," said Mr. McNaughton, "that potatoes grown in the southern areas of the United States have not sufficient vitality to produce. The growers in Florida, for instance, may secure a fine yield of excellent quality, but when they plant seed from that same crop a very unsatisfactory return is the result. The potato is non-reproductive, and in one season or a little more the crop or variety is run out, to all intents and purposes.

"Now these Southern States are great potato States, and yet their farmers must look to the north for seed. The experimental plot in New Jersey to which you refer is an excellent illustration. New Jersey is much farther north than Florida, yet, as you have seen, Jersey men are interested in Prince Edward Island seed. This is my idea: Might a farmers' company, such as the one here in Orangeville, plan to look after the seed potato demand of some State—say, Florida.? Officially I am not entitled to say that we are prepared to do that, but personally I feel that our business horizon might be greatly widened were we to enter into negotiations with Southern farmers, who are at a loss for really reliable seed potatoes."

In this connection it may be stated that few men in Canada are so closely in touch with the actual potato situation in all parts of the continent as is Mr. McNaughton. Since assuming the managership of the Orangeville company he has visited almost every notable potato growing area in Canada and the United States, and is well qualified to make comparisons as to relative merits of the various centres of commercial potato production.

An essential to profitable handling of tubers is an efficient storage system, and this the Dufferin concern is preparing to erect. A temporary storage is in use at present and has served the patrons during two years, but these same patrons have been led to see that any co-operative system of handling that price market of the moment but at the end of the year hands them a further bonus of 25 cents per bag, is deserving of the best than can be provided in the shape of storage facilities. On the day of his visit the writer was shown plans and specifications of the proposed new brick and concrete storage, to cost in the neighborhood of $7,000. The building will measure 40 by 60 feet, and will have bins sufficient to store all stock that may be purchased and held because of car shortage or any other reason. A feature of the new storage will be the very complete installation of machinery for grading the product.

"We have a grader at present, and have used it enough to show us that grading pays," Mr. McNaughton stated. "New Brunswick growers are enabled to get as much as fifty cents extra per bag, because their stuff is graded—and we in Dufferin are after that stray fifty cents. The best market is the discriminating market, and we plan to meet the best demand and get the best price. All our stock will be graded at time of purchase, and the producer will know exactly how his potatoes turn out in respect of grade."

In so far as he has been able, Mr. McNaughton has worked toward the elimination of undesirable and unprofitable varieties. Last year the company brought seed from New Ontario, and generous inducements were offered for the propagation of the particular variety represented. In accordance with market preference, Mr. McNaughton is attempting to secure concentration upon two very popular and standard varieties—the Green Mountain and the Irish Cobbler. Year by year the acreage devoted to these two potatoes is increased, while a dozen nondescript varieties are slowly passing out the agricultural scheme in so far as Dufferin is concerned. The elimination of scrub and non-desirable varieties is a policy that works well with the averred intentions of the management in the matter of pooling and grading all products passing through its hands.

Naturally of the opinion that so successful a selling concern as the Orangeville Co-operative Marketing Company would extend its activities into the field of the co-operative purchase of supplies, the writer questioned the Manager in that regard. "We have done much less purchasing than you might expect," said Mr. McNaughton. "We have purchased binder twine, Paris Green and some coarse salt, but nothing more. Nor are we anxious to do so, for the simple reason that we have no desire to cut in upon the field of the local merchants. Our whole aim is to market to the best possible advantage certain farm products, where our patrons spend the proceeds is their private matter. And I think our policy in that respect has worked out well. We have antagonized no one; the local merchants, most of them, are our best friends. We have raised the level of the local market for farmers' produce, and thereby have helped to improve the local market for everyone concerned. I venture to say that there is more money being spent now in Orangeville than before we began operations, and also that this town is coming to be known as one of the best marketing centres in this part of the Province.

There is much more that might be said, but two articles now have been devoted to a description of this concern—the first in the matter of its organization and its business methods; the second, relative to certain indirect effects it has upon general farm conditions in the neighborhood in which it is located. All things considered, it is, in the writer's opinion, as basically sound and well managed as any similar co-operative organization in the Dominion of Canada; indeed, in the point of management, it stands well ahead of most. Probably the best indication of its local good repute is the fact that a similar company is now being constituted only thirteen miles from Orangeville. For what it has done, and yet will do for them, the farmers of Dufferin county are debtors of the Orangeville Co-operative Marketing Company and its Farmer-Manager.

GETS $348 DAMAGES

The first case to be tried at the general sessions at the Court House, Guelph, was that of Warner against Vallery. This was an action for damages to the amount of $500 arising out of an automobile accident at the junction of York Road and the 2nd line of Eramosa on the 30th of September last, when there was a collision between the car driven by Vallery, of Fergus, and that drivin by Roy Warner, of West Luther. The latter was on his way to Guelph, and was accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. James Hillis, and three other ladies. The car from Fergus struck Warner's car and smashed it badly and Warner and Mrs. Hillis were both severely injured, the latter having not yet fully recovered from her injuries. According to law the Warner car had the right of way, but Mr. Vallery swore that he did not see the plaintiff's car until he was right on top of it. The evidence proved that the visibility was good and there was nothing to obstruct the view of either driver. Both drivers swore that they were not driving at an excessive rate of speed. The case occupied the attention of the Court all Tuesday afternoon and on Wednesday morning the counsel addressed the jury at some length, Mr. N. Jeffrey for the defendant and Mr. J. M. Kearns, County Crown Attorney, for the plaintiff. Both delivered excellent addresses and were followed by a short charge by His Honor, Judge Hayes, who explained the law very fully to the jury.

After being out for only a comparatively short time the jury returned and rendered the verdict on behalf of the plaintiff, Warner, for damages to the amount of $348.00, the amount being made up as follows:—hospital and doctor's bill, $211.30; new top for car, $37.50; loss of time, etc., $100. The verdict also carries the costs of the action.

Mrs. Grover Kerr, of Hastings, Ont., was presented with a Royal Humane Society medal for saving Earl Sayer from drowning in the Trent River.

WHEN a child starts coughing mother's duty is to give the little sufferer a Pepe tablet, and thus prevent any weakening of the lungs. As the tablet dissolves in the child's mouth, the soothing medicinal fumes given off pass through the tender breathing passages straight to the lungs and bring immediate comfort and relief.

Peps contain no opium or other harmful drugs, and can be given to a child (either whole or crushed to a powder) with the assurance of absolute benefit.

One little Pep at night will clear the breathing passages and let the little one's sleep be unbroken by coughing fits. A Pep before starting for school in bad weather is also an invaluable safeguard for the children's throats and chests. All dealers, 50c. box.

THE CURE

"I am sure the fellow we were talking about has an itching palm."

"Well, why doesn't he go out and scratch for a living."

NATURAL MISTAKE

Raymond—"What the deuce do you mean by telling Joan that I am a fool?"

George—"Heavens! I'm sorry—was it a secret?"

HIS WEAKNESS

"Well, lady," replied the prisoner, "I guess my trouble started from attending too many weddin's."

"Ah! You learned to drink there, or steal, perhaps?"

"No, lady; I was always the bridegroom."

BREAKING IT GENTLY

At an amateur performance an artiste gave imitations of several popular actors, one of whom happened to be present.

After the ambitious amateur sought an introduction to the "star," and asked hopefully:

"Did you see my imitation of you?"

"I did," replied the great man, promptly.

"Then, sir," persisted the aspiring youth, "may I ask you to give me your opinion of my art as shown in that impersonation?"

"Well, my boy," the great man said, "one of us is rotten!"

IS YOUR PARTNER OR YOURSELF TO BLAME

Is your married life dull and drab and irksome?

Do you look upon your married life as being devoid of sentiment—a condition in which you find yourself and from which you can see no honorable means of escape?

Are you at times uneasy and dissatisfied?

Do you feel that the one to whom you are bound is perhaps not the right one for you after all and it is no use to pretend any longer?

Do you look at other married people and wonder how they can seem so contented and happy when you are so blue and feel so fettered?

At such times you think their marriage was probably the result of real love and you wonder what it was, infatuation, interest, or a desire to have a home and the result of loneliness which made you take the all-important step which binds you now?

You thought you would have more freedom—you have less.

You look for companionship and you find many differences in taste and viewpoint, and you are discouraged.

UNDER-READING TEST

ERIN CREAMERY MAN FINED $25 AND COSTS AT GUELPH

First Penalty Imposed Under New Cream and Milk Act.

Twenty-five dollars and costs was the first penalty imposed for the infraction of the New Cream and Milk Purchase Act passed at the last session of the Legislature. Mr. Morris Sugarman, a Jewish creameryman of Erin, was hailed before Magistrate Watt, of Guelph last week, and after a spirited defence on the part Sugarman's lawyer declared he the penalty imposed.

Two charges were laid against Sugarman, the first—for which the penalty was invoked—was the "improper reading of the Babcock test," while the second—for which no fine was imposed—was using improper methods in making the Babcock test. It was the first attempt at a conviction, and afted he had lost his case Sugarmann's lawyer declared he would appeal it.

Information was laid against the Erin man by Mr. Ross Quirie, inspector of the Ontario Dairy Branch who swore that he had found discrepancies ranging between 3.5 and 6.5 in the tests made in Sugarmann's creamery—and that the error was always in favor of the latter. The loss to the farmers in this case would be upwards of $5 or $6 a full can, he estimated. In addition to finding these discrepancies, it was admitted that Sugarmann had not been using the scales in making the test, as required by law.

On a can of cream from Mr. L. Teeter he had found a tag indicating a test of 22 per cent. but his test was 26. Sugarmann claimed in evidence that his right test was 24, or a discrepancy of only 2 per cent., and his man had made the error in marking the tag, but the man swore he had marked what the boss had told him to.

Another can supplied by Mr. M. Kaiser was of interest. The man, F. W. Kersch, employed by Mr. Sugarman, had been initiated into the mysteries of the Babcock test when his boss was called to New York on the joyous occasion of his son's nuptials, and Kersch had tested Mr. Kaiser's cream, which only went 23 per cent., but Inspector Quirie found a test of 29 per cent.

There were voluble explanations for this. It was just a "rough test," and Sugarmann retested the sample after he returned home, one gathered. How he tested a sample that had been decomposed by the acid was not made clear.

When the Inspector called in Sugarmann's absence it must have thrown a small bombshell into the ranks of Kersch, who seems to have at once written a letter telling his chief all about it—a letter that is now strangely missing. It must have had a demoralizing effect on the chief of the establishment, who sent a lengthy wire back at once ordering Kersch to churn all cream on hand and order the men not to accept any more cream until he returned.

Failure of the local electric plant to keep the wheels of industry going had prevented Sugarmann from making tests of the cream before he left for New York, but he overcame the difficulty by churning it up and paying the patrons for their cream on the basis of their last previous test, which he swore was entirely satisfactory to them. As a matter of fact, however, he said the cream had not yet been paid for, as the patrons had not called for it. He only paid them when they came to the creamery, by cheque.

In the evidence there was nothing to show that his creameryman had been obeying the regulations and keeping a sample of each can until 10 a.m. of the day following, a point on which he had evidently been remiss—but no charge for this offence against the act was laid.

Mr. W. Hull, J. P., and editor of The Erin Advocate, gave character evidence to the effect that he knew nothing against Sugarmann—and added that the electric power going off had forced him to hire men to run his press by hand. This was seized upon by County Crown Attorney J. M. Kearns, who argued that the creameryman should have shown the same enterprise.

There were frequent clashes between the prosecuting and defendattorneys, the defence being apparently in search of technicalities to bring relief, and it was frequently necessary for "His Worship" to join in it and keep his brethren of the bench strictly in line.

In summing up, Magistrate Watt observed that the Act under which a conviction was sought was designed to protect the producers and see that they got full value for their products. Not one farmer in one hundred knows the method of testing cream or is able to do it, and so has to depend on the fairness of the factory test. Thus it is necessary for the Government to send inspectors and see that the producers are protected.

Creamerymen should have a proper means for testing the cream. In this case Sugarmann had installed an electric machine for making the test, but he should have known that the power is likely to go off and should have provided against this contingency. He had previously owned a hand machine. Why had he got rid of it, asked the magistrate, who considered that he should have kept it for an emergency.

His man, Kersch, had put 22 per cent. on the tag, but even if payment was made, as claimed, on a test of 24, that was still 2 per cent. below the inspector's test, and sufficient to warrant a fine, which he set at $25 and costs, as it was a first offence.

PIONEER LIFE

From the Isle of Mull to Priceville

I have been reading two ladies' letters on Pioneer Life in the Township of Proton, viz. Miss McPhail and Mrs. Dingwall, and by the way both are possessed of more than ordinary talent. Now I will endeavor as briefly as possible to give a historic sketch of my forefathers and mothers. My father, Arch, McDonald and Christina McArthur were married by the late Rev. Donald Campbell, of the Parish Presbyterian Church, Mull, Scotland, on the 28th day of May, 1834. A young lady was counted an old maid when over 22 years and a young man an old bachelor after 25. So my mother was 22 and father 25. They sailed on a sailing vessel called the "Jenet Isaac," a week after their marriage bound for the new country, left their native Isle "Mull" on the 1st of June and landed in Toronto on the first of September, being three months till they arrived at "Muddy York," as it was called then. So that beats Mrs. Dingwall's time in coming across the big fish pond. My two Grandmothers and one Grandfather and two uncles accompanied my father and mother to Canada. After landing in Toronto somewhere from where the Union Station is they went to the nearby bush to gather some fuel and made themselves some tea, which they took with some hard tack left from their long voyage.

They did not stay long in Toronto, hired a team to take them out to Woodbridge, then Burwick, up the seventh concession of Vaughan, through Squire Graham's block of 1000 acres, mostly all pine, and if the timber was standing till now it would buy the seventh concession from one end to the other. However, they landed at their destination with some friends who came a few years before them. My grandfather was sent out to ask hands to raise a house on the property. They had only time for making improvements and being not very well versed in the English language, he at first to make sure of four corner men, asked, saying "Tuaigh (aye) top of the hoose Friday all right." All understood what he meant, and the men putting up the logs he said; "Push logs to the top of the hoose Friday." All understood and the house was put up in good order on Friday. My father had a logging bee on lot 30, concession 7, Vaughan. Ten acres of a fallow all ready for eight yoke of oxen and four rollers to each team, but as the habit then was to have whiskey at all kinds of work done by a few being together, so in this case. My father did not get the stuff the day before and getting up about three o'clock on a June morning he went with an empty five gallon keg up to Teston, then James McVillar had none there so he had to go to Thornhill, then Thorn & Parson, and get the stuff. He then went back to the fallow near 11 o'clock, and found all the loggers sitting on stumps and logs waiting till the grog came. After getting a tumbler all hands set to work like demons and had the ten acres in heaps by six o'clock. Getting a good barn my father had his ten acres ready for fall wheat by the middle of September and the yield was, when harvested, forty bushels to the acre, all being harvested with the sickle and threshed with the old open machine. In the year 1837 at the time of the rebellion my father was advised by some older residents that it was safer to side with McKenzie. Getting up early one morning, he and another neighbor called "Big Sandy," left for Toronto, arrived at the place where the battle was to take place with a big pile of bayonets. Sandy says to my father, "Let us pick some good ones, as if picking a handspike at a logging bee." But my father paid no attention, but took to his heels as fast as he could for his home, arriving home about midnight. He found my mother weeping, thinking never to see him alive again. He got pardoned on the plea of ignorance, so that ended his warfare career.

In the fall of 1848 he left for the County of Grey, hearing that a certain number of acres was given as a grant. After being three days on the journey to Durham he called on Mr. Geo. Jackson, land agent, who directed him to lot seven, concession two, south Durham Road, Glengarry; but as he did not comply with the rules by having the necessary improvements done, he lost that lot. Coming back again in 1849, he arrived at Mr. Jackson's office. This time he was directed to lots 40 and 41, concession 1, North Durham Road, Glengarry; as there was only fifty acres to be granted to one person, Mr. Jackson granted my brother, who was only fifteen years of age, (the lawful age being eighteen years), lot 41, as if in sympathy for losing the first. Mr. Jackson was a member of Parliament and although father differed with him in politics, he always voted for him, saying one good turn deserved another.

The first waggon was brought up by my father in the year 1857, made at Richmond Hill about one hundred years ago, parts of it are to be found at the old homestead yet. The first team of horses was brought up by the late John McLachlin (John Ban) and as there was not pasture he had them pasturing in a beaver meadow and one of them was killed by lightning.

The first settlers had to carry their provisions on their back from Durham Mills. It was nothing for a young man then to carry one hundred pounds of flour eight or ten miles. The fare for one man was one hundred pounds of flour and one pound of tea a month. No meat or butter to be got. Some experts invented a cart made from sawing a couple of rings from a big elm log which was easier to draw than the jumper on bare ground. Sometimes it roared for want of grease, some thinking it was the wolves that were coming up the new highway.

From Priceville to the Toronto line was mostly settled with colored people, being the first settlers. They carried their provisions on the top of their heads, but after some years all left for other parts as they did not care for farming. In the year 1852 the first school section was laid out in the Township of Glengarry, and the contract of building the school house, a cottage roof, was let to my father to be completed for twenty pounds. Some of the ignoramuses who did not want a school objected on the ground that the house was not according to the specifications. My father and trustees agreed to let it be settled by arbitration. My father secured Mr. Duncan Campbell, a young clerk of some twenty-two years of age, who acted as clerk of the Township of Bentinck for forty years till death ended his life. The Trustees got a half-colored man named John Levi, but the young Scotchman was too much for him and won the case. An old colored man had a cow and an ox hitched up putting in his crop, but it was more of a wonder to see a horse and an ox hitched up, than to see hundreds of automobiles running up and down the highways at the present age. My father being an apprentice with a carpenter in the old land, was handy at different kinds of carpenter work. In the early history he would be called on to make coffins for the dead miles away. The material generally would be rough hemlock boards which he made as well as possible, for such a material, and was as peaceful a resting place to the dead as if placed in a thousand dollar casket. A Highlander, newly from across the ocean, was felling a tree which leaned heavily towards his small log cabin, but far enough away that only the branches would reach the cabin. The tree stood north of the house and in cutting it east and west instead of leaving the upper side strong he left the lower side and cut the upper side clean through. The tree came down with a crash on the house, breaking the roof, and his poor wife, who was nursing her child, escaped unhurt. Old Neil yelled: "Are you dead, Mary?"

In the early history when a snow storm was brooding it was a common expression by some that were in the older part, to say it would be a Proton Thaw, three feet of snow. But now Proton is one of the finest Townships in Ontario. Miss MacPhail gives a good historical sketch of her foreparents. She inherits her oratorical attitude from her father, Mr. Dugald MacPhail, who is one of the best auctioneers in Ontario, called on duty some fifteen or twenty miles often. Now, Mr. Editor, I said enough this time and contrasted years past with the present. The pioneer's life was a wearisome one. The old marble slabs tell their resting place in the different cemeteries, but the memory of the faithful are never forgotten by their descendants.—J. A. McDonald in The Farmers' Sun.

THE REAL DIFFICULTY

Best Man—"What's the matter! Have you lost the ring?"

Bridegroom—"The ring's alright, old man, but I've lost my beastly enthusiasm."

CONSTANT REMINDER

Greetings

A new year is appearing in the distance, and the old year is slipping away into the past, to be forgotten? No—to be remembered for the pleasant business relations we have had with our many customers and friends.

To the year that is coming we look forward with pleasure, because we feel that these friendships will continue and result more than ever in mutual benefit.

To you we send the Season's Greetings, and our sincerest wishes for your success and prosperity during 1921

FLAMING CHRISTIANS

God's call to service implies his loving expectation of an enthusiastic response. There are those who believe His word and do His works, but who in the doing never quite allow themselves to be thoroughly stirred to the utmost. When Paul urges Timothy to "stir up the gift of God which is in thee" his rousing call translated literally from the Greek as given in the margin is "stir into flame." In the light of this translation, one Christian worker asks: "How many of us remind others of flame in our enthusiasm for Christ? Or are we mostly embers that need fanning and then only come to a dull glow?" Flaming Christians are greatly needed in the chill and passivity and subdued glow of many a church and Sunday school. And how quickly the church, the Sunday school, and the community is kindled wherever even a single Christian has stirred into flame the gift of God which is in him!

For Economical Transportation

THE more a man knows about automobiles, the more experience he himself has had with them, the more critica lhe is apt to be of theiressential features.

To satisfy this class of motorists is the chief motive of the Chevrolet construction and equipment.

It is to this element therefore that the convenience of operation, accessibility and equipment, the dependability and economy of the Chevrolet makes its greatest appeal.

Your joys were too sweet to last.

Cease then, cease all your mournings,
For God, the Giver of all,

Veteran ExReeve Won Handily in Caledon on Monday.

McDonald Winner of Contest for Deputy-Reeveship—Martin, McBride and Trathen the Successful Councillors.

Caledon township was the theatre of an exciting municipal contest on Monday. There were three candidates in the field for the office of Reeve, namely, George Giles, who was in the council for three terms some years ago, Thos. Quinn, an ex-Reeve with a lengthy municipal record behind him, and William J. Sutton, deputy-reeve in the 1920 council. Quinn won hands down, polling more votes than his two opponents. The telephone question was the chief issue and the fact that Quinn was free of any recent entanglements brought him many votes. The new Reeve is a municipal veteran and is regarded as a cautious and economical municipal administrator. Giles did best in the east of the township. Sutton led the poll in his home division, the Caledon ward, where he is well thought of by everybody, but did not run well elsewhere. For Deputy-Reeve, Jas. McDonald, who was in the 1920 council for eight months, defeated W. J. Wilson, who has served as Councillor for three years, by 152 votes. It was a real fight. Wilson polled a big vote in the west of the munjcipality, but fell away badly at Caledon East and Mono Mills in the east. J. A. Martin, of Inglewood, John McBride, of Caledon East, and W. J. Trathen, who lives in the Caledon ward, were the successful candidates for the council, finishing in the order named. Wesley G. Speers was a good fourth in the race and W. R. Dick, of Alton, finished last.

HILL AND GALBRAITH BURIED IN MULMUR ON MONDAY.

McKee and Henderson Carry the Two Reeveships by Large Majorities—Rutherford Missed Council by Two Votes.

Jas. H. McKee, of the 1920 Council, defeated Rice Hill, last year's Deputy-Reeve, by 263 votes in the fight for the Reeveship of Mulmur township. The result was decisive, not alone in the size of the majority, but in the fact that the winner carried every poll in the municipality. The fight for Deputy was even more one-sided, R. H. Galbraith being overwhelmed by Jas. Henderson. Galbraith lives in the southwest corner of the township and Henderson is a north-ender. The details of the vote follow:—

MELANCTHON CLOSE

McGhee Had 35 Over Vance For Reeveship and Russell Downed Noble by 20 in Fight for Deputy's Chair.

Melancthon Township had close contests for the two Reeveships on Monday. William McGhee, a municipal veteran and Reeve of the township about a decade ago, worsted Arch. Vance, last year's Deputy-Reeve and one of the progressive young men of the municipality, by 35 votes in the race for Reeve. McGhee secured large majorities at Hornings Mills and Shrigley and also led at Reddickville, Mayburne and Melancthon. Corbetton, Riverview and Silk's School were the Vance strongholds, but the majorities at these three polls were not sufficient to offset the adverse vote elsewhere. The race for Deputy was even closer. John A. Russell, the successful candidate, had a margin of only 20 votes over W. G. Noble. Both men were members of the 1920 Council. Details follow:—

MAJORITY OF 2

Exciting Race for Reeveship of Grand Valley—McClelland Nosed out Reith in Close Finish.

Grand Valley was the scene of an exciting Reeveship contest on Monday. 206 votes were polled and the contestants were separated by the narrow margin of two votes. Wm. McClelland had slightly the better of the argument defeating his opponent, John G. Reith, by the margin indicated. Both men were members of the 1920 Council. R. J. Irvine, W. A. Wansbrough and Geo. M. Lawson were the successful candidates for school trustees. Mrs. M. W. Berwick, the lady candidate for the school board, ran a poor fourth, The figures are:—

Reith—102.

R. J. Irvine—170.
W. A. Wansbrough—140.
Geo. M. Lawson—126.
Mrs. M. W. Berwick—70.
Wm. Buchanan—62.

Mr. Buchanan, whose poor run was a surprise to his friends, had been a member of the School Board for 22 years and was admittedly an excellent trustee. He had intimated about nomination time that he thought of retiring and it is thought that this announcement lost him a large number of votes.

MILLOY AGAIN

HAD 136 MAJORITY OVER TARZWELL FOR ERIN REEVESHIP.

Benham and Bryan Made Close Run For Deputy's Chair.

There were contests for the two Reeveships in Erin Township on Monday. James Milloy, last year's Reeve, was re-elected, defeating R. W. Tarzwell by 136 votes. The race was fairly even except in the Hillsburg division, which rolled up 99 of a majority for Milloy. Tarzwell made his best showing in the Coningsby ward. George Bryan gave Jos. Benham a stiff fight for Deputy Reeve and was only 22 votes behind at the finish. The loser is an old Amaranth boy. Both men were members of the 1920 council. The vote by divisions was:—

O'FLYNN HAD 49

Was Too Strong For Hepton in Race For Shelburne Reeveship.

The only contest in Shelburne on Monday was for the office of Reeve. The candidates and their friends stirred up a good deal of interest despite the fact that there was no fight on for Councillors or School Trustees and a large vote was recorded. T. J. O'Flynn defeated Geo. Hepton, a former Reeve of Amaranth, by 50 votes. Hepton has only resided in the village a couple of years and this proved a strong factor in favor of his opponent. The figures are:—

HANNAH—MATSON

Mr. C. C. G. Hannah, a Broadway business man, and Miss Jennie Matson, daughter of Mr. John Matson, of Orangeville, were quietly married in St. Mark's Church rectory on Thursday afternoon, December 23rd, the rector, Rev. T. Hudson Stewart, officiating. The ceremony took place in the presence of a few intimate friends. The newly wedded couple spent their honeymoon in Toronto. Their numerous friends wish them every happiness in their journey through life.

The marriage was announced in London, England, a few days ago of Dallas Katherine Ireland, eldest daughter of Mrs. Margaret Ireland, St. Catharines, and the late Public School Inspector W. W. Ireland, to Emerson McMillan, of the Royal Engineers, British Railway Mission to Siberia, son of C. J. McMillan, of Hillsburg, Ont. Mr. McMillan has just recently been released by the Soviet Government, after being their prisoner in Siberia for two years. The bride was a trained nurse.

BARN BURNED

Richard McGrath, lot 32, con. 10, Amaranth, had his barn and its contents, including 75 hens, destroyed by fire Monday forenoon. Mr. McGrath had been out to the barn to do the chores before breakfast, and on his return shortly after found the building on fire. There was insurance in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual of $1,500 on the barn and $1,100 on contents.—Economist.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Sale.

FEEDING—If your poultry are not fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. Feed as many times over for best results as possible, using for one part beef scrap, one part wheat, bran, corn meal or flour, and oats in a trough. Do not feed whole grain.

Very good results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-2 grain of pepsin to 1-4 oats and 1-4 carrot, steamed for twenty-four hours before feeding.

KILLING—Starve birds for about 24 hours, during which time they should have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, and clean picked and undrawn.

COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave it hanging over night.

Hints For Preparing Poultry For Market
FEEDING—If your poultry are not fattened, we would recommend two or three weeks feeding in crates. It will pay many times over for the extra expense. Buttermilk, sour milk, cornmeal, flour, and wheat, bran, middlings, shorts, oats in a clean state.
Very good results have been obtained by using buttermilk with 1-2 ground wheat, 1-4 oats and 1-4 carney, mixing the feed twelve hours before feeding.
KILLING—Starve birds for twenty-four hours, during which time they should always have clean water to drink. Birds should be killed by bleeding in the mouth, and left to bleed well. Birds should be dry picked and undrawn.
COOLING—This is very important and requires special attention. As soon as the poultry is killed and dressed it should be left hanging for at least twelve hours, or until all the animal heat has escaped from the body. It is a good plan to leave poultry hanging over night.

CHANGE AT CALEDON

Mr. H. F. Stuckey has disposed of his general store business and stock at Caledon to Messrs. Wittick & McFetridge, of Plattsville. The new owners took over the business on Monday. Mr. Stuckey is undecided as to his plans for the future, but may move to Toronto. He has made a success of the business at Caledon and his removal will be generally regretted by the community. The members of the new firm are experienced business men, who will run the store on progressive lines.

DIDN'T USE BABCOCK

On Wednesday, Dec. 29th, Police Magistrate Pattullo fined the Mutual Dairy & Creamery Co., of Toronto, $25.00 and costs on a charge of failing to test the cream purchased at its Shelburne branch in the manner prescribed by statute. Creameries are required to use the Babcock test, but the evidence showed that the manager of the Shelburne branch, Bert Moncrieffe, was measuring by the old method, commonly known as the pipette method. The difference in the butter fat content favored the creamery and militated against the customer to quite an appreciable extent. Moncrieffe's defense was that he was unable to procure the necessary scales. After hearing the evidence the Magistrate imposed the minimum penalty. The information was laid by Government Inspector Ross Quirie following a visit to Shelburne early in December.

JOHN WILSON DEAD

Former Allistonian Passed Away in His 83rd Year.

Mr. John Wilson, one of the pioneer business men of Alliston and one of its much respected citizens of later years, passed away on Thursday morning last at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clarence P. Clark, in Middletown, N. Y. After leaving Alliston in 1914 Mr. Wilson went to Brooklyn and has since lived with daughters there and in Middletown. He enjoyed fairly good health, but lately it had been quite apparent to members of his family that he was nearing the end. Death came very quietly, Mr. Wilson dying while asleep. Mr. Wilson was a man whose influence and works will live long after the demise of the flesh. It is only to the older residents of Alliston that he was intimately known. By them his unremitting industry, his indomitable courage, perennial good humor and his sterling probity are still admired. Undaunted by fortune, undisturbed by plans going awry, and never visibly disturbed by whatever untoward incident that crossed his path, Mr. Wilson ever maintained his happy disposition and his stoutness of heart. He was of Scotch birth, having first seen the light of day in Stonehouse, Lanarkshire, Scotland, more than 82 years ago. When a young man he learned the trade of linen printing and after a few years spent at this work in the old country he came to New York where he worked at his trade and in the dry goods business. In 1862 he married Rose A. Taylor, of New Hamburg, N. Y., and imediately came to Canada settling in Mono Centre where he conducted a general store business for ten or twelve years. In 1874 he was attracted to Alliston by reports of prospects in this young and flourishing village. He became a partner in the firm of Aitken, Knight & Wilson, manufacturers of agricultural implements. Mr. Wilson also carried on a large general store business. The firm was prospering and Mr. Wilson was enjoying halcyon days when a fire wiped out the entire plant and left these three stalwart pioneers of Alliston with very little more than determination. Mr. Wilson was actively identified with the early progress of the town and was instrumental in bringing about a number of innovations which made life for the people of that day more pleasant in town. In 1884 he was reeve, retiring because his firm was about to receive some civic aid in erecting the big foundry building in the west end which is now occupied by J. E. Burnett. About 1910 Mr. Wilson commenced to feel the weight of years and ceased to prosecute any regular business. Four years later fire destroyed his home and following the advice of members of his family he did not attempt to rebuild, but with Mrs. Wilson went to live with his daughters. Besides Mrs. Wilson three sons and five daughters survive—T. T. Wilson, of St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Grace Wilson, Middletown, N. Y.; Mrs. A.J. Young, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. J. S. Lockie, Waterloo, Ont.; Rev. J. A. Wilson, Hamilton; Morton Wilson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. C. P. Clark, Middletown, N. Y.; and Mrs. A.P. Hinman, Brooklyn, N. Y. The funeral took place Saturday, interment being made at Wappinger's Falls, N. Y.—Alliston Herald.

Ceylon U. F. O. shipped during the past year $210,747 worth of live stock, as compared with $197,000 the previous year.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE BOTH BENEFITED

MRS. STEPHENSON FEELS IT HER DUTY TO RECOMMEND DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Victoria Lady Who Suffered From Pains in the Back Tells of the Relief She Sought and Found.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 3rd. (Special) —"Both my husband and myself have obtained great relief through using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

So says Mrs. M. Stephenson, who lives at 1919½ Belmont Ave., this city. "For two years on and off," she continues, "I have taken them for pains in the back and found great relief. I've taken them too with hot lemonade for a cold and got splendid results. I feel it my duty to tell what a splendid remedy Dodd's Kidney Pills are. I always recommend them to my friends.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a Kidney Remedy. They act directly on the Kidneys, strengthening them and putting them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills have been in use in Canada for more than thirty years. They demonstrated their worth in the most serious forms of Kidney Disease, such as rheumatism, dropsy and diabetes. They have also done splendid work in strengthening sick Kidneys to ward off serious diseases.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best Kidney Remedy.

DUNKLEY-SPENCE

Citizens of Orangeville and many former pupils of the High School here will be interested to learn of the marriage of Captain Albert W. Dunkley, M. A., classical master in Oakwood Collegiate Institute, Toronto and formerly classical master in Orangeville High School. The happy bride, who is also well-known here, was Mrs. Carrie Reid Spence, supervisor of music in the Public Schools of Toronto and a sister of Messrs. Robt. and George Reid, of Mono, and Mrs. D. N. Potter, of Caledon. The interesting event took place at the home of the bride's sister, Dr. Minerva E. Reid, 125 Annette St., Toronto, on Wednesday, Dec. 22nd, the marriage ceremony being performed by the Rev. Archibald McNeill, assisted by the Rev. Ben H. Spence in the presence of immediate relatives. Both ministers are brothers-in-law of the bride. The bride, who was unattended, wore a brown duvetyn suit, a brown hat, brown fox furs and carried orchids and roses. After a short honevmoon Captain and Mrs. Dunkley will reside at 169 Oakwood Ave.

Following injuries sustained by a fall on the icy street, John Cashen died at his home in Arthur a week ago Monday in his seventieth year. On Thursday evening while on his way home from the flax mill he fell while passing the home of Mrs. Herringer with such violence that he was rendered unconscious.

A GOOD COMRADE

Just about the most priceless thing on earth is a good comrade—one you can be frank and easy and comfortable with—another human being with whom you are thoroughly at home, whether he has pennies or millions, and who will walk and talk with you without envy or design. Friends are of all sorts and full of uncertainties. The word "friendship" is as elastic as rubber and as changeable as the weather, and you never know, in fact, no two definitions of friend or friendship have agreed since the world began. But there is no question about a true comrade. Man or woman, husband or wife, the story is the same, and the old, old Latin Motto holds: "A faithful comrade is a sure anchor."

WHAT THE FERTILIZER TAG MEANS

Many of our farmers are confused when they come to talking about fertilizer guarantees. A short explanation may help them understand what the tag means, then they may be able to compare different fertilizers on the basis of plantfood values.

The Dominion Fertilizer law requires that each bag of fertilizer must bear a tag on which shall be marked:—(1) Brand name and mark; (2) registration number; (3) guaranteed analysis stating separately in minimum percentages only, (a) the percentage of nitrogen, (b) the percentage of available phosphoric acid, and the total phosphoric acid, (c) the percentage of potash soluble in water; (4) the name and address of the manufacturer or agent.

A tag may read:

Allens 3-8-3 No. 4625, guaranteed to contain:

(a) Nitrogen, 2.46.
(b) Available phosphoric acid 8 per cent:
(c) Total phosphoric acid, 10 per cent.
(d) Potas, 3 per cent.
(e) Nitrogen equivalent to ammonia, 3 per cent.

The important things for the farmer to figure on are a., b. and d. Most farmers know that it is the nitrogen (a) or ammonia (e) in fertilizers or manure that causes stalk, leaf or vine growth. It is the phosphoric acid (b and c) that causes root growth and hastens ripening of crops, and it is the potash (d) that gives the crop power to resist disease and helps the filling of kernel, tuber or fruit.

Then the things to remember about the tag are:—

1. That the tag is a guarantee under the Dominion of Canada law that what you buy contains what is listed of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash.

2. That a 3-8-3 means that the fertilizer contains; 3 per cent of 2000, or 60 lbs. of ammonia, or 2.46 per cent. of 2000 lbs., or 4.92 lbs. of nitrogen; 8 per cent of 2000 lbs., or 1.60 lbs. of phosphoric acid; 3 per cent of 2000 lbs., or 60 lbs. of potash.

FARMER AND WIFE ARE HAPPY AGAIN

Declares Tanlac Has No Equal and Tells How It Has Built Them Up.

"I've had to take a lot of medicine in my day, but I never found one that did me as much good as Tanlac," declared Robert Woods, retired farmer, living at 68 Briar Hill Ave., Toronto.

"For two years I was in such a run down condition and so nervous I could scarcely write my name. When I got up in the mornings I felt dull and heavy and often so dizzy I had to stay around the house for awhile before I could start on the day's work. Then I had an attack of the 'flu' which seemed to affect every part of my body, for I ached from the top of my head to my toes. I was in bed for nine days and it was two weeks before I was able to get out of the house. After that I was awfully weak, had no appetite and couldn't seem to pick up any strength.

"It was my niece who advised me to try Tanlac, because she herself had taken it with splendid results, so I got some and the first thing it did was to give me such an appetite that I wanted to eat all the time and, what is more, my food agreed with me and seemed to do me good. I gained several pounds in weight and picked up strength right along. My nerves have got steadier, I sleep soundly at night and get up in the mornings feeling splendid. When my wife saw how much good Tanlac was doing me, she tried it, too, as she was feeling in need of something to build her up, and it has done her a wonderful lot of good; in fact, we have both received so much benefit from it that we are glad to tell everybody about it."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

BRANTFORD LADY SHOUTING HER PRAISES

SHE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS FOR SCIATICA

Mrs. R. McIntyre, who suffered from Sciatic Pains, tells why she is enthusiastic over Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Brantford, Jan. 17th, (Special)—"I wish I could shout the goodness in the people's ears of dear old Dodd's Kidney Pills." These are the words of Mrs. Mary E. McIntyre, who lives at 92 Walnut St., W., this city.

Mrs. McIntyre has every reason to be enthusiastic over Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"In June last," she states, "I had a very bad attack of Sciatica. I could not move my leg without great pain. The doctor told me to rub it with a liniment he left. The pain got worse and I sent for another doctor.

"He put needles in my leg and gave me a sleeping pill. Next day he repeated this, but still the pain was just as great. Then he wanted to operate. He wanted to cut from my knee down to my ankle.

"That day a friend told me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. She had great faith in them. I took her at her word. I kept right on taking the pills. Now I can't praise them enough. I am a well woman to-day without one ache or pain."

Sciatica is caused by disordered Kidneys failing to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the standard remedy for disordered Kidneys.

THE BANNER

ORANGEVILLE, JAN. 20, 1921.

OFF AGAIN

Orangeville Council Makes Start on Another Year's Business.

The new Town Council held its first business meeting on Monday night. The members were all present for the roll call. After the adoption of the minutes of the last meeting of the old year, Mayor Parkinson read his inaugural address, which was subsequently referred to a special committee, composed of the Deputy-Reeve and Councillors McPherson, Dalgleish, Walker and Fairbairn for report. The text of the address is as follows:—

Gentlemen:

I wish to congratulate you on your election as members of Orangeville Council for 1921. I believe that we have this year the material for a good council. I particularly welcome the two new members, Mr. Reid and Mr. Young.

We are fortunate this year in commencing our year with a surplus of about $2000 for the first time in many years. I hope we will be able to finish 1921 with the same successful financial standing and with that end in view urge that we exercise true economy and guard our expenditures carefully.

For 1921 we must consider the extension of our water system to some points of the Town now without it. In the interest of Health and fire protection I would strongly recommend that water extensions be given wherever we can handle same financially.

Another question this year is the advisability of oiling Broadway. With the present dropping of prices of labor and materials an experiment may be made this year of oiling Broadway providing it can be handled financially.

Our roads are in good shape this year and our expenditure in that respect should not be so heavy with lower costs for labor and materials.

The advisability of turning our Market Room into an Assembly Room for our young people, mut be carefully considered. A Town without a market is very much handicapped and apparently the only room available for Ass[illegible]lys for our young people is th[illegible]rket Room. We cannot continue [illegible]lding both in same room and mu[illegible]ecide this year. The first move [illegible] put the ceiling of Market Roo[illegible] a safe condition.

The sewerage problem is a matter that cannot be postponed very much longer. The report given us last year by Dr. Wodehouse showed our urgent need of proper sewerage and perhaps this year financial assistance may be given us by the Health Department of the Province to commence this work.

The unemployment and money stringency so prevalent in the cities and large manufacturing towns has affected Orangeville only slightly. Our position as a prosperous town in a wealthy and rich agricultural county is a matter of congratulation. The relations between town and country in Orangeville and surrounding townships are amicable and friendly.

Orangeville, I believe, will see considerable building activity as we have all the logical inducements for a comfortable and attractive residential centre.

The different committees, having been struck for the year, I hope all will give their best efforts to make 1921 a successful civic year.

T. S. PARKINSON, Mayor.

Accounts passed and ordered to be paid were:—H. A. Duke & Son, charity, $2.67 and $4.11; Adamson Hardware Co., $11.50; John Matson, $8.15; Commercial Oil Co., $8.05 and $15.56; E. C. Clark, $16.50, $6, $31.35 and $46.55; Bell Telephone Co., $4.15 and $5.00; Orangeville Hydro Commission, $319.50, $7.91 and $28.50; Dominion Express Co., 35c.; Municipal World, 61c.; A. E. Annis, salary as tax collector, $150.

Accounts from Jas. A. Matthews for $17.27 and R. Fairbairn for $2.-95 were referred to Committee with power to adjust and pay.

Messrs. H. McMillan and Wm. Passmore requested the Council to pass an early closing by-law for butcher shops. The request was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Young and Dalgleish.

Tenders for the new ceiling of the market building were received from Messrs. Robt. Pierson, H. E. Nightingale and S. Hughson, William McConnell and Geo. Ellison.

The Property Committee was authorized to have the ceiling of the Market Building patched with plaster where needed and the floor repaired and to get prices on decorating the walls and ceiling.

On motion of the Reeve and Councillor Dalgleish, the Clerk was instructed to advertise for a weighmaster for the coal scales at the station. The weighmaster will be required to provide his own fuel and to state what rental he will pay.

A motion was passed fixing the pay of the corporation snow shovellers at 30 cents an hour.

Councillors Reid and Dalgleish were appointed a special committee to look after the disposing of the waterworks tank and the unused boiler at the fire hall.

Officials were appointed as follows:—Assessor, G. B. Hayes, $150 Poundkeeper, Samuel Dodds, fees; Fence Viewers, Robert Holmes, Matthew Varcoe, E. J. Arthur, fees; Constable and Road Overseer, Jas. Ewing, $58.33 a month; Nightwatchman, Samuel Ewing, $52.00 a month; Caretaker of Greenwood Cemetery, Isaac Hughson, $2.50 a month; Sanitary Inspector, Jas. Ewing; Officers Fire Brigade, Jas. Ewing, Chief; Chas. Gillespie, Captain; Geo. King, Lieutenant; High School Trustee, R. [illegible]; Auditors, Wm. Watt [illegible]W. Marshall Green, $25.00 each; Member Local Board of Health, Dr. T. H. Bailey; Member Public Library [illegible], Dr. T. H. Henry.

INDIAN NATIONALISM

Returned Missionary Delivers Informing Address Under Auspices of Canadian Club.

An excellent address on "Indian Nationalism and the Empire," was delivered by Rev. R. H. Haslam, at an open meeting of the Canadian Club, in the Public Library, on Thursday evening of last week. Mr. Haslam served for several years as a missionary, at Kangra, India, and was well qualified by personal experience to deal with his subject. He pointed out that the result of the beneficent rule of Great Britain in India and western education had been to raise the leaders of the people from the slough of apathy and ignorance into which they had fallen, and to revive again the dormant germs of national aspiration and development. This was the origin of the Nationalist movement, which had caused the mother country considerable anxiety and become such a force in the land, that India had already been granted a measure of self-government. The result, owing to the ignorance of the mass of the people and the difficulty of evolving any satisfactory system of franchise, was difficult to foresee. But whatever it might be, Great Britain had acted on the principle that she was bound to give the Indian people the advantages of western education, culture and freedom, rather than rule them as an empire of slaves; and she was right. It was a mistake to regard the coolie as a fair representative of the Indian race. On the contrary, the educated Indian was quite the equal of his western brother, originally of the same Aryan branch of the human family, in keenness of intellect, culture and capacity for government India had been loyal to King George in the war "to the last man and the last quarter of a cent," and the solution of the problem was to train the Indians more fully in the principles of Christian democracy, and give them, by precept and example, that righteousness which exalteth a nation.

The address was listened to with attention by a large and appreciative audience. The President of the Club, Lt.-Col. J. A. V. Preston, presided, and a vote of thanks was moved in appropriate words by Mrs. Herbert F. Tuck and seconded by Mr. W. R. Liddy.

A FRIEND OF MANKIND

In the death of Chas. W. McGuire, mankind loses a friend and one of the pillars of our city has been removed. He was a man like Nathaniel, in whom there was no guile. He saw no evil in any man and spoke no evil of anyone. A philanthropist in the truest sense, which is, in plain English, a lover of mankind. Not a love inspired by a desire for applause, but a benevolence his own heart taught him.

He belonged to those who keep their left hands from knowledge of the right; to the Order of the Good Samaritan, and many wounded and broken on life's highway bear witness to his great heart.

In civic affairs he stood always for all that is best in devoted citizenship. No patriotic effort but found him in the forefront, but always modestly shrinking from preference, observing no precedence save that of men who take the lowest place at a feast.

No man can fathom the inscrutable ways of Providence, but in the taking of this humanist there seems to be a challenge flung from eternity: "Behold I have given you a model, see that it is followed!"

London bows around the bier of this great citizen, sympathizing with those nearest to him in blood, whose grief the city shares. The Master phrased blessings for the merciful and the pure in heart when He dwelt on earth. To-day C. W. McGuire must be blessed indeed.—London Free Press, Jan. 11th.

Accompanying the medal was the regular military card bearing the words, "This cross is presented to you in memory of one who in the Great War died for King and Country." HOW TO BE HEALTHY DURING THE WINTER

Many Troubles May be Avoided If the Blood is Kept Pure.

Do not let your blood get thin this winter. For people who have a tendency towards anaemia, or bloodlessness, winter is a trying season. Lack of exercise, lack of fresh air, and a more restricted diet are among the things that combine to lower the tone of the body and weaken the blood.

As soon as you notice the tired feeling, lack of appetite and shortness of breath that are warning symptoms of thin blood, take a short course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Do not wait until the color has entirely left your cheeks, until your lips are white and your eyes are dull. It is so much easier to correct thinning of the blood in the earlier stages than later. This is well illustrated in the case of Mr. B. M. Day, Newcastle Bridge, N. B., who says: "From my own experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I can most heartily recommend them. Some time ago I was badly run down and my blood seemed thin and watery, accompanied by the usual symptoms of this condition. A friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking several boxes I felt like a new man."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A revelation that is declared likely to save millions of dollars for stock market investors throughout the country is presented in dramatic scenes of Vitagraph's new serial, "The Silent Avenger." The incident is that of a colossal wire-tapping raid on the market.

It is reported to be based upon records of actual stock manipulations that occurred recently in New York and on the coast, which resulted in a wholesale tumbling of quotations on all securities.

The portrayal of this catastrophe occurs in the tenth episode of the picture. William Duncan, playing the role of Phil Read, the hero, demonstrates how fake stock raids can be detected. The processes by which wires are tapped and false news issued, and how stocks are rigged and juggled by plotters are all revealed in faithful detail.

A PROFITABLE LOAD

Two or three weeks ago Mrs. Gavin Lemon sr., of Caledon, sent a load of chickens, geese and hens to Toronto and sold the lot to the Swift Canadian Co. for the handsome sum of $315.99. We think this is the largest sum we have ever heard of a farmer's wife realizing for a load of poultry. The chickens were a particularly fine lot, averaging nearly 5½ lbs apiece. The entire load was plucked and made ready for market in one day, thanks to the splendid assistance given Mrs. Lemon by her neighbors, for whose invaluable aid she is indeed grateful.

We are very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Bailey, mother of Dr. Truman Bailey, of Orangeville.

GLENCROSS.

Much sympathy goes out from this community to Miss Rebecca Little in the severe loss she has sustained through the death of her brother, John, who passed away at the old Little homestead on Monday, Dec. 27th. Deceased went to the Western States about thirty-nine years ago and spent nearly the whole of that time in the States of Oregon and Washington. He returned home in the spring of 1919 and since then had resided with his sister on lot 16, 5th line, Mono. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to Relessey Church cemetery on Thursday afternoon, following his death. Rev. Mr. Forth, pastor of the Relessey church, was the officiating clergyman. The floral tributes included a wreath from his sister and a spray from Lloyd Pierson. The pallbearers were Messrs. Arthur Avison, W. J. Coleman, Robert Anderson, George Moffatt, Irad Allen and Geo. Dermott. Deceased, who was 67 years of age, is survived by his sister, Rebecca, who is the last member of a family of six.

MRS. JAMES JACKSON

Mrs. James Jackson, a former resident of Orangeville, departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Manning, 199 Pacific Avenue, Toronto, on Tuesday, January 11th. The deceased had been ailing with heart trouble for some years, but was sitting in her chair as usual after the evening meal, while her daughter was sitting beside her reading to her, she suddenly passed peacefully away. Mrs. Jackson was in her 73rd year. Her husband had predeceased her about four years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss one son, Mr. Geo. S. Jackson, two daughters, Mrs. Jennie Manning, and Mrs .Edward Moody, and several grandchildren, all residing in Toronto. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Thos. Ryan, and a brother, Andrew Scarlett, both of Mt. Forest. She was a member of the Episcopal Church and a member of the Women's Auxiliary. Rev. Capt. McNamara, assisted by members of the choir, conducted a beautiful service at the home on Wednesday evening.

The remains were brought to Orangeville on the morning train on Thursday and taken by motor to St. John's Cemetery, 7th line, Mono, where a short service was conducted in the church by her late rector, Rev. Capt. Stewart. The floral tributes were a pillow from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Jackson, Mrs. J. Manning; cross, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moody; wreaths, Iona and Thelma Moody, Muriel and Aileen Jackson, Laura and Myra Manning; sprays, Clarence Jackson, Dr. A. A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eyre, Mrs. T. Clegg and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McKenzie.

A SUDDEN DEATH

Mr. George McKennitt, who has been in the milk business in Orangeville for the last ten months, died very suddenly at his home on Prince of Wales St. about six o'clock on Tuesday morning. Mr. McKennitt retired in his usual health on Monday night, but expired with little warning very shortly after the members of his household ascertained that he had been taken ill. His unexpected demise was due to heart collapse. Deceased bought Mr. John Curry's farm and dairy business a little over a year ago, moving here from Markdale about ten months ago. He was a quiet, hardworking man and an excellent citizen. Deceased was 39 years and 10 months of age and leaves a widow and two children, a boy and a girl, aged 3 and 1½ years. The funeral will be held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 3.30 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon. Much sympathy is felt for the suddenly stricken wife and children.

LONDON MOURNS DEATH OF PROMINENT CITIZEN AND SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MAN.

Chas. W. McGuire Was Born in Mono and Educated in Orangeville High School.

Charles W. McGuire, one of London's most popular business men, died on Sunday morning (Jan. 9th), at 10 o'clock. Mr. McGuire had been in St. Joseph's Hospital for some time in a critical condition due to heart trouble, but during the last week showed much improvement and was removed from the hospital to his home late on Saturday afternoon. Though very ill, Mr. McGuire's death came as a shock to his relatives and friends yesterday.

Mr. McGuire was born in Orangeville, 52 years ago, but for a period of twenty years lived in this city, the last fifteen of which he held the position of manager of the Imperial Oil Company, and for several years prior to this time travelled for the same firm outside London. Mr. McGuire was prominent in Masonic circles, being a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason. He was past potentate of the Mocha Temple, president of the Masonic Hall, London, Limited, and past master of Kilwinning Lodge. He was also a past president of the Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association.

It was through the efforts of Mr. McGuire that the mortgage of the Masonic Hall was burned in December at the annual installation banquet. Mr. McGuire being in the hospital at this time was not able to be present at the ceremony, but a profusion of flowers decorated his room, a gift from the Blue Lodges of the city and the directors of the Masonic Hall.

Mr. McGuire took an active part in all local campaigns to raise money for charitable purposes, and gave freely of his time and money for any worthy cause.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Sells McGuire, of this city; three sisters, Mrs. William Wilson, Allistonr; Mrs. T. J. Robinson, Orangeville; Mrs. A. T. Glover, of Regina, and two brothers, J. W. McGuire, of Orangeville, and J. H. McGuire, of Windsor. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.—London Advertiser, Jan. 10th.

Very solemn and impressive was the burial of Charles Wesley McGuire, a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason and manager of the local branch of the Imperial Oil Company, who died on Sunday, at his home, 799 Hellmuth avenue.

The funeral service was held at his home this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. James MacKay, of New St. James' Church, conducted the service, which was followed by a Masonic burial service, conducted by Nelson Walsh, of Kilwinning Lodge, of which Mr. McGuire was a past master. A profusion of flowers covered the casket and wreaths, sprays, and Masonic emblems from every London lodge, designed in roses, violets and lilies, occupied all available space in the drawing-room in which the casket laid.

At 2.45 o'clock the funeral cortege left his residence, going to Mt. Pleasant Cemetery. Members from all the Masonic lodges walked in procession from the residence to the cemetery. The Rotary Club and Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association were also represented.

The honorary pallbearers were all representatives of the Imperial Oil Company—P. W. Gordon, G. I. Hambly, B. Hawkes, L. Quick, John Lind and Mr. Sinclair. The active pallbearers were members of the local Masonic lodges, the Rotary Club and the Ontario Commercial Travellers' Association—Jared Vining, W. W. Gammage, J. Gray, Clarence May, Morley Adams, R. D. MacDonald, L. A. Ross and W. Abbott. The following formed the escort and are all preceptors of the Richard Coeur de Lion Preceptory—A. B. Barr, J. S. McDougall, Ben Noble, Arthur Carrothers, F. A. Andrews, J. Dambra, W. A. Wilson and John Graham.

The remains were placed in the vault at Mount Pleasant Cemetery and will later be forwarded to Bristol, Tennessee, for interment.—London Advertiser, Jan. 12th.

MRS JOSEPHINE BAILEY

Dr. Trueman Bailey received a cablegram from England a few days ago conveying the sad news that his mother Mrs. Josephine Bailey, had just died in Liverpool. Mrs. Bailey went to the Old Country last October to visit her son, Dr. John Garfield Bailey, who is practicing at 38 Herondale Rd., Liverpool. Arrangements are being made to bring the remains home. The Banner joins with the friends of Dr. Bailey in extending sympathy.

MRS. DAVID H. HUNTER

Sarah Ann Hunter, beloved wife of Mr. David Henry Hunter, formerly of East Garafraxa, died at her home, 23 McKay Ave., Toronto, on Friday, January 14th, in her 63rd year after a long illness. Deceased was the youngest daughter of the late Duncan Shaw, formerly of the 5th line, west, Caledon. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from Hulse's Undertaking Parlors to Greenwood Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. In the absence of Rev. W. M. Morris, Rev. Wm. Fineland took the services. Her husband and son, John Neil Hunter, 23 McKay ave., Toronto, a stepson, Charles Henry Hunter, Success, Sask., and a daughter, Mrs. Christena Robertson, 9 Ann St., Toronto, are left to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother.

JOSEPH ISLAND

Well-known Resident of Mono Passed Away Last Week at Ripe Age.

Last week Mr. Joseph Island, John St., for many years a prominent resident and farmer of Mono township, found it necessary to undergo an operation for a trouble of many years standing. His physicians realized the seriousness of an operation at his advanced age, but there was no alternative. He was taken to Lord Dufferin Hospital early Wednesday forenoon and was operated on later in the day. The operation was quite successful, but unfortunately the shock proved too severe for the patient and he succumbed on the following day.

The late Mr. Island, who was 82 years and 10 months of age, was a son of the late Michael Island, one of the very earliest settlers in the west side of Mono. The subject of our sketch was born on the east half of lot 3, con 1, east, Mono, on March 18th, 1838. At that time practically the whole country was solid forest and Mr. Island remembered quite distinctly when the site of the present town of Orangeville was still covered with unbroken forest. Deceased spent his lifetime in the immediate vicinity of this town and took an active part in the clearing up and development of that part of Mono adjoining Orangeville. After his marriage he moved to lot 3, Centre Road, Mono, where he eventually became the owner of a fine 200 acre farm and one of the prosperous farmers of the district. About twelve years ago Mr. Island gave up the cares and responsibilities of active farm life and came to spend the evening of his life in Orangeville. Deceased was a hard-working man, kindly and cheerful in disposition, a lover of his home and family and an excellent neighbor. He loved a joke, had an interesting fund of anecdotes and reminiscenses of the early life of the district and the visitor to his fireside found him an excellent entertainer. He was a member of the Anglican church and a Conservative in politics. He was well informed on current topics and took a keen interest in municipal, Provincial and Federal politics. Deceased was twice married, his first wife having died about seventeen years ago. He is survived by the following family, all by the first marriage:—Mrs. Thomas Holmes, Joseph and Wm. E., all residing on farms in Mono township; Dr. J. S. Island, Toronto, and J. L. Island, Orangeville, Crown Attorney of the County of Dufferin. He is also survived by his second wife, Mrs. Margaret Island, one brother, Dr. R. L. Island, of Toronto, and a sister, Mrs. F. W. Johnston, also of Toronto. Another daughter, Mrs. John Little, of Mono, predeceased her father by about seven years. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and neighbors at the funeral, which was held from his late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The funeral service was held in St. Mark's Church, the rector, Rev. T. H. Stewart, officiating. A number of beautiful floral tributes bore mute testimony to the sorrow and esteem of friends. The pallbearers were three stepsons, Albert Dawson, Hamilton, Wilmer and William Dawson, Caledon, and three grandsons, Dr. Wendell Holmes, Toronto, Elgin Holmes, Mono, and Harold Holmes, East Garafraxa.

JOHN LEESON

The death of Mr. John Leeson, an old resident of Erin Township, took place at his home near Orton on Friday, January 14th, at the ripe age of 88 years. Deceased, who was the youngest of a family of seven stalwart sons, was born in Ireland, but came to Canada with his parents when a lad of seven years. The family settled on what is now known as the Leeson homestead in Erin, where the subject of our sketch has resided for 81 years. The late Mr. Leeson was a man of large frame and unusual physical strength. Even in his declining years his large stature would attract more than passing notice anywhere. He was a successful farmer, a man of warm, kindly heart and a neighbor who was always ready to do a good turn if it was in his power. His passing will be keenly regretted by many old friends. He was identified with the Anglican church and was a pronounced Conservative in his political convictions. His wife died about ten years ago and his loss will be mourned by the following family:—Mrs. W. R. Carmichael, Wiste, Alta., Mrs. Wm H. Donaghy, 12th line, East Garafraxa; Mrs. J. W. Hoare, The Maples; Misses Susannah and Clara and one son, John, living on the homestead. Despite the inclemency of the weather there was a large attendance of the people of the neighborhood at the funeral, which was held to Price' Corner's Cemetery in East Garafraxa on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Atkinson conducted the services and Messrs. Norman Deering, Geo. Cox, James Nevills, James Armstrong, Dan McGill and David Jestin were the pallbearers. The flowers included a pillow from the family at home, a sheaf from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hoare and sprays from Mrs. Donaghy and The Maples Women's Institute.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad yet loving memory of Mrs. Samuel Courtney, who departed this life on Dec. 18th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day,
On which dear Pearl was called away;
She went to Jesus without fears
At the early age of eighteen years.

That vacant place we ne'er can fill,
And yet we know she liveth still,
At home with Jesus ne'er to part,
While, I remain with a broken heart.

Gone but not forgotten,
—Husband.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Charles J. McArthur, who died at Caledon, January 8th, 1919; also Johnnie McArthur, who died at Caledon, January 10th, 1919, influenza—pneumonia.

Deeply Regretted.

Two years have passed since that sad day,
God called the ones we loved, away;
Forget it! no, we never will,
As time rolls on, we feel it still.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear brothers,
'Tis sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you very dear,
In death we do the same.

The silent grief that's in the soul,
No human eye can trace;
For many an aching heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.

Do not ask us if we miss them,
There is such a vacant place;
Can we e'er forget that footstep,
And that dear, familiar face.

Not now, but in the coming years,
It may be in the better land;
We'll know the meaning of our tears,
And then, up there, we'll understand.

Sadly missed by Mother and Sister Irene.

IN MEMORIAM.

GRAHAM—In sad and loving memory of Violet Ethel Simpson, beloved wife of Alfred Graham, who entered into rest January 21st, 1920.

Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears of sorrow often flow,
Memory keeps our loved one near us,
Whom God claimed one year ago.

Though her loving voice is silent,
And her good heart ceased to beat,
Yet we miss her well-known footstep;
And the face we used to greet.

The flowers we laid upon her grave
Shall wither and decay,
But the love for wife and mother
Will never fade away.

Sadly missed by husband and little son.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

At the regular meeting last week, Rev. J. A. Reddon, B. A., Laurel, was appointed Moderator of Orangeville Presbytery for the next six months.

There was a large attendance at the regular meeting on the 11th in St. Andrew's Church and a large volume of business was transacted. Four remits from the Assembly were considered:

1. Re a proposed method of bringing matters to the attention of the Assembly in such a way as to conserve its time and to keep the delegates posted as to its business. A printed docket is to be supplied to each member at the opening of Assembly and the minutes of each day are to be printed for distribution on the following morning.

2. A proposal for the settlement of ministers by a Commission of Presbytery, Synod and Assembly, and in such a way that competitive candidates would be eliminated.

3. A proposal to give sessions the authority to appoint a substitute representative to Church Courts when the regular representative cannot attend.

4. A proposal to change the method of Church appointments which could be made without any reference to Presbytery. Now it is proposed to consult Presbytery in each case, secure nominations therefor, and have the appointment for three years to begin with.

These proposals, as outlined above, were approved by the Presbytery, though in connection with Nos. 2 and 4, these were recommendations with which the Presbytery was not in accord.

The Forward Movement Committee is to continue its work under the leadership of Rev. F. G. Fowler, of Fleshertor.

Presbytery agreed to do all in its power in favor of the prohibition vote that is to be taken next April.

Mr. Fred Rayfield made an excellent Santa.

WHITTINGTON

On Thursday evening the League entertained the members of Laurel League and Camilla Young People's Society. There was a record attendance and most enjoyable evening was spent all. MILLIONS KILLED IN ACTION

Wonderful news! Millions and millions of germs killed in action and thousands and thousands of victims relieved of bronchitis, asthma, coughs, and colds. There is great rejoicing in the fact that science has at last invented the world's surest death trap for germs—Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. With the first dose this remedy gets right down to business, and never ceases in its destructive work until every trace of the disease is completely removed and the victim restored to normal health. Letters from all parts of Canada praising this wonderful mixture are literally pouring into headquarters. Read this letter:—"Years of suffering from that terrible affliction, bronchial asthma, ordered by all medical men to close my business in Montreal and go south to a warmer climate, but I noticed your ad. in the "Montreal Standard" for the above mixture and I said I would give one more trial to health before I leave my native town, and thank the good maker I did. My bronchial tubes are clear, the hacking cough has disappeared, the wheezing cough has ceased as if by magic, and all discomforts have gone since taking your wonderful mixture."—Herbert Corri, 417 McKay Street, Montreal. There is no reason whatever why you cannot be completely and speedily restored to health if you take this remedy. You are satisfied or the money is refunded, according to our guarantee. Don't delay. MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP THE SOUL OF THE HYDRO

By J. E. Middleton.

The inquiries preliminary to the establishment of the Hydro-Electric System were made by municipal officers of various communities in co-operation. The education of the public as to the economic value of Niagara Falls was effected by public meetings held in a score of towns and cities under municipal auspices, and by a lively and untrammelled press.

If the "Hydro" had originated as the political programme of a Party, all prominent members of the other Party would have been in immediate opposition. But the scheme was municipal, and much of the preliminary spade-work had been done by a municipal man—Mr. Adam Beck, Mayor of London. Mr. Beck, now Sir Adam, was deeply interested in the power question before he became a Member of the Legislature—and the important member of a Party.

It is a tradition in Ontario that the local government of cities, towns and rural districts is non-partisan. In a few places, political considerations may have some influence upon the elections, but as a rule the municipal council of an Ontario community is chosen on local issues.

Here is an instance which may be counted as typical. The City of Toronto vigorously rejected a gentleman who was a Liberal candidate for Parliament, but six months afterwards elected him by a thumping plurality to the Board of Control. All over Ontario men of differing political views work in harmony about the municipal Council-board.

The Act which created the Hydro-Electric Power Commission provided that the function of the Commission was to act as executive Trustee for the municipalities in co-operation. The Legislature is not a partner in the System. Sir James Whitney steadily resisted the suggestion from some quarters that the "Hydro" should be a provincial, Governmental enterprise. He held that the Province, if it should become a partner in the scheme, would be discriminating improperly against districts and communities remote from natural waterpowers.

Sir James agreed with the opinion of Sir Adam Beck that the best results would come from a municipal, co-operative union, accepting all the responsibility for success or failure, and consulting the people before the signing of contracts and the issuance of debentures. For that reason the Hydro-Electric Power Commission was named as the trustee of the municipalities rather than as the representative of the Government.

The Government required annual and occasional reports from the Commission and provided that one of the members of the Board should be also a member of the Provincial Cabinet. That was reasonable and right, remembering that the chief function of the Provincial Legislature is to supervise and review municipal administration, but from the beginning it was clearly understood that the Commission's prime responsibility in fact and in law was to the municipalities.

For that cause the Chairman of the Commission had the best of reasons for acknowledging no continuing debt to a political party. He excluded favors and patronage from the System, for the good cause that it was a municipal System, and that all municipalities in Ontario were traditionally partisan.

Even by some persons who are not familiar with the genesis of the "Hydro" talk loosely about making the System Provincial. All the arguments which were conclusive against such a project, while yet the scheme was untried, are as sound and conclusive now, in the day of success. The whole body of contracts which unite the municipalities were drafted on the original understanding and could not be varied without injury to the contracting parties. The municipalities took all the risk. They are entitled to all the success.

Mrs. Margaret Dixon, 80 years of age, was burned to death Wednesday night of last week at her home at Campbell's Cross, Peel County. Her son, Peter Dixon, saw the flames when on his way home and on his arrival found his mother burned to a crisp. It is thought she upset the lamp and the burning oil covered her.

McDonald, Caledon.

The council for this year will be: Albion—J. Anderson, Reeve.

Bolton—D. D. Kennedy Reeve.

Brampton—A. H. Milner, Reeve; Wm. Warr, Deputy-Reeve.

Caledon—Thos. Quinn, Reeve; Jas. McDonald, Deputy-Reeve.

Chinguacousy — T. H. Elliott, Reeve; James Bovaird, Deputy-Reeve.

MRS. DALTON M'CARTHY

The death in Vancouver recently of Mrs. Dalton McCarthy, widow of the late Dalton McCarthy, K. C., severs a link with the pioneer history of Canada, as well as removing a lady of the old school, whose charming personality made her beloved of all who knew her intimately, and whose passing is a distinct loss to society and to Canada at large.

The late Mrs. Dalton McCarthy was born at "Tollendale," Lake Simcoe, Canada West, in 1839. Her father, Mr. Lally, was an Englishman, who had come to this country and had been induced by the beauty of the locality to settle on the shores of Lake Simcoe, naming his home "Tollendal," after the Comte de Lally-Tollendal, the hero of Pondicherry, who was an ancestor of Mr. Lally, and to whom both French and English history devote many interesting pages.

Mrs. McCarthy's mother was a lady of Scotch descent, the daughter of a Dr. Thompson, one of the pioneer settlers in the Niagara district. She was a charming and beautiful girl whom Mr. Lally met early in life, and whom he took to share his home in the woods. Mrs. McCarthy was their eldest child, and one of a large family, of whom the only survivor is Miss Lally, who is now living at the old homestead at Barrie, Ontario.

At the age of 16 the late Mrs. McCarthy, then Agnes Elizabeth Lally, was married to Richard Bernard, barrister, a brother of the late Baroness MacDonald. By him she had two children, Mrs. E. Percival Brown, of Toronto, and Mrs. Clare Fitz-Gibbon, of Vancouver. Mr. Bernard died at Windsor, Canada West, in 1861, and some years later his widow married the late Dalton McCarthy, K. C. Since the death of the latter, Mrs. McCarthy had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Fitz-Gibbon, in Vancouver. Her death was unexpected, for Mrs. McCarthy had been in good health until a short time ago. Bronchitis followed by heart failure, caused her death.

In addition to her two daughters she leaves two step children, D. Lally McCarthy, K. C., of Toronto, and Mrs. James Ince, of Dunvegan road.

The late Mrs. McCarthy took no active part in public life, finding her sphere of activity within her own home. Throughout the late war her of grat strength and inspiration to statesmanlike letters were a source her many grandsons and other relatives serving overseas.

MRS. THOS. OLDFIELD

Following a brief illness from bronchial pneumonia, Mrs. Thomas Oldfield, a pioneer of Melancthon, passed away at her home on the "Backline," on Tuesday evening, January 4th. Mrs. Oldfield, whose maiden name was Margaret Matilda Moore, was born in Mono in 1853. In 1876 she was married to Mr. Oldfield when they moved to the Backline where they have been living ever since. Her cheerful and generous disposition will long be remembered by those who knew her best. She was a member of the Methodist church, Corbetton, and was always very faithful in attendance when able to be present. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

The funeral on Saturday to Dundalk cemetery was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Stotesbury, her pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Rose and Mr. R. J. Woods, officiated, paying high tribute to the departed.

Mr. Stotesbury took for his well chosen remarks, Proverbs 31 : 28. "Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her." He also sang that beautiful hymn "Well Mother I'll be there."

Among the floral tributes were: "Broken Circle," from the family; wreath, Corbetton Methodist church; anchor, Quarterly Board; sheaf, wheat and carnations, Oldfield connections; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Still; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Still and Dave Still; spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Alberta.

Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves to mourn her loss three sons and two daughters: Wilson at Vulcan, Alta., James in Corbetton, Colwell and Belle at home, Mrs. Geo. McIntyre, McIntyre, also one sister, Mrs. Geo. Wilson, of Melancthon. There are ten grandchildren.

The pallbearers were nephews, Will Wilson, Jack Sherra, Alex. Still, Ed. Oldfield, Ed. Coutts, Burnett Oldfield.

Among many that were present from a distance were Wilson Oldfield and family from Vulcan, Alta. —Dundalk Herald.

REV. J. L. COTTON, B. A.

After a prolonged illness of about four months there passed away on Dec. 29th, an old Dufferin boy in the person of the Rev. J. Lyman Cotton, rector of St. Paul's church, Newburgh, N. Y. Mr. Cotton was born in 1862 and received his early public school education in Mono and was a graduate of Port Dover Collegiate. Later he studied for the ministry and was a graduate of Toronto University and Wycliffe College. He was ordained Assistant Rector of St. Luke's church, St. John, N. B., and while pursuing his studies in the General Seminary, New York, he was called to St. Paul's Anglican church, Newburgh, in 1915. In September last Mr. Cotton contracted spinal meningitis and brain fever and although good hopes were held for his recovery he passed suddenly away from hemorrhage of the brain on Dec. 29th and was laid to rest in Cedar Hill cemetery, Newburgh, on New Year's Day. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. P. H. Prince and Rev. Mr. Hind, both of New York. In October of 1919, Mr. Cotton was married to the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobson, Newburgh. Besides his widow, there is left to mourn his loss his mother, Mrs. Wm. Cotton, Shelburne; three brothers, Rev. Dr. T. H. Cotton, Rector of St. Aidan's, Balmy Beach, Toronto; Messrs. Wm. and Howard, Macklin, Sask., and two sisters, Miss Sadie, Macklin, and Miss Laura, Shelburne. Rev. Dr. Cotton, Toronto, and Howard Cotton, Macklin, attended the funeral, where the sympathy of the late Mr. Cotton's many friends was shown by tokens of sprays and wreaths.—Free Press.

MRS. CHAS. MITCHELL

In the death of Mrs. Chas. Mitchell which occurred early on Monday morning of this week at her home, lot 2, 6th line, Mulmur Township lost one of its oldest and most esteemed residents. Mrs. Mitchell contracted a cold on New Year's Day which developed into pneumonia and finally culminated in her death. Deceased's maiden name was Elizabeth Gallaugher, being a daughter of the late Wm. Gallaugher, of Perm. Over fifty years ago she married Chas. Mitchell, who was one of Mulmur's early and most public-spirited citizens and an ex-Reeve of that township. Mrs. Mitchell was 75 years of age and was a kind neighbor and a devoted mother. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Wm. and Jas. Mitchell, of Mansfield, and two daughters, Mrs. Robt. J. Ormsby, of Mansfield, and Miss Ethel Mitchell, at home. The surviving sisters and brothers of the deceased are Mrs. Jos. Gallaugher, Alliston; Mrs. Archy Greer, Mansfield; Mrs. Robt. Gallaugher, Shelburne; Paul, Wm. and John Gallaugher, of Mansfield. Her remains were interred in St. Luke's cemetery, Rosemont, on Wednesday afternoon of this week.—Free Press.

MONO COLLEGE

A most enjoyable U. F. O. concert and dance was held at Mono College on Friday evening, January 7th, when upwards of 150 people were present, members of the Mono College U. F. O. and the Mono College Ladies' Institute. The concert was a huge success. The first item on the program was a speech from Mr. J. M. McNaughton, who occupied the chair. This was much appreciated. He spoke upon the need of better education, etc. This was followed by a pianoforte solo by Miss Lorna Bracken, the accompanist for the evening, which was rendered in most excellent style. Then followed a pianoforte duet by the Misses Mann and Lilly Shirley, which was very pretty and received a good clap. Miss Elva Brett then gave a recitation entitled, "The Mad Brigade," which was very amusing and laughable, after which we had two songs by Mr. Arthur Shirley, one of which, "The Man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo," received a hearty encore. Messrs. W. Cruikshank and J. McMaster, accompanied by Miss Myrtle Marshall, favored the audience with two violin duets, which were rendered in fine style and which received big encores. Miss Kate Brett and Miss Lilly Shirley gave two excellent recitations, whilst Master Kenneth Cotton gave a recitation on the U. F. O. which was very appropriate. The great feature of the evening was five songs by Mr. Cecil Menary, all of which received encores and which were sung as only Cecil Menary can sing them. Cecil is a whole entertainment in himself, and keeps you laughing all the time. No garden party would need be a failure if Cecil was anywhere hanging around. There was also a short address by Mr. Wm. Island, Secretary of the Mono College U. F. O., after which there was a short speech by Mr. Oliver Sproule, who attended the U. F. O. Convention in Toronto. The latter told us how men, who were brought up on the farm, and educated at the little country school, got up on the platform in Massey Hall, before several thousand people and made speeches which no man need have been ashamed of. A vote of thanks was then proposed by Mr. Wm. Baker, President, and Mr. W. E. Island, Secretary, to the chairman and to all who had taken part in the program. After this refreshments were served, these being provided by the Mono College Ladies' Institute. When everybody had eaten all they could, and drunk all they could (nothing stronger than tea), the rest of the evening and several hours of the next morning were spent in the giddy whirl, which was enjoyed amazingly by all the younger people, and to judge by appearances by a good many of the older ones too (I always think the old ones are worse than the young ones once they get started). The last thing I noticed was Mr. Robt. Island as floor manager, telling them to swing the corner lady and promenade with their own.

Zam-Buk

WINTRY weather means rough, blotchy faces, sore hands, cracked lips, chilblains and cold-sores. Besides these being painful and disfiguring, there's a danger that disease germs or dirt particles may get into the broken skin and set up eczema, ulceration, or even blood-poison.

The only safe policy is to apply Zam-Buk whose rich herbal essences sink into the pores and exert their soothing, healing and antiseptic influence on the affected tissues. Zam-Buk is ideal as a winter skin dressing. Unlike fatty ointments Zam-Buk suits the tenderest skin, and it never fails to restore a soft, smooth and healthy condition. DUFFERIN PARK

Orangeville Horse Won Great Battle in 2:30 Trot.

The 2.30 trot recalled the battles in the great futurities thirteen years ago between those two great three year old trotters, Kentucky Todd, 3, 2:08¾, and General Watts, 3, 2:06¾, both champions at one time, but the latter retired with the honors after Kentucky Todd trained off form in mid season. To-day two sons of these now prominent sires enacted the star role, and although the issue is still in doubt, The Baronet, Kentucky Todd's representative, stood best in the summary with Strong Watts, American owned, and in the stable of Harry Brusie, second. The Baronet opened favorite at 3 to 2, with Strong Watts second choice, but after the last named won the opening heat in commanding style he carried the bulk of the money, quoted odds on at 1 to 2. An early break in the second lost him much ground, and when he recovered and got to The Baronet's wheel in the home stretch, Strong Watts had not sufficient speed to pass the black stallion. His supporters remained loyal, however, and backed him in the third heat. Brusie placed him in behind The Baronet, made a mild effort to pass in the front stretch first half, but failed After straightening for the home drive Brusie went at him hammer and tongs, but the best he could do was to land at The Baronet's wheel. The race was laid over.

SLOW UP

If people about you are carrying on their business or their benevolence at a pace which drains the life out of you, resolutely take a slower pace; be called a laggard, make less money, accomplish less work than they, but be what you were meant to be and can be. You have your natural limit of power as much as an engine—ten-horse power, or twenty, or a hundred. You are fit to do certain kinds of work, and you need a certain kind and amount of fuel, and a certain kind of handling.

John Thomas, Jr., had been carefully tucked into bed, had asked for his last drink of water and was about to dream material for new questions when his mother, as she was folding the little garments in the dim light, heard his pipe. "Mother, how was it I first met you?

AN APPEAL FOR THE Starving Millions of China

The Situation

North China is in the relentless grip of one of the worst famines of the last thirty years. Conditions are appalling. From thirty to fifty millions in the five provinces of Honan, Shansi, Shantung, Shensi and Chili are facing starvation. The failure of rain for twelve months has meant the total failure of two harvests.

Terrible distress prevails. Thousands have already died. Hundreds are dying every day. Many are seeking to live on leaves and bark. Authenticated cases are reported of parents killing their children rather than see them starve and in their despair taking their own lives.

Recent rains have made possible the sowing of the fields, which give promise of a harvest next June. But the intervening months! The present distress, keen as it is, is but a suggestion of the awful agony through which North China must pass before winter is over unless relief on a large scale is forthcoming.

Moving Appeals from Many Sources

Before making any appeal, the Committee has made the fullest enquiry regarding the situation. From every source cumulative evidence has come of the magnitude and severity of the famine and the urgent need of immediate relief.

From their Missions in Honan, our two Canadian Mission Boards, having work in the affected area, are receiving urgent appeals for help.

The Honan Presbytery cables—"The famine has realized our worst fears. Funds for relief urgently needed."

The Secretary of the China Continuation Committee cables from Shanghai to the Canadian Committee that the famine is very severe and that help is urgently needed to prevent great loss of life.

A cable from Bishop Lewis, of the Methodist Episcopal Mission, Peking, states that the famine is desperate, that already there are a thousand deaths daily, and conditions getting worse.

The Government of China has sent the following message to the Chinese Consul-General at Ottawa: "Over one hundred thousand localities are affected; millions of people are destitute and dying of famine. Relief fund is urgently needed."

The Department of State at Washington writes that the American Legation at Peking has reported that the famine is severe and widespread, and that an international Committee, composed of men from the various foreign Legations, has been organized and is devoting itself to relief work. Ambassador Crane reports that, inevitably, many millions will die of starvation during the coming months.

What is Being Done.

The Chinese, aided by the foreign residents, are doing what they can, but the disaster is of such magnitude that they cannot cope with it alone. In Honan a joint relief committee of Chinese and foreigners has been formed, with Rev. G. E. Simmons of the Canadian Anglican Mission as Foreign Treasurer, and Rev. H. M. Harris of the American Southern Baptist Mission as Foreign Secretary.

Shanghai alone raised $1,600,000 for relief and placed an objective of $5,000,000.

In Tokyo, a group of Japanese business men have formed a committee and are making a country-wide appeal. The first two subscriptions received were for $15,000 each.

The President of the United States has issued a national appeal and appointed a nation-wide Committee to carry forward a great national relief movement as speedily as possible.

Your Help Needed.

Every humanitarian and Christian instinct demands that Canada help and help quickly. The Committee representing the Canadian Foreign Mission Boards—Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian—appeal to all Canadians to help meet this appalling need. Already fifty thousand dollars have been cabled to China. Hundreds of thousands are needed.

The Committee is desirous that all Canadian contributions should go through Canadian channels, that thus the help given to China, in this her hour of extremity, may go as a Canadian gift. Every contributor may rest assured that all monies received will be safely and wisely administered.

Contributions should be sent to the Treasurer of either of the Canadian Boards having Missions in China—Rev. Robt. Laird, D. D., Treasurer of the Presbyterian Church, Confederation Life Building, Toronto; J. A. Worrell, Esq., K. C., Hon. Treasurer of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada, 131 Confederation Life Building, Toronto; W. G. Watson, Esq., Treasurer of the Methodist Missionary Society, 299 Queen Street West, Toronto; or to D. A. Cameron, Esq., Manager, Canadian Bank of Commerce, 23 King Steet West, Toronto, who has kindly consented to act as General Treasurer of the Fund.

HAVE YOU A CASTLE?

Everybody should have a castle, built so high upon the mountain peaks of the mind that the meaner self cannot climb to its heights, and so fortified that the approaches are guarded by white-winged messengers from above.

Then run occasionally for rest out of the toil and vexations of life, as well as for a calm look upon the entangled problems of the world, that you may find where to lose yourself for the good of others.

If you have not built such a castle, build it at once. Find the highest mountain in your mind—one of those that reach highest into the blue vault of thought—and fortify as you build.

If your place in life lies mostly with those minds that are low and marshy, whence arises the malaria of discontent, lust, suspicion and unlove, build your castle quickly, and so protect your mountain passes that approaches to it will be impossible except to yourself and the angels that minister there.

Then you will be patient in the midst of the strife of the lower souls; you will do good to those who have wronged you, and your pity for all shall lie like a beam of light upon every face into which you shall look.

CONDITIONS BAD IN DETROIT

Mr. W. T. Aiken, Detroit, is in town spending a week or two, or more, among friends. The best cure for pessimism in Canada is a talk of half an hour or so with Mr. Aitken who says conditions in Detroit are awful. The industrial world is completely demoralized, factories are shut down, business has dropped to a very low volume and hundreds of thousands of people are out of employment. The majority of such people are either in distress or in a condition not far removed from distress. They enjoyed themselves without stint when industry was booming and wages were high and consequently have no provision made to tide over the period of depression which is now upon them. While there is no immediate indication of a revival of business everybody hopes conditions will improve in a few weeks and Mr. Aitken inclines to the opinion that in six or eight weeks a marked improvement will have taken place. In the meantime there is both mental and physical suffering. People who foresaw such a period as that of the present and were prepared for it are denied pleasure because of the lawlessness prevalent in the city. It is unsafe for a man to be alone on the streets of Detroit after night. This was brought home to Mr. and Mrs. Aitken a few days before Mr. Aitken came away by the holding up of a couple of Mrs. Aitken's lady friends who were stopped in broad daylight and robbed of their jewelry and the fur coats with which they were clad.—Alliston Herald.

THINGS THAT UNITE

The great and fine and holy way by which peoples and nations come together and stay together is by them, one and all, living for deep and unworldly things. It is the things of this world which divide us, and chiefly it is greed of gain. The unseen things unite us—things of beauty in music, in literature, in art, and—in the supreme art—in life. Life seen in all its pathos, overshadowed by the eternities, interpreted by faith in God's love for us all—it is that which draws us nearer to one another.

BANDITS IN ALLISTON

MR. JOHN ROBINSON VICTIM OF GUNMAN'S DEED.

Was Commanded Three Times to Stand Still and Refused, Determining to Try Conclusions with His Fists—Gunman Fired and Wounded His Would-be Victim.

The bandit has made his appearance in town. A pair of them attacked Mr. John Robinson Saturday night. Mr. Robinson used his fists and got away with his money, but the hold-up men were desperate; they used a gun and Mr. Robinson received a bullet hole through four fingers of his right hand. The robbers are still at large.

Mr. Robinson, who had had a very good Saturday's business in his barber shop and billiard room, closed the doors at 12 o'clock and after shaving himself tidied the place up, and locked up till Monday morning. With the day's receipts in his pocket he was crossing the bridge on his way home, his house being on the north side of the stream. Between the bridge over the river and the bridge over the flume is twenty or twenty-five feet of roadway. It was just as Mr. Robinson stepped off the boards of the first bridge that he noticed two men coming toward him still on the cinder bedded roadway leading into the old electric light plant. The thought of being held up there did not occur to Mr. Robinson as he was almost directly under the electric light on the bridge and another light was shining directly in front of him and at quite an elevation. The bandits were determined and lost no time getting down to business. Mr. Robinson was walking briskly and the robbers approached in single file with alert step. "Stand still," commanded one of the men. Mr. Robinson did not debate the matter with himself. The first thought that crossed his mind was that if he let his assailants rob him they would strike him unconscious and perhaps kill him. He determined to fight and clinching his fists side stepped to the left. "Stand still," came the command a second time. Mr. Robinson was rapidly backing along the centre of the roadway with fists clenched looking for an opportunity to strike the man in front of him should he come within striking distance. "Stand still or we shoot," was the final command and in a few seconds it was followed by a shot, the bullet striking Mr. Robinson in the hand. No surrender and bolt for it flashed across his mind and shouting as loudly as he could he turned and ran for his own house followed by the bandits. It was a race for big stakes, probably life itself, and when under the light at the top of the hill Mr. Robinson knew the footsteps behind him were retreating. Looking round he saw the two men running across the bowling lawn to the discarded electric plant. With his left hand and some assistance from the wounded right hand he managed to unlock the door of his house and get in without waking Mrs. Robinson. He just got inside when Miss Louise Cunningham, who had heard the shouting and the shot, came in. She went back to telephone for a doctor. It was a few minutes later when other neighbors came in and Dr. Cunningham arrived. No search was made at the electric light building for the desperadoes.

Mr. Robinson is convinced that at least one of the men is known to him though he did not see his face and did not see him standing erect. One stayed behind the other all the time they were facing each other. The man in front was tall and thin. He wore a tweed hat which Mr. Robinson says he would know if he saw it again. The hat was pulled well down on the man's forehead, but Mr. Robinson could see his eyes and is positive he never saw the man before. The second bandit, Mr. Robinson is convinced, knew him. The fellow's hat was pulled down till the upper part of his face was covered. He kept directly behind the tall man and moved about in a crouching posture. He made sure Mr. Robinson did not get a good look at him. From the location of the flash when the gun was fired Mr. Robinson is satisfied it was the man in the rear of the tall one who did the shooting. Mr. Robinson eyed the man in front from the time he approached him till he bolted. He was determined to land him a staggering blow in the face if the bandit should come close enough.

When Mr. Robinson got into his house he was a gory sight. The bullet passing through his hand paralysed the whole arm so that he had no control over it and as he ran the arm swung covering his clothes and even his face with blood. Immediately on arrival Dr. Cunningham began to dress the wounded hand. An examination revealed some remarkably good fortune for Mr. Robinson even under the circumstances. The hand was tightly closed when he was shot. The bullet, one from a 22 calibre cartridge, entered the fleshy part of the first finger above the second joint. The first and second fingers were cut clean through. The third finger was cut across the palm, the bullet deflecting upwards into the palm and coming out just below the knuckle joint of the fourth finger. After a careful examination, Dr. Cunningham was satisfied that not only had none of the bones been injured but none of the sinews had been cut and there was every chance of Mr. Robinson retaining the full use of his hand.

The attempted hold-up occurred at just about half-past twelve. Mr. E. F. Martindale had crossed the bridge on his way home shortly before twelve followed a few minutes later by Mr. Leslie Cunningham. Neither saw any sign of anyone lurking about the old power building. What might have some connection with this affair was an incident on Paris street when Mr. Herbert Penelton was asked by a stranger between the rear of Latimer's garage and the house next it if the hour was eleven yet. He did not look at his watch, but knowing it was not far from eleven answered "just about" and walked on. The man asking the question was tall and unknown to Mr. Penelton. There is no clue at all to work on in running these bandits down. Constable Williams has been quietly investigating. The Attorney-General's department was notified Monday, but as yet has not acknowledged receipt of the advice.

It took Mr. Robinson a couple of days to get over the nervous shock he had received. His hand is showing favorable symptoms, but it will be a month or more before he can use it again. When complimented on his pluckiness in showing fight he said he fully expected to be able to plug the tall fellow in front of him just before he was shot. The bandit had advanced to within four feet of Mr. Robinson who was watching the distance determined to swing and land a jaw blow. One more foot closer together and he could have gone into action, but the shot made a fight impossible.—Alliston Herald.

THE COLOR OF THE SUN

The lady who was selecting the house furnishings hesitated a moment about the canary-colored vase lest it clash with other shades in the room.

"It clashes with nothing. It is the color of the sun," said the saleslady.

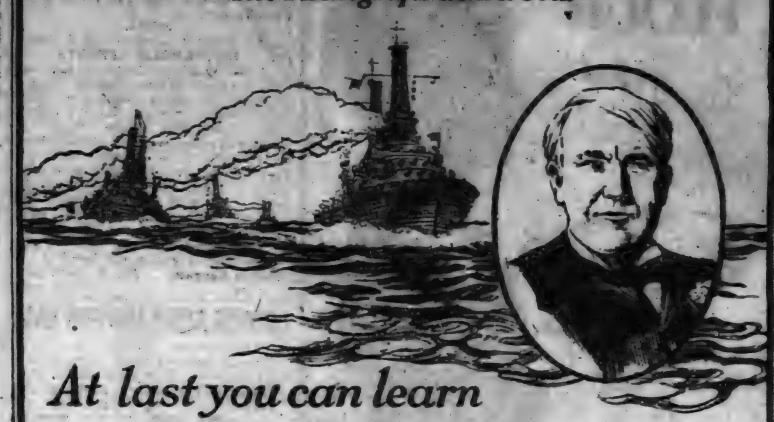
And does not her answer explain some of the sunny, tactful people we know? They clash with nothing because their temperaments are the color of the sun. You know instinctively that they can get along with the person whom others find difficult to get on with. You know that the wrangling and the looks and words of annoyance will die down when they come upon the scene. You never picture them getting into quarrels and difficulties with those who work and walk beside them in life. You know they clash with nothing because their spirits are the color of the sun. There is no other solvent for difficulties equal to a sunny spirit.

Let us all spend enough time in the sunshine of the great All-creating Spirit that we too may be permeated with the colors of the sun. It is a good thing to absorb as much of the physical sunshine as we can, but if we are denied much of that, we can at least breathe in the sunshine of God's presence and thus radiate light upon our little world.

Melville Wilson, an old Sandhill boy, now practising barrister of Toronto, is mentioned as a probably successor to Mr. J. W. Corley, who is retiring from the Crown Attorneyship of Toronto. Mr. Wilson is a former assistant Crown Attorney.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"



At last you can learn

What Edison Did during the War

YOU wondered—everybody wondered, and practically nobody knew how Edison "did his bit." At last the official announcement is out! Come in and get your copy of the bulletin: "What Did Edison Do During the War?"—or write, if you can't call.

It tells what Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board—how he spent months at sea, experimenting and inventing devices for foiling the German submarines.

The bulletin also tells how Edison stood the gaff and kept the price of the New Edison down to bed-rock during the era of high costs and soaring prices. The New Edison has increased in price (in the United States) less than 15% since 1914—part of this increase is war tax. The bulletin also tells Mr. Edison's views on our Budget Plan which makes the New Edison easy to buy.

CLOSING CLUB ROOM

Orangeville, 18-1-21

Editor of The Banner,
Sir:

At a recent meeting of the Orangeville Branch of the G. W. V. A. it was unanimously decided to close the club--room, it having failed to serve the purpose for which it was opened. The easy chairs and the Pathephone will be placed in the reading room of the Public Library in accordance with instructions given by the Ladies' organizations presenting them, conditional, of course, upon their acceptance by the Library Board. The rockers, presented by the I. O. D. E., will be placed in the Hospital. Should the Branch again be in a position to use any of the above, they will then be recalled.

The Branch is not to be disbanded, but will continue to look after the interests of such returned men as have a claim on its aid, and particularly the interests of the dependents of those who gave their lives overseas.

Will you be good enough, Sir, to publish this letter so that those who interested themselves in the War Veterans may know what we are doing.

Yours truly,
A. FIRTH, Pres.,
Orangeville Branch, G. W. V. A.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often stormy that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds which rack his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels and break up colds. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

While the wedding music was played by Mrs. Louis Johnston the bride of half a century ago was presented with a diamond ring in behalf of the family and with a pearl brooch from the gradchildren. Mr. Johnston was presented with a purse of gold amounting to $150. The venerable couple were also made the recipients of a number of other gifts, tokens of the affection and good wishes of their friends. These included a fountain pen apiece from the grandchildren. The celebration took place at the home of their son, Arthur E. Johnston, where a sumptuous dinner was served following by a short program of toasts and congratulatory speeches, Rev. Wellington Arnott officiating as toastmaster. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, golden daffodils and carnations in profusion. Eighty-four per cent. of the business failures of the past year occurred among firms which did not advertise. Though no blows were struck, Magistrate Laidlaw deemed that an offense had been committed and fined the defendant $10 and costs, in all about $23.

INCREASING TAX RATES

Urban municipalities are everywhere faced with the problem of high and steadily increasing tax rates. High taxes are an almost inevitable accompaniment of the expensive times in which we are living. High wages and the heavy increase in the cost of material have made all kinds of municipal work abnormally expensive. In urban municipalities the uncontrollable expenditure has grown by leaps and bounds. School boards have been faced with exactly the same problems as confront municipal councils. Necessary maintenance and improvement work costs them much more money than a few years ago and on top of this there has been a rapid advance in teachers' salaries, an advance made necessary by the increase in the cost of the necessaries and comforts of life. Under such conditions as we have outlined school boards, no matter how carefully they may finance, find themselves obliged to requisition for larger sums each succeeding year. Councils have no option so far as these requisitions are concerned. They are obliged to levy for the amounts asked for by the School boards. The only way in which the increased municipal expense can be met without increasing the tax rate is by an increased assessment. Where population is increasing and new buildings going up every year the assessment can be increased, but in many urban municipalities in Ontario population is almost stationary, and there is very little new building going on. In towns and villages of this class the only means of coping with the added municipal expense is by increasing the tax rate. Thus it is that high tax rates have become general and are likely to continue general for a number of years to come.

NIGHT COUGH

You know it! It begins with a tickling, irritating sensation in your throat. You cough to clear the throat. In a moment—there it is again!

A minute's peace, then again you cough, and so on until you cough your throat sore, and by the time the cough is sufficiently allayed to permit you to sleep, you are thoroughly worn out. This kind of experience is particularly trying to old people.

Peps make this sort of thing quite unnecessary.

Put a Peps pastille on your tongue and allow it to slowly dissolve. Healing fumes are then liberated, which mingle with the breath and are carried to the remotest parts of the air passages and lungs, allaying the irritation and soothing the inflamed membranes, thus ending the cough and making sleep possible.

Peps are also best for bronchitis, laryngitis, asthma, sore throat and colds. Try Peps at our expense. Send this advertisement and 1c. stamp (for return postage), to Peps Co., Toronto, and receive FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. All dealers, 60c. box.

CONSIDER YOUR PARTNER

You may be in the forties or fifties, strong and vigorous; but your life-partner is not able to stand anything of a rigorous nature, and thus you are prevented from doing things which you would like to do.

Are you more than dissatisfied and disappointed—disgruntled over it?

If such thoughts come, dismiss them.

It is manifestly unfair to your life companion.

Of course you may have to deny yourself some of the pleasures you enjoy participating in if your husband or your wife is unable to join you; but you knew you would have to exert self-denial when you were married, didn't you?

You surely did not expect to be able to go ahead, giving consideration only to your likes and dislikes, did you?

Marriage is bound to change your life, and if you're not willing to take things as they come you should not have married.

Supposing you were the weak one in your home, and your helpmate complained and then went ahead and enjoyed things you could not, without giving any consideration for you and your health, would you like it?

Do as you would like to be done by.

WEST—M'BRIDE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McBride, East Garafraxa, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 22nd, when Elizabeth Christina, their daughter, became the wife of Mr. Ross West, of Amaranth. The marriage ceremony was performed under a beautiful arch of evergreens by the Rev. J. A. Ross in the presence of about sixty friends of the bride and groom. The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father attired in a beautiful gown of charmeuse satin trimmed with ribbon. She wore a necklace of pearls and the customary bridal veil, caught to the bride's hair by a cluster of orange blossoms. After the wedding ceremony the bride led the way to the dining room which was very tastefully decorated.

Myrtle Nodwell, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride received a great number of beautiful gifts from her many friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold wrist watch and to the pianist a handsome vanity bag. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and other amusements, after which the bride and groom left for their home in Amaranth amid the good wishes of a host of friends.—Star & Vidette.

Joseph Pulford, of Tossorontio, threshed 90 bushels of red clover seed last week. At present price of seed it will net considerably over one thousand dollars.

At the ripe old age of 82 years, Mrs. Catharine McLaren, widow of the late Duncan McLaren, pioneer resident of Rosemont and later of Alliston, died a week ago Wednesday at the home of her son, Mr. Arnold McLaren, in Creemore.

LITTLE JACK FROST

His father was a fairy
Who paints the evening skies;
His mother was the Snow Queen
With frost light in her eyes.

His cradle was an ice cake,
His food was melted snow;
He played around in blizzards
Like any Eskimo.

But after he was older
He said, "I want a brush!
I'll paint the skies at evening
The brightest rosy flush!"

His father said, "No, listen:
You'd make the whole year cold,
Just take this can of frost paint
And do as you are told!

"Now—never paint in summer,
And never paint in spring;
You'd spoil the tender meadows
And freeze up everything!"

So Jack,, the Snow Queen's baby,
Who nips you as you pass,
Paints pleasant winter pictures
Upon your window glass.
—Miriam Clark Potter in Youth's Companion.

THE JOY OF WORKING FOR WHAT YOU GET

Your father did not leave you a comfortable income, so it has been necessary for you to work out your own salvation in the cold, work-a-day world; but this may be a blessing rather than a handicap.

What would you have made of yourself if handicap after handicap had not driven you to effort after effort?

The man who has never had a desire that was not met does not get half so much real joy out of life as you do.

You have something to look forward to, and take pleasure in the contemplated experience.

You know that you do not enjoy lots of little things now when you find them too easy to get.

It is the successes you must work and earn which count.

Looking forward into the future you must acknowledge that you do not want to see everything coming your way all the time, with no credit due to your own brains or brawn.

It is good to strive and grow with the striving.

On Tuesday evening, January 4th, Eliza Hudson, relict of the late William Melow, passed quietly away at her home in Bolton.

The Guelph and Ontario Investment and Savings Society announce that from the first of January the rate of interest allowed to depositors will be three and one half per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, instead of three per cent. as heretofore.

Mrs. Brydges Only Tipped Beam at 98 Pounds When She Began Taking Tanlac.

"I only weighed ninety-eight pounds when I started on Tanlac, but I now weigh one hundred and thirty and am feeling like a different person," was the truly remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Frieda Brydges, of 378 John street, North, Hamilton, Ont.

"I underwent an operation four years ago, and ever since then I have been in a very weak and run-down condition. My stomach was so upset that it would nauseate me even to drink a cup of milk, and I could hardly eat a morsel of solid food. I got so thin, people told me I looked like I was starving and I was so weak that if I attempted to past the carpet sweeper round the room I would have to lie down and rest afterwards. My nerves were so unstrung that the ringing of the door-bell made me tremble all over, and I could get but little sleep at night.

"That was the state I was in when I got hold of Tanlac, but five bottles of that medicine have simply transformed me. Why, I have actually gained thirty-two pounds in weight and am feeling simply fine. I have a splendid appetite, and can eat whatever I want and never suffer a particle from indigestion. I sleep well at night, my nerves are steady, and I am so much stronger I can do my housework with ease. It is nothing less than marvelous how Tanlac has built me up, and I take great pleasure in making this statement for the benefit of others."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

ORANGEVILLE, JAN. 26, 1921

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Nova Scotia minister is quoted as having stated from his pulpit recently that any country, professing Christianity, which spends $760,000,000 on talcum powder and only $25,000,000 on foreign missions has dismally failed to understand the great business of Jesus Christ in this world. Few will be so bold as to dispute the truth underlying this statement. We have altogether too much conventional Christianity in Canada and the United States nowadays. A genuine religious awakening is badly needed. Even the awful tragedy of the recent war seems to have done very little to arouse in people a livelier sense of their duty and responsibility in the matter of religion.

The slump in the price of farm products has undoubtedly meant a serious loss to the farmers of this province. When we read that a Halton county farmer sold his clover seed for $1200 less than he received for the same quantity of seed a year ago we get some idea of the seriousness of the loss even in individual cases. When the loss of the individual farmer is multiplied many thousands of times the aggregate for the whole province must run into an immense sum of money. This loss has of course been offset to some extent by reductions in the prices of goods that farmers are obliged to buy, but it would be idle to argue that these reductions have been sufficient to balance the reduction in the prices of farm products. The farmer has been the loser so far, but it may not be long until the scales will once more turn in his favor.

The question of paying town councillors was a live issue in certain Ontario municipalities during the recent municipal elections. The wisdom or unwisdom of paying municipal representatives for their services is open to debate. On the one hand it may be argued that the citizen who devotes his time and energies to municipal work is entitled to a reasonable recompense for his services. On the other hand there is reason to believe that the man who is willing to give of his time for the benefit of his fellow citizens and for the good of the municipality in which he may happen to reside will make a better and more trustworthy public representative than the individual, to whom the salary attached to the position furnishes one of the considerations which impel him to offer himself for public service. The councillor, who serves his fellow ratepayers without any money reward or the expectation of any money reward, makes a very considerable sacrifice, but it will be a sad day for the country when citizens who are willing to make this sacrifice are no longer to be found.

Changing conditions are fast making consolidated schools a live issue in many parts of rural Ontario. The low birth rate and the steady drift from the land to the urban centres have seriously diminished the school attendance in nearly every rural school section in the province. While the attendance of pupils has decreased, the expense of maintaining and running the schools has mounted to figures undreamed of tdo decades or even a single decade ago. On top of this rural trustees have found it increasingly difficult to engage satisfactory teachers or to retain their services for a reasonable length of time after engagement. The rural school of four, six or ten pupils has come to be so common, that its existence has ceased to be a matter for surprise or comment. Schools of this class have little attraction or inspiration for the ambitious and energetic teacher. From the standpoint of the children they are far from satisfactory, for in such schools there is little chance for the companionship and camaraderie so necessary to the proper development of the child life. There is isolation, loneliness and a lack of competition and healthful rivalry that some speakers have described as little short of tragical. Consolidated schools have been suggested as the remedy for the evils and defects that changed rural conditions have wrought in the rural school system. The Banner does not suggest that these schools will furnish the remedy but it freely admits that consolidation offers a possible remedy. Offhand opinions as to the desirability or undesirability of consolidated schools are to be deprecated and should be discouraged. The question is too big for hasty and ill-informed opinions. Every ratepayer, trustee and friend of education should consider the consolidated school question dispassionately and free himself as far as possible of preconceived notions as to the probable effects of the introduction of the system in his district. He should study the working of the system elsewhere, get all obtainable information as to cost, transportation, size of consolidated sections and a score of other points and then endevor to decide in his own mind if the system can be advantageously adapted to the needs and conditions of his particular locality. In a word what is most needed just now is information and careful, thoughtful study of this big and tremendously important question. It may be that consolidated schools are not adapted to the needs of rural Ontario and the conditions existing in this province. It may be that they will afford the best and wisest solution of the problems and difficulties that beset our rural school system, but in either case the whole situation calls for careful and thoughtful study. Hasty, injudicious or ill-considered action is something that all friends of efficient education must be careful to guard against.

EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Principal Reynolds, of Guelph, Gave Suggestive Address at Annual Meeting in Shelburne.

The Dufferin County Educational Association held its annual meeting in the Town Hall, Shelburne, on Tuesday afternoon of last week. The meeting was quite well attended and keen interest was displayed in the excellent addresses given by Principal Reynolds, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, School Inspector W. R. Liddy and Rev. W. M. Morris, Secretary-Treasurer of the Ontario School Trustees Association.

Mr. G. R. McWhirter, of Colbeck, President of the Association, occupied the chair. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:—Honorary Presidents, John Best, M. P., T. K. Slack, M. L. A., Inspector Liddy and Warden Jas. Brown; President, G. R. McWhirter, Colbeck; Vice-President, W. A. Wansbrough, Grand Valley; Secretary-Treasurer, A. D. McKitrick, Orangeville; Municipality Representatives—Amaranth, Mrs. John Scott; East Garafraxa, Laban Boggs; East Luther, Mrs. Lorenzo Crewson; Melancthon, Jas. Porter; Mono, J. A. Marshall; Mulmur, Geo. Best; Grand Valley, W. A. Wansbrough; Shelburne, Mrs. J. A. Mills; Orangeville, R. J. McConnell; Auditors, Dr. Price and W. C. McMillan, Orangeville.

In the course of a short address President McWhirter discussed the subject of Consolidated Schools from various angles and suggested a possible alternative solution, which would obviate some of the objections to consolidation.

Inspector Liddy had prepared a chart showing the percentage of pupils who passed their examinations in the various forms of the urban and rural schools of the county. His conclusion was that the urban schools carried a larger percentage of the pupils farther than did the schools in the country. Discussing the increasing cost of public school education he stated that in 43 rural schools of Dufferin County the average cost per enrolled pupil was $38.54 and the average cost per pupil in attendance was $64.58. In the urban schools of the county the average cost per enrolled pupil was $32.58 and the average cost per pupil in attendance $46.25. Mr. Liddy also made the interesting statement that the rural schools of this county receive annually in the neighborhood of $14,000 in Government grants, while grants to the town and village schools amount to only $540. In proportion to the number of teachers employed rural schools receive five times as much in grants as the town schools. The Inspector expressed the opinion that agriculture will never be well taught in rural schools as at present constituted, the reason being that they have not the room, the equipment or trained teachers. Rural schools were not graduating nearly as many pupils as town and village schools, were more expensive per pupil and were not fully meeting the requirements of rural communities.

Principal Reynolds stated that our system of education has tended to direct boys and girls toward the professions and away from the plain methods of making a plain living. Strikes and industrial upheavals were not the product of our native Canadian character. They were foreign to Canadian soil. The speaker reviewed the apprenticeship system which produced trained carpenters, framers, blacksmiths and shoemakers thirty years ago, referred to its passing and stated that our system of education had not devised any method of manual training to replace this oldtime system. The greater proportion of boys and girls in Canada and elsewhere are better fitted by natural endowment for some form of manual labor than for business or the professions, and yet the whole tendency of our educational system in Canada is to educate for business and for the learned professions. As a consequence the Canadian people where they have not remained on the farms—and fortunately for Canada a large percentage had remained on the farms—have become a business and professional people. In the great building industry, in the factories and in railroad building, Canadians are not found as a class. To-day the skilled workmen in the factories, in the mining industries and on the railways are largely from the British Isles and from Europe. They are strongly socialistic and radical in their theories and political beliefs and these beliefs and theories are to-day the dominant influence in trade unionism in many of the large cities of the Dominion. The speaker referred to the serious and rapid falling off in the rural population, to the decreased attendance at rural schools and to the consequent isolation and loneliness of the country child, which has been deprived largely of the companionship of other children and the stimulus of the competitive and emulative spirit found in the larger schools. Conditions of living in some of the country schools were little short of tragical. The necessity for the consideration of the consolidated school system as a possible remedy for this isolation and loneliness had arisen out of these changed conditions. With the passing away of the apprenticeship system of the last generation there had arisen the necessity of adapting some part of our educational system to take its place. The material development of any country depends upon three factors:—1. The natural resources; 2. The native ability of the people as applied to the development of these resources; 3. The acquired ability of the people, which is nothing more nor less than education. In Canada we have in many instances made the mistake of judging a man's success in life by the amount of wealth he is able to amass, whereas many men have amassed this wealth at the expense of the resources of the state. Any man who robbed the soil of its wealth ought to be regarded as an enemy of the state. The true citizen or the successful farmer should aim at leaving the soil on his farm as fertile or more fertile than it was when it came into his possession. After all the test of civilization and the test of any true system of education is the awakening in the individual of a sense of his responsibility to posterity.

Rev. W. M. Morris spoke briefly on the work County Educational Associations are accomplishing throughout the province and then led in a short conference on various matters brought out in the proceedings of the day.

CALEDON

Very encouraging were the reports of the Librarian, Miss Dodds, and Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. Thomas, at the recent annual meeting of the Caledon Public Labrary. The last payment on the Library building had been made in 1920, and over one hundred books added at a cost of $150.00, while the circle of readers has been steadily widening.

The following comprise the new Board for 1921: Rev. J. Burkholder, C. Dodds, Miss Pilcher, C. Rutledge, H. Hillyard, E. E. Stubbs, Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs, Dr. J. T. Thomas, Sec.-Treas; W. J. Atkinson, Chairman; the last three forming the executive.

The Caledon Agricultural Society held its annual meeting on Friday, Jan. 21, in the Library building and, owing to the counter attraction of a telephone meeting, had a rather slim attendance. The report for 1920 showed a surplus of almost $300, which was considered very satisfactory considering the extra expenditure in nearly every department. The combined school and society fair proved a success and, will no doubt, be continued. The meeting elected the following officers for 1921:—Dan Sweeney, Pres.; Dr. Thomas, 1st Vice.; T. C. Glassford, 2nd Vice.; H. McLeish, F. Baxter, W J. Hillock, A. C. Speers, Gil Vanwyck, John Warnock, C. Atkinson, A. Lemon, Thos. Quinn, N. Harrison, Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs, C. Limebeer, W. Wiggins, B. Watson, Robt. Clark, Mrs. D. N. Potter, Mrs. T. W. Meek, Mrs. J. M. McEachern, Miss Louise Laughlin, Miss B. McQuarrie, W. J. Atkinson, Sec.-Treasurer.

The "telephone tangle," we are informed, is unravelled, wound up and ready for action on the part of the petitioners upon whose shoulders now rests the responsibility for success or failure of the system. During the past year and under the operation of receivers, it has shown a profit of $1650. We have the assurance of the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve that at the present price it is a good proposition, and there is no doubt that if the petitioners will only work together in harmony, it can be made a success, just as well as the sixty odd similar systems are in other municipalities.

PALE, WAN CHEEKS INDICATE ANAEMIA

New Health Can Be Obtained by Enriching the Blood.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite, you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches, breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers, as the result of their own girlhood experience, can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develope further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renews the blood supply and banishes anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Among the many who have benefited by the use of these pills is Miss Dora Kerr, R.R. No. 4, Wiarton, Ont., who says: "For a long time I had been feeling tired and worn out. I was troubled with headache and backache, and would wake up in the morning feeling tired and depressed. I had to walk a considerable distance going to and from school and would feel so tired that it seemed I could not go another step. About this time a lady doctor came to the school to examine the children, and she told me I badly needed a tonic to build me up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had been used in our house before this and I began to take them. I can only say that they have greatly helped me. I no longer suffer from the headaches and backaches and I now wake up in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. If ever in need of a tonic again I shall lose no time in taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BROWN WARDEN

Mr. James Brown, Reeve of East Garafraxa, was unanimously chosen Warden of the County at the opening session of Dufferin County Council in the Court House here on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. T. W. The art of symbolism in speech has been developed by criminals to a point of perfection where their entire language is a cipher code which ordinary persons cannot understand. The tricks of symbol speech are revealed in the eleventh episode of Vitagraph's latest super-serial with amazing effect.

William Duncan, known as "the Sandow of the screen," is seen in the eleventh episode, manouvering within a band of safe blowers and counterfeiters, and attempting to get their secrets. He is baffled until he voluntarily enters prison as a gangster and causes one of the prisoners to decipher a code message. This reveals the secret of how the crooks use symbolism.

The word "horse," by this code, analyzes itself into "nightmare," "dreams," and finally "done." Thus the gangsters say "horses" when they mean "dope"

ANNUAL MEETING

St. Andrew's Church held its annual business meeting in the Sunday School Room on Thursday evening of last week. The Ladies' Aid Society provided a delightful innovation by serving supper during the early part of the evening. As a result of the efforts of the ladies the Sunday School room was filled to the doors, a rather novel experience at a business meeting in St. Andrew's. The proceedings were followed with keen interest. Reports showed the various departments of church work in excellent shape, notwithstanding the existence of a deficit in the General Fund account. This was due to a heavy increase in the expenses, on account of the increased cost of fuel, the installation of an electric organ blower and other improvements. The amount raised for missionary purposes was almost $1500, the largest sum raised in the history of the congregation. The Ladies' Aid reported a particularly good year and encouraging reports were submitted from the Sunday School, W. M. S. and Young People's Society. Messrs. Alex. Connell, R. Fairbairn and Dr. J. A. Mcleod, the retiring Managers, were reelected and Mr. Maura McNaughton was appointed to the vacancy created on the Board by the removal of Mr. J. S. Robertson, now residing in Toronto.

M'MULLEN–MITCHELL

A very pretty wedding took place last Tuesday afternoon, January 18th, 1921, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell, when their eldest daughter, Miss Mary Beatrice, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold Alymer McMullen. Rev. D. M. Buchanan, B. A., officiated and the ceremony was attended by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. After the wedding dinner had been served the happy young couple left for Vancouver and other Coast points, where the honeymoon will be spent.—Tugaske, Sask., Globe.

WON PRIZES

Orangeville Competitors Successful in Essay Contest.

Last autumn The Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada ran an advertising campaign, of which an Essay Contest for school children was a prominent feature. Two of the best essays submitted in the competition were written by David Nelson Black, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Black, The Maples, and Miss Viola White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. White, R. R. No. 5, Orangeville. The two contestants have received money prizes for their meritorious efforts. The essays we reproduce herewith:—

Essay submitted by David Nelson Black:

Why You Should Buy Canadian-Made Shoes.

The principal theme of the shoe business in anada is to raise production, and to help Canadian manufacturers in their work. The shoes we buy keep more of our money in Canada. It is for the natural benefit of Canada, and it helps to encourage manufacturers of Canadian calibre. Also, our country's good is our own good, and to help production and success is our chief theme. The Canadian stores and shops when buying shoes make a greater demand, and the more they buy the more the manufacturers have to put up.

This makes towns, cities and villages of the country prosperous, and if they are made strong and well a greater demand is in sight for them. Other countries, by their numerous agents, will learn Canada's ability to make good shoes or boots, and this will build up export and will start a great many factories in the country, besides Hull, and Quebec, to this purpose. Skins for leather will be sold for a better price, and this will encourage the seller to skin his animals when dead. Also, if Canadians can get shoes in Canada, it will save so much duty to get them expressed or shipped, and increase our national wealth and encourage prosperity.

Essay submitted by Miss Viola White:

Why You Should Buy Canadian-Made Shoes.

I am trying your contest called "Why You Should Buy Canadian-Made Shoes." The different reasons that we should buy Canadian-made shoes is that we want to buy shoes that were made in our own country. And we want to give the money to the people in our own country to make it more prosperous and rich. We know what the shoes are made of. We sell the leather to make the shoes and help to make them. We do not know how the shoes are made and what they are made of in foreign countries. We do not want to give money and buy from foreign countries. Our own country will lose all we send out of the country for shoes. Why not buy Canadian-made shoes in our own country and get them cheaper than sending to other countries for them? Canadian-made shoes are as good as ones brought from other countries. We spend money in sending for them to other countries. Another reason is that we should patronize the men that sell shoes in our own towns and cities. Canadian-made shoes are made in Canada and should be sold to the people that live in Canada. The people that buy foreign shoes are helping to make other countries larger and richer than Canada. If everyone buys shoes in other countries, what will become of our shoe factories and stores? If everyone buys shoes in Canada our shoe factories will do more business and more shoes will be made and the stores will sell more shoes. More factories will be built and the town become much larger and a better town, because it will be buying Canadian-made shoes. All the money that was spent in the country on shoes is making it richer. Everyone should buy Canadian-made shoes and help make Canada richer and patronize the factories and the men that make shoes. We want to buy shoes that we made in our own country and not buy shoes in foreign countries.

"DUST OF THE EARTH"

A capacity audience attended the presentation of the four act drama "Dust of the Earth" by the Laurel Dramatic Club in the Opera House on Monday night and were entertained to a very satisfying performance. The play possesses dramatic interest and possibilities and these qualities were very well brought out by the actors. While all parts were creditably taken, Miss M. Cook, "Dust of the Earth," W. B. Grossklarth as John Ryder, H. O. Ewing as Rev. Dr. Templeton, Al. Morrison as Jerry and Mrs. Stanley Allen as Susan Moore are deserving of special mention for the skill with which they presented the parts assigned to them. This is said without any reflection on the other members of the Club, who were all good in their respective roles. Laurel is fortunate in having so much dramatic ability and the young people of the Presbyterian church from whose membership the actors are drawn have good reason to feel proud of the manner in which the promising amateurs acquit themselves on the public score. Falconer's orchestra discoursed delightful music before and between acts. The play was given under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose and the Society will net about $75 from the venture.

IDENTIFIED DAUGHTER

Was Killed by G. T. R. Train at Woodbine Crossing Last October

On Sunday morning Mr. Thomas Parkin, of 55 Peterborough Ave., Toronto, identified clothing at police headquarters that had been worn by the young girl killed by a G. T. R. train at the crossing near Woodbine avenue on October 9th last, as that of his sixteen-year-old daughter, Edna May Parkin.

Despite efforts of the police the body was not identified and was buried as "an unknown" in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Mr. Parkin said his daughter was in the habit of going away and staying with friends, and when he read of a girl being killed by a train on October 9 he was inclined to believe it was his daughter, but a friend happened to remark he had seen Edna on the street.

The shoes and clothing worn by the girl were shown to Mr. Parkin and he was convinced the body was that of his daughter. He stated he would have the body removed from Mount Pleasant Cemetery and buried beside the girl's mother in the family plot at Shelburne.

Deceased was an invalid and had been helpless for the last seven years. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, interment taking place in Relessey cemetery. Rev. C. H. Forth, of Rosemont, was the officiating clergyman. Six nephews, Clare, Bert, Clinton and Harold McCutcheon, Lawrence Barber and Leonard Halbert were the pallbearers.

MRS. ELIZA GREASON

The death of Mrs. Eliza Greason, an old resident of Amaranth township, took place at her home near Laurel on Tuesday, January 18th, at the ripe age of 78 years. Deceased, who had been in failing health during the last five years, was born in the County of Armagh, Ireland, but came to Canada when quite a young girl in company with her three cousins, the late Mrs. Robt. Ferns, Mrs. Robt. Hewitt and Mrs. James Hewitt. The late Mrs. Greason, whose maiden name was Eliza Hanna, was married on February 10th, 1870, to the late John Greason, who predeceased her six years ago. She was a woman of quiet disposition and very fine character and was loved and respected by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss her three sons, Thos., living on the 2nd line, Amaranth, John, of Regina, and Robert on the homestead, and also three daughters, Mrs. Jos. Langtree, of Amaranth, Mrs. Robert Gray and Miss Hannah, at home. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to Greenwood cemetery on Thursday afternoon, January 20th. Owing to illness in the family the service at the house was brief and was conducted by the Rev. J. A. Reddon, pastor of Laurel Presbyterian Church, who was assisted at the grave by the Rev. Mr. Lynd, of Laurel Methodist Church. The pallbearers were her three sons and Messrs. Wm. Langtree, Geo. Varcoe and Jos. Langtree. The floral tributes included:—Gates Ajar from Robert and Hannah Greason; wreath from Mr. and Mrs. John Greason and family; pillow from Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Langtree and family; wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Greason and a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Grosskurth, Laurel. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

MRS. JAMES HAND

Mrs. James Hand passed away at her late residence, lot 15, 3rd line, east, Mono, on Friday last after an illness of about one year's duration from an incurable malady. Deceased suffered greatly, but bore her pain with resignation and fortitude. Mrs. Hand, who was 39 years and 9 months of age, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, of Shelburne, her maiden name being Minnie Robinson. Her death makes the first break in a family of four brothers and six daughters. She was married to Mr. Hand 16 years ago and is survived by her husband and a family of two sons, Emerson and Donald, and two daughters, Stella and Bertha, who have the sympathy of the neighborhood in their trying loss. There was a large attendance of neighbors at the funeral to Burns' Church Cemetery, Mono Centre, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. William Coutts conducted the services and the pallbearers were the four brothers, Albert Robinson, of Niagara Falls, George, of Toronto, William, of Richmond Hill, and John, of Shelburne, and Messrs. Fred Manning, Orangeville, and Jos. Hand, Violet Hill. The surviving sisters are Mrs. Fred Manning, Orangeville, Mrs. John Bingham, Shelburne, Mrs. Watson, Niagara Falls, Mrs. Thomas Ridge and Mrs. Miles Rutledge, Toronto. The flowers included a wreath from the father and children, pillow from brothers and sisters, spray from father and mother, and sprays from the Camilla U. F. O. Club, Alex. Mann and family, J. H. Bell and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Manley, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jackson, Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Richmond Hill. Among the friends from a distance were Messrs. J. H. Bell and Geo. Bingham, Amaranth, Jos. Hand, Violet Hill, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patterson, Sheldon, Mrs. H. Bodin, Oil City, and Mr. Elgin Bingham, Shelburne.

CALEDON.

The ratepayers' meeting on Friday last, called by the Reeve to discuss the telephone situation in this township, was only fairly well attended. Mr. W. J. Limebeer, ex-Warden, occupied the chair in his usual capable manner. He called upon Reeve Quinn, who explained the situation and said the purchase was now almost completed and the petitioners would soon have full control of the system, but claimed that the two hundred men who had signed up were not a sufficient number to make it a success and if it fell on them, they were under no obligation to carry on and provide a service and there was a chance that they would sell out and the whole equipment would be removed from Caledon. Mr. Quinn informed the ratepayers that if they wanted a telephone service they had better sign up at once, which quite a number did after a promise had been added to the petition specifying that unless 300 names were secured it would not be binding on those who signed up since the New Year. Reeve Quinn is deserving of some credit for the fine and courageous way and the business ability which he displayed in connection with the deal.

SAM HADDEN DEAD

Former Orangeville Man Passed Away in Toronto.

A well-known member of the Toronto Typograhpical Union died at six o'clock Tuesday morning in the person of Sam Hadden. For the past nine years he was financial secretary of the union. Mr. Hadden, during his early connection with the union, practically controlled the organization's political affairs, and always took an active interest in the union. When a young man he lived in Orangeville and learned the printing business on the Orangeville Advertiser, then under the control of the late Fisher Monro. He subsequently worked on the Guelph Herald, then moved to Chicago and moved to Toronto about 18 years ago.

For two years he was president of the Typograhpical Union, and an international officer for several years. He was also international delegate to the Trades and Labor Congress for six years.

On Sunday night he was removed to the hospital suffering from a stroke. He soon became unconscious and never rallied. He was about 63 years of age and single.

The late Mr. Hadden was a cousin of Mr. William Morrow, Amanda St.

JOHN B. ARMSTRONG

The news of the death on Monday morning of Mr. John B. Armstrong, formerly a prominent farmer in the townships of Caledon and Amaranth, came as a great shock to his many friends, oldtime neighbors and other acquaintances in Orangeville and surrounding district. The sad event took place at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. John Little, of Mono Road. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong went West last spring to spend the summer with their sons, who are farming in Saskatchewan, and returned to Ontario only a short time before Christmas. Mr. Armstrong had been quite poorly for the last two months from the after effects of a severe attack of the flu. He was able to be up and to go about until a week before his death, when he became bedfast. Deceased, who was in his 62nd year, was born in Caledon township about three miles from Orangeville and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Armstrong, early residents of the township. He spent his boyhood on the homestead and farmed in Caledon for some years subsequent to his marriage. He subsequently moved to Amaranth, where he owned and worked a 200 acre property near Farmington until about two years ago, when he and Mrs. Armstrong retired from the cares and burdens of active farm life. Deceased was a successful farmer and stock breeder and had achieved considerable prominence as a breeder of heavy horses. He was a kind-hearted, sociable man, an excellent neighbor and a citizen who took a keen interest in all questions affelting the welfare of his own community or the country at large. He was a member of the Anglican church, a staunch Conservative and a member for many years of Mono Britons L. O. L. No. 259. Mr. Armstrong was heartily interested in all projects to better conditions on the farm. He served as school trustee for many years and was a Director and a Past President of the Dufferin Agricultural Society. The welfare of this Society was always very close to Mr. Armstrong's heart and his advice and counsel were freely sought by its officers on many occasions. Deceased is survived by a widow and five sons, to whom the sympathy of all friends is extended in their time of loss. The sons are Ernest, of Edmonton, Cecil, Lee and David, of Prelate, Sask, and Elmer, of Sceptre, Sask. Edward Armstrong, of Vancouver, James and Vernet Armstrong, of Orangeville, William E. Armstrong, of Hamilton, Mrs. Geo. Holmes and Mrs. Richard Young, Orangeville, Mrs. Harry Davis of Caledon East, and Misses Margaret and Jennie, of Caledon, are the surviving brothers and sisters.

The funeral was held from the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Little, to Sandhill Cemetery, at 2 o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon.

RURAL SCHOOLS

A Reader Defends Present System and Points Out Consolidation Difficulties.

Dear Sir:

Kindly allow me a little space in the columns of your valuable paper for a few remarks on education in the rural schools.

There has been considerable said on the consolidation of rural schools. I see by an address delivered at Sarnia, January 19th, by Rev. J. R. Bell, Consolidated School Lecturer of the Department of Education, Toronto, that he estimates the cost of teaching three pupils in one section at nine hundred dollars. He fails to tell us what it would cost to teach those three pupils under the consolidated school system. Nor yet does he tell us what it costs the government to send him around lecturing on this topic throughout the Province of Ontario.

We are told by other provinces that the cost is from seventy-five to one hundred per cent. more than under the present system. That would mean that it would cost that section, at twenty-five per cent. one thousand, five hundred and seventy-five dollars under a consolidated school system instead of nine hundred dollars under present rural school system. The consolidated school cry is not coming from the rural people. They are quite satisfied with the rural schools. If they would make education a little cheaper, and thus put it within the reach of the poor man's family as well as the rich, there would not be so many teachers with only entrance certificates.

The cry for consolidated schools is coming from ministers, Inspectors and teachers, together with town and city people. They do not understand the unfavorable conditions there would be for the rural children and their parents. Children far away from the school would have to rise very early in the morning in order to be ready when the van would call. In many cases they would have to walk to some main point to meet the van. If the van was not there, they would have to stand there in the cold. If it was gone they would have to walk back home and therefore miss school that day. It would be impossible for either van or children to be at these points on time especially in unfavorable weather, and this is the time when it is most necessary that they should be there. With these disadvantages we are saying nothing of the long and tiresome day it would make for the young child.

To my mind if the government would cut out superannuation along any line there would not be so many people looking for soft jobs or opening up new situations. I think it is a most unfair thing, after a teacher has obtained a certificate, for the government to pass a law to compel her to pay two and one half per cent. of the salary which is from seven hundred to one thousand dollars, to Inspectors, Principals of Public and High schools who are on big salaries and who ought to be able to live without it, better than a Public School teacher who rarely reaps any benefits from the fund.

An answer to an address in the Mail & Empire, from a reader of The Orangeville Banner and a rural school supporter.

CAMILLA

Mr. George Lanktree, of Weston, is visiting his sister, Mrs. R. J. Galbraith, and other friends here.

Misses Wilson and Buchanan, of Primrose, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson.

The Dramatic Club presented their play "A Noble Outcast" to a large audience in Mann's Hall last Thursday night. The Camilla orchestra provided the entertainment between acts. The members of the Club are to be congratulated upon the success they are achieving in the different places they have presented their play. A capital play staged by amateur actors of more than ordinary histrionic ability makes a good combination.

Mrs. Proctor and son, of Melancthon, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gallaugher.

We are glad to report that Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Bell, Miss Emack, Mrs. John Buchanan, Mr. Daniel Large, Fred Buchanan and others, who have been on the sick list, are all recovering.

The members of the Young People's Society were the guests of the Whittington League last Thursday evening. Part of the evening's entertainment consisted of a debate, "Resolved that Women's Fashions Should not Change More Than once in Five Years. Camilla representatives—Mrs. (Rev.) Coutts and Miss Lillian Rayfield—were the champions of the negative, and added to the glory of Camilla by winning the argument and defeating the big men from the West.

Rev. Will Bremner, of Galt, was home for a few days last week.

Miss Belle Buchanan has been spending a week with Mrs. John Buchanan.

Mr. Knowles returned to his home in Muskoka Saturday after a very pleasant visit with Mrs. (Rev.) Coutts.

Miss Hannah Rayfield has returned home, accompanied by her aunt, Miss P. H. Rayfield, of Galt.

The members of St. Andrew's church and a number of friends met at the home of Miss Myrtle Marshall last Wednesday evening and presented her with a wrist watch and purse as a recognition of her services as organist for a period of seven years.

Services were held in our church Sunday morning on account of the funeral of Mrs. James Hand in the afternoon. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Hand and family in their grievous loss.

The Gleno School has been closed for several weeks on account of the serious illness of the teacher, Miss Emack.

Artificial Silk.

The first mention on record of an attempt to make artificial silk dates back to the year 1734. In that year a French scientist, Reaumur, experimented with certain inks and varnishes, which he forced through small holes in a steel die. The resulting fibres were silk-like in appearance, but no commercial use was made of his invention. The subject lay dormant until Andemars, a Swedish chemist, developed a process for making artificial silk in the year 1855. He dissolved wood cellulose, obtained from mulberry trees, in a mixture of alcohol and ether. The threads after having been forced through dies had a silky lustre; practically the same process is used to-day, substituting cotton cellulose and a great variety of wood cellulose for that obtained from the mulberry tree.

A Famous Chef.

For the first time in the history of the Legion of Honor a cook has been admitted to membership; but M. Escoffier, the cook in question, is no ordinary cook. Since the close of the Franco-Prussian War he has been attached to the staffs of leading Paris and London restaurants, and has served as chef at state dinners in Spain, Germany, Italy, France, and America. He has amassed great wealth by his art—for an art it is—and he collects antique furniture, marbles, rare books, and old masters, which adorn his magnificent home in Paris.

LAUREL.

The Laurel Branch of the Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting in the schoolhouse on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock. The teacher and scholars will provide the program. A full attendance of the members is requested.

CAMILLA

Over seventy-five people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall on Wednesday evening last and presented Miss Myrtle Marshall with a handsome gold wrist watch and a leather purse as a slight recognition of her services as organist for a number of years. The following address was read by Mr. W. A. Henry:

Dear Miss Marshall:

We, the members of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla, are gathered together to do honour to you as a faithful member of our church and choir. We desire to place on record our deep and lasting appreciation of the years you gave so willingly and graciously of your services as organist. You were faithful and efficient in the discharge of your duties, always endeavoring to improve the services in the House of our Lord by the rendition of beautiful music, inspiring the congregation with nobler thoughts of duty and of love toward our fellowmen and toward God. In conclusion we ask you to accept the accompanying gifts as a proof of the very high esteem in regard in which we hold you. As the years of your life are measured out may the rythm of each succeeding day be one of concord and harmony making the melody of happiness in your heart and in the hearts of those near and dear to you.

Signed on behalf of the congregation and choir,

John Turner, Mrs. W. Coutts, Fred Buchanan, Frank Turner, Wm. Coutts, W. A. Henry, Lillian Rayfield, Verna Thompson.

Miss Lillian Rayfield made the presentation. After a modest reply from Miss Marshall, suitable addresses were made by the chairman, Rev. Wm. Coutts, and Messrs. John McNaughton, Robert Reid and W. A. Henry. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing, the latter continuing until the wee hours of the morning.

THE "FLU" Dare Not Return

The "Flu" will certainly get a warm reception this winter if it dares show its ugly head in our peaceful midst, for the people are confident now that they can deal it such a smashing blow it will never survive. In every village, town and city in Canada, families are fortifying themselves with the greatest "Flu" ammunition known to science—Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. Colds, coughs, etc.—the advance guards of Flu—are met with withering fire, and relief from these troubles is sure every time. One hundred thousand Canadians are only too willing to testify to the great healing power this remedy contains. It has conquered coughs of 35 years' standing. It cannot fail to do for you what it has done for others. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose, as it is sold under a money-back guarantee to banish coughs, colds, bronchitis, bronchial asthma and prevent you from getting the "Flu." It is not a syrup, but a scientific mixture, 20 times stronger than any other cough cure. One dose gives instant relief. Price, 75 cents. Take no substitute. None genuine without my signature.

Pretty Smart Chickens.

A recent morning a Missouri farmer placed three crates of chickens and five bushels of potatoes in his trailer, hitched the trailer to his automobile and started for town. He was almost there when he discovered he had no trailer. He found he had parted company with it a quarter of a mile from home, and when he got back to it the crates were empty and the potatoes frozen.

He presumed, of course, the chickens had been stolen, and was greatly surprised when he went to the henhouse early next day after breakfast to find every one of the chickens there. Not one was missing. They had all returned home, but how they got out out of the crates probably will always remain a mystery.

Army Discipline.

The cistern had sprung a leak, and the master plumber and his demobilized men came to investigate, says a writer in London Evening News. The hole was found, and the master said to his man: "Put a patch on here, Jim," indicating the place with his finger. The patch was put on, but the cistern still leaked, and the master found that the patch had been put on at the side of the hole. "I put it just where you pointed, guvnor," said Jim. "I've been two years in the army, and now I always do exactly as I am told."

Sir Douglas Haig's Popularity.

The prime factor in Sir Douglas Haig's great popularity among the British armies was undoubtedly the interest he always showed in the boy soldiers. During the many inspections in France it was the invariable practice of nearly all generals—Kitchener and French included—to hurry along the ranks until they came to the old soldiers with the rows of campaign ribbons on their breasts. Sir Douglas Haig always singled out the youngest boys for his attention. You could see them flush and stammer and straighten up with pride at being noticed by the commander in chief. Nor did he ever omit in these early days his special word of thanks "to all those who have left their benches, shops, and offices to help us professional soldiers to see it through."

CALEDON COUNCIL, 1921

Tom Quinn is Reeve—
I really believe
He is worthy of office so high;
But the good man still
Can make a nice pill,
If his medical skill you try.

For Deputy-Reeve,
I really believe
Jim McDonald was the man to get there;
For he has plenty of cheek,
Combs his hair very sleek,
And for tongue (like myself) has his share.

George Giles and Sutton
Were out for the reeve,
Along with Jim Hilliard so free,
The latter selection
Dropped out of the race,
There were others as worthy you see.

Trathen and McBride
Are in for the east,
And Martin, who sells by the day;
Speers and Dick, so bold,
Are left out in the cold,
Some thought they had too much to say.

Bill Wilson for deputy-reeve,
Did really expect to get there,
But when he went to the hall,
Right after the poll,
To learn the vote of the day,
Said the d——Grits had done it all.

BOTH NEW AND OLD

Mexico a Mixture of the Ancient and Modern.

Prehistoric Remains Show That the Builders Had a High State of Civilization—Native Tribes and Races Still Exist.

What manner of folk are the Mexicans?

Whatever one's views on the wisest political course toward Mexico, it will help in a thorough understanding of that country to examine the rich history, the ancient civilization, the prehistoric remains to be found among our southern neighbors, says the National Geographic society.

"Of the 16,000,000 inhabitants, two-fifths claim direct descent from ancient tribes or families which are accepted as the basis of Mexican history, two-fifths are of mixed native and foreign blood, the remainder being classed under the common appellation of 'foreign.'

"Throughout much of the country, and often within short distances of railroads, are remnants of some of the ancient native tribes or races, adhering to customs, methods and speech of their ancestors. Thus in Oaxaca are the Zapotecas and Mixtecas, the estimate for the two races being a half million, and a government publication mentions a dozen other families in the same state.

"In Hidalgo and adjacent states, the Otomis; in Puebla and Oaxaca, the Mexicanos; the predominating Mayas in Yucatan; in Michoacan and Jalisco, the Tarascans, and the Tlaxcalans, in their native state, and other groups elsewhere, still maintain the tribal individualities.

"Although Spanish is the language of the country and much English is spoken in the regions most visited, a large number of the natives use only the vernacular.

"Prescott refers to the Aztecs, Tlaxcalans and others as producers of delicate fabrics, colored by vegetable dyes; intricate designs in the precious metals, and beautiful decorations made of feathers; numerous ruins also indicate marvelous skill of ancient peoples in stone-work, especially as the tools used were obsidian or copper.

"Evidence that this deftness in handiwork has been retained appears in the feather-work, wood-carving, stone-cutting, etc., of the present day. The beautiful pottery and unique weaves of serapes, made with the crudest appliances, and excellent fabrication in cast or wrought iron, filigree silver, etc., also bear testimony to the skill of the Mexican Indian.

"Mexico has a wealth of archaeological relics, remnants of an ancient civilization of which no well-defined trace exists. Volumes have been written to demonstrate that the builders of what are now ruins were of Mongolian, Semitic, or Phoenician origin, but the riddle cannot be admitted as solved. All authorities, however, unite in praise of the magnitude and the perfection of workmanship shown at various ruins found throughout the Mexican territory. The region adjacent to some of these raises question as to the source of sustenance for multitudes which must have then existed, and causes speculation upon changes which may have occurred in the interval.

"Prominent among these ruins are Uxmal and Chichen-Itza, in the state of Yucatan; Palenque, in the state of Chipas; Mitla, in the state of Oaxaca, and Xochicalco, in the state of Morelos.

"The pyramid of Cholula, in Puebla, and those of the Sun and Moon, in the state of Mexico, have also been liberally described, but distributed over wide areas are many other ruins which have had but little or no investigation, and rock sculptures, images, idols and ancient pottery, found in numerous localities, are the only records of peoples whose history is unknown and whose names even are lost."

FARM WOMAN SHOULD HAVE HUSBAND FOR FIELD WORK, ANOTHER FOR CHORES.

Replying to suggestion of two wives for farmers, Colorado woman says they always have two, the "first dying of Drudgery."

Two husbands for the woman on the farm is the suggestion of Mary Cornwall, of Woodrow, Colorado, in a letter to Governor Shoup. The letter is an answer to the letter of George Smith, Colorado farmer, who recommended that the Governor get behind a law permitting farmers to have two wives.

Miss Cornwall, or Mrs. Cornwall—it is not apparent from her letter whether she is married or single—shakes a vitriolic pen. She does not agree in the least with Farmer Smith's suggestion, as may be seen from her letter to the Governor, which follows:

"I have read that a farmer applied to you suggesting that farmers should have two wives—at the same time.

"It should be reversed. The wife should have two husbands at the same time.

"The farmer rises, sits down to a good breakfast that has been prepared for him, gets on his sulky plow, his tractor or his harvester, and rides in the shade, comes in to a good dinner, rides again, the hired man puts away the machinery or animals, the farmer reads his papers and cultivates his grouch.

"The wife rises at 4, prepares breakfast, milks the cows, attends to the churning, attends to the chickens, carries all the water for the domestic uses at least 100 feet, rushes out to the distant coal pile, keeps up the fires, gets the kids ready for school, puts up their lunch, then sets to work for a big dinner of solid food, clears that away, darns and sews on a last century sewing machine, gets supper, put the children to bed, gets in the coal and water for the morning, does this 365 days in the year.

"The farmer always has two wives; the first one dies at forty or fifty—glad to close her tired eyes on the everlasting drudgery. The lonesome widower marries another woman to take up the burdens.

"Now reverse this. Give the farmer's wife one husband to work in the fields, the second to stay around the house, help with the drudgery and keep her company and occasionally have a pleasant word to say to her, to shovel snow from the walk, to carry the water and take a hand in all the primitive servitude that characterizes life on the ranch.

"There is nothing of domestic comfort on the average ranch. No lights at night except smoky lamps. No hot and cold water. No fuel except that piled in the yard. Screen doors unmended. The Indians lived more comfortably than the average ranch wife.

"Hence, I say, let us have polyandry at least until modern conveniences of fuel, light and water are installed in the farm house."

HOPELESS CASE

The keeper of the insane asylum had taken his patients out for a walk when they ran across a pedestrian gazing perplexedly at the railroad tracks.

"Can you tell me where this railroad goes?" he asked.

"You'd better come along quietly back inside with us," answered one of the patients soothingly. "That does not go anywhere. They just keep it there to run trains on."

ODE TO THE DUF-FERIN LACROSSE TEAM

To-night in this Opera House we're assembled,
'Midst happiness, gaiety and mirth.
But don't forget we are in the presence
Of the greatest Lacrosse Team on earth.

All through the season of 1920,
They never were beaten on Idylwyld grounds.
Hard games they played; hard games a-plenty,
But at every result our joy knew no bounds.

Bradford was the first to fall,
And Weston followed soon;
Down sunk their hopes which had been tall,
Before Wednesday afternoon.

Woodbridge came next upon the list,
The conquerors to fix;
But the Dufferins trimmed them tooth and fist,
On the round, twenty-two to six.

With Bradford trimmed to a finish,
To Weston they journeyed next,
But Weston, our hopes to diminish,
Made "tie the round" their text.

They decided then to "play-off,"
With their rivals of other days;
But were forced to take their hats off,
For we licked them forty ways.

Then into the semi-final group,
Went the green and white brigade;
They put St. Mary's in the soup,
In the return game never was played.

Then sweet to them was their next meal,
The Bracebridge squad to beat;
'Tis true they got a dirty deal,
But they licked them off their feet.

Then down to Mimico they went,
And trimmed the asylum team;
But to their feelings they gave vent,
And treated Gordon mean.

But when they came to Orangeville,
They were treated like gentlemen,
By the good old crowd that always will Treat their visitors like men.

But still another team they faced,
So they tightened on their clamps,
Their whole strength, in the field they placed,
And trimmed the Senior Champs.

They came home very late that night,
But we were still awake;
We welcomed them with all our might,
And we told them they were "jake."

The crowd around the Officers,
Was like an ocean tide;
And the smile on Jimmy Armstrong's face
Was near a whole yard wide.

And now that all is said and done,
To show we are not toughs,
Here goes, boys, after all our fun,
Hats off to the Champion Duffs.

(Composed and recited by Wilson McConnell on the occasion of the silver presentation and concert in honor of the champion Dufferins last December.)

MIGHT GET A MOUTHFUL

Since her husband had become a Government contractor, Mrs. Newton has put on no end of style. Recently she gave an "at home" and thought to impress her guests by having the gardener in to hand round the food.

He managed fairly well, except for spilling tea on the frock of the doctor's lady and treading on the vicar's pet corn.

But he got tired of offering the thin bread and thinner butter to the old lady who seemed like making a meal of it. At the seventh trip he bent down and advised her in husky tones, which rang through the room:

"If ye was to slap two or three pieces together, ma'am, mebbe you'd get a mouthful."

ACCORDING TO HIS LIGHTS

Amusing Story That the Late Colonel Roosevelt Used to Tell of "Big Tim" Sullivan.

"Most men, I believe, are good citizens, according to their lights. Take 'Big Tim' Sullivan for example.

"Tim came to me while I was in the White House to get a pardon for a friend. The man was in Atlanta for blowing a post office safe, shooting the watchman and I know not what.

"Tim was insistent that he had reformed and that he'd go straight if he were pardoned. The post office folk did not think so, neither did the department of justice. But Tim was so sure, so positive, that I decided to favor him.

"'I'll give you this pardon, Tim,' said I, 'on one condition. You must take it to Atlanta yourself, see this man before he has a chance to see any of his old pals and warn him that if he goes wrong again he will not only be punished to the limit, but will have to finish out this sentence as well. There will be no mercy for him. And at the end of the year I want you to bring the fellow here and let me know how he's made out.'

"Tim agreed to this. He would have agreed to anything, and kept his agreement, too. He got the pardon and went his way. I forgot all about the thing until just one year ago. I was told Tim was waiting to see me. He had an appointment, he told the attendant.

"'Mr. President,' said he, when he came in. "I've come about that fellow Blank. You know you told me to bring him here when he'd been out a year and let you know how he's been acting. He's outside now.'

"'Yes, I remember,' I told him. 'How has he been doing?'

"'He's been perfect, Mr. President,' said the big fellow. 'When I got him to New York I put him to work behind a wheel in a gambling house, and he's been doing fine ever since.'

"That was good behavior, as Big Tim saw it!"—McClure's Magazine.

SUGGESTS GUNS AS POSTMEN

Englishman Cites War Tests as Argument for Plan That Seems to Have Possibilities.

New uses have been found for many things that were invented largely or entirely for war. Submarines may yet assist us in peace time for certain purposes in connection with salvage, aeroplanes as a means of rapid transport, munition factories for the manufacture of sewing machines. Of these things we have heard much, but what of that first and foremost instrument, the shell?

A shell has all the points that go to make a good servant and a reliable messenger. It is quick, punctual, certain, accurate, is not unromantic, can travel in all weather, can carry a heavy load 5, 10, 20 or 75 miles, brooks no outsiders on its journey, and is, moreover, available in such immediate and abundant supply that it is a little short of an act of folly to relegate to the scrap heap or war museum, without fair investigation of its potentialities, our vast and wonderful array of artillery.

Every one is familiar with the system of collecting and receipting customers' payments in big shops. The money is put into balls which roll along skeleton tubes to the cashier's desk, where they are unscrewed, the money taken out and the ball sent rolling back with the change and the receipt.

Here is an army of messengers, each of whom is a rolling ball. Do not think that my suggestion that shells should be used likewise is altogether new.

When a brigade is "going over the top" one of the gun teams of the Stokes mortar battery is sometimes told off for a "mysterious purpose." They have been attached, with their gun, to headquarters, and supplied with a strange-looking kind of shell that unscrews to receive messages, which they fire to battalion headquarters across the barrage. The shell contains a smoke cartridge, and when it falls the stream of smoke shows the position so that the battalion signallers can dash from their cover to pick it up.

This method was improvised to meet certain contingencies; it contains, however, the possibilities of infinite extension and elaboration. Instead of the casual Stokes gun, imagine that we are going to use a 9.2 howitzer, which is accurate to a yard in 12 miles—so accurate indeed that a shell could be depended upon to arrive at the appointed spot without the aid of a smoke stream to advertise its position—and can carry not a hastily scribbled note, but a mail of 2,000 or 3,000 letters.

Air Current to Grade Coal.

An interesting method of grading fine coal by means of an air current is in use at an English colliery. The coal is delivered to the washery by a bucket elevator and discharged onto shaking screens. The grading apparatus is fixed immediately over the delivery chute of the elevator, the mixed coal allowed to flow over a hinged weir plate. Immediately under this plate is an orifice through which a powerful current of air is drawn by means of a centrifugal fan. The size of the opening is capable of adjustment by means of a sliding plate. The passing stream of coal is brought nearer to or kept farther from the section by adjusting the hinged weir plate, so that any desired proportion of small coal can be drawn off. A deflecting plate is fitted into the receiver, which serves to throw the larger pieces of coal to the bottom; the fine dust, passing with the air through the fan, is finally collected in cyclone separators.

Spiritualism In China.

"It is strange that the belief in spiritualism is so universal all over China, whether among the Chinese proper or among the aboriginals," says Mr. S. Pollard in his record of observations and adventures during a prolonged sojourn among the wild and unknown Yosu tribes, north of the Yangtse Kiang river, which he has published under the title "In Unknown China."

"One often hears about the three religions of China," writes the missionary author, "but the Chinese themselves sometimes speak of four religions, and the fourth is the most powerful of all. If Confucianism, Buddhism, and Taoism are religions, then spiritualism is also one of the religions of these people living in China, and it holds tremendous sway. It is practically all-powerful in Nosuland; it rules among the Nosus, south of the Yangtse who have submitted to the rule of the Mandarins; it is very prevalent among the other tribes; and almost every Chinese family that is not Christian believes in it.

"An attempt made after the revolution to put down the trade of the medium has not succeeded. Outside of every town and near to every village are houses where the mediums are at the disposal of everybody who is prepared to pay for their services. They are willing to visit the other world and find out whose influence in the world of shades is working against the fortunes of the inquirer."

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

What Edison did during the War

THE official announcement is out. Ask us for your copy of "What Edison Did During the War." Write for it, if you can't call.

It tells how Edison left his home and business and went to sea, how Edison's "Yankee magic" foiled the German submarines.

The bulletin tells many other things Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board. It explains how Edison kept the price of his phonograph checked during an era of high costs and soaring prices. Since 1914 the New Edison has advanced in price (in the United States) less than 15%—and part of this was war tax.

This bulletin also describes the Budget Plan which makes it possible for every home to enjoy the benefits of good music without feeling the financial outlay.

LAUREL

Quite a number of our young people made a trip to Shelburne skating rink last Tuesday night. All report a grand time.

Mr. John Greason arrived home from the West on Monday evening.

Mr. J. A. McBride paid our town a visit last week.

The Sewing Course in connection with the Women's Institute proved to be quite a success. Those who attended the class were:—Mrs. R. Fife, Mrs. A. Harrison, Mrs. A. Trimble, Mrs. Thos. Whaley, Miss F. Stevenson, Miss Olive Pratt, Miss Velma Kelly, Miss Laura Allen, Miss Lizzie Curry, Miss Irene Bowen, Miss Eliza Rennick, Miss Pearl Trimble, Miss Jean Hughes, Mrs. Rev. Lynd, Mrs. George Gordon and Miss M. Cook.

We are pleased to hear that Miss Hannah Greason, who has been dangerously ill, is improving now.

Death has visited our community again, and called home one of our old and respected citizens, in the person of Mrs. Eliza Greason.

Mr. Al Morrison is renewing old acquaintances in the vicinity.

Wedding bells are ringing. Guess.

Manna Not Heavenly.

Strange to stumble upon a quotation about manna in news of the drug and chemical trades! The children of Israel, we know, were saved from starvation in the desert by it. It fell from heaven, was small like coriander seed, and tasted like wafers made with honey.

However, the actual manna of trade today comes from incisions in South European trees and it is now reported to have been quoted higher than previously in the primary market. The demand has increased of late, especially for small flake manna, which is the better quality, coming from the upper part of the stem of the tree.

Referred to an Expert.

Mr. Flutters—That plump, petite lady over there is my fiance, Miss Puddin. Don't you think that she has the face and figure of a goddess?

Professor Investigger—Now that you mention it, I think she has. I've been studying some old Aztec carvings and I consider the resemblance quite striking.

BREAKING BOUNDARIES

NATIONS ARE PREPARING TO STUDY ONE ANOTHER.

Schools Have Recently Been Established In Various Countries Which May Eventually Be the Means of Promoting a New Type of Intellectual Internationalism.

BEGINNING about 1900, a favorite theme for discussion was the relative merits of nationalism and internationalism. The one camp insisted that each nation should, if not exactly live unto itself, at least endeavor to make its predominant characteristics stand out. This was to increase variety. The other argued that the nations of the earth should do everything to erase national distinctions, if not boundaries, and live after the fashion of their neighbors across the border. This was to further peace. Then came the war.

This war, more so than any in history, has been a leveller. It not merely reduced twenty-odd nations to a common level of poverty. It not merely made peasantry, commonality, gentry, and even royalty fight side by side. It left in its wake the spirit of and the imperative demand for internationalism. It taught the world that co-operation among nations is indispensable if peace and prosperity are to be realities.

That this will bring about a new type of politics is self-evident. That it will have an immeasurable effect upon trade is to be expected. But its influence upon education and journalism, though already noticeable, has not been duly emphasized. What will this be? With the nations of the world bound together by a league, or affiliated through a society, as the French prefer to call it, what will be the new function of the university and the metropolitan daily?

The first notable effect that this new spirit of internationalism has had on the great universities is seen in their increased interest in international law, the purpose of which is to "teach the legal codes of other nations." Such men as Balfour, Leon Bourgeois, Venizelos, and Scialoia are back of it. New South Wales, seeing that she will be called on to play her part in the League, has founded a similar school at Sydney. The University of Berlin has opened a school for the study of other nations. The first course of lectures will be delivered on Great Britain, "because it is now plain that the Germans thoroughly misunderstood the English; otherwise they would not have taken such foolish views as to the part Britain would play in the World War."

And aside from the universities as such, international institutes are being set up at this moment in London, Madrid, and Sofia for the help of those who wish not merely to "study abroad," but to learn the ways of foreign peoples. And Country Life (London) now informs us that a similar institute is to be opened in New York.

As to international schools of lower grade, be it said to the everlasting credit of little Denmark that she was the first to appreciate the situation educationally. On the outskirts of Copenhagen an international school has just been opened. It is the first of its kind. The students come from the four corners of the earth and are taught by a staff equally cosmopolitan. The student from Madrid can go there and be taught by a Spaniard until he learns Danish. The student from Belgrade can enter a Serbian class until familiar with the language of the Hansens and Jensens.

But Denmark's aim is not to make propaganda for Danish. By having representatives of the various nations associate with each other during their formative period and in an intellectual way she hopes to make for internationalism in thought and thinking. It is an undertaking in every way commendable.

Heretofore the Canadian daily newspaper has considered foreign news as more interesting than valuable. The foreign correspondent cabled home only the big stories. If he sent accounts of "off" events it was largely in the interest of the feature column. In the future an earthquake in Italy, or the sale of 10,000 sewing machines to Jugo-Slavia, or an epidemic of hoof and mouth disease among the cattle of Belgium will have almost the same significance for a Toronto daily that they would have had they occurred in the western provinces. People may continue to live where they have always lived, but they cannot live as they have lived. Their deeds are in direct connection with the rest of the world. It is only the very smallest events that will remain, henceforth, purely "local."

And the League of Nations Official Journal may be only the forerunner of a monthly that really "covers" the world with an eye single of course to proportion in its discussion of events, but wholly undiscriminating and paying no more attention, relatively, to the country in which it chances to be issued than to antipodal regions. And from this it will be but a step to the Daily World, a cosmopolitan newspaper published in various centres simultaneously and giving each morning or evening the real news of the world, as this might be gathered at present from a score or so of the leading dailies of the different countries could they all be secured not less than an hour after their appearance at some "grand central" news stand.

As to the basic idea contained in the League of Nations — politicians may rage against it and men whose minds work only in the accustomed groove may doubt its feasibility. But the thing itself, after having shown signs of its coming for years, has finally arrived. It is the result of history and not the dream of idealists.

The forest area of Brazil is estimated at 1,500,000 square miles, or about 48 per cent. of the total area of the country.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS

This wonderful film was shown at Massey Hall, Toronto, for a solid week during December and enjoyed the phenomenon of an increasing daily attendance. To comfortably fill Massey Hall is a feat which the exhibition of any picture might feel proud of.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" in book form has been read and reread by thousands, not only in America, but across the ocean. The characters of The Stranger, Young Matt, Old Matt, Wash Gibbs, Jim Lane, Little Pete, Sammy Lane, Maggie, and others, are well known to the reading public.

The screen presentation is true to the types in the book, for the players were evidently selected to "look their parts."

"The Shepherd of the Hills" abounds with rare flashes of scenery. Some of the scenes with the sheep were typical of the Dutch landscapes painted by the old Masters. Indeed, the charm of this picture lies in its restful quality. Here is a picture which has its appeal through its tranquility, repose and peace, a calm which is equivalent to that which permeates the canvas of "The Angelus."

"The Shepherd of the Hills" will be shown at the Gem Theatre for one night only, Thursday, February 3rd. There will be two shows—7.15 and 9.00 o'clock. Plan of theatre now on sale at Reid's Drug Store.

CAFE-PARLOR CAR

C. P. R. to Make Important Improvement in Owen Sound Line Service Beginning on February 1st.

At the recent banquet of the Owen Sound Board of Trade, Mr. F. M. Rutter, Superintendent of this Division of the C. P. R., announced that the company had decided to inaugurate a Cafe-Parlor car service between Owen Sound and Toronto, commencing on February 1st.

Great credit is due to Supt. Rutter for his efforts in securing this car for the Owen Sound -Toronto run. He has been working for it for a long time. About three weeks ago the Board of Trade circulated a petition among the business people of Owen Sound, and this was largely signed. With this in his hands Mr. Rutter was able to present a very strong case to the officials at Montreal, with the result that the car will be put on by February 1st.

Mr. Rutter made it clear that the cafe-parlor car will be placed on the route on three months trial. It seems there is a shortage of this class of coach and all of them have been in use up to the present time. Jut recently a car was released on a train that had been cancelled until summer, and this is the one that will serve the Owen Sound branch. If the car is well patronized the company will maintain the service on this branch, but if the patronage does not warrant any service it will be discontinued. This is a very fair arrangement and it is hoped that the people of Owen Sound and all along the branch will give the service every encouragement.

The Cafe-Parlor Car, which will be placed on the Owen Sound-Toronto line is a standard C.P.R. car of the most modern type. One end of the car is fitted up with chairs, and the dining compartment is at the other half. The meal service will not be confined to those on the parlor car, but will be open to all passengers on the train. The car will leave Owen Sound on the train departing there at 6.35 a.m., and returning will leave Toronto on the evening train at 5.20 p.m. Thurs, anyone wishing to make the trip to Toronto and return in one day will have the benefit of the service both ways.

Terence McKeown's explanation of double accusative in Latin: You use two ads., only you leave one out."

Walker—"Have an accident?"
Rider—"No, thanks, just had one."

One of our town jewellers, who is also an optician, was lately heard to remark: "I had a most interesting case yesterday."

Friend—"What was it?"

Optician—"It was my own daughter, who, instead of a common pupil, has a college student in her eye."

Ever Heard of Clock Stars?

The Astronomer-Royal, Sir Frank Dyson, who has been elected senior warden of the City Guild of Clockmakers, is well qualified for the post. He it is who is responsible for our time, which is decided by the passage of certain stars, known as "Clock stars," over the incredibly thin spider's thread which, fixed in the focus of the transit instrument at the Royal Observatory, serves as the all-important Greenwich meridian.

By electricity the master-clock at Greenwich automatically fires time-guns and drops time-balls in various parts of the country every day, and sends the hour of ten a.m. to all post offices and railway termini.

The Greenwich clock is one of the most accurate in the world, but it is not quite perfect, and its "rate" is daily corrected by the observations made the previous night of the "Clock stars," unless clouds have hidden them. But if clouds prevented the correction of the Greenwich clock for a whole year, its error in that time would be barely five seconds.

Task Beyond Him.

An improvident subaltern's affairs had got into such a state that his colonel had to talk to him very seriously in the mess one night. "What you have to do," said the colonel impressively, "is to write to Cox's and lay the whole matter frankly before them. Then they'll tell you what to do." "I will, sir," replied the penitent. About two hours later some of his friends made their way to where he was writing. They found him with dishevelled hair, and in front of him a sheet of regimental notepaper on which he had written: "I say, Cox——" Only that, and nothing more."

Trades For Turkish Girls.

A regular vocational school is in session, with training in housework, laundry, weaving, sewing and business courses, as well as in a few cultural subjects. Recreation and American sports are a popular part of the school program.

Robert and Hannah Greason, of Laurel, wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown them during the illness and since the death of their mother, the late Mrs. John Greason.

LOST HOME BY FIRE

While Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Darch, of Amaranth, were spending Thursday evining with his brother-in-law, Mr. Wesley Thompson, fire completely destroyed their home and contents. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson noticed the blaze when the owners would be about half way home. Telephone calls soon roused the neighbors but the blaze had got beyond control. Fortunately a light blanket of snow had fallen protecting the barn from sparks that were driven over it by a favorable wind. While no reason can be given for the blaze, overheated pipes are a possible cause. Mr. Darch had only $250 insurance on building and contents and is a heavy loser. Very considerable sympathy is felt for him in his reverse just as he was nicely getting settled. In fact it took a decidedly practical form, a subscription being circulated and met with such ready acceptance that over $200 was secured on Saturday. This will be materially increased during this week.—Star & Vidette.

MRS. I. B. LUCAS

Mrs. I. B. Lucas, wife of Hon. I. B. Lucas, of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission and former Attorney-General of Ontario, died on Saturday morning last in Toronto after a long and severe illness. She was born at Flesherton, Ont., the daughter of M. K. Richardson, ex-M. P. for South Grey, and for some 20 years has been a familiar figure in Toronto society. Besides her husband, the immediate surviving relatives are two sons, I. B. Lucas, jr., formerly a naval officer and now a student in the city, and Kendell Lucas, an ex-officer of the Royal Flying Corps, now on his way home from England. Two brothers and two sisters also reside in Toronto: Dr. E. K. Richardson, Geo. Richardson, Mrs. (Dr.) A. E. Webster, and Miss Maud Richardson. Mrs. Frank Tate, of Grand Valley, is another sister. A private service was conducted by Archdeason Cody, of St. Paul's church, at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) Webster, 45 Glen Elm Ave., Toronto, on Sunday evening, and the body was conveyed to Markdale on Monday, where the funeral was held that afternoon.

MRS. CUNNINGTON

There pased away on January 2, at the advanced age of 82 years, an old and greatly respected resident of Peel county, in the person of Sarah Morrison, relict of the late Thomas Cunnington. Her death occurred at the home of her youngest daughter, Mrs. John Speers, third line, Caledon. She enjoyed the best of health until within a few days of her death. Mrs. Cunnington was born in Chinguacousy township and lived there for some years after her marriage, removing to the fifth line, Caledon, near Caledon East, where she spent the remainder of her life. Her husband predeceased her about ten years ago. The surviving sons and daughters are: Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson, Mrs. James Speers and Mrs. John Speers, all of Caledon, and Mrs. J. J. Hill, of Toronto, and Daniel, Will and Harry, also of Caledon. One brother survives, John Morrison, formerly of Toronto Gore. Mrs. Cunnington was a life long member of the Methodist Church. The service was conducted at the house and grave by the Rev. Mr. Laycock, of Caledon East. The pallbearers were six of her grandsons, Harvey and Murray Speers, Wesley Nelson, Russell Hill and Stanley and Jarvis Cunnington. Interment took place in Providence Cemetery on Tuesday, January 4th.

ON TO HIS JOB

A business man advertised for an office boy. The next morning there were some 50 boys in line. He was about to begin examining the applicants, when his stenographer handed him a card on which was scrawled: "Don't do anything until you see me. I'm the last kid in line, but I'm telling you I'm there with the goods."

CLOSE RACES

An Englishman, a Scotchman, and an Irishman were indulging in reminiscences of sporting occasions. "The closest race I ever saw was a yacht race," said the Englishman, "in which one of the boats that had been recently painted won by the breadth of the coat of paint." "The closest race I ever saw," declared the Scotchman, "was one in which a horse, stung by a bee, won by the height of the swelling on his nose." "The closest race I ever saw," said the Irishman, "is the Scotch race."

"For years I was a victim to bleeding piles," she writes, "the burning, smarting pain was so intense at times that I could hardly walk. As ordinary remedies seemed utterly ineffective I underwent a hospital operation in Spokane. Within 12 months the grew again as painful as ever. Liniments, hot poulticing and so-called 'pile cures,' did no good, but I got wonderful relief from Zam-Buk. As I kept on the treatment the piles began to disappear and I felt a happier different woman. I used six boxes of this soothing Zam-Buk in all, when I was delighted to find the obstinate and painful disease quite gone. I haven't had piles now for three years."

LIFE AND DEATH

A minister, who guarded his morning study hour very carefully, told the new maid that in no circumstances were callers to be admitted—except, of course, he added, in a case of life and death.

Half an hour later the maid knocked at his door.

"A gentleman to see you, sir."

"Why, I thought I told you—"

"Yes, I told him," she replied, "but he says it's a question of life and death."

So he went downstairs—and found an insurance agent.

OLD GRIST MILL IS TO BE WRECKED

A landmark of the county of Grey, the Leith Grist Mill, has been sold and will be torn down. It has been in the possession of Mr. C. S. Kemp, its present owner, for a number of years. It is understood that his son-in-law has bought the mill and will proceed to tear it down to use the material in it for the building of summer cottages along the Leith shore. With its passing will go one of the oldest landmarks in this part of Grey County. The grinding-stones that were put in it when it was built are still doing duty, and are said to be the best in the Province of Ontario.

It was built in 1847 by the late John Telfer, father of Capt. Peter Telfer, of Owen Sound North. Mr. Telfer was the Government agent at Owen Sound for many years. In fact he fas the first white man, almost, to settle in Owen Sound. He later moved to Leith where he bought up all the land from the Government. He built the mill, laid out a townsite and started the village of Leith in 1846. The mill at that time was the only one in this part of the country, with the exception of Inglis'. Farmers brought their grain from Keppel, Derby, Sarawak and Sydenham to have it ground at the Leith mill, as it was considered to be the best this side of Meaford. It looked at that time as if Leith was going to be the biggest place in Grey county, rather than Owen Sound.

The mill was then sold to Mr. James Wilson as well as the land in the village. Mr. Wilson sold later to Mr. Ainslie, who built a wharf at the mouth of the water of Leith. The wharf was completed in 1851, and vessels drawing 12 feet of water could dock at the end of the wharf. All the early steamers called at Leith, as well as the sailing boats. The steamers got their wood at Leith for the trip up the lakes. There was also a flourishing trade in cattle, and grain with the head of the lakes. The population was in the neighborhood of two hundred, about the same as Owen Sound at the same period. Leith was then at its zenith as a commercial centre. There were two hotels, two stores, two coopershops, a distillery erected by James Wilson, a blacksmith shop, tailor shop, and shoemaker's shop. Mr. Ainslie enlarged the Grist Mill to its present size.

The mill was sold by Mr. Robert Glen about 1885, and passed through a number of hands during the next fifteen years, belonging to a Mr. Baird, and a Mr. McNeil in succession. Finally it was sold to Mr. Kemp.

The mill is still much the same as it was when Leith was flourishing. The building is a big frame structure with a long shed for storing grain extending back from it. The old flume still does service although it is getting pretty dilapidated in places. With the exception of a new turbine wheel installed about thirty years ago the machinery is practically the same as in earlier days. The farmers have gradually got out of the way of going to Leith to get their grist ground and bring it to Owen Sound, so that the grinding trade has largely fallen away. In spite of the fact that business was not as brisk as in former years the old mill has been rumbling away fairly steadily all the year round. It will be greatly missed by all who have occasion to go to Leith, as it has been a familiar landmark as long as any living person can remember.

THE COME-BACK

The small boy came into the house crying bitterly.

"Mamma," he wailed, "Willie Jones hit me."

"What did he hit you with?" asked his mother.

"He hit me with the b-back of his h-head,' sobbed the lad.

"Nonsense. How could he hit you with the back of his head?"

"I just ran up behind him and tripped him and he fell back on me and his head hit me in the nose," he explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Fairbairn, of West Luther, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Cecil, to Mr. Horace Edwards, of Toronto. The marriage will take place early in February.

Irene McKeown, nine year old daughter of Mr. Hugh McKeown, Arthur Township, fell from the hay mow to the barn floor a week ago Sunday afternoon, dislocating her wrist and breaking a rib.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fines, Erin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Edna, to Mr. Geo. Wesley Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graham, Erin. The marriage will take place early in February.

Lemon Edgeworth, a farmer residing on the fourth concession of Yarmouth, near St. Thomas, was found dead under a fallen apple tree with his face pressed into the soft earth and the striking limb holding him down by the neck.

E. Harte, a Guelph young man, was fined $100 and costs for having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling. The information was laid by Provincial Detective Elliott, who happened to run across defendant when he was transporting a bottle on the hip.

The young child of Harold Hutchings, of Mansfield, who swallowed a safety pin about 1¼ inches long, had to be conveyed to the General Hospital at Toronto, where it was located in the throat by X-ray treatment and removed without difficulty after being lodged there for a week.

Little Ruth Gilbert, of Mansfield, happened with what might have been a fatal accident when she fell with the handle of a spoon in her mouth. It entered an inch in the roof of her mouth with a cut an inch wide. Dr. Bunt was called and succeeded in making a good job of the wound. She has recovered splendidly.

Dr. T. Gray, of Acton, who has practised there for the past 21 years, passed away on Monday evening, Jan. 24th, after four months' illness. Last August, while performing an operation he sustained a slight wound in his right hand. Infection followed and it was not long before there were serious complications.

Peel county council spent a day discussing the mix-up over the good roads money which had been apportioned to Brampton, Bolton and the other urban municipalities. The debate ended with the repeal of the by-law which gave the towns and villages their share of the $63,000 raised last year for construction and maintenance of good roads.

Mr. Clayton Stewart, of the 5th of Peel, lost his fine barn together with the season's grain, hay and straw one afternoon recently. It appears that Mr. Stewart had been thawing out a frozen water pipe in his stable, and in doing so, the torch which he was using set fire to some cobwebs and straw hanging from the ceiling and in an instant the fire spread to the ceiling and was rapidly getting through into the mow above.

NEEDED A CHAIR TO HELP HER TO WALK

NOW MRS. EASTCOTT IS PRAISING DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Port Hope Lady Who Suffered From Rheumatism and Heart Trouble Tells How She Found Relief.

Port Hope, Ont., Jan. 31st, (Special).—Among the thousands of women in Canada who sing the praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills, none is more enthusiastic than Mrs. S. Eastcott, a well-known and highly respected resident here. And Mrs. Eastcott is always ready to tell the reason why.

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism and heart trouble for the last four years," she says in telling her story. "I doctored and tried all kinds of treatments, but got no good results. I got so bad I had to walk with a chair.

"After taking Dodd's Kidney Pills for some time I could walk alone. Now I am better than I have been for the last four years. I am on my eighth box and will continue to take Dodd's Kidney Pills till I am perfectly well."

Rheumatism and heart trouble are both caused by sick kidneys. The weakened kidneys fail to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood and the trouble begins. The rational treatment is to strengthen the kidneys so they can remove the cause of the disease.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the help sick Kidneys are crying for.

Ernest Thebeault, who was arrested in North Bay, and brought back to Sudbury on a charge of stealing, was sent to the St. John Industrial School.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sheppard, of Elora, celebrated their diamond wedding recently. It is 65 years since Mr. Sheppard came to Elora, where he has been a leading contractor.

The death took place on Wednesday, January 19th, of one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of the Township of Pilkington, in the person of Mr. William Keating.

Alex. McPherson, of Ventry, who is a fancier of pure bred Plymouth Rock Fowl, purchased a male bird from a dealer near Kingston a year or so ago. He sold the bird back to the same party recently for $15.

Weighmaster Jonathan Sleightholm, of Shelburrne, picked up on the railway tracks near the stockyards a fine specimen of a carrier pigeon, which had almost perished from the cold and hunger. Upon its leg was attached the customary messenger ring, upon which were engraved the letters "O. F. G. 20-54."

WARDEN'S ADDRESS

The following is the text of Warden Brown's address to the County Council last week:—

Gentlemen of the County Council:

I desire to thank you for the honor conferred upon me in electing me Warden of the County of Dufferin. I assure you I appreciate the great responsibility which I assume with the office and the confidence you have placed in me by having made me your choice for the highest office at your disposal. It will be my earnest endeavour to honorably fill the position and look after the best interests of the County in all matters coming under the jurisdiction of the Warden.

Allow me to congratulate the several members of the Council on their election in their respective municipalities and to extend to the new members a most cordial welcome to the County Board. I fee satisfied that they are men who will discharge their duties in a most creditable manner to themselves and the different municipalities they represent.

I am pleased to inform you that the report of the Auditors for 1920 shows the finances of the County to be in first class shape. The levy of three mills made last year for General Expenditure was down to the minimum since the year 1912 but has been sufficient to meet all ordinary expenditure and to close the year with a surplus, and although the levy of 4 mills made for the County Roads leaves a deficit, this deficit is covered by special grants that have been made by the townships and the Government subsidy which is now due from the Province on last year's expenditure. You may be surprised to learn that the Government Subsidy for the County of Dufferin for the last two years amounts to the large sum of $79,-064.67.

It is now about a quarter of a century since the last valuation of the County was made for the purpose of equalizing the assessment of the several municipalities for County purposes and as there have been great changes in local conditions and values in that time, the question of a revaluation might be considered by this Council and if found necessary the proper steps taken to proceed with the same.

The by-laws of the County were consolidated in the year 1900, which was 20 years after the County was formed. Another 20 years have now passed and it would save the Councillors and Officials much time and trouble in looking up past records if they were again consolidated.

In conclusion I would suggest to the Council to exercise the greatest economy at this Session and to authorize no expenditure or make no grants unless considered absolutely necessary, as I am informed by the County Treasurer the surplus available for ordinary expenditure is about $3,000 less than at this time last year and that economy will be required to enable us to meet expenditure until June when our next levy is made, without a deficit.

Again I thank you for having shown that you have confidence in me to "carry on" for the year 1921. It will be my sincere endeavour to show that the confidence has not been misplaced, and I solicit your hearty assistance in investigating all matters which may come before the Council and in bringing the year's business to a satisfactory issue.

JAS. BROWN, Warden.

Orangeville, January 26th, 1921.

Ontario lost one of its pioneer weekly newspaper publishers last week, when Edward Mundy, of the Oshawa Reformer, passed away. The late Mr. Mundy served his apprenticeship on the Globe and other Toronto papers and after publishing weeklies in Mount Albert, Uxbridge and Port Perry, purchased the Oshawa Reformer in 1889. In his eighty-four years Mr. Mundy did much work of real public service and he leaves behind him a fine record of a usefully spent life.

LISTS WILL BE LARGER

The 1921 voters' list will be twice as large as in previous years, as they will contain the names of all women over twenty-one years of age, as they are now entitled to vote at elections to the Legislative Assembly. Some years ago the voters' list was made in three parts, but in recent years there have been only parts one and two. The voters' list now goes back to the old form of three parts. Part one contains the names of all persons entitled to vote at both municipal elections and Legislative Assembly elections; part two, of all persons entitled to vote at municipal elections only; and part three, of persons entitled to vote at Legislative Assembly elections only. The names of women were not included in the 1920 lists because of the early date upon which the assessors do their work. At the time the law, which only came in force on July 29th, did not make provision for the placing of the women's names upon the voters' lists for the legislative franchise, and the township and town lists, therefore, only contain the two parts as formerly. As the township lists and the lists in nearly all places do not contain the women's names for their legislative franchise, provision will have to be made for the making up of lists early next spring.

WARDEN BROWN

Mr. James Brown, Reeve of East Garafraxa, who was last week signally honored by being unanimously elected to the responsible office of Warden of the County of Dufferin, was born in the Village of Marsville on May 2nd, 1880, and is therefore a comparatively young man. The new Warden is a son of Mrs. Brown and the late James Brown, of East Garafraxa, and a nephew of Mr. D. B. Brown, of Orangeville. He was first elected to the council of his native township in 1908 and served three terms as Councillor. He was again elected to the Council in 1917 and also in 1918 and became Reeve of the municipality in 1919. He is now serving his third term in the Reeve's chair and the fact of his election by acclamation for the third term is a tribute to his popularity and excellent service. Warden Brown was married in June, 1917, to Miss Catharine Smith, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Smith. They have two children, a boy of ten and a girl aged eight. The Warden has been connected with the Orange Order for 22 years, being a member of Marsville L. O. L. No. 345. He has filled almost every office in the Lodge, is a Pastmaster and also a Pastmaster of Eldon District L. O. L. He is a member of R. B. P. No. 712, Grand Valley, and of Wellington Lodge, No. 271, A. F. & A. M., Erin. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church and a staunch Conservative in politics. In 1919 Mr. Brown was chairman of the Legislation Committee of the County Council and last year gave excellent service in the responsible position of Chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee. The new Warden is a level-headed, fair-minded man, progressive in his ideas and is by temperament admirably fitted for the position of presiding officer in an important deliberative body such as the County Council. The Banner congratulates him unreservedly upon his selection to fill the highest municipal office in the gift of the County of Dufferin and wishes him a pleasant and successful term of office.

A BAD ACCIDENT

Adjala Man Has One Thigh Almost Severed by Circular Saw.

A most distressing accident occurred at Heaslip's mill, Craighurst, at 6 p.m., on Monday, Jan. 24th, by which John Casserley had one leg almost completely severed. Some repairs had been made on the saw and it had just started running again when Mr. Casserly, who had just stepped off the stage from Barrie, stooped down near the saw to pick up an axe. As he did so the wind blew the tail of his overcoat against the saw and his left leg was drawn upon the rapidly revolving disc. Before the saw could be stopped it cut its way through flesh, bone, nerves and muscles till all that remained unsevered was a strip about three inches wide at the front of the thigh, a short distance below where it joins the body. Instead of completing the amputation, the surgeon had the man taken to the R. V. Hospital in Barrie next day and it is hoped that the limb may be saved.

It is a sad coincidence that Mr. Casserly was the working mate of Henry Frawley, the Mount St. Louis young man who was fatally injured in the bush on New Year's Eve.

A TERRIBLE AFFLICTION

Mr. James A. St. John, of Palgrave, has met with a terrible affliction, having become totally blind. He was all right when he retired one night recently and rose next morning when he heard the trackmen go by with their lorry. Thinking it was still dark he went back to bed and got up again when the morning passenger train passed through, but he was still unable to see and then it was borne home to his mind that he had gone blind during the night. He is still unable to see and will visit a specialist in an effort to get relief which it is hoped will be possible. "Jimmy," as he is familiarly known, served with the United States troops in the Phillipine War and when the Great War broke out enlisted in the Princess Pat's Canadian Light Infantry, with which unit he served until he was wounded and invalided home. He has since been in business here.

DUFFERIN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Mr. Malcolm McCormick Elected President for 1921.

The unfinished business of the annual meeting of the Dufferin Agricultural Society was wound up at a meeting of the Board of Directors on Saturday afternoon. Last year was one of the best in the history of the Society, there being a considerable increase in the receipts. On account of the expenditure of about $1650 for new buildings the cash balance to the Society's credit, exclusive of $1,000 invested in Victory Bonds, was reduced from $1310.14 at the beginning to $183.-50 at the end of the year. This year's program does not contemplate any further additions to the Society's buildings, but the Directors are considering the advisability of having the main hall repainted. Mr. J. C. Jackson, who has ably filled the office of President for the last three years, insisted upon being allowed to retire and Mr. Malcolm McCormick, of East Garafraxa, was elected to fill the President's chair. The new President is a young man of energy and ability, well qualified to follow in the footsteps of the late President. The officers for 1921 are:—

Hon. President—J. C. Jackson,
President—M. McCormick.
1st Vice-Pres.—W. A. Donaldson.
2nd Vice-Pres.—John W. Ledlow.
Directors—Mono, J. C. Jackson and G. L. Dodds; East Garafraxa, Nelson Black, Jas. H. Nodwell; Caledon, Jas. Johnston, W. J. Holmes and S. Kannawin; Amaranth, Herb. Hughes, Geo. B. Brown; Orangeville, S. C. W. Hughson, Geo. Nicholson, J. R. Morrow, Joshua Reid, Daniel Currie and W. J. Gillespie.

Lady Directors—Mrs. E. G. Bingham, Mrs. G. B. Hayes, Mrs. Walter Gray, Mrs. Nelson Black and Misses B. Cameron, Jennie Kearns, Mabel Jackson and May McCormick.

Auditors—J. E. Smith and Wm. Watt.

President Jackson was voted an honorarium of $50.00 as a recognition of his valuable services to the Society. This year's Fall Fair will be held on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 15th and 16th. The Society will employ Government Judges in the Light Horses, Heavy Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultry, Ladies' Work and Art Departments. It was also decided to hold a Field Crop Competition in Oats and Potatoes.

President McCormick and Mr. B. B. Henry were appointed delegates to the Ontario Fairs and Exhibitions Association meeting in Toronto on February 8th and 9th, and Mr. J. W. Ledlow was appointed representative to attend the meeting of the Harness Horse Association on the same dates.

The Directors decided to combine the offices of Secretary and Treasurer, which have been two separate offices for a number of years. Mr. D. B. Brown, last year's Secretary, was appointed Secretary-Treasurer.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE

William Duncan, star of Vitagraph's super-serial, frightened a group of physicians out of their wits recently, by holding his breath for fifteen minutes. The adventure made his previous record of three minutes and a half ridiculous, and set at naught all theories governing the breath holding faculty.

Then, to the bewilderment of all concerned, Duncan revealed, that if he felt like it, he could hold his breath for an hour or ten hours. He let them in on the secret that his method was not really breath suspension, but breath control, and that it was in fact not physical but sub-conscious and that, finally, he did it by Hatha Yoga, the Hindu science.

Duncan's exploit took place during the filming of scenes for the twelfth episode of his latest super-serial, "The Silent Avenger."

DIAMOND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, Principals in Rare Celebration.

We read of golden wedding anniversaries quite frequently, but it is given to comparatively few couples to live to celebrate their diamond wedding. This happy and unique experience fell to the lot of Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, Second Ave., on Tuesday, January 25th, this being the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. The members of their family took advantage of the memorable occasion to hold a delightful family reunion and a fitting celebration at the home of their parents. As some of the family were obliged to travel a considerable distance to get home the celebration was held in the evening, when a sumptuous dinner was served in the dining-room, which was attractively decorated in mauve. The repast was followed by congratulatory addresses, interesting reminiscenses of bygone days and the presentation of a bouquet of beautiful flowers and the following address from the family:—

Mr. and Mrs. David Watson,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Father and Mother:

Your children and grandchildren esteem it a great honor to have the pleasant privilege of gathering in your home to-day for the purpose of joining you in the celebration of your diamond wedding. God has surely been kind to us to spare you for so many years and through all the changing fortunes of your long and busy lives. We are grateful indeed for His kindly and beneficent care and for the strong faith in His blessed promises that has done so much to help you meet and overcome the trials, anxieties and disappointments that fall to the lot of all of us during our earthly pilgrimage.

On this memorable occasion we extend to you, dear parents, our hearty congratulations and good wishes for your continued health and happiness in the years to come. It is given to few to celebrate this sixtieth anniversary in their married life and we are deeply and gratefully thankful that you are among the privileged few. As we look back along life's pathway and recall the long years of patient and persevering toil, and the unremitting care and thought you gave to the nurture, happiness and education of your children, we are deeply sensible of our great debt of love and gratitude and how little we can do to repay what you have done for each and all of us during the years we spent in the old and well-loved family home.

To-day, we wish, dear father and mother, to unitedly express our filial affection, our undying gratitude and a love that the passing of years and the changes in our lives are alike powerless to alter, save to mellow, deepen and enrich. Our hearts go out to you in undying affection and, assembled here to-day on this anniversary occasion, we tender you our heartfelt wishes for continued happiness, comfort and peace during the remaining interval of the evening of your long, useful and well spent lives.

We ask you to accept these roses as a token of our love.

Signed on behalf of the family.

Mr. Watson, though frail physically, is still bright and alert in mind and was able to reply to the sentiments expressed in the address. His speech, while brief, was humorous and entertaining. The address was read by a grandson, Basil Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Watson, and the presentation was made by a great grandaughter, Isobel Watson, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Watson, Caledon. The family of five sons and two daughters were all present as follows:—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Watson, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. I. Watson, Mono Road; Mr. and Mrs. John T. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Watson, Caledon; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Walker, Amaranth, and Miss Sadie Watson, who has charge of the parental home. In most cases the married members were accompanied by their sons and daughters and there were also two great grandchildren in the happy gathering. Guests outside the family included Rev. W. M. Morris, the family pastor, and Mrs. Morris.

Mr. Watson, who is the son of James Watson, a Glasgow weaver, was born in Esquesing township, near the site of the present town of Georgetown in 1836. The birthplace of Mrs. Watson, whose maiden name was Annie Craig, was Lisburne, Ireland. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Craig, emigrated to Canada when she was about ten months old and she spent the greater part of her girlhood in and near Orangeville. Mr. and Mrs. Watson were married by the late Rev. Alexander Lewis, one of the pioneer ministers of this district, in the Presbyterian manse at Mono Mills. The greater part of their married life has been spent on lot 24, 1st line, east, Caledon, where they farmed successfully until they retired to live in Orangeville about fifteen years ago. The Banner joins the family and friends of the venerable couple in extending them hearty congratulations and sincere wishes for every happiness during the remainder of their lives.

IRWIN–CARLETON

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Presbyterian Manse, Swift Current, Sask., when Miss Leota Carleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Carleton, Webb, Sask., and Mr. Walter Clarke Irwin, son of Mr. Christopher Irwin and the late Mrs. Irwin, of Winnipeg, formerly of Orangeville, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. After they return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Irwin will reside at Meyronne, Sask.

BURNS–SHIRRA

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon, January 19th, at 3 o'clock, in Bloor Street Baptist Church, Toronto, when Elizabeth (Betty) Shirra, fourth daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Shirra, became the bride of Mr. Cyril Emery Burns, eldest son of Rev. G. I. and Mrs. Burns, Clinton, Ont. Rev. W. A. Cameron, pastor of the church, conducted the ceremony, the church being beautifully decorated for the occasion. The bride looked very handsome in a pretty dress of white crepe de chine, embroidered with silk and beads, with trimmings of lace. She carried a lovely bouquet of sweetheart roses and lily of the valley and wore the groom's gift, a handsome string of pearls. The bride's cousin, Mrs. Reid Irvine, played Mendelssohn's wedding march and while the register was being signed Mr. Ralph Gooderham sang. Immediately after the reception the bridal party motored away and took the train for Chicago and New York, where the honeymoon will be spent before going to their new home in Massbach, Ill. The bride went away wearing a navy blue velvet and silver cloth and handsome furs. Mr. and Mrs. Burns have the best wishes of their many friends for matrimonial happiness and prosperity.

HOWLETT–BANKS

An interesting event took place at St. Andrew's Church Manse at 2.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, January 26th, when Miss Cora Banks, second daughter of Mrs. Mary Banks, East Broadway, became the bride of Mr. John H. Howlett, of Marsville. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. W. M. Morris, the young couple being unattended. After the marriage service the newly wedded couple repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where a sumptuous wedding repast awaited them. Mr. and Mrs. Howlett were the recipients of many beautiful and useful wedding gifts showing the high esteem in which they are held. They left town on the evening train for a short honeymoon trip to Brampton, Toronto and other points. On their return they will reside at Marsville. The Banner joins the numerous friends of the happy couple in wishing them long life, happiness and a generous measure of prosperity.

—We are glad to learn that Mr. Wesley Maxwell, of Caledon, who had the misfortune to have his right leg broken while drawing timber from the bush about four weeks ago, is making an excellent recovery. On account of his age the accident was regarded as very serious, but the bone has knit as well as it would in the case of a young person. The breaking of a binding pole, which allowed some of the timbers to fall on Mr. Maxwell, breaking the limb between the ankle and knee.

MARSVILLE.

On Friday morning at the home of Mr. S. Price, there passed suddenly to the Great Beyond the oldest resident of the community in the person of John Dickson. Though not feeling well for the past few months he was able to go around. On Friday morning he arranged to go to Grand Valley on business. He ate his usual breakfast and was quite cheerful. He went to the barn and was shortly afterwards found lying dead near the building. Deceased was the son of the late George Dickson, a pioneer settler of Erin township. He was in his 83rd year and was born in 1838 on lot 31, 5th line, Erin, where he grew up and spent the greater part of his life. About 15 years ago he retired from farm life and made his home with Mr. Henry Hanna, who moved from the vicinity last year. Since then he had lived with his niece, Mrs. Sam. Price. He was a man of many excellent qualities, always upright and honest in his dealings and ever ready and willing to assist in any worthy cause. He was a loyal and devout member of the Church of Christ. He was never married and was the fourth member of a family of seven, all of whom passed away in a similar manner. The funeral took place on Monday to Price's Cemetery and was largely attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Raynor, a personal friend of the deceased, who came from Ohio for the occasion. The Rev. Mr. Stevenson, of Grand Valley, also assisted in the services.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in Bethel Presbyterian Church on Sunday next, Feb. 6th, at 3 p.m. Preparatory Service on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Communicants' Class, held by the minister, Rev. F. C. Harper, B. D., is the largest yet, and it is expected that over a dozen young people of the congregation will unite with the church at this sacrament season by confession of faith, while there are a number of others who will join this church by presenting certificates from other churches.

EDWARD CLARK

Orangeville Loses Respected Citizen and Former Business Man.

Edward Clark, a highly respected citizen and former business man in Orangeville, passed peacefully away at his home on First Street on Friday evening in his 85th year. Mr. Clark had been in failing health for some months and was confined to his room for several weeks prior to his demise. Deceased, who was the last surviving member of a family of six brothers and six sisters, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, pioneer settlers in the township of Caledon and was born on a farm on the Centre Road close to Caledon village. He came to this town fifty years ago and was in the grain business here for many years with his brother-in-law, Mr. J. Lindsay, an ex-Mayor of Orangeville. For the last fifteen years Mr. Clark has been living retired. Deceased was an upright, conscientious man, whose word could be absolutely relied upon in any business matter. He was a member of the Methodist church and one of the church officials for a number of years. Well and favorably known in the town and surrounding country his passing will be keenly regretted by many oldtime friends and acquaintances. He is survived by Mrs. Clark, two sons, E. C. Clark, a Broadway business man, and J. B. Clark, Manager of the Bank of Hamilton in Southampton, and one daughter, Miss Annie, of Orangeville. The widow and family have the sympathy of our citizens in their bereavement. The funeral was held to the family burying plot in Greenwood cemetery on Monday afternoon and was largely attended by friends here and from points outside the town. Rev. H. L. Garafraxa, Friday. The late Mrs. Montgomery, who was in her 80th year, was a daughter of the late James Huston, of Caledon township. She had spent her entire life in and near Orangeville and was held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was twice married and is survived by a family of nine children, all by the first marriage. These are D. H. Hunter, Toronto; W. J. Hunter, New York State; J. S. Hunter, Minot, N. D.; I. E. Hunter, Manyberries, Alta.; Mrs. Walter Smith, The Maples; Mrs. J. Madill, Mono Mills; Mrs. W. J. Smith, Caledon; Mrs. J. H. Nichol, Montreal, and Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, Medicine Hat, who was with her mother for some time before her death. Mrs. Montgomery was the second last member of a family of thirteen. CALEDON.

Some of our ratepayers became unduly excited when they read in the Brampton Conservator an item to the effect that Reeve Quinn had received a bill for $2200, being Caledon's share of law costs in the recent litigation between them and the Telephone Co. The figures certainly convey a very wrong impression as to the facts, as the total costs for Caledon and Erin were $2,200, and we paid half, $1,100. Then Caledon and Erin hold a judgment from the Appellate Court for $1.000. which leaves the costs to Caledon township just $600.00, or in other words we saved $11,000 by going to the courts and will have to pay $600. Not bad business after all.

At the recent session of Peel County Council an advisory Board of Agriculture was appointed. Mr. Jas. R. Hilliard was appointed to represent Caledon on this Board.

The Caledon Methodist church able social evening at the home of Epworth League held a very enjoy- Mr. William Tribble on Tuesday evening.

MRS. THOS. MARA

After an illness of over five years Eleanor Gray, wife of Thomas Mara, former liscence commissioner of Peel, passed away at her home in Brampton last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Mara was born in Chedgellow, England, seventy-one years ago, and has resided in Brampton for over thirty years. She is survived by her husband and four sons.

WILLIAM BORLAND

Wednesday, January 26th, in Caledon East, there died one of the best known men in the district in the person of William Borland. Mr. Borland was 47 years of age and passed away after a week's illness with pleuro-pneumonia. He was a son of the late John Borland and Mrs. Dorothy Borland. His father was killed on the G. T. R. and he himself had worked on that road until about 25 years ago, when he set up a livery and flour and feed business in Caledon East. Still in the prime of his life, it is a great shock to his many friends that he is so suddenly cut off. He is survived by his widow, who was Margaret Wright, two sons and two daughters, his mother and three sisters, Mrs. Timney, Mrs. Giffen and Mrs. Alexander, all living in Toronto. The funeral was held on Friday to Caledon East Cemetery, with Rev. Mr. Lockhart in charge.

GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

When a doctors tells you that you are anaemic, he simply means, in plain English, that your blood is weak and watery. But this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak, watery blood is the cause of headaches and bachaches, loss of appetite, poor indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches, the muddy complexion that disfigures so many faces. To have good health, a good complexion and a cheerful manner, the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood enriching tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who occasionally use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

Mrs. E. E. Cook, Simcoe, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is in an anaemic condition. She says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run down condition of the system. I suffered from pains in the back, twitching of the nerves and muscles ,my appetite was poor, I had indigestion and would get drowsy after eating. My hands and feet were almost always cold, and though I was constantly doctoring, the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until a friend from Hamilton came to visit me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I have reason to be grateful that I did, for after using seven boxes I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills ,and I cannot praise them too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE NEED OF RE-FORESTATION

There is an opportunity for a man to come forward in Canada and do as much for re-forestation as Sir Adam Beck has done for Hydro-Electric development in this Province. As a matter of fact there is a greater need for the conservation of our forest resources than there is for the conservation of our water powers. To waste our water powers is an economic loss, but it carries no further destructive tendencies with it. On the other hand the waste of our forest resources is not only an infinitely greater economic loss in itself than the waste of water power, but it has a direct bearing upon agriculture, upon navigation, climatic conditions and on the very life and prosperity of the people.

History is full of lessons caused by the terrible results following the cutting off or burning of a country's forests. The great famine in China which will cost ten or fifteen million lives is due to the destruction of the forests which once covered the hills and valleys of western China. The deserts of Syria, of Asia Minor, Mesopotamia and other parts of Asia are the result of centuries of ruthless destruction of forests. Lands which once blossomed as a rose are now nothing but sandy wastes. We can even come down to more modern times and find that in parts of Spain, Algeria and Italy the destruction of the forest brought disastrous results in its wake. Even our own Trent Valley shows what dire results will follow the wholesale destruction of timber.

If any one progressive policy was needed by both Federal and Provincial Governments, it is a new policy in connection with reforestation. Much has been done in certain pulp and paper companies and by some lumbering concerns. Due credit must be given the Conservation Commission for its educational work and also to the provincial Government for its campaign to induce counties and townships to set aside small forest reserves. These efforts are all worthy ones, but something bigger and more comprehensive is required. An effort must be made that will insure the proper conservation of our timber resources, the re-planting of cut-over or burned over areas in our north land and the setting of hillsides, river bottoms and unprofitable farm lands in Old Ontario.

There are tens of thousands of acres on farms in this province which never should have been cleared of their timber. Some encouragement should be given farmers to induce them to plant out these rock or sandy districts with trees. It is surprising how quickly they will grow into a valuable asset. But apart altogether from the immediate return to the man who plants them out, there is the greater good to the nation as a whole. It is a problem which should engage the attention of our ablest men.—The Farmers' Sun.

LIVING VS. DYING

Henry Ward Beecher once said: "It is not hard to die. It is harder a thousand times to live. To die is to be a man. To live is only trying to be one."

The recent war showed how true this is. Men in a great on-sweep of patriotic zeal or in devotion to a pal in need would bravely face danger, even to the giving of life itself, who, in the prosaics of common life, in the temptations to selfish indulgences, failed to live up to the ideals of true manhood or went down to defeat in the conflict of sin.

Men will fight "at the drop of the hat," when the honor of mother or sister or sweetheart are impugned by look or by word, who will break that same mother's heart and bring disgrace to dear ones by failing to live the kind of life which would honor those who love.

"I would be true for there are those who love me,
I would be pure for there are those who care."

We say, "A man must live," but this is not the fact at all. The only thing men are under necessity for doing is dying. Then why hasten the time of this certainty by failure to live at one's best or why go out into the unknown future with life and soul marred and scarred by the effects of wilful or unrepentant sinfulness.

No, we are called upon to "fight the good fight with all thy might" and to "so run that ye may obtain." To have a lower ambition or to be content to strive for less is to have unworthy aspirations — unmanly ideals, and to fail of that which is the best for the life which now is and that which is yet to be.

Founder of Guy's Hospital.

A very curious story is told in various books on London's history of the way in which the famous Guy's Hospital came into being. Guy, the founder, was a bookseller, who kept a shop at the junction of Lombard Street and Cornhill. Here he sold Bibles printed at Oxford and various educational and theological works. He speculated shrewdly, and is said to have been one of the few men who bought and sold South Sea stock at the right time. The tale goes that he was so thrifty that he dined on his shop counter with a newspaper as a tablecloth. He fell in love with his servant maid, and, under the influence of the tender passion, actually ordered that the pavement in front of his shop should be repaired. While he was out the girl told the workmen to repair a portion beyond the limit Guy had fixed, saying, "Tell him I bade you; he won't mind." But Guy did mind. He was wild. He broke off the engagement, renounced the idea of marriage, and took to founding hospitals and almshouses. He died at the age of eighty, after endowing his great hospital with £200,000.

MAKE BOATS WINTER HOMES

Londoners Partially Solve Housing Question by Living on the Thames Close to the City.

The housing question is being solved in a novel way between Thames Ditton and Hampton court. Unable to obtain a room occupants of houseboats are continuing to live in their floating homes, and in one backwater, 13 miles from London, houseboats are actually being built for winter occupation, London Answers states.

They are moored by a tree-sheltered bank. But you are too late to apply for them—they are all taken. One wonders what will happen when the floods begin.

Bungalows, which usually see no human soul save during the hot weather, are also finding winter tenants. A five-room bungalow on Thames Ditton island cost 25 shillings a week until April. There may be a few of these left. One is at present occupied by a demolished soldier, but whether he will find Thames mists easier to stand than Flanders mud remains to be seen. For the time being he is quite cheerful, however, and having sought a house in vain, does not cavil at having to start his journey to London each day by boat.

Our ideas change according to our necessities. It was stated the other day that a distracted man had applied to the government to let him a "pill box."

NEWFOUNDLAND RICH IN IRON

Enough Ore There to Supply the World for at Least a Century, If Not Longer.

Lord Morris in a lecture at St. John's Wood Presbyterian church, Marlborough place, London, described the development of Newfoundland for the last 400 years, "from the time of the early colonizers up to the day when that great captain of industry, Lord Northcliffe, established the great paper mills that are now supplying the Times, the Daily Mail, the Daily Mirror and the Sunday Pictorial with paper."

He said that in Newfoundland today there were many paper "propositions" quite as attractive, if properly developed, as that of Lord Northcliffe and his brother, Lord Rothermere.

There were also sufficient fish on the Newfoundland banks and along the Newfoundland and Labrador shores to feed the whole of the British empire. They had only touched the fringe of that great fishing industry in which lay the possibilities of cheap food for England.

Lord Morris drew an attractive picture of wonderful mineral possibilities, showing that Newfoundland was the second largest producer of iron in the British empire, England coming first. There was enough iron ore to supply all the needs of the British empire and of the world for the next hundred years.—London Mail.

Headlines and Hosiery.

Newspapers are said to be a comfortable covering for benchwarmers; but who ever heard of stockings made out of that material? As a matter of fact, the product that goes to make your favorite journal and artificial silk hosiery "that you can't tell from real" is exactly the same. You can now lay the dangers of deforestation at the door of the economical fair sex as well as the journalist tribe, for both stockings and wuxtries are made from wood pulp.

This last year 15 million pairs of silk stockings so made were exported from the United States—between two and three times as many as in 1918.

Destination Known.

An amusing story was once related concerning a prominent stockbroker who had a habit of wandering into the larder at night, when at home, and disposing of anything he found there which tempted his appetite. One morning his wife was discussing the question of the day's luncheon with the maid, and recalling a pudding which they had not been able to finish the evening before, she said, "Do you know where that cold pudding is Sarah?" "Yes, ma'am," replied the girl, without a smile, "it has gone to the city."

WELL FIXED

Kentucky has its labor troubles as well as the other states of the Union. One steel company which has to depend upon the labor furnished by the rural district finds the independence of mountaineers a constant source of annoyance.

An employee was found smoking when he should have been at work and after listening to the foreman's criticism of his action, he stiffened up and replied: "fire me. Go ahead and fire me. I don't have to work. We just killed a hog up at our place."

NO RESPECTER OF PERSONS

A Scotch policeman in London was keeping the crowd away in front of the Houses of Parliament. A stout, excited woman endeavored to pass, but he restrained her.

"I'm the wife of a cabinet minister!" she insisted. "You must let me pass!"

The Scot eyed her unperturbed. "Madam, you couldna pass if ye were the wife of a Presbyterian minister!"

IT WAS A "PUSHER"

"Yes, mum," sniveled the Panhandler, "there was a time when I rode in my own carriage."

"My, what a come down!" sympathized the kind-hearted woman. "And how long has it been since you rode in your own carriage?"

"Just forty-five years, mum," replied the Panhandler, as he pocketed the proffered dime. "I was a baby then."

"Don't worry, don't fuss,
Don't fret and don't cuss,
For bad as it is
It might have been wuss."

American Visitors

Little did the three American balloonists think as they left New York for a trip to the Northern States that in a few days they would be the main table talk of the American continent and the world. When we think of it now, there was nothing heroic about them being blown three times as far as they had intended to go. But there was something in it that appealed to the human sympathy. The fact that they were blown into a country they knew nothing about and, of their landing in the last spot on earth from which they could get help, tramping through soft snow, suffering starvation and finally meeting an Indian who could not speak their tongue. After being brought into touch with mankind and starting for home, they had to spoil their home coming by a brawl. But it was natural, after all they had come through, to find some outlet for their high strung nerves. They are home now and, having found out themselves, they are showing the Americans that Canada is not a country of aborigines as they thought it was.

BIG SAWMILL DIES OF FAMINE IN LAND OF PLENTY

An interesting article appeared in the Canadian Lumberman of January 15th, which outlines the reasons why this big concern has been compelled to close permanently, because of the inability to obtain raw material notwithstanding the fact that it is situated close to extensive timber limits. The Canadian Lumberman says:

With the continued successful operation of sawmills, it is necessary that there be an adequate supply of timber. The bush all along the frontier of the Province of Ontario has been cut and the land cleared. In order to secure supplies, the manufacturer must go farther and farther back and either remove the mills near the base of operation or haul or float the timber greater distances.

Every now and then one reads that a small and a moderate-sized mill has shut down on account of the wood on its limits being exhausted, but it is not often that one hears of half a million dollar establishment, around which has grown up a town of nearly 2,000 people, having to close solely on account of inability to obtain the raw material owned by the Ontario Government, tributary to the mill. Yet this virtually expresses the state of affairs which has been brought about in the case of the Georgian Bay Lumber Co., Ltd., of Waubaushene, Ontario, which for sixty years has been a prosperous and progressive factor in the great forest products activities of the Georgian Bay district.

This mill has gone out of business because the wood on its limits has all been cleared up. Under the system of disposing of timber berths by tender during the past fifteen years, it has not been possigle,according to Mr. J. W. Sheppard, the veteran head of the Georgian Bay Lumber Co., for the company to secure any fresh sources of timber supply, although there is plenty of white pine in Ontario yet to be cut, sufficient to keep not only the Georgian Bay Lumber Company's plant, but others in operation for at least another generation.

"Deserted Village" on Georgian Bay

The story of the inception, expansion and operation of the mill was told in a recent issue. It was then remarked that unless some new buildings were secured within a short time, Waubaushene would become like Oliver Goldsmith's famous "Deserted Village." The merchants will have to move away, houses will become vacant, churches empty and schools unoccupied. Where once there was a teeming centre of life and purpose, there will be nothing but a memory of former days in this historic village, which is located on Georgian Bay in the east riding of Simcoe County. The industry itself is in a position to saw logs up to the extent of 250,000 feet a day, and possesses all the towing, rafting and driving equipment to bring in the timber from a distanse. The location of the mill is an admirable one and the last timber which was secured was the Dokis Indian Reserve bought from the Dominion Government.

Why is it that the company has not been able to secure limits? Is it their fault, the fault of the present method of handling the sales, or the general laxity of administration which has characterized the department as revealed in the recent investigation and, in the evidence which has been heard from cullers and others who have presented rather a sorry figure on the stand and revealed that they have taken false affidavits, sent in incorrect returns and, in a number of instances,worked for both the Government and the lumber companies. Even the Timber Commission, in an interim report, declared that these men had been guilty of both perjury and forgery.

Present System is Handicap

Mr. W. J. Sheppard, president of the Georgian Bay Lumber Co., with which organization he has been associated for 50 years, when seen by the "Canadian Lumberman," had some rather pertinent observations to make upon the present method of handling timber. He said that his views were in no way influenced by political party prejudice and were given entirely from the standpoint of a lumberman and the lumbering interests. He has always been a staunch friend in the progressive development of the natural resources of the Province and strongly opposed to plunder or pillage in any shape or form.

"I am," he said, "a firm believer that the best way in which to dispose of timber berths or holdings is by way of the open bid, or public auction method. The auction sales limits used to be attended by hundreds and resulted in lively competition, so that a good price was always obtained. Peter Ryan, the noted auctioneer, has disposed of as much as $3,000,000 worth in a day in the sale of limits. The system was changed by the Whitney Government, which abolished the public auction plan and substituted that of tender. By the former method each man, who secured a limit, paid a certain sum or bonus per square mile, and in addition the usual stumpage dues, which, under the license system of 50 years ago, were 75c. per M on white pine. The scalers were honest in those days, not serving two masters or making false returns. Our over-run on the logs averaged 38 per cent., whereas to-day some companies have been claiming over-runs up to 200 per cent.

Honest Operator Has No Chance

"How can anyone, who conscientiously returns 10,000 feet for 10,000 feet, stand up against competition of this kind. The honest lumberman has not a chance in the world against such practices as have been followed by a few. Under the public auction system the bonus was payable before the license to operate was used. A certain time limit was given and the timber must be taken off within that period or some valid reason presented why the license should be renewed. There would be many berths put up at once, and as the competition was always exceptionally keen, if a man lost out on one, he could go after another a good deal harder. Generally before the sale was completed, he would secure, at least, one or two limits. He knew just what he could pay for them and could gauge his action accordingly. It depended upon how badly he needed the timber, where it was located, etc.

"In other words, a man, if he missed fire the first time, had other opportunities. To-day when limits are put up by tender, it is necessary before anyone can make an offer, that a marked cheque for several thousand dollars be placed in the hands of the department. On the limits on which we last bid, we had to put up $80,000 just for the privilege of tendering on two limits. I know of men whose tenders were accepted, at a figure much above what the average lumber manufacturer could pay for stumpage, and give an honest return to the Government. On top of this there are the dues which, on white pine, are now $2.00 per M. feet. So many years are given to cut off timber and a large number of those who bid are pure speculators or kite-flyers instead of being legitimate lumbermen. Their object is apparently to hold the berths for a certain time in the hope of disposing of them at a fancy profit. If they operate at all, in order to save their deposit it means that only the best and richest timber will be taken off and the less profitable trees not cut.

Everything Above Board

"Now, what is the difference in the two systems? It has been charged against the public auction plan that Jones, Brown and Smith might get together and come to a secret understanding whereby one would say to the other: "Now, don't you bid on limit No. 1 and I will not go against you on limit No. 2, and when it comes to limit No. 3, we will let Smith have this." Such an idea is perfectly absurd because everything was done above board and there was no possibility of such a combination or understanding. There were too many men of reputation and worth who attended such sales.

"Of course," added Mr. Sheppard, with a smile, "there is not the slightest possibility whatever of men who tender in secret coming together and disposing of timber berths by tender concession! Oh, no! The method of agreeing what they will pay for a concession! Oh, no! The method of disposing of timber berths by tender is open to any objection or weakness that the public auction plan had to face and besides has many handicaps, which I have already pointed out. In addition, there are other things that have to be taken into consideration. When a man paid $200,000 or $250,000 for so many square miles of timber limit, the Government had his money and held it. In case of fire, pest, hurricane or other visitation of a destructive character, the limit holder lost everything and the Crown was out only the stumpage dues. The result was that the owner of these limits got to work speedily, took out all the timber carefully, and systematically, and did not skin the forest or mine it, as is done in many instances to-day. The owner had to make every effort to secure as much as he possibly could out of his operation, and his methods of clearing were clean-cut and effective.

"To-day how different are matters under the tender system? If timber is wiped out by fire or destroyed by disease, who loses? The Government. Why? Because it is out, not only the dues, but also the stumpage returns as well. By the auction method it was the lumber operator who lost in case of disaster. It is the Government to-day which assumes all the risk under the present system and the operator escapes. Then many limits are held for purely speculative or kite-flying purposes and there is no incentive to log properly. To fell the best trees and make a clean-up in the shortest possible manner is the tendency, leaving much that would be cut by a progressive lumberman, who would cull the forest acreage to the best advantage.

"Another thing I maintain is that timber limits should be sold en bloc without any Crown dues, as the appointing of scalers, foremen, inspectors, managers and other officials to collect these dues cost the Province more money than is obtained in the revenue so derived. What good can accrue from a system that is so expensive and cumbersome, and open to many defects, fraud and perjury? The first cost should be the last cost. Then each operator would know where he is at and would not be open to the suspicion of plundering the public domain, robbing the province of its just receipts or exploiting the assets of Ontario for political, personal or predatory purposes.

"Honest measurement, honest administration, honest public service, honest development and effective and progressive methods of conservation and reforestation are what I strongly favor. The present method is open to too much underhand acts and places too much of a handicap or encumbrance on the legitimate lumberman. It affords too alluring opportunities for the speculator and the timber grabber, who has no other thought than that of becoming wealthy without doing any actual operating.

"The lumberman to-day has to earn his money and earn it hard. He had to take all sorts of chances with labor, weather, materials, transportations and trade. He runs great risks, faces unknown market conditions and has thousands of dollars locked up, whereas the wild-catter and the bird of passage have no interest at heart but their selfish aims."

Boost!

"Boost" is a grand little word. Our faithful Webster dictionary says it means "push up." And we see that, whenever we indulge in boosting, we are always sure of going in the right direction.

There is always lots of room around an institution of this kind to practice the art. There is the "Lit." What a chance to help along a society which is able to provide, not only plenty of entertainment, but opportunities for the development of one's speaking, acting and musical abilities. There are the various athletics in which both the boys and the girls can take part to the advantage of their mental, as well as physical well-being. Particularly for the boys, there is the Cadet Corps, which provides splendid training in quickness and ease of movement, discipline and leadership. These are but a few of the things which not only can stand plenty of boosting, but must have it to thrive.

"To boost" is a wonderful game. To be a "Booster" is more wonderful still. To qualify, one has to be above all, an optimist. He must be prepared to take the inevitable knocks with a smile, and believe with Tennyson that:

"Because right is right, to follow right, were wisdom in the scorn of consequence."

He must also be able to forget himself in so far as his own selfish interests and ambitions interfere with the general good of the crowd.

The "Booster" in a school or any other place is one of the happiest of creatures. He so enters upon everything that he has no time to grouse or make depreciating criticisms, even if he wanted to. On the other hand, the "Knocker" leads a miserable existence. This is not only natural when one takes on an attitude of aloofness from the various activities, and tries to find pleasure in depreciating things in general, and trying to make comparisons unfavorable to local enterprises.

We might as well admit it, we have both species of human being in the O. H. S. Perhaps the "Knocker" is not conspicuous, but the fact remains that unless we boost, we are bound to knock whether we mean to or not. Let us all look into the matter. Let each face his own situation.

To those who find themselves among the "Knockers" may these words of an ex-pupil who died playing the game in France, be an inspiration: "It is so wonderful to apply one's powers where no sordid or base interest is to prompt."

To those who claim to be among the "Boosters" may these words be an incentive to carry on still further: "And to refuse to give more even after some small service, is quite as blameworthy as to shirk the whole."—Vox Scholae.

THE MALE

A four-year-old Vancouver boy overheard his mother talking with an aunt about her family of three young sons.

"What a pity," exclaimed the aunt, "that one of them couldn't have been a girl."

Every hair on the child's tow head rose in horrified resentment. With his feet wide apart and his face red he confronted the two women.

"Yes," he shrilled, "and who would 'a' been 'er? I wouldn't 'a' been 'er. Jack wouldn't 'a' been 'er. Harry wouldn't 'a' been 'er."

THE SAME EVERYWHERE

In New York the other day a young woman walked into a news stand and stationery store, much agitated.

"Have you got a good make of ouija board?" she inquired of the clerk.

"Wasn't the other one satisfactory?" he asked her after assuring her that he had more expensive ones.

"No, it isn't. I can't speak to anybody on it any more. Last night I tried to communicate with a dozen different people that are in spiritland. The best I could get was a jumbled up J-C-K- and things like that. The service on these cheap boards is getting to be something terrible."

HILLSBURG

Mr. E. Griner, our popular C. P. R. agent, has been spending a week's vacation in Toronto.

Arthur McConnell was a week-end visitor at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McConnell.

Rev. F. C. Harper and Mrs. Harper attended the opening of the Legislature in Toronto last week.

The Session of St.. Andrew's Church here has arranged the organization of the congregation into six districts, each with an elder in charge.. The revision of the membership roll last week shows an active membership of 212 at the beginning of 1921. The spirit of the congregation is healthy and harmonious, and the energy of the various organization in this historic church indicates that this present year will surpass the high mark of 1920 which was "the best year yet."

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The Preparatory Service on Friday evening at 8 o'clock when new members will be received. It is expected that Rev. J. Lindsay, of Erin, will preach on the latter occasion.

Y. P. S. MEETING

At St. Andrew's Y. P. S. meeting on Monday night Mr. J. J. Still gave a much appreciated illustrated Talk on a trip he made some years ago to attend the World's S. S. Convention in the city of Jerusalem. Mr. Russell Morrow contributed a fine cornet solo. Murray McKitrick, convener of the Literary Committee, which had charge of the meeting, presided. About two hundred were present. Next Monday night, the Blues, losers in the Membership contest, will give a banquet to the Reds, the winners. All members who have attended one or more meetings are cordially invited.

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY

One of the most interesting birthday parties celebrated in Orangeville for many years took place on Monday of this week, the 31st of January, when a few of her most intimate friends called at the home of Mrs. Joseph Pattullo to congratulate her on the occasion of her eightieth birthday. Mrs. Pattullo was taken entirely by surprise but was made an honored guest in her own home. Her long residence in Orangeville, her unfailing hospitality and beautiful character has so endeared her to those who know her best that words would fail to express their feelings of pleasure and gratification, and in advancing years she is still beloved, and her gentle influence is felt by everyone with whom she comes in contact.

While Mrs. Pattullo and her uninvited guests were enjoying a social cup of tea they were joined by Mr. Pattullo, who appreciated to the full the unexpected honor being done to the one, who, for so many years, has been his esteemed partner in life.

Mrs. Pattullo was presented with American beauty roses and carnations and other tokens of appreciation by some of her friends.

—Alfred Waudby, a farmer in the northwest of Mono, appeared before P. M. Pattullo on Saturday on a charge of neglecting to send his children to school. The information was laid by Geo. W. Rayfield, truant officer for the municipality, under the Truancy Act. Waudby admitted the charge, but claimed he needed the children at home on the farm. Instead of imposing a fine the Magistrate bound the defendant and his wife over to send the children to school regularly in the future.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

A record attendance greeted the efforts of those in charge of the Epworth League meeting last Monday night in the Methodist Church. The men's choir rendered a much appreciated anthem. About one hundred lantern views were shown illustrating the recent World's Sunday School Convention in Tokio, Japan. Mr. C. R. McKeown explained these in his usual pleasing and eloquent manner.

The pictures were taken by Rev. Frank Langford, one of the Canadian delegates to the Convention and are owned and controlled by the Methodist Book Room. They depict conditions in Japan as nothing else can depict them. They describe more eloquently than words the beauties of the Orient. They show the Convention building in flames; starving multitudes in the famine area; the magnificent Hydro buildings of Japan; the great wall now crumbling to ruins and the Theatre where the sessions of the Convention were held.

Next Monday evening the Prayer Meeting Committee will conduct the regular monthly Consecration meeting. Watch for announcement of a special program to be put on Monday evening, February 14th. Keep the date open and be ready to spend an enjoyable hour from eight to nine o'clock on that evening at the Epworth League.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

"Who is the most sophisticated man in New York?"

Mr. Edison selected Wm. J. Burns, who gladly made the Mood Change test to assist Mr. Edison in his research work. Mr. Burns' Chart is reproduced. Mr. Edison needs thousands of these charts. Won't you help him by filling out a Chart?

Wm. J. Burns filled out the first Mood Change Chart

Will You Fill Out a Chart for Mr. Edison?

MR. BURNS pronounced the test most interesting. He enjoyed it and was glad to help Mr. Edison.

You'll enjoy filling out a Mood Change Chart also—and we know you will eagerly help the great inventor in his latest research into the effects of music on the minds and moods of mankind.

Read Mr. Burns' Chart. Then come to our store. Make the test. Learn how music affects your moods. Your Chart will be sent to Mr. Edison.

If you own a New Edison, ask us for a supply of Charts and invite your friends for a Mood Change Chart party. They will find it more entertaining than the Ouija board. If you do not own a New Edison, we will lend you an instrument with a supply of RE-CREATIONS, for giving a Mood Change Party.

The New Edison has perfect realism. Its RE-CREATION of music cannot be distinguished from the original music. This makes it possible for every home to enjoy the full benefits of the world's best music.

THE Y. M. C. A. AND K. OF C.

Referring to the money raised in the United States for war work, the United Protestant Advocate of Pittsburg, Pa., says:

"Of the money raised for war work, the Y. M. C. A. received $100,000,000; the Knights of Columbus $30,000,000. With these sums the Y. M. C. A. built and maintained 16,000 huts; the K. of C. 150. The Y. M. C. A. had 6,000 secretaries, the K. of C. 700. Comparing the work done, the Y. M. C. A. received $62,500 for each hut in operation, the K. of C. $200,000 for each hut. The Y. M. C. A. received $16,666 for each secretary in service, the K. of C. $42,858. The Y. M. C. A. did 98 per cent. of all the work among the well soldiers, its work was beyond praise and beyond price. The work of the K. of C., in comparison with the Y. M. C. A., is trifling."

CHILDREN'S READING

Many parents are greatly exercised over the subject of their children's reading. There never was a time when more reading was done by young people. There never was a day when the matter of youthful minds was less severely censored. We find ourselves frequently wondering just what effect certain popular reading will have upon youthful mind and character. We fear that some of the most popular material in the daily press is not calculated to inculate respect for parental authority nor the officers of the law; and often we fear lest, in the desire to appeal to the funny side of the child's nature, some writers forget that, along with the fun, frequently doubtful morality is very apt to be inculated at the very time when the child-life is most impressible. It is a very beautiful thing when parents and children are on such intimate terms that they discuss their reading together. Is it not a duty which the parent owes to his child to see to it that his reading is clean, wholesome and thoroughly religious? Many a life has been destroyed by the influence of pernicious books read in secret.

Hands were on FIRE

A Remarkable Case of Eczema.

"My hands broke out," says Mrs. Hector McDonald, of Oyster Ponds, N.S., "into a fiery irritable rash which the doctor called eczema. When his treatment failed to check the trouble I tried various salves and so-called blood-purifiers. But I got steadily worse and what were just isolated sores at first became one large mass of eczema. For over a year this went on, and you can imagine my suffering.

"Then I got Zam-Buk and I shall never forget how it soothed the dreadful fiery pain and itching. Even the first box of Zam-Buk effected wonderful improvement. Day by day the sores lessened and died away until, in time, the last sore healed. Zam-Buk banished every trace of disease."

TRANSFORMED AMBITION

This was the all-comprehensive ambition of Paul as a servant of Christ: ambitious to be approved of his Lord. His old ambition came down before the glory of Christ. He knew that his old ambition had been motived by wrong thoughts about God and he found out something He found out that it was not true that God set a price on forgiveness, it was not true that God had favorites, it was not true that God hated some people and approved others, it was not true that man had to do anything to make God love him. God is love, the Father over all and in all and through all, and hereafter this held and dominated Paul's ambition.

A POSITIVE LIFE

The highest security against temptation lies in the steady development of an affirmative life. The final aim in life is to be something rather than to avoid or to escape something. The feeling is widespread that in recent times the work of warning the world regarding the menace of evil has been rather overdone. This line of effort has been characterized by good intentions rather than by ethical insight. The strain of constant avoidance may fix more attention upon evil than evil ought to have. We are in a more hopeful condition if we go forth bent on doing something and growing into something high, fine, worthy. The best form of defence lies in spiritual attack.

HELPING THE BOY

He is "only a boy" to most folks, a plain, common-sense farmer boy. His toes may be sticking out of his shoes. His nose may be blue and cold. But wrapped up in that boy are possibilities that no human being can estimate.

Sound the boy right and see what he can tell you of the every-day life of the farm—you who think of him as "only a boy." You and he will not be together long before he will astonish you by his knowledge of the birds, flowers, plants and crops of the farm. He knows the whereabouts of every woodchuck hole within a range of two miles; if there is a bee tree anywhere around, trust him to locate it for you; he can tell you when to trap the wild creatures of forest, field and stream. And he knows men, knows them clear down into their hearts, far better than you do. The chances are he could tell you, if he would, just what your worth is to the community and what people are saying about you.

Only a boy—and yet to-morrow you may look for him in the very front rank of the world's activities. Even now he is turning over in his mind for a bigger and better farm than his father or his grandfather ever owned.

What are you doing to help that boy? Are you living the best life you can, clean, honest and aboveboard? Are you giving him a name and a character that will live, or will you be satisfied to leave him $1,000 and think that enough?

To-morrow you will be leaning on this boy of yours. Are you making him strong against that day?—Farm Journal.

TOLERANCE IN ULSTER

It is alleged that Unionist Ulster practises all forms of bigotry and intolerance, whilst Nationalist Ireland has ever evinced a fine spirit of tolerance and generosity. The following figures, from the official returns, speak for themselves:

The Roman Catholic population of Ulster is 690,134, and they have 112 representatives on county councils.

Protestants are 886,363, and they have 123 representatives, that is, one for each 6,163 Roman Catholics, and of Protestants, one for each 7,206.

Connaught has 228 county councillors, not one of whom is a Unionist. Leinster, with 335 county councillors, has only 12 Unionists concentrated in one quarter where they preponderate.

In the South and West, 254,218 Protestants have 13 representatives, whilst the average for Roman Catholics is one for each 3,265.

On the 13th of February, 1913, an official return laid before the Corporation of Belfast showed that Nationalists contributed 18,000 pounds per year in rates, and received in wages and salaries 53,729 pounds.

The Commission presided over by Mr. Justice Day, an English Roman Catholic Judge, investigated this question, especially at Belfast, and the following is the finding: "These reliable statistics show that the Roman Catholic population takes a full share in all the occupations of the people to which their number and their education enable them."

In Co. Cavan there are 17,000 Protestants, and they have not one representative on the county council though they are almost one fifth of the population, and only one of the county council staff is a Protestant who was appointed by the old grand jury prior to 1898.

There are 17 Nationalist county councils that have not appointed one Protestant during the last twenty years.

That is the evidence upon which the charge of Unionist intolerance, and the claim for Nationalist generosity, rests.—Orange Sentinel.

THE MINTO MARRIAGE

The Earl of Minto married a Roman Catholic girl in Montreal last week under conditions that reveal the elasticity of the canon law. Evidently the groom refused to become a Roman Catholic, for the marriage was not celebrated in the church; not even in the vestry, but in a hall devoted to social functions. And a despatch from Montreal states that the priest was not regarded as a "celebrant," and there was no blessing of the parties. "He acted solely in the eyes of the Roman Catholic Church as the witness of the pledging of solemn vows rather than as a participant in a sacrament."

Now, Rome claims that marriage is a sacrament. But in this case there was no sacrament—merely a "pledging of solemn vows." If marriage, to be canonically legal, must be a sacrament, and in this case there was no sacrament, are the couple married according to canon law? If the canon law is not applicable to the marriage of an earl, why is it imperative in the case of an ordinary citizen? Then, again, if Miss Cook was not married according to the Roman canons, is she living in a state of concubinage, as other women are told by priests under somewhat similar circumstances? Perhaps a dispensation was given to Miss Cook. If that is the case, then the canon law is much more flexible than many a poorer or less exalted person has discovered.

That is not the first case of the kind that has happened in Montreal. But it is always the wealthy or titled that get these concessions.—The Orange Sentinel.

PROFITEERING APPROVED

"I'm sorry, young man," said the druggist, as he eyed the small boy over the counter, "but I can only give you half as much castor-oil for a dime as I used to."

The boy blithely handed him the coin. "I'm not kicking," he remarked. "The stuff's for me."

YOUR GROCER IS NOT A PROFITEER

Have a heart!

Your grocer is not a profiteer!

He is passing along to you reduced prices, as fast or faster than they come to him. Just because prices on many good things are still high, don't blame him. It is usually the poorest quality of everything that shows the greatest decline.

If he is as good a man as the average, your grocer is still doing his utmost to give you the best value for your money. But don't push him too hard. He is only human.

You don't know, but we do, that he is recommending goods that pay him less profit than other well known brands which he might easily persuade his customers to take if he cared to do so.

We know this because he pays us more for Red Rose Tea and sells it at less profit than other teas, so when he recommends you to buy Red Rose Tea, you will know it is because he believes it the best and is willing to take a little less profit for the sake of giving you the best value he can.

We are publishing this because we believe the more our people know of the true facts concerning the profits made by those they deal with, the more generous they will be in their judgments.—T. H. Estabrooks Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

HOME

Home's not merely four square walls,
Though with pictures hung and gilded;
Home is where affection calls,
Filled with shrines the heart has builded.

Home! go watch the faithful dove,
Sailing 'neath the heavens above us;
Home is where there is one to love!
Home is where there's one to love us!

Home's not merely roof and room;
It needs something to endear it;
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Where there is some kind lip to cheer it.

What is home with none to meet,
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet—only sweet—
Where there is one we love to meet us!

Reporter: "I called, madam, to learn something of the early struggles of your distinguished son." Old Lady: "He had no struggles that I can recollect, except that he made a good deal of fuss about having his face washed."

"Did you ever know that they could make shoes out of all kinds of skins?"

"How about banana skins?"

"They make slippers out of them."

IS LIKE STARTING LIFE OVER AGAIN

Toronto Woman Well and Strong For First Time in Five Years—Praises Tanlac.

"I had lost over forty pounds in weight, but I've gained seventeen pounds of it back already by taking Tanlac," said Mrs. C. R. Smith, of 102 Riverdale Ave., Toronto, Ont.

"Following a severe attack of erysipelas and blood poisoning five years ago I fell off so fast in weight it was alarming and it just seemed that there was no hope for me. My stomach was badly disordered and I became so weak I could hardly get around. I would bloat up dreadfully and the pressure against my heart was so bad it caused palpitation and shortness of breath. Often I had severe headaches and bilious attacks and sometimes suffered awfully from nausea. I was completely run down and my whole body ached.

"But I began to improve on the very first Bottle of Tanlac and now it seems almost like I am starting life over again. I haven't a touch of indigestion and have already gained back nearly half my lost weight. The headaches and biliousness have left me and I feel so well and strong I can do my housework with ease. I can never forget what a great blessing Tanlac has been to me and it certainly deserves all the praise in the world."

"Tanlac is sold in Orangeville by C. V. Jeffers, in Grand Valley by G. E. Morrow and W. T. Edmonson, and in Shelburne by J. E. A. White."

PRAISES OF A WELL SATISFIED PEOPLE

ARE WHAT GIVES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS POPULARITY

W. A. Shannon voices the sentiment that has given Dodd's Kidney Pills their standing in all parts of Canada.

Styal, Alta., Feb. 7th (Special).—"I am well satisfied with the results I have got from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They were perfectly satisfactory as I have had no trouble since using them. I want other sufferers to know what they did for me."

This is the statement of W. A. Shannon, a well-known and highly respected resident here. And in these few words W. A. Shannon gives the reason why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so popular in all parts of Canada. They do what is claimed of them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a Kidney remedy. They tone up and strengthen weak kidneys and put them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Strong, healthy Kidneys are absolutely necessary if the blood is to be kept pure and the body healthy. Pure blood coursing through the body carries to the different organs the nourishment they need, keeps them sound and enables them to throw off disease of different kinds.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong healthy Kidneys.

WINDOWS IN THE WALL

Life is filled with blank walls. Life's horizon is largely obscured by the walls we build about ourselves, or permit others to build about us. Few of us are ever able to break down the barriers with which we are surrounded, or to climb to the tops of the walls of circumstance and convention that shut us in. But souls shut within walls die unless there is some outlook upon the larger life beyond. Therefore, we must build windows, windows of desire and purpose must be made and maintained, lest atrophy fall upon us. Faith in God is such a window. Faith in our fellows is another. Confidence under God in our ability to achieve is another. The glass upon these windows may be kept bright by the friction of a holy purpose in the hand of a living love. Keep the windows open.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT

The British high Tories, militarists, and imperialists are against the League. Only low Tories, Liberals and Labor party men are for it. Shall we associate ourselves with the lower orders, now that the British aristocracy is nearly 100 per cent. American?—B. L. T., in the Chicago Tribune.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED

The interest taken in the West Peterboro bye-election on Monday was keen and very general The result was a big win for the Liberals, who succeeded in electing their candidate by a majority of about 1300. Denne, the Government candidate, finished in second place and was closely followed by Campbell, the U. F. O. standard bearer. J. H. Burnham, the late member who resigned his seat because he thought the Administration should go to the country, polled about 2500 votes. Denne and Burnham divided the Conservative vote of the constituency and the division was undoubtedly one of the big factors that brought about the Liberal victory. McMurray, the Labor candidate, was a poor fifth in the fight. With one outlying poll unheard from the vote was as follows:—

G. N. Gordon, Liberal—4,165.
E. Denne, Government—2,844.
J. C. Campbell, U.F.O.—2,497.
J. H. Burnham, Ind. Cons.—2,467.
Thos. McMurray, Labor—1,011.

The interpretation, which the Mail & Empire and the Globe, the two leading party organs in Ontario,place on the result, follows:—

Toronto Globe: "West Peterboro has spoken decisively on the issue which precipitated the bye-election and upon which the battle mainly was fought. In a voice that can be heard throughout the country it has asked the Meighen government to resign. The Government polled a shabby minority of votes in the industrial city of Peterboro, which it hoped to win by parading the free trade bogey and playing on the fears of wage earners. Not often in the politics of this country has a party in office cut so insignificant a figure in a bye-election contest."

Toronto Mail & Empire: "The Liberal candidate, Mr. Gordon, has been elected in West Peterboro. For this success he is indebted to the division of the Conservatives between Mr. Denne and Mr. Burnham. The total vote polled for the two Conservatives was about a thousand greater than the vote polled for the Liberal. It must be cheering to Mr. King to have at last won a seat in an English-speaking riding in one of the numerous bye-elections that have been held since he took his place as Liberal Leader in the house."

COUNTY COUNCIL NOTES

Council will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, June 21st.

The sum of $100 was allowed P. S. Inspector Liddy for office help.

On account of continued ill-health Governor Bowles was granted leave of absence until June Session.

W. J. Bower, Reeve of Mono, and Archie Vance, of Corbetton, were appointed to the Board of Criminal Audit.

Dr. W. J. Price and Mr. J. A. Hand were appointed to the Orangeville and Shelburne High School Boards respectively.

Hitherto members of the council have been paid five cents mileage each way. A by-law was put through increasing this to ten cents.

Mr. H. A. Dorrance, District Representative, submitted a comprehensive report reviewing and explaining the work of his office during the year.

A special Committee, appointed to confer with the Banks regarding interest on loans, reported that the Manager of the Sterling Bank had agreed to advance up to $75,000 at 6 per cent.

The Education Committee commended Inspector Liddy for his instructive and beneficial report and recommended that the report be printed in The Orangeville Banner, the Star & Vidette and the Shelburne Economist.

"The portion prepared for vehicular traffic as provided in the next preceding sub-section shall not be deemed to include any part of an open ditch, drain, side slope or curb, nor any part of what is commonly known as the roadside."

Council voted to pay the annual membership fee of $15.00 to the Good Roads Association and to defray the expenses of the Reeves of the several municipalities and Messrs. Wheblock and Christie to the annual meeting in Toronto Feb. 28th to March 3rd.

In the application for a grant to Lord Dufferin Hospital, it was stated that the hospital had discharged 200 patients last year and nearly 1500 patients in the eight years of its existence. Over two-thirds of these patients were from Dufferin County. Last year the expenses of the institution were nearly $9000.

Inspector Liddy was instructed to arrange with the dentists of the county to hold a clinic, or clinics, to instruct Dufferin teachers in dental inspection at a cost not to exceed $1.00 per teacher. The Education Committee also suggested that the Council recommend to the Minister of Education that Normal School graduates be instructed in dental inspection.

Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, submitted a draft of a proposed amendment to Section 460 of the Municipal Act and asked the Council for an expression of its opinion. The amendment proposed by the Minister adds the following clauses:

"Where that portion of a highway prepared for vehicular travel is in a reasonable and ordinary state of repair, no condition whatsoever of that part of the highway not within the portion prepared for vehicular traffic shall render the municipal corporation of a township or county liable for damages by reason of accident or injury sustained on any such highway by a vehicle or its contents, or by the owner, driver or other occupant of a vehicle.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

Report of Proceedings at Monday Night's Sitting.

Considerable business was transacted by the Town Council at its meeting on Monday night. Payment of the following corporation accounts was authorized:—

Lord Dufferin Hospital, $45.00; Chas. Gillespie, $11.25; W. M. Green and Wm. Watt, $25.00 each for services as auditors; A. A. Hughson, $16.00; Northern Electric Co., $15.15; James Ewing, $14.00; Municipal World, $40.28; W. G. Cranston, $13; Fred Manning, $13.40; John Matson, $1.50; Northern Electric Co., $6.38; C. C. G. Hannah, $22.50; E.C. Clark, $16.85; Dr. J. A. Macleod, $16.50; Orangeville Hydro Commission, $52.96; Orangeville Hydro Commission, street lighting, $319.50, passed at $315.35; Dominion Express Co., 65c; Sanderson & Robertson, $6.70; Geo. King, $22.00; W. O. Thomas, $3.60; Geo. Ellison, $40.00.

Accounts of the Bell Telephone Co. for $1.05 and the Adamson Hardware Co. for $87.56 were referred to the Finance Committee with authority to pay if found correct.

The following are paragraphs from the report of the special Committee appointed to consider the Mayor's address:

"This Committee is exceedingly pleased with the $2,000 balance on hand, for the first time in many years .As we have $2800 more debenture debt to pay this year than last our expenditure will have to be carefully guarded.

"In the matter of the extension of the water service to some parts of the town now without it, we agree with you that it is very necessary for fire protection and health to have some of these extensions carried out this year.

"The advisability of oiling Broadway should be carefully considered by the Streets Committee. Our roads are in pretty good shape, but no doubt after the frost gets out and the spring rains, considerable repairs will be needed. But with the expected drop in the price of labor and material more may be accomplished this year with the amount allotted to this department.

"Our Property Committee informs us that the ceiling and floor of the Market Room have already been repaired and, as Mr. Fairbairn, the largest produce dealer in town, has secured different quarters, possibly this room could be made to answer the two purposes—namely as a market room when necessary for outside buyers and as an Assembly Room for the young people of the town.

"The sewerage problem is a matter that cannot be much longer delayed and if the Health Department of the Province could give us some financial assistance we think it would be wise to get a start made at this undertaking this year.

"We hope to see considerable building activity in town this year and as you say we have a prosperous town in a wealthy agricultural community, which should be ample inducements for a comfortable and attractive residential centre, which cannot be said of the manufacturing centres at the present time."

Fred Manning was allowed $25.00 and U. W. Christie $8.00 for services in connection with the Hunter drain in the West Ward.

A communication from the Fire Brigade asking for an advance in the salaries of firemen was referred to the F. & W. Committee.

The Auditors' report was submitted to the Council and referred to the Finance Committee for examination and report.

Council deferred consideration of the proposed by-law providing for the early closing of butcher shops until the next meeting. In the meantime a special committee composed of the Mayor, Reeve and Councillors Young and Dalgleish was appointed to consider the matter and endeavor to effect some amicable arrangement between the interested parties.

A motion was passed confirming the action of the Mayor in allowing Mr. S. H. Rutledge to build an addition to his monument shop.

The Fire & Water Committee was instructed to make arrangements with Mr. T. J. Robinson for the use of a horse for fire purposes.

The Property Committee was authorized to purchase sufficient wood to meet the town's fuel requirements in that line.

Messrs. Fairbairn, Reid and Deputy-Reeve were appointed a Committee to investigate and report on the sewerage question.

Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Had Another Successful Year in 1920.

Harmony and a feeling of satisfaction pervaded the atmosphere at the annual meeting of the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company in Shelburne on Saturday afternoon. The reports submitted to the meeting revealed another year of success and progress. There was no criticism and little discussion and as a consequence the business of the day was all transacted in less than two hours. President W. J. Jelly occupied the chair. The report of Auditors Samuel Patterson and W. E. Reid showed assets of $217,310.45, made up of $8,933.25 cash in banks, $4,125.25 notes of Corporation of Shelburne payable on demand, $3,000 Victory Loan Bonds and $201,251.95 premium notes in force after deducting payments. The four retiring Directors, Messrs. J. J. Braiden, William McGhee, Thos. Sime and W. W. Warnock, were re-elected. Officers and Directors for the present year are:

President—W. J. Jelly, Shelburne.
Vice-Pres.—Samuel Barber, Rosemont.
Adjuster—John Johnston, Laurel.
Auditors—W. E. Reid, Shelburne; Samuel Patterson, Shelburne.
Secretary and Manager—Thomas Whalley, Shelburne.
Directors—East Garafraxa, Wm. Park, W. W. Warnock; East Luther, George Lyon, Thos. Sime; Melancthon, W. J. Jelly, Wm. McGhee; Mulmur, Thos. Jennings, Geo. Best; Mono, Samuel Barber, J. A. Marshall; Amaranth, John Johnston, J. J. Braiden.

John Best, M. P., who was one of the Directors of the Company when it was first organized twenty-six years ago, was present and delivered an interesting address on the organization of the Company, conditions that existed then and the amounts paid for animals insured at that time in comparison with the amounts now paid for the settlement of claims of the same class. Then the amount the Company usually paid for a lamb killed by lightning or destroyed in a fire was $4.00. To-day the amount paid is $20.00. When in its infancy the Company allowed its directors 50 cents a day for attending meetings. The allowance at the present time is $3.00 a day. Taking comparisons of this class as a basis Mr. Best made plain the great increase there has been in the general prosperity of the people of the County of Dufferin in the last twenty-five years.

MEDAL AND SCROLL

As next of kin Mrs. Ed. French, Orangeville, has received from the Militia Headquarters at Ottawa a medal for her son, Pte. Isaiah Winterton, who made the supreme sacrifice in the recent war. The medal has the Mons ribbon and is very similar to the Mons medal. It is awarded to any Canadians of the 1914-15 contingents who lost their lives. Mrs. French has also received a beautiful scroll and message from Buckingham Palace commemorating the sacrifice of her son. The scroll bears the following impressive inscription:

"He whom this scroll commemorates was numbered among those who, at the call of King and Country, left all that was dear to them, endured hardness, faced danger, and finally passed out of the sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom.

"Let those who come after see to it that his name be not forgotten."

A WOMAN'S RIGHT TO GOOD HEALTH

Most Troubles Afflicting Women Are Due to Poor Blood.

To every woman belongs the right to enjoy a healthy, active life; yet nine out of ten suffer from some form of bloodlessness. That is why one sees on every side pale, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures—sure signs of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. All weak women should win the right to be well by refreshing their weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood that promptly transforms them into healthy attractive women. This new, red blood is supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body. Through the use of these pills thousands of women have found benefit when suffering from anaemia, indigestion, general weakness and those ailments from which women alone suffer. Among the many women who tell of the good Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done them is Mrs. L. Hicks, Round Hill, N. S., who says: "I became very much run down in health; my blood seemed weak and watery, my strength failed, and I was so easily tired that my work was a burden. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them, and I can truly say that after using three boxes I found myself gaining and under a further use of the pills all my old-time energy and vitality was restored. Out of my own experience I can strongly recommend this medicine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rip Van Winkle, who according to the legend, was a fair to middling good bowler, would turn green-eyed in his grave if his grave happened to be near Hell's Hill in California. On the steep slopes of this hill a set of doughty bowlers every week roll weird games of ten pins with balls that weigh 500 pounds.

These modern Olympians, whose game shakes the countryside, are a set of movie players from the Vitagraph studio. William Duncan, star of the latest serial, "The Silent Avenger," is one of them, and Jack Richardson, villian of the film, is another.

They have become so proficient that they can send a boulder as big as a woodshed down the slope at a certain tree 500 feet away, and level the tree.

One of the latest exploits of this character occurs in the thirteenth episode of the serial. Richardson is the performer. He hurls a boulder down a steep bluff, aimed at an automobile in which Duncan is seated. The star jumps just in time, and the boulder unerringly demolishes the car.

HOWARD HEARD

Brother of Mr. R. B. Heard, of Bank of Hamilton Staff, Dies From Effects of Accident.

The sympathy of his Orangeville friends is extended to Mr. R. B. Heard, accountant in the Bank of Hamilton here, in his bereavement through the death of a younger brother, Howard, who passed away in the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Fergus, on Thursday, January 27th, from injuries due to being kicked by a horse. The young man lived at Swinten Park near Dundalk and the following account of the sad occurrence is taken from the Dundalk Herald:—

Howard Heard, as most Herald readers will remember, was kicked by a horse on Sunday morning, Dec. 26th, and very seriously injured. Drs. Martin and Sneath were at once called and they thought it advisable to hurry the patient to Fergus Hospital by motor. Dr. Martin accompanied him to Fergus. After being operated on he was believed to be doing well and so far recovered as to be able to write letters home and to read books, until early last week when complications set in. On Wednesday night it was deemed advisable to operate again. But when this was attempted it was found that there was no hope of success. Dr. Groves then told the young man and wired to his friends that he could not get better. The father and the mother left by first train from Dundalk, but owing to missing train connection down the line, failed to reach the son before the spirit had fled . A brother, George, of Toronto, and T. Weir, a brother-in-law, of Durham, were with him when the end came. Although suffering great distress he was cheerful and sensible to the last. His only worry was his desire to see his father and mother, but this was not to be. He passed away at 12 o'clock on Thursday, the heart-broken parents arriving half an hour later.

Howard Heard was 22 years old, a fine specimen of young manhood and well-liked by all who knew him. The sincere sympathy of the community goes out to the sorrowing family, especially to the parents who failed to reach him in time to say good-bye. He leaves to mourn, father and mother, a brother, Wesley, at home; Seymore attending Dundalk High School; R. B., of the Bank of Hamilton, Orangeville; George, in Toronto; three sisters, Mrs. Hatton, Toronto; Mrs. John A. Scott, Proton; Mrs. Weir, Egremont; also three brothers in Saskatchewan, John, William and Edward. The funeral is being held this (Tuesday) afternoon at Salem Methodist Church.

Surrounding the casket as he lies in the home is a profusion of flowers, in various designs of wreaths, sprays, stars, etc., and one, which will no doubt be very highly prized, from the members of the Gospel Band, to which he belonged.

LOST HIS BEARINGS

An aviator bound from Toronto to Camp Borden circled over Orangeville for some time yesterday forenoon and finally landed near Idylwyld Park. He had lost his way owing to the dense, cloudy weather. After telegraphing to Camp Borden to report his whereabouts he found himself unable to start his engine, when he attempted to continue his journey. He was still here when The Banner went to press and had sent a message to Camp Borden for assistance. The aviators follow the Grand Trunk railway north from Mono Road, but the Orangeville visitor kept on the C. P. R. Line.

A loving father, true and kind,
A beautiful memory left behind;
Loved and respected, one of the best,
May he be granted eternal rest.

The world may change from year to year,
Our friends from day to day;
But never shall the one we loved,
From memory pass away.

"Thy will be done," seems hard to say,
When those we loved have passed away,
Some day, perhaps, we'll understand,
When we meet again in a better land.

ALTON.

In the Methodist Church on Sunday night a deeply interested congregation heard Mr. J. M. Dods tell of the World's Sunday School Convention in the city of Tokio last autumn. Mr. Dods told in logical and impressive manner of the great work that the Christian missionaries are doing in the Orient and gave much information about the size, spirit and importance of the great Convention that he had the honor of attending. Of interest also was his account of places he had visited and scenes that he had witnessed while in the far east. The address was of a worthwhile character and was keenly relished by the congregation.

Don't forget the Valentine Social under the auspices of the Alton Women's Institute, in the Town Hall on Monday, Feb. 14th, at 8 o'clock. Admission, 25c.; children under 12 years, 10 cents.

Alton orchestra and quartette assisted in the program at Belfountain on Tuesday evening.

Mr. John Howlett and his bride arrived in the village on Monday of last week and were given a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Edwards. About fifty of their friends assembled to extend congratulations and good wishes to the happy couple. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and dancing, in which all heartily engaged. Mr. and Mrs. Howlett have taken up their residence in the village.

Mrs. Dean, late of Orton, has moved to the village and is now living in the house formerly occupied by Mr. V. Armstrong.

CALEDON.

Caretaker Dave Patterson is very much on the job. For the second Council meeting he added to the hall's decorations two live butterflies.

On nomination day the dominant idea seems to be economize and reduce the taxes. Some of those attending the first few meetings of the council have other suggestions for the guardians of the strong box.

Jane says: "The evident interest exhibited lately in some fine babies by apparently confirmed bachelors is encouraging."

The Euchre Club will meet on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Grace Campbell.

Does the presence of Mr. S. Charters, M. P., and Major Kennedy, M. P. P., at Caledon East indicate an early election?

The proposed installation of modern sanitary equipment in the town hall will receive the hearty endorsation of a large majority of the ratepayers.

If the visitor who found so much to criticize in connection with one of our churches will pay us another visit he will find that his whole attention may be given to the sermon and service without the distraction he experienced before. But, to prevent him becoming "puffed up" (which the good book warns us against), at the change, we should explain that his previous visit occurred during a re-organization of the choir and a change in the lighting system. As Jane says: "Don't judge a housekeeper by a room that's being tidied."

Good work reaps its reward. The lure of the library is drawing readers from Alton and Mono Mills districts.

ROBT. DIXON'S DEATH

Robert Dixon, coal and wood merchant and a prominent citizen, died quite suddenly at his home in Grand Valley on Saturday morning. Deceased was 59 years of age and was born on the old Dixon homestead in East Luther a short distance north of Grand Valley, where his father was one of the early settlers, clearing a farm in the dense bush. The deceased had been in rather poor health, but his death was unexpected.

LATE LEVI HILLOCK

The death of the late Levi Hillock, which occurred at the home of his brothers, Alex. and Thos. Hillock, lot 18, 3rd line, west, Caledon, on Wednesday, January 26th, came as a great shock to his many friends and neighbors. The late Mr. Hillock, who, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hillock, had been in failing health for the last six months and had been staying with his brothers for that time. Mr. Hillock was a successful farmer for a number of years, but had been working in Toronto for the last six years. He was a kind-hearted, sociable man, who enjoyed the good-will and respect of all. He leaves to mourn his loss two brothers and two sisters, namely Alex., Thos. and Emily at home and Mrs. W. H. Bowes, Centre Road, Caledon. The service was conducted at the house and grave by the Rev. W. N. Carr, of Alton. The pallbearers were six cousins, Albert Hillock, Jos. Hillock, W. J. Hillock, Thos. Petch, Thos. Hillock and R. G. Hillock. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved relatives.

JOHN H. HUNTER

The funeral of John H. Hunter, a life-long resident of Chinguacousy, was held from his home near Mount Pleasant to Brampton Cemetery on Monday afternoon. Deceased was born and died on the same farm. His father, the late Nathaniel Hunter, was one of the earliest settlers in that neighborhood. Mr. Hunter was a quiet and unassuming farmer, and made many friends. He was a Liberal in politics as was his father before him. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Thos. Dodds, pastor, assisted by Dr. J. H. Edmonson, Toronto. Among the many floral tributes was a beautiful pillow from the congregation of Mt. Pleasant Church, and a wreath from the Session, of which Mr. Hunter was a faithful member for thirty-five years. He is survived by his widow, formerly Elizabeth Fraser, Huttonville; three sons, Fraser and Nathaniel on the farm, and Jack, Brampton, the latter a returned veteran with three and a half years' overseas service, and two daughters, Mrs. J. H. McClure, Cranbrook, B. C., and Miss Grace at home.

ROBT. J. HALBERT

Mr. Robert J. Halbert, a well-known farmer of the Mono Mills neighborhood, passed away at his home, lot 4, con. 7, east, Mono, shortly before twelve o'clock on Monday night. Deceased had been very ill for the last year and had not enjoyed good health since the death of his oldest son, who was killed during the war. He was 65 years and 9 months of age and was born on the 5th line, Mono, near Relessey, his father, the late Adam Halbert, being one of the pioneer settlers in that locality. The family eventually moved to a farm six miles north of Markdale. This place Mr. Halbert helped to clear. After his marriage to Miss Eliza Squires, daughter of a well-known family in the Markdale district, the subject of our sketch moved to the Irish Block in Sydenham township, where he farmed until fifteen years ago, when he disposed of his property and moved to Mono. Deceased was a quiet, industrious man and a good neighbor, who enjoyed the respect and goodwill of the people amongst whom he lived. He leaves a widow and a family of three sons, John A. David and Alex., all living at home. John, the oldest of the three boys, is at present in Lord Dufferin Hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis a couple of weeks ago. The oldest son of the family, Joseph, enlisted and went overseas with the 164th Battalion and was killed in action in 1917. Messrs. S. J. and J. A. Halbert, of Markdale, are brothers and Mrs. Geo. Turner, of Saskatoon, is the only sister. The late Mr. Halbert was a member of the Presbyterian Church, an Orangeman and a Conservative. The funeral was held from his late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery at 2 o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon and was largely attended. Profound sympathy is felt for the bereaved widow and family.

REMEDY FOR AD-VERSE EXCHANGE

The question of exchange between Canada and the United States is a very serious one to Canadians. With a Canadian dollar losing 18 cents in value the minute it crosses the boundary, the people of Canada should stop and give the subject very serious consideration. This depreciation of our currency in the United States affects every one; but some are affected more than others. Even wholesale prices in Canada are largely controlled by the rate of exchange between the two countries. In many instances articles sold in Canada are sold subject to a basis of competition from American goods of similar quality. Some time ago when the sugar situation was very acute, when American sugar refiners dropped the prices to a very low figure compared with the Canadian refiners, the Canadian sugar manufacturers were forced to drop their price to a point where it was in competition with American prices, plus duty, exchange and transportation. At that time the exchange has about 10 per cent., now it is around 18 per cent. It can be easily seen that though an individual may not really purchase any American goods, that individual may still be very considerably affected by an adverse exchange.

A commodity in which most people in Ontario are interested in is coal. At the present time a dealer must send $1180 Cannadian money to the American coal dealer, for $1000 worth of coal. This figures out to about $2 per ton by the time freight is paid in American money to the border.

There is a remedy for this that everyone can apply in his own case, and with all working to the same end, a cure could be very quickly reached. There are certain commodities that must be purchased across the border. These must still be bought but bought as sparingly as possible. But there are millions and millions of Canadian dollars spent in the United States on what can only be classed as luxuries. The purchases in this class should be cut down to the vanishing point, and this done quickly. A real menace faces this country unless such a step is taken. Purchase home grown products, home manufactured products, and leave American products alone until such time as Canadian money reaches par.

Had Canadians put on the brakes in their reckless expenditure a year or so ago, the results would already have been satisfactory. But no brakes were applied and the result is the present exchange rate.

The rate is more or less arbitrarily arranged by speculators in New York, and varies greatly from time to time. There are only a few who are affected by it to their advantage, and these are the speculators and the Canadian manufacturers. It places the American manufacturer at a decided disadvantage in trading with Canada. But, as said before, the remedy is in the hands of Canadians. Purchase nothing from the United States that can be done without, or that can be purchased from some other country where we enjoy a more favorable exchange.—O. S. Sun-Times.

THE FORGIVENESS OF SIN

What is necessary to obtain the forgiveness of sins?

First, a true conviction of sin. A realization of your inability to save yourself, and rejection of all man-made schemes of salvation.

Second, by repentance of sin and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and by a definite choice, accept Him as your personal Redeemer and the only Refuge of your soul.

"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (1 John 1 : 8.)

We must get back to the Biblical way. There is no other way. Human nature is not changed. Satan is still blinding the eyes of men to the truth. Sin is the same black, dark, destructive thing, "that abominable thing which God hates."

Whatever else is new in these after-the-war days, the Gospel which is the power of God unto salvation is not new. "Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever," and is "able to save to the uttermost all who come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them."

SAM HADDEN—"30"

They laid Sam Hadden away in Norway Cemetery. The boys of the Press call it "30," which means the end—"the last take."

Who was Sam Hadden? At his passing, he was secretary-treasurer of Toronto Typographical Union. "Old 91," whose historic membership roll contains the names of old boys who made good in the pulpit, in the halls of learning, at the Bar of Justice, as Chief Magistrates, as Statesmen, as world economists, in the editorial chair—and on the stage. The fraternity—the brotherhood—of the printer lasts till "30"—and I believe after. For I think they sit around the Record Office "up there" as they did in the offices below, and Bill Prescott says to Ned Clarke: "Who do you suppose just arrived?" And Ned just looks at Billy, who further remarks: "Sam Hadden deposited his card Sunday, and is going to show up for work."

Sam Hadden, I believe, originated in Orangeville, 65 years ago. At any rate he served his time with Johnny Robinson, of The Toronto Telegram; Blaney McGuire, of the Orangeville Banner; and Bill McGuire, postmaster of Tillsonburg, and others. Sam next worked on the Guelph Herald, then owned by 'Aleck Wright and Harry Smallpiece, both of whom afterwards came back to Toronto. The next office for Sam Hadden was the old Chicago Inter-Ocean, famous for the number of good Canuck printers—not one ashamed of his native land.

Working on the Inter-Ocean was Kirk Lachelle, who became famous as Shore Acres, and who with his own company delighted big audiences in the Grand Opera House, Toronto; Lou Sheppard, who tried to stage and came back to newspaper work. Sam Hadden also took to the stage, and played, among others, Brutus to John McCulloch's Anthony. Quitting the footlights, Sam Hadden became treasurer of McVicar's theatre, Chicago, for ten years and more. Then he returned to Toronto, and eventually became secretary-treasurer of No. 91.

The printer's calling brings him in close contact with the best minds of the ages. Nature prepares him for "30." So he is not afraid to lift the last take off the hook, draw his card, and deposit it with the Father of the Chapel of the Record Office "up there" and show up for work.

Here is one letter:—"To Whom it may Concern: "This is to certify that I had been suffering for over three weeks with bronchitis and was advised to try Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. I purchased a bottle and after the third dose I received relief, and before the bottle was finished, I was perfectly well. In making the above assertion I have no hesitation in saying it is the best remedy I ever came in contact with for heavy colds and bronchitis."—(Signed), Mrs. M. Harding, c/o Dustan Brush Co., Toronto. The original of this testimonial may be seen at W. K. Buckley, Limited, 142 Mutual St., Toronto. LIFE'S COMMON THINGS

The things of every day are all so sweet—
The morning meadows wet with dew;
The dance of daisies in the moon; the blue
Of far-off hills where twilight shadows lie;
The night, with all its tender mystery of sound
And silence, and God's starry sky!
Oh, life—the whole of life—is far too fleet.
The things of every day are all so sweet.

The common things of life are all so dear—
The waking in the warm half-gloom
To find again the old familiar room;
The scents and sighs and sounds that never tire;
The homely works, the plans, the lilt of baby's laugh;
The crackle of the open fire;
The waiting, then the footsteps coming near;
The opening door, your handclasp—and your kiss—
Is Heaven not, after all, the Now and Here?
The common things of life are all so dear.

PSYCHOLOGY

Professor—"Now I put the number seven on the board. What number immediately comes into your mind?"

Class (in unision)—"Eleven!"

ENGLISH AND EGGS

"Do you say that your hens 'sit' or 'set'?" asked the precise pedagog of the busy housewife.

"It never matters to me what I say," was the quick reply. "What concerns me is to learn, when I hear the hens cackling, whether she is laying or lying."

and inflamed, the speedy and most effective treatment is to, now and again dissolve a Pepe infection-killing tablet in your mouth. Peps reach the inner tissues which are the parts actually affected in throat and chest ailments. Liquid medicines can't do this.

Just as you breathe in the germs of throat trouble, so you must breathe in the remedy to chase and exterminate these germs, before they feel their way into the windpipe and chest. These soothing, germicidal Peps vapours quickly allay inflammation and soreness; they overcome the hoarseness, difficulty in swallowing, and irritating dry cough.

Free from opium or other habit-forming drugs Peps provide the ideal remedy and preventive of colds, chills, grippe, influenza and throat troubles.

Beware of substitutes and tablets containing formalin which irritate and inflame the throat and air passages.

DUFFERIN'S FINANCES

EXPENDITURE ON COUNTY ROADS IN 1920 AMOUNTED TO $149,813.12—DEFICIT OF $42,664.60 WILL BE COVERED BY GOVERNMENT SUBSIDY PAYABLE IN APRIL

In his statement to the County Council last week County Treasurer C. R. Wheelock dealt in concise and comprehensive manner with the finances of Dufferin County for the past year. He also gave an illuminating summary of the Good Roads receipts and expenditure and the standing of the Good Roads accounts of the different municipalities. In view of the importance of the statement and the gneral interest in the matters discussed, we are publishing it in full for the information and benefit of the ratepayers of the County:—

Treasurer's Office,
County of Dufferin,
Orangeville, Jan. 25, 1921

To the Warden and Council of the County of Dufferin:—

Gentlemen:

The Auditors' statement of assets and liabilities for the County of Dufferin as at the 31st day of December, 1920, shows a surplus of current assets amounting to $1,853.07 over current liabilities. This amount is carried forward for general current expenditure. $14,000 was transferred from the general account to the County Roads account to meet an overdraft on the latter, and will have to be repaired to the general account when required. Of this sum $9,901.80 will be credited to the War Memorial Fund and the balance, $4,098.20, added to the surplus carried forward for general current expenditure, thus increasing it from $1,853.07 to $5,951.27. This surplus is over $3,600 less than was carried forward for last year but may, with economy, be sufficient to meet ordinary expenditure (not including County Roads expenditure), up to the 31st day of May next, which is the end of our financial year, and to close the year without a deficit in the general account.

The total expenditure on County Roads for the year 1920 amounted, with the debit balances carried forward from 1919, to $149,813.12, and the receipts to $107,148.52, leaving a deficit of $42,664.60. Against this deficit may be credited the Government subsidy for last year's expenditure amounting to approximately $41,441.25, which we expect to get about the 1st of April next, and which will reduce the deficit to $1,223.35. To this must be added all payments made up to the 1st of April or such other date when the subsidy will be paid.

The County Roads deficit is at present covered by a loan from the bank of $29,000 and $14,000 transferred from the "General County Account," and against the above there is to the credit of the "County Roads Account" at the Bank $335.40, leaving the balance $42,664.60.

As shown by the detailed statement of receipts and expenditure all the municipalities of the County, with the exception of the Village of Grand Valley, have expended more than the proportionate share to which they were respectively entitled. The following schedule shows the approximate standing of the several municipalities:—

	$42664 60		$42664 60

During the year 1920 we borrowed from the Bank for general expenditure $13,000, and for County Roads $86,000, amounting in all to $99,000. The loans for general expenditure were all repaid before the end of the year and $57,000 paid on the County Roads loans, leaving a balance of $29,000 still carried at the Bank. The Bank interest for the year amounted to $267.93 on the general account and $2,537.36 on the County Roads account.

The total Government Subsidy for Dufferin County Roads for the past two years amounts to the large sum of $79,064.67. The total expenditure for the same period, not including Committees and interest, was $190,248.20. Included in this amount is the expenditure for road machinery amounting in round numbers to $26,000, and new bridges $25,000, and besides a great many culverts the cost of which is not separated from the road work. To handle the work and comply with the regulations of the Department of Highways the first things necessary were to purchase sufficient road machinery and to replace the many bridges and culverts that were in a dangerous condition when taken over by the County. The County is now well equipped with machinery and the worst of the bridges and culverts have been replaced, so that future expenditure along these lines should be greatly reduced and consequently more money available for road construction and maintenance.

The original system of County Roads covered about 160 miles. This has been added to from time to time by by-laws of the County Council until it is now increased to about 215 miles, which is a rather lengthy system for a county the size of Dufferin, and it will be difficult to finance the improvements on the increased mileage without increasing our yearly levy. No more roads should be assumed by the County without provision being made for the additional expenditure involved.

It will be a source of considerable satisfaction for the Council to know that owing to the careful management of the business of the County the pre war rate of 3 mills which was levied for general expenditure carried us through last year notwithstanding peak prices. As three mills is the minimum rate since the year 1912 it will be seen that no increase has been made in the County Rate for ordinary expenditure.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
C. R. WHEELOCK,
Treas. County of Dufferin.

THE TIME IS SHORT

Oh, my dear friends, you who are letting miserable misunderstandings run on from year to year; you who are keeping wretched quarrels alive because you cannot quite make up your mind that now is the day to sacrifice your pride and kill them; you who are passing men sullenly upon the street, not speaking to them out of some silly spite, and yet knowing that it would fill you with shame and remorse if you heard that one of those men were dead tomorrow; you who are letting your neighbor starve till you hear that he is dying of starvation; or letting your friend's heart ache for a word of appreciation or sympathy, which you mean to give him some day; if you could know and see and feel, all of a sudden, that "the time is short" how it would break the spell! How you would go instantly and do the thing which you might never have another chance to do.—Phillips Brooks.

GOD'S IDEAL FOR OUR LIVES

Individuality is most sacred. We cannot touch another person's life without the other person's consent. We cannot force even our love upon people, nor compel them to do what is right. All we can do, all that even a parent can do for a child is to use our influence and led God do the rest. The moment we try to use any compulsion or to urge a person in any way but through the conscience, and heart, we are violating the sanctity of personality and also endangering the life. It is a great comfort to know that God is not hacking away at the block of marble which represents our lives without any thought of what He is going to make. Even a common sculptor has something in his mind of what he means to hew the marble into, and I am sure God never begins work on the human mind without an ideal. "Every man's life is a plan of God." The thought is very beautiful and is also true. In the experiences through which we pass we know that there is an eye watching, and a wisdom overruling, and that all things are so directed that in the end God's ideal for our lives shall be realized.

GIVING AND PRAYER

To give is as spiritual a thing as to pray. Of course, everything depends upon what is in the heart. A prayer which is merely an unrealized form of words has no religious value, nor has a gift which is given merely for the purpose of display or because it is the fashionable or popular thing to do.

But giving which is prompted by feelings of loyalty, of gratitude, of love, is acceptable to God and a means of grace to the giver.

God values our gifts not for themselves, but as an expression of our love. It is ourselves he cares about, not our possessions.

Y. P. S. BANQUET

On Monday night about one hundred and forty members of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Church sat down to a sumptuous banquet provided by the "Blues," the losers in the Society's membership contest in honor of the "Reds," winners in the contest, which came to a close about two weeks ago. After the tables had been cleared, the young people were further regaled with a program of toasts and speeches, Mr. Arthur Macpherson officiating as toastmaster. Mr. Macpherson proposed the opening toast to the King, which was honored in the customary manner. This was followed by a toast to the Y. P. S., proposed by Harry Guest and responded to by Miss Jean Currie. The other toasts were to the Ladies, who had done so much to make the banquet a success, proposed by Mr. R. Fairbairn and responded to in happy manner by Miss G. M. Strang and to the winning "Reds," proposed by Murray McKitrick and responded to by Gordon Adamson. Rev. Wm. Fingland, the Honorary President of the Society, wrote from Toronto expressing his regret at being unable to attend the banquet. The chief speaker and guest of the evening was Rev. Mr. Ferris, of Toronto, appointed by the General Assembly of the Church to spend six months working among the young people throughout the Dominion. The address was a treat, the theme being the choosing of the right path in life. The young people of the church are to have Mr. Ferris speak to them again on February 21st on the Tuxis Boys' work and Girls' Training Camp work. The address will be illustrated. Mr. Sutherland, one of the Judges, announced the decision of the Judges on the program contest, which ran simultaneously with the Membership contest. The award was given to the Consecration Committee, Miss Annie Lane convener.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. Richard Woods, of Toronto, formerly of Masonville, had a narrow escape from death a short time ago. Because of visitors in his home, Mr. Woods was sleeping downstairs on a couch in the kitchen, with a chair placed at the end of the couch to support his feet. In his sleep he in some manner kicked the chair over against the gas connection on the stove, making a break, which allowed the gas to leak. About four o'clock in the morning the people upstairs were aroused by the smell of gas and on going downstairs to investigate found Mr. Woods apparently dead. The ambulance was summoned and the doctors worked over the prostrate man for several hours before he fully regained consciousness. It was a very narrow escape and an experience that Mr. Woods would not care to have repeated.

CIGAR STATISTICS

The following communication has been received from a citizen of Orangeville:—

There are some families in this town who smoke up more money in cigars than they use in coal for a six roomed house, a third more in cigars than they pay for rent. Six cigars per day at from eight to fifteen cents apiece. Just take your pencil and paper and figure out how much this will amount to in a year. How much will from three to six cigars per day at ten cents each amount to in a year?

STORMY WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The stormy blustery weather which we have during February and March is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep them in the house. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will not fail to break up colds and keep the health of the baby in good condition till the brighter days come along. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ATTEMPTED HIGH-WAY ROBBERY

Bandits Stopped Roy Young's Car Near Rockwood and Fired Three Shots.

A dastardly attempt at highway robbery was made Saturday night on the York road between Rockwood and Guelph, when Roy Young, of the former place, was stopped as he reached the top of Moore's Hill, some two miles west of Rockwood.

He noticed a fence rail across the road and stopped his car. A man flashed a light and called out in the darkness that he had better hurry out and remove the rail or he would know the reason why. Instead of getting out of the car he stepped on the "gas" and speeded away. As he did so three shots were fired.

All three bullets struck the car, one hitting the hood, another the frame of the cover, and the third entered the rear of the body of the car, and was embedded in waste and rags. This bullet was recovered.

Mrs. Augus Young, Roy's sister-in-law, was in the car with him.

Mr. Young had $100 in his pocket and is very well satisfied that he got away from the murderous rascals—Acton Free Press.

JANET M'GREGOR

The death of another link between the early history of the county and the present was taken from the chain this week in the person of Miss Janet McGregor, who passed away at her home in Inglewood on Saturday last. Miss McGregor was the daughter of the late Duncan McGregor, who came from Scotland to Caledon in 1830 and settled on lot 4, first line, west. His home in the old land was Sligo, and it was he who gave the name to the hill which is so well known to motorists in Ontario. Miss McGregor lived on the homestead until about 21 years ago, when with her brother and sister she removed to the village of Inglewood, where she passed away. She was very well until Christmas, celebrating that occasion in the usual manner. She was in possession of all her faculties, although she had attained her 85th year. After Christmas came a gradual breaking up, and she went to a well earned rest as if she were going to sleep. Miss McGregor received her education at a school on her father's farm, the teacher in those days "boarding around" among the parents. This was the first school in those parts, and was afterwards torn down. She was a faithful member of the Claude Presbyterian church, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. Spence, assisted by Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, conducted the funeral services at the house and afterwards at Boston Cemetery, where the remains were laid. Six nephews acted as pallbearers. Among the old friends who attended the funeral were Messrs. David and James Graham, Mrs. McColl and Mrs. Ross. Miss McGregor will be greatly missed in Inglewood. She had a very large circle of friends and acquaintances, who loved her for her genial and kindly nature, and admired her for her genuine and sterling character.—Conservator.

BRIGHT LIFE ENDED

By the death of Mae Frances, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Church, in her fourteenth year, one of the town's brightest little girls was removed. Although she had been in poor health for some time, her death, which occurred on Wednesday last, came suddenly as she had been about as usual the day before. The funeral took place on the following Friday afternoon, service being conducted at the house and grave by Rev. A. R. Springer. The coffin was covered with floral offerings, among them being a wreath and sickle from the teachers and pupils of the Arthur public school, and a wreath from the Arthur Methodist Sunday School. With her playmates, the deceased was a favorite and in her class at school she was one of, if not the brightest pupil. The staff and pupils of the Public School attended the funeral and marched in front of the hearse from the house to the Royal Bank corner, where they lined up on either side of the street, while the cortege passed on. Those who acted as pallbearers were Gerald Springer, Ralph Smith, Ross Stephenson, Frank Henderson, Geo. Jamieson, Willie McTavish. To Mr. and Mrs. Church the sincere sympathy of a host of friends is extended.—Arthur News-Enterprise.

The officers of the Peel County Mutual Insurance Company are:—President, Moses Johnston; Vice-Pres., Alex. Armstrong. The following directors represent the board: John Cunningham, Norval; John Gardhouse, Weston; James Laidlaw, Brampton; Thomas Bryans, Hanlan; Henry Walker, Malton; Geo. A. Cameron, Cataract, and James H. Rutherford, of Caledon East.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Edward Hayden, of Brampton, Met Shocking Death Last Thursday.

A shocking accident occurred this afternoon about 12.20, when Edward Hayden was killed by the noon train on the track at the diamond. Mr. Hayden had been to the Brampton Milling Company and was going to his home on Nelson street with a bag of grain on his shoulder. There is a small path used by many people, particularly the men going to and from the Pease Foundry, which crosses the G. T. R. tracks and parallels the C. P. R. Track, going onto Railroad St. He was using this path, and had evidently stopped a moment to watch a freight train which was on the siding. Being a little deaf he had not noticed the oncoming G.T.R. train approaching from the west. The banks at the side of the track are so high that the engineer of the train could not see him until he was directly up to him. He had evidently stepped onto the path of the train just as it reached the points. He was struck and tossed to one side, the head being severed from the body. The train was not going at any great speed, as it always slows down at the C. P. R. crossing.

Mr. Hayden, who was 70 years or age, had been a resident of Brampton for about 45 years, and both he and the family have been widely known and respected during all this time. His passing comes as a severe shock to the whole town and deep sympathy is felt for the family in their sudden bereavement. Mrs. Hayden died about seven years ago.

He is survived by two sons and four daughters, Prof. Albert Hayden in Chicago, William J. (Pat), of the Collegiate, Chatham, Mrs. Jones, of Orillia, and Mrs. Fereday, Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Smith, of Brampton.—Conservator.

MRS. THOMAS MARA

After an illness which lasted for five years, during which time her cheerful spirit never failed, Eleanor Gray, wife of ex-Mayor Thomas Mara, passed away at her home on Friday last. Mrs. Mara suffered from a bad spell just before Christmas, and never rallied from the attack. Her wonderful fortitude and Christian resignation were a cause of remark to all who knew her, and her family have the deepest sympathy of the community in their sad loss. Mrs. Mara was born in Chedgelow, Eng., and was a resident of Brampton for forty-two years. Her husband, four sons, Fred in Australia, Andrew in Lethbridge, Harry and Walter, of Brampton, and one daughter, Mrs. Joselin, of Toronto, survive her, also two sisters and one brother in England. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at Brampton cemetery the services being conducted by Rev. John Locke, pastor of St. Paul's Church, of which Mrs. Mara had been a faithful and devoted member while in health. There was a large and representative gathering of friends from various parts of Peel County at the service, when after an address by Rev. Mr. Locke, Commissioner Coombs, who had known Mrs. Mara exceptionally well, paid numberless tributes to the beauty of her character and her patient life. The pallbearers were Messrs. James Jackson, Thos. Dale, Edwin Armstrong, Jas. Young, S. McClure, C. Allison.

There was a great profusion of flowers, for which the family wish to extend their thanks.—Conservator.

MRS. THOS. RICHARDSON

The death took place at her home, Second Ave., Shelburne, on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 29th, of Eleanor Sinton, beloved wife of Thos. Richardson, an ex-member of the 164th Battalion, at the early age of 44 years. Death was due to pneumonia, following confinement. The deceased was born in England and came to Canada in May, 1914, to join her husband who had migrated to this country the previous year. They first settled at Lefroy, near Barrie, but later took up their residence in Shelburne. When the 164th Battalion was being organized for overseas service her husband enlisted and served in England for a couple of years, returning to Canada in 1918. During his absence the deceased spent many lonesome hours, and by her strict regard to the necessity of maintaining a home, upon Mr. Richardson's return from England they purchased a home of their own on Second Ave., into which they had become comfortably settled. The deceased was of a jovial disposition at all times and a help-mate in the fullest sense of the term. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, Stanley and Tommy and an infant, Kenneth, three weeks old. Her aged mother, Mrs. Mary Sinton, resides at Heaton, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. Mrs. Richardson was a member of St. Paul's church, and the funeral service was held in that church on Monday, conducted by the rector, Rev. W. H. Hartley, after which interment took place in Shelburne Cemetery. The pallbearers were six members of the G. W. V. A., as follows:—Morris Crawford, A. V. Silk, W. J. Enderwick, Harry Jelly, V. G. H. Phillips and Norman Siddall. To the bereaved husband and family the sincere sympathy of this community is extended in their untimely bereavement.—Free Press.

'Chaps'—Read This

Once you know how "chaps" are caused, you will appreciate why your skin needs Zam-Buk. The keen frosty winds of winter and early spring dry up the skin—make it hard, brittle and without elasticity. Thus the outer tissues break open into smarting cracks and painful sores. That's how the trouble starts.

In cracked hands, chilblains, frostbite, eczema and other obstinate skin troubles, use nothing but Zam-Buk. This unique healing balm, derived from a blending of rich herbal essences supplies the skin's deficiency of natural oils. If your trouble is on the hands, use Zam-Buk at night and slip on a pair of old gloves with Zam-Buk smeared inside. This precious balm will soothe away pain, inflammation and irritation, and grow new soft flexible skin.

Redness, roughness, smarting or soreness is readily healed, through Zam-Buk's refined herbal ingredients being absorbed into the underlying tissues. Zam-Buk is powerfully antiseptic. The germs of skin trouble simply can't exist wherever it penetrates.

Keep Zam-Buk always at hand for dealing with cuts, burns, scalds, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, piles, eczema, poisoned wounds, salt rheum and all skin sores and injuries. All dealers 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. For TRIAL SAMPLE send 1c. stamp to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

JOHN BAILEY

The death occurred at his home, lot 10, con. 2, W. H. S., Mulmur, early on Sunday morning last, Jan. 30th, of John Bailey, an old resident of that township, at the age of 75 years. The deceased was in his usual health up to a week prior to his death. On the preceding Sunday while in the act of closing a door in his home he sustained a slight injury to his right hand, which gave him but little worry at the time but as time progressed the wound became more irritated and medical attendance was called, when it was found that blood poisoning had developed and he was ordered to bed on Tuesday of last week. His condition continued worse until he passed away on Sunday morning, but he remained conscious until the evening prior to his death. The late Mr. Bailey was born at Barrie, coming to Mulmur township over fifty years ago, first settling on lot 3, con. 2, W.H.S., later moving to the farm where he resided until his death. Besides his widow, who was a daughter of the late Mr. Lockhart, and to whom he was married fifty years ago last July, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Wm. Silk, Shelburne; Mrs. J. E. Thompson, Ingersoll; Mrs. R. G. Adamson, Eyebrow, Sask.; and two sons, R. J. Bailey, Eyebrow, Sask.; and W. J. Bailey, Orangeville. Jas. and Robt. Bailey and Miss Ellen Bailey, of Violet Hill, are brothers and sister of the deceased. His remains were interred in Shelburne cemetery on Tuesday afternoon of this week.—Free Press.

THE UMP'S DECISION

Sir Marmaduke Jellaby's cricket team and the county eleven were to play a match, and, as the umpire was lacking the baronet's butler was called upon in the emergency to fill that important post. All went well until his master, who was batting, received a ball square on the pad, bringing from the bowler the quick appeal, "How's that, umpire?"

Everybody turned to the butler-umpire, who flushed scarlet with embarrassment and then decreed, "I'm sorry to have to say 'Not at 'ome,' Sir Marmaduke."

"not at 'ome?" gasped the baronet. "What d'yd mean?"

"Well, Sir Marmaduke," replied the man apologetically, "if you will ave it, full and frank, you're hout."

STEP LIVELY KIND

An elderly rancher took some fine Kentucky horses to the West in the early sixties. He was proud of them, and justly so. The old gentleman's son had once seen a teamster lock one of his wagon-wheels in going down a declivity. This precaution appealed to the young fellow's idea of "safety first." He duly reported the occurrence to his father, and begged him to get a lock-chain.

"My son," said the old gentleman, "if I ever send you out with a team that can't outrun the wagon, let 'em go to hell."

JOE WILLIAMS' COMPANY SCORE ANOTHER SUCCESS

The return engagement of the Joe Williams' Company within a week proved even a greater success than their first appearance. The Avenue theatre was filled, and the program received unstinted applause, the artists being greeted by encores, double encores and triple encores upon each appearance. The second visit of these talented artists certainly augmented the good impression they made upon their first appearance.

Miss Agnes Adie captivated the audience in a wide selection of vocal numbers ranging from Grand Opera Arias to Ballads, her runs and trills in her staccato passages being taken with the ease of a prima donna. We fear it will be many moons before Outlook will have the pleasure of hearing a soprano like Miss Adie.

Charles Stanley, the baritone, was in fine voice, and his full, velvety tones again made him a prime favorite with the large audience. His voice is full and deep, his enunciation perfect, and we predict a great future for this young singer. As an elocutionist Mr. Stanley, while not advertised as such, is far above the average.

Joe Williams again received an ovation. Numerous requests had been received for selections he had given on his previous visit, which were complied with as well as several new songs and stories. Mr. Williams is entirely different from any of the comedians who have visited Outlook, and this is a relief, for one had about come to the conclusion that when he had heard one he had heard all.

The pianiste and accompaniste, Miss Dorothy Browne, met with instant favor. Her solos displayed a great breadth of technieque, and proved her an artiste. A rare combination is a good accompaniste as well as solo pianiste, but Miss Browne is both, her accompaniments at all times being a support to the vocalists.

The two visits of the Joe Williams' Company will long be outstanding events in the concert attractions of Outlook.—Outlook, Sask., Outlook.

Mr. Joe Williams, the head of the Company, who filled a number of Garden Party engagements in this vicinity last summer, expects to be in Ontario again for the coming season and will be open for Concert and Garden Party engagements.

The death took place at her home, Schomberg, on February 3rd, of Emma Hollingshead, beloved wife of Graham A. Pinkerton, following an illness of several months' duration.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes, of East Luther, who are soon to remove to their new farm between Fergus and Elora, were most pleasantly surprised when many of their neighbors dropped in to say a formal "good-bye." During the evening they were presented with a well-filled purse.

A MARE'S NEST

Our oldtime friend, Dick Allen, of Violet Hill, loomed up a couple of weeks ago, after many years' silence so far as the press of Dufferin County is concerned, with the following contribution to the Shelburne Economist:—

MISTAKES?

To the Editor of the Economist:

In perusing Treasurer J. M. Still's balance sheet for the township of Mono I found a mistake of seventeen hundred dollars ($1700.00). The Treasurer gives forty-eight thousand, seven hundred and ninety-one dollars and three cents ($48,791.03). The real amount is ffity thousand, four hundred and ninety-one dollars and three cents ($50,491.03) in receipts. A man who would make such a mistake is not qualified for an office. There are other minor mistakes all through the accounts.

RICHARD ALLEN,
Violet Hill.

Jan. 19, 1921.

Dick's claim to fame as a financial critic was short-lived, as the following answers to his effusion show conclusively that he did not exercise ordinary care in examining the financial statement before foolishly rushing into print:—

Orangeville, Ont., R. R. 1.,
Feb. 5, 1921.

To the Editor of The Shelburne Economist,

Dear Sir:

In your paper, issue of Feb. 3rd, I notice, under heading of "Mistakes," Mr. Richard Allen, of Violet Hill, makes some references to John M. Still's Financial Report of the Township of Mono.

Mr. Allen is better known throughout Mono by another name and his statements are never taken seriously. However, to one who does not know him the inference might be drawn that he is a clever man.

The Treasurer's report shows total receipts amounting to $48,791.03, which is correct. The balance sheet referred to is a printed one and the printer made an error in printing one of the several items of receipts, putting it in as $1,888.61 instead of $188.61, making a difference of $1700.00. In all fairness to Mr. Still I would like to say that he is not to blame for a printer's error.

If Mr. Allen is the financial expert he would like the ratepayers of Mono to consider him he could have easily seen that the receipts were set forth properly in the abstract statement on the same printed sheet. Furthermore, the Treasurer would not have been able to get a proper balance unless his total receipts were correct, which he did. Mr. Allen says there were other minor mistakes all through the accounts. That statement is wrong, since there was only one other mistake, a printer's error of 2 cents.

Mr. Still is considered one of the best treasurers of any municipality in Ontario. The efficiency and neatness with which he does his work was commented upon by the Orangeville Sun in 1919.

Mr. Allen should have learned who was responsible for the misprints before accusing the Treasurer of errors. Mr. Allen should respect the old saying, "Be sure before you speak."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
"A MONO RATEPAYER."

Orangeville, R .R. 1, Feb. 7, 1921
Editor of The Economist,
Shelburne. Ont.

Dear Sir:

Would you be so kind as to print the following explanation.

In your paper of Feb. 3rd, under the heading "Mistakes," Mr. Richard Allen, of Violet Hill, claims to have found errors in my financial statement for the Township of Mono. The truth is that I handed my treasurer's financial statement to the Printer in Orangeville, to be printed. Unfortunately he made a typographical error in setting it up, showed the cash on hand as $1888.61 instead of $188.61, making a difference of $1,700.00. He also made another slight error of 2 cents. The totals, however, were quite correct, as were the balances also, which were shown on the abstract statement and set forth by the Auditors' report.

In courtesy to myself and in all fairness to the ratepayers of Mono, I consider Mr. Allen should have learned the truth before rushing to the press with a statement entirely misleading and accusing me of errors, innocently made by the Printer.

Thanking you for your space,
I am yours very truly,
John M. Still,
Treasurer Mono Township.

A PROLIFIC BREEDER

Mr. Thos. Reid, Prince of Wales St., is the owner of a cow that gave birth to twin calves on Monday. Last year she surprised her owner by becoming the mother of triplets. Twice prior to that time she had given birth to twins and once to a single calf. The bovine is now ten years old and has the unusual record of eight calves to her credit.

HOW TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

The Blood Should Constantly Be Kept Rich and Pure.

If you suffer from any form of indigestion your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating is always harmful, but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body, find fuel for its energy and defences against disease, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when indigestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore to safeguard your digestion, the blood should be kept rich and free from impurities. For more than a third of a century Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a favorite tonic for enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves. If, therefore, you find yourself troubled with indigestion, or other ailments due to weak, watery blood, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills both safe and effective. The value of this medicine in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. Lewis, Lake George, N. S., who says: "I suffered very severely with indigestion. I had severe pains in the stomach after every meal. I had a loathing for food, my rest at night was very much disturbed, and my general health was declining. I was under a doctor's care, but did not find any improvement. Reading of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done in a similar case I decided to try them, with the result that after giving them a fair trial, my general health was improved, and all symptoms of the indigestion that had afflicted me disappeared. I feel very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for saving me from so much misery."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MISSIONS IN CHINA

Rev. Newton E. Bowles Tells of Progress of Christianity Among Chinese People.

Large audiences greeted Rev. Newton E. Bowles, B. A., of China, when he spoke last Sunday in the Methodist Church here on Missions and more particularly of missionary work in China. The fact that the visitor had attended High School in Orangeville a number of years ago and has relatives here added much to the interest in his visit and addresses.

By way of introduction Mr. Bowles told his hearers that some twenty-eight years ago he had been a student in the High School of this town. After completing his studies in Art and Theology he went to China, where he has been working now for fourteen years, excepting for one previous furlough home.

At the morning service the speaker briefly traced the growth of Christianity in China. He spoke of several periods of bitter opposition when the missionaries had been compelled to leave their work and flee for their lives. He spoke also of at least one period of spurious growth, when everything Western had become popular and with other things the Western religion also. This period he described as one of great opportunity, if the churches had been in a position to meet the great crowds that came to their services and teach them the inner meaning of the Christian life. Mr. Bowles also told of a period of great religious conviction and fervor, which he himself had witnessed, when men were led under the power of the Gospel to confess their sins and pray for forgiveness. The present he described as a period of not rapid but sure growth.

At the evening service the speaker confined himself more particularly to his own individual experiences. He spoke of one church in the city of Chentu, of which he had been pastor. The building, he said, seated about five hundred and was nearly always full; often even to the aisles. This congregation was composed largely of employees of the printing establishment, nurses from the hospital nearby and pupils from the schools. The Sunday School here numbered four hundred.

A Church had later been opened in the downtown section of the city and Mr. Bowles appointed pastor. Here work on the building they had just commenced to erect was stopped by a cable from home announcing the beginning of the great war and the shortage of funds. In a very poor building and dwelling nearby he has carried on his work for several years. Revolution and riot has characterized these last few years in China. Mr. Bowles told how he, his wife and their children had been compelled to leave their little home because of fighting in the streets nearby and take shelter with friends in more substantial buildings. Robber bands, the speaker said, prowl here and there through the country and one cannot go very far across the country without encountering one or more of these bands. Sometimes they are friendly to the missionaries, sometimes far from friendly. He described one encounter he and his party had with one such band when on his way home. Much of his baggage had been stolen on this occasion, but by diplomacy and tact a large part of it had been recovered.

Mr. Bowles and family expect to return to China next September.

MRS. W. H. JESSOP

Mrs. W. H. Jessop, a resident of Orangeville for a number of years, passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital at 10.30 o'clock on Monday, Feb. 7th. With the exception of what appeared to be a slight indisposition from indigestion, the deceased had enjoyed reasonably good health until shortly before her last illness. The day she was taken ill she arose in her usual health and spirits, took breakfast and did not complain until about eleven o'clock, when she suddenly became ill. The family doctor was with her thirty minutes later and at once made arrangements to have her removed to Lord Dufferin Hospital. In the Hospital doctors and the nursing staff did everything humanly possible for the stricken woman, but little hope for recovery was entertained even from the first. The end came peacefully. The late the Township of Eramosa and the Mrs. Jessop was a daughter of James Talbot, one of the early settlers in owner of a fine property on the Eramosa and Guelph Road. She was 61 years and 3 months of age and is survived by her husband and a family of two sons and three daughters. The sons are well-to-do farmers near Beeton. The daughters are Mrs. S. S. McKee, of Harriston, Mrs. Jas. Kinsley, of Bondhead, and Mrs. Geo. Kinsley, of Camilla. Robert Talbot, of Guelph, James, living in Alberta, Thomas in New York, Mrs. Abbott, of Detroit, Mrs. Duffield, Toronto, and Mrs. Gowdy, of Guelph, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The late Senator Talbot, of Alberta, was a cousin of the deceased. The late Mrs. Jessop was a quiet, industrious woman, who was very much attached to her home and family. As a neighbor she was held in high esteem and enjoyed the respect and goodwill of the people amongst whom she lived. The funeral was held from her late residence, West Broadway, to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Thursday afternoon, Rev. H. L. Partridge, the family pastor, and Rev. G. W. Lynd, of Laurel, conducting the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were her two sons, three sons-in-law and a nephew. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband and family.

KENNEDY-HAMILTON

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, of Laurel, on February 9th, when her daughter, Mida B., became the wife of Mr. William Kennedy, of Grand Valley, the Rev. G. W. Lynd officiating. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Oliver Hamilton, was attired in a suit of navy blue serge with hat to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of sweet-heart roses. The wedding music was played by Miss Ella Walker, niece of the groom. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, which was prettily decorated in white and green smilax. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left on the evening train from Smith's Falls, Ottawa, Brockville and other points, the bride travelling in a rust duvetyne dress and silvertone coat with opossum trimmings. The bride received many beautiful gifts.

A "salted" oil well, the newest form of robbery, brought into existence by the various recent oil booms, is revealed in all its criminal details by the latest Vitagraph Super-serial, entitled "The Silent Avenger." "Salted" oil wells are reported to have bilked scores of investors out of millions of dollars.

The fraud is accomplished similarly to that of "salted" gold or diamond mines. Whereas the criminals in the gold and diamond mine schemes used to sprinkle precious metal and stones over worthless ground, and sell the latter, the oil crooks gain their ends with a pipe line. They lay the pipe from an honest well, tapping its flow and carrying part of it to a fake derrick on the worthless site.

The fourteenth episode of "The Silent Avenger" presents a complete revelation of how the scheme is worked. The episode is replete with fights, pursuits, narrow escapes and feats of daring.

IN MEMORIAM.

WIDDIS—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Wm. Widdis, who passed away on March 2nd, 1920.

A mother kind and true to us,
While here on earth she stayed;
But now we'll look to God above
To be our only aid.

But still we miss our mother dear,
We see her vacant chair;
We'll miss her in our home,
We'll miss her everywhere.

And now on her lonely grave
Deep lies the fallen snow;
Green soon the grass o'er her head
And the tall flowers will grow.

But what good can that do for her
Who sleeps beneath the sod,
For she's fairer than the brightest flowers,
In the presence of her God.
